Martin Carrico, sale manager, reviewed the 1962 sale and noted that the "Top of the Nation Dairy Sale has now come of age". He said there is no longer a question as to whether or not further sales will be held since the principles of high quality have become firmly established in the area.

Emphasize Quality

Dr. Frederick, who has worked closely with the association in the annual event, stated it was his belief that greater emphasis should be placed on the quality and production of cattle entered rather than sale price. The association has been fulfilling its purpose of making top quality cattle available to area dairy farmers, he said, and the area dairy industry has improved as a result of the sale.

The annual report showed that cattle consigned to the sale averaged $357.50 while yearlings averaged $165 and calves averaged $134. Total income from all sources was $10,837.90 with total expenses of $10,736.70, leaving a balance of $119.50 for next year's operating capital. Consignors received $9,970 for the animals sold at the sale.

ELECTED president of the Top of the Nation Dairy association, sponsor of the annual Top of the Nation dairy sale, was Clyde Christensen of Thief River Falls. Christensen also served as head of the organization last year. Annual meeting of the association was held Friday in Thief River Falls.

Winjum To Head Pennington ARA Project Group

Officers Elected Friday At Organizational Meet In County Courthouse

James H. Winjum was elected chairman of the Pennington County Redevelopment Agency at an organizational meeting held Friday evening in the commissioner's room of the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls. All members of the agency, as appointed by the county board, were in attendance.

Other officers elected were Cy Carpenter, vice chairman; and Harry Sjulson, secretary-treasurer. Lloyd Johnson and Dr. Orion D. Belch are other members of the group.

Hal Rudstrom, fieldman for the Minnesota Area Redevelopment association, assisted with the organization, explained the purposes of ARA and answered questions from members of the group. The fourth Monday of each month was selected as the regular meeting of the local agency.

Break-in Noted At Red Owl Wed.

An apparent entry was made at Stan & Otto's Red Owl store last Wednesday night or early Thursday morning but no apparent loss was reported. Investigation is being conducted by city police and the Pennington county sheriff's department.

Entry was made through a garbage room door opening on the alley and the prowler then apparently gained entrance to the warehouse through a garbage room chute. Exit was made through the warehouse door which was left unbarred.

Annual Meeting of Fair Ass'n. Set Wednesday

Election of Officers, Adoption of By-Laws On Business Schedule

Adoption of by-laws and election of 17 directors will take place when the Pennington County Fair Association, Inc., holds its first annual meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the courtroom of the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls. All members are encouraged to attend and interested county persons may purchase $5 membership certificates at the door.

Three directors will be elected from each county commissioner district and one each from the villages of St. Hilaire and Goodridge. A double slate of director candidates has been prepared for presentation at the meeting and nominations will also be open from the floor. The board will organize following the election and name its own officers.

On the basis of plans set by the organizational group, the director candidate receiving the most votes in each district will be elected for a three-year term. Second high vote-getter will be elected to a two-year term and third high to a one-year term. Either St. Hilaire or Goodridge will have a three-year director and the other a director for a two-year term. All members present will vote for candidates in all districts.

The new group hopes to acquire the property now owned by the Pennington County Agricultural Society and to operate the county fair in coming years. Persons nominated for directorship include the following:

Dist. 1—Bernard Myers, Silas Hanson, Dale Svendsgaard, Henry Panek, Robert Parnow and Harry Solberg;

Dist. 2—Clarence Walders, Kermit Hanson, William Thompson, Morris Goddard, Dr. James Disse

RAD Program Explained at Thursday Meet

Appointed Group Will Make Selection of Steering Committee

Pennington county's RAD program got a close look at a meeting of community leaders held last Thursday. "Rural Area Development is being implemented in most Minnesota counties," stated extension sociologist George Donohue from the University of Minnesota. He pointed out that people are waking up to the fact that they need to take a close look at the county situation and study the problems if they are to make progress.

Donahue pointed out that RAD is a study group and also an action group. Organized on a county basis, the people contribute ideas and implement these ideas to further the development of the county. This development may be in agriculture, industry or business. The organization may also work with educational, recreational, or religious activities. Anything relating to human or physical resources on a county basis would be of concern to the county RAD group.

An initiating group was nominated at the meeting. Members include Jon Metusalem, Philip Berglund, Harold South, Oscar Houske, Carl R. Anderson, Cy Carpenter, Fred Sorensen, Stanley Radniecki, Mrs. Orlando Chervestad and Mrs. Silas Hanson. The initiating group will now select a steering committee which will prepare articles and by-laws. An attempt will be made to get geographic and occupational representation in the association.

Howard Newell, extension district supervisor, pointed out that several counties in Northwest Minnesota have now organized or are in the process of organizing RAD bodies. These counties are Roseau, Kittson, Pennington, Clay, Ottertail, Becker and Mahnomen. Twenty-two counties in the state have organized, with about one-half of the counties expected to have RAD organization by spring.

Pennington county, Newell pointed out, is most fortunate in developing its program in that the OEDP "(Overall Economic Development Plan) is almost complete. It was developed by 92 county citizens who worked on long-range planning in cooperation with the county extension office.

Richard Mabey Will Direct Campaign of 25th March of Dimes

Richard Mabey of Thief River Falls has accepted appointment as campaign director of the 25th anniversary March of Dimes in Pennington county in January.

"Nobody needs help more than crippled children and so many are not able to obtain the kind of care they're entitled to. But following the pattern of its triumph over polio, the March of Dimes is working to solve this problem where the need is greatest—in the fields of birth defects and arthritis," Mabey declared.

"And there are 11 million Americans afflicted by arthritis or rheumatic disease, thousands of them children and adolescents. And millions of dollars are still needed to aid the thousands paralyzed by polio in former years."

In the only program of its kind by a voluntary health agency, Mabey said, the March of Dimes is striving to bring expert medical care to every community in the nation to help children crippled and disabled by these conditions. More than 50 March of Dimes-supported treatment centers have been established in many parts of the country, and the fast-growing program is providing first-quality medical care for birth defect, arthritis and polio patients through teams of medical specialists.

This expanding program, having centers affiliated with nearly half the nation's medical schools, is pioneering in developing new care and treatment techniques to minimize disabling and crippling by these diseases.

Social Security Man Here Tuesday

A representative of the Grand Forks district office of the Social Security administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city Auditorium Tuesday, December 11 at 10 a. m. Individuals who have questions regarding social security or who wish to file claims may contact him on that date.

Mrs. Bruce Hall entertained several small friends of her son, Bobby, at her home on Friday, in observance of his third birthday. Lunch featured a birthday cake with a cowboy theme used in the decorations.

Fire Burns Bales At Rantanen Farm

The Middle River Fire Department was called out Monday afternoon to the Mrs. Betty Rantanen farm home to put out a fire which had started in a baled hay pile. Several thousand bales were destroyed. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Rantanen. It was thought that the cattle in the feed lot had pushed bales up against the electric wires which separated the bales from the feed lot.

United Fund Now Totals $10,525

Progress has been slow in the Pennington County United Fund campaign with a total of $10,525 in cash and pledges, nearly 60 per cent of the quota, now having been received by the fund office. Seven townships have reported, but many solicitors in the local business district remain to report.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wegge and son Warren were Sunday guests at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wegge of Middle River.

CIRCUMSTANCES created by the unique early winter season caused some concern along the Red Lake river east and south of Thief River Falls late last week when ice jams created overflow conditions along the stream. Water has been high all season and the warm weather resulted in floating ice forming jams. Conditions were reported to be the most severe in the River Valley bridge area. This photo was taken four miles southeast of Thief River Falls on the Robert Kraemer farm and is indicative of conditions along the river. Julian C. Lendobeja, who has been appointed by the U. S. Corps of Engineers to report fluctuations in river readings, called the St. Paul office last week and the Red Lake water release was cut down until the flooding was alleviated.

Planning Commission Phase I Is Underway

Professional Planner Engaged by City To Conduct Investigation

Formation of the Thief River Falls planning commission by action of the city council has resulted in the employment of Hodne and Associates of Minneapolis as professional planners in the program. Thomas Hodne was in the city last week working on preparatory stages of the planning.

The proposed planning program is divided into three basic phases which include interim planning and downtown guide plan, comprehensive planning and a continuing planning program.

Phase I, which is now underway, includes research and basic studies, goal formulation and interim guide, interim effectuation devices, downtown guide plan and technical assistance. Commission work is financed to the extent of two-thirds federal funds and one-third city funds with the cost of Phase I estimated to be $16,200.

"We recommend that work begin with a basic survey of the land, people and economy of Thief River Falls," the firm states in its proposed planning program. "All pertinent available information from private and public agencies on the local and state level will be examined, followed by extensive research and analysis.

Monthly Reports

"Monthly progress reports will be prepared and presented to the planning commission along with designated groups for their review. This will provide an opportunity to report on the findings of the basic survey, research, analysis and plans. In the process of this review an understanding will be gained of how you perceive Thief River Falls' future."

Some of the basics of Phase I include the following:

A base map made following review and up-dating of existing maps from latest information available and including major characteristics of bordering areas as well as all streets, rail lines, water courses, property lines, building outlines in key areas and corporate limits;

Development of an economic base study which would analyze Thief River Falls' economic growth and estimate its future potential with a projection of key economic indicators pertinent to the community planning fuction;

Development of a population study of past and present population with a forecast of future total population, characteristics and distribution;

Development of a land use map to determine the amount of land used for various purposes and estimate the amount of land needed to meet future population and economic demands;

Traffic flow studies, community facilities analysis and uniform mapping of existing facilities.

Seek Public Comment

"Based on the research and basic studies we will present a sketch interim guide plan for review and comment by the city and

DANGER still lurks on the ice of rivers which flow into Thief River Falls although the cold weather of the past several days has placed a coat of ice over the water. High water and a relatively swift current contribute toward making the ice unsafe yet. Signs warning of the danger have been posted by the local Veterans of Foreign Wars. Shown left to right with one of the signs are Charles Richards, Pennington county sheriff and chairman of the county safety council; Howard Comstock, VFW commander; and Elton Cummings, chief of police.

Specialty Crops To Be Reviewed Fri.

Valley Seed & Supply President to Explain Possible New Markets

Millet, sunflowers, fescue grasses and other crops will be discussed at a meeting to be held Friday, December 14, at 1:30 p. m. in the meeting room of the courthouse. This meeting will be in conjunction with a meeting of the Pennington County Crop Improvement association.

George Plitt, president of the Valley Seed and Supply Company, will be on hand to explain possible markets for these crops next year. "This year we had a tough year for any crop, but farmers were generally optimistic both about millet and sunflowers," reports Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agricultural agent.

All farmers wishing to grow these crops are urged to attend the meeting and to hear about possible production of these crops for the coming year, Stelmaschuk says.

A processing plant has been established at Thief River Falls and it should be advantageous to farmers of this area to produce both

Chas. R. Richards Heads TRF Masons

In the annual election of officers of Northern lodge of Masons last Thursday evening, Charles R. Richards was advanced to the position of worshipful master, succeeding A. J. Borry.

Charles E. Hellquist, secretary of the lodge the past 11 years, asked to be relieved of his duties, and Harvey D. Anderson was named to succeed him.

Others elected include Harry L. Solberg, senior warden; Howard W. Brandt, junior warden; Harry E. Simons Sr., treasurer; and Clarence W. Pope, trustee for three years. Appointive officers will be announced later by Mr. Richards.

Installation of officers will be conducted in the lodge rooms Thursday evening, January 3.

LHS Christmas Concert Slated Tuesday, Dec. 18

"The Light of the World" is the theme for the annual Christmas program to be presented by the Lincoln high school music department at 8 p. m. Tuesday, December 18, at the high school auditorium. Everett Marshall will be narrator with Bryant Ulseth and James Solsten as directors.

Music groups taking part include the senior orchestra, junior high chorus, Lincoln Singers and concert choir. The program will be presented in dialogue and in choral and instrumental music.

Myrna Weckwerth and Gloria Phillipp are student directors for the program. There is no admission charge for the concert and the public is cordially invited to attend.

C of C Election Results Listed

Herber, Tunberg Named New Members of Board

Dr. Leo Herber and Roger A. Tunberg were elected as new directors on the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce board at the annual election completed Saturday. Balloting was conducted by mail with about 50 per cent of the eligible voters casting their ballots.

Reelected directors in the voting were Gene Gaer, Gene Belto, Carl Lee and Stanley Wilson. Carry-over directors include Otto Stenberg, Arnold Kelley, J. J. Womack, J. R. Smillie, Randal Noper and Stanley Pladson. Former directors declining reelection were J. B. Holter and C. L. Charlson.

The board will meet Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce office at 7:30 p. m. to elect officers for the coming year, adopt the program of work for 1963 and set the operating budget. The coming year will mark the 50th anniversary of the Chamber of Commerce in Thief River Falls. Math Barsen served as the first president in 1914.

Kathryn Neufeld and Lloyd Refsal Exchange Vows

Miss Kathryn Neufeld, Westbrook, Minn., a former nurse at Northwestern Hospital here and also former child evangelism director in this area, became the bride of Lloyd Refsal, also of Westbrook, in the Immanuel Baptist Church of that city on December 1. The 3 o'clock double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Daniel Regier of Mountain Lake, pastor of Gospel Mennonite Church. Assisting was the Rev. H. A. Larson of Darfu Lutheran church. The church was decorated with poinsettias and Christmas bouquets. Approximately 150 guests were in attendance. Traditional nuptial music was furnished by Gordon Peterson of Alexandria as soloist.

Miss Neufeld is the daughter of Mrs. Katherina Neufeld of Mountain Lake. Mother of the groom is Mrs. Thea Refsal of Westbrook.

Choosing a winter white wool sheath dress for her wedding, the bride carried a bouquet of red roses, and wore a double strand necklace of crystal, with a matching bracelet. The dress was designed and fashioned by Mrs. Gordon Peterson, a sister of the groom.

Attending the bride was Mrs. Chris Nelson of Mountain Lake, as matron of honor. Her costume was a knit dress of red wool. She carried white mums and wore a single-strand bracelet of crystal.

The groom was attended by his twin brother, Floyd Refsal of Alexandria, as best man. Giving the bride in marriage was her uncle, George Neufeld of Mountain Lake. Ushers were David Neufeld of Minneapolis, a brother of the bride, and the groom's brother, Alton Refsal, also of Minneapolis.

Approximately 150 guests were received at the reception which followed the ceremony and was held in the church parlors.

The couple are honeymooning in Florida. Upon their return about December 15, they will be at home at Westbrook, where the groom operates a welding and blacksmith business.

Mrs. Refsal is employed in that city as a nurse at the Westbrook hospital.

Newcomers Will Have Yule Party Dec. 12

The Newcomers club will have a Christmas party Wednesday, December 12, at 8 o'clock in the courthouse meeting room.

Each member is to bring a gift, wrapped four times; to disguise its content completely, it is to be wrapped first in holiday wrappings and then three times more, in newspaper or any such wrapping. This is intended to add novelty to the usual gift distribution. Each member is also asked to bring a half-dozen cookies, together with the recipe for them. The cookies will be used for refreshments. There will be a number of games to add to the evening's fun.

Any newcomers to Thief River Falls are invited to call Mrs. Howard Hagen, MU 1-1645, for details on the club and application for membership.

TLCW Officers To Be Installed Wednesday Night

"To Each A Gift" will be the title of the film which the Susanna Circle will present to the joint meeting of the afternoon and evening divisions of the TLCW of Trinity Lutheran Church on Wednesday, December 12 at 8 p. m. Mrs. Harold Peterson will lead the devotions and special music will be given by Mrs. Kent Wilson.

New officers of the TLCW will be installed by Rev. Reuben Wangberg; this part of the program will be held in the church sanctuary.

After the program, lunch will be served by the Miriam Circle in the church parlors. Group singing of Christmas carols will be led by Mrs. Don L. Olson; Rachel Circle is in charge of hospitality.

Area Squares Hosted By the Roseau Club

The Roseau Promenaders Square Dance Club hosted the Joe Johannson dance in the local high school Saturday, December 8, with a total of 18 outside squares in attendance. Dancers convened from Canada, Greenbush, Gatzke, Roseau and Thief River Falls area with 20 couples from the Falls Squares in attendance.

Local club members who enjoyed the calls of Johannson were Messrs. and Mmes. Herb Hartje, Bob Benke, Quentin Jones, Ed DeLap, Ray Jule, Leon Bishel, Denny Inman, Al Bacon, Don Schultz, Mel Simon, Randall Noper, Chris Sustad, Don Peterson, Bob Mattson, Malcolm Magnuson, Kenny Kohler, Roy Canady, Delmar Hagen, Art Johnson and Elvon Hamilton.

Carol Mickelson Given Pre-Nuptial Shower

Miss Carol Mickelson of Middle River was guest of honor at a pre-nuptial shower at the First Lutheran Church parlors in that city on the evening of December 2.

The social hour was preceded by a brief program which included a reading by Mrs. Robert Prickett, a prayer, "For the Bride" and a song by Mrs. Richard Luolo. Following the program were a number of appropriate games, after which the bride-to-be opened her many gifts with the assistance of several friends from this city.

The shower and serving tables were both tastefully decorated in pink and blue. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Wayne Wegge and Mrs. Albert Hanson. They were assisted by Mrs. A. Prosser and Mrs. Andy Anderson.

Karen Kruse Tells Of Wedding Plans

Mr. and Mrs. William Kruse of Thief River Falls announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Adele, to Gerald Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Johnston of Minneapolis. A February wedding is being planned.

Happy Homemakers Met at M. Lundin Home

Happy Homemakers met on Tuesday, December 4 at the Marvin Lundin home with Mrs. Lundin as hostess.

A program committee was set up, consisting of Mmes. Larry Norness as chairman, Ed Liden, Pearl Iverson, and Mario Windahl. The ladies made up program booklets outlining the year's activities.

A lesson on Christmas decorating ideas was presented by Mrs. Donald Omdahl and Mrs. James Erickson, and the remainder of the evening was spent in making decorations. The hostess served lunch.

The group will have its Christmas party at the Donald Omdahl home on December 27, and the next regular meeting will be at the David Sundquist home on January 15. At that time, the lesson will be concerned with buffet meals.

Wabeganisin Garden Club Has Yule Party

Members of the Wabeganisin Garden club enjoyed their annual Christmas party on Tuesday, December 4. The group met in the Terrace Room of the Rex Cafe for dinner at 7 o'clock, after which they went to the L. B. Hartz home for the remainder of the evening. Mrs. Ray Jude and Mrs. Marshall Hankerson were in charge of the games and entertainment for the party. Lunch was served by Mrs. Hartz at the close of the evening.

The next meeting of the club will be on January 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jude.

Weekend guests of the C. W. Rodekuhrs were Mr. and Mrs. Vern Rodekuhr of Deer Creek.

D. Morgan Weds Mrs. Madonna Lee In Sisseton, S.D.

Mrs. Madonna Lee of rural Thief River Falls and David Morgan of this city were married in a private, double-ring ceremony in the home of Justice of the Peace L. L. Raymond at Sisseton, S. D. The wedding took place on December 5 in the presence of the two witnesses, Mrs. Alice Raymond and Mrs. Alma Nelson, both of Sisseton.

Mrs. Lee chose a blue suit for her wedding. She wore a corsage of light pink roses, and a rhinestone pin belonging to Mr. Morgan's mother, a rhinestone necklace and earring set, and a small headband, also of rhinestones.

Mr. Morgan wore a dark blue-gray business suit with a pink rose boutonniere.

The couple left for Grand Forks N. D. immediately following the ceremony. They had a family supper there with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Halm.

Maruskas To Show Slides At OES Party

Winslow chapter 182 of the Order of the Eastern Star will hold its regular meeting on Wednesday, December 12, at 8 p. m. in the Masonic temple. Highlight of the evening will be the showing by Senator-elect Harveydale and Mrs. Maruska of Angus of the Holy Land slides taken there this past summer. In keeping with the Christmas theme there will also be the singing of Christmas carols by the entire group.

Each member is asked to bring a gift for the Masonic Home at St. Paul; they may choose from such items as large terry-cloth bibs, dresser scarves, bath and face towels.

All members are urged to attend, and to bring their husbands. Hostesses will be Mmes. Leola Kelley, Evelyn Beadles, and Vivian Paulson.

Trinity Mothers to Have Children's Party

Trinity Mothers' Circle is reminded of the children's Christmas party which will be held on Thursday, December 13 from 2 to 3:30 p. m. in the upstairs chapel. This party, given by and for the Mothers circle, is for the mothers and their small children.

There will be games, and fun will be provided for all. Each mother is asked to bring eight Christmas cookies with her as part of the lunch which will be served at the close of the afternoon.

BPO DOES To Hold Annual Christmas Party Dec. 11

The BPO DOES' annual Christmas party will be held Tuesday, December 11, in the club rooms, with pot-luck supper beginning at 6:30. Each member is to bring a 50-cent gift for exchange, and 50 cents as a donation for the retarded children's fund. There will be entertainment after the brief business meeting.

IOOF To Sponsor Social Evening December 13

Thursday, December 13 is the date set for the meeting of the Lyon Rebekah Lodge at the Odd Fellows' Hall at 8 o'clock. The business meeting will be followed by a social sponsored by the IOOF. The public is extended an invitation to attend.

The Library Corner

by Virginia Gjernes

Treasurers, whether yours or another's, are always a delight to behold or to hold. The library features both kinds! Those to behold are the china and glassware pieces comprising the collection of Mrs. A. C. Seltz of 413 St. Paul Avenue So. Mrs. Seltz has loaned the library some of her most prized objects. Those who ordinarily would not have the pleasure of seeing these pieces can look and enjoy to their heart's content.

"Since spring," Mrs. Seltz remembers, "I've begun to take more than a passing interest in china and the romance of its story. I've read and studied I don't know how many books and have become completely fascinated by china and glassware of the antique variety, especially that known as pressed glass.

The display at the library includes my favorite pieces. Many of the articles were given to us by members of our families, while others have been gifts from friends who know of my interest and the satisfaction I derive from cherishing them.

"The lovely fruitbowl and saucer in the glass display case were given me by my mother. The ripple patterned goblet belonged to my husband's grandmother and the hobnail spooner to mine. We have had to have our son-in-law build a hutch to place over our sideboard in the dining room to hold all our lovely things. We have a built-in china closet, too, at the parsonage and part of our treasures are kept in there.

"Yes, I guess just since spring I've made china and glassware study a hobby, but like most everybody, I've always enjoyed looking at beautiful things. In fact, this past summer we spent most of our vacation browsing through the antique shops in Denver, Colo. Since reading and studying I must say I did enjoy the pieces of beautiful glassware and china — perhaps I didn't enjoy them any more than I did before, but I appreciated them in another and very different way."

The treasures to hold, in your very own hands, and available to all who have a leanding card, are books. Beautiful books, informative books, interesting books and entertaining books.

The year 1962 will soon give way to 1963 and we'll look back on the late, somewhat lamented 12 month period and all that it produced, historically, humorously, politically and intellectually.

It is believed among publishing houses, authors and critics, that any year in which five outstanding books are produced, it is indeed a good year—this year the count is 10, an exceptional year.

If you haven't had time to read the considered best 10 of the year, make a note to do so during the first months of 1963. Each is different, each is considered brilliant. Clip this list, check it before your next visit to the library.

"Travels With Carley", by John Steinbeck, the Nobel Prize recipient, is a refreshing novel and reveals the true artistry of Mr. Steinbeck. "The Points of My Compass" is the latest volume of the skilled E. B. White's essays. Katherine Anne Porter gave us "Ship of Fools" with characterizations and emotions vividly pictured by printed word."

"The Thin Red Line " is the war novel that many feel will become a classic. James Jones is the author. Then there is Rachel Carson's "Silent Spring" the controversial book about a controversial subject—insecticides. "The Reivers" is the last novel by William Faulkner, published just a month before his death, and describing Southern humor and beauty.

Critical essays written by Alfred Kazin and bound in a volume titled "Contemporaries", comprise another book. "Patriotic Gore" is the name of the Civil War book written by Edmund Wilson and he tells of the impact of the war upon President Lincoln, General Grant, Mrs. Chestnut and others in such a manner as to provide a startlingly unexpected evaluation.

Robert Frost, the one-and-only Robert Frost, provides us with years of enjoyment by his "In the Clearing". (There's something about a poet and his poems, isn't there?)

"Morte D'Urban" by J. F. Powers is considered to be the best 'first' novel of the year. It is not, however, the first effort of Mr. Powers, who has had short stories published.

There they are, those considered the top 10 of the year. Each of them is available to you through your library. Each will bring you hours of enjoyment and if you should happen to be looking for a "conversation piece" for the coffee table—try a book.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the kitchen of

MRS. TARKEL OSE

A timely idea for the holidays or any time, a recipe that allows the housewife to attend church with the family, or go shopping or to club, and still have a nourishing, tasty meal for hubby and the family, is this suggestion from a farm homemaker.

OVEN DINNER

Use an older chicken for this dinner. If frozen, thaw it out on Saturday night and on Sunday morning, cut it up into serving pieces and place the pieces in a roaster of suitable size, sprinkling the bottom of the roaster lightly with flour. Lay in the bony pieces first, and sprinkle lightly with flour, salt, pepper, and sage. Place the larger pieces on top of this, adding more seasoning and another light sprinkling of flour. If the fowl is without fat, the top layer may be dotted with butter or other shortening. This can roast at 275 degrees for about 1 to 2 hours before leaving for church. Then, just before you are ready to leave, place on top of the chicken the following: medium sized whole carrots, parsnips, and onions, if you like them. Potatoes may also be added. All should be of uniform size. Sprinkle vegetables with salt after first pouring over them 2 cups of beef or pork broth, or plain water, if no broth is available. Bake at 225 (slow) oven in covered roaster, while you are out.

Upon returning home, you may make a quick dressing from stale bread cubes mixed with the liquid that has collected in the roaster, and seasoned with salt, pepper, and sage. Amount of seasoning depends on the seasoning in the liquid. Thyme is also a favorite seasoning for poultry. This may be added to the dressing if desired. Keep the meat and vegetables hot, and while the dressing is baking in a 300 degree oven, or hotter, in a well-greased loaf pan, you may set the table, prepare the salad, etc.

The Oses have nine children, five of them married, one away at school, and three still at home. They live on a farm nine miles north of town, where Mr. Ose concentrates mainly on raising grain.

Mrs. Ose loves taking and collecting photographs, and says that she has many, many pictures of the family and of the grandchildren which have swelled its original number. Also among her hobbies is a collection of pitchers which began in 1937. She has pitchers from foreign countries and out of state, contributed by friends who travel, and from her mother who lives in another state and is past eighty; some, in her collection of over several hundred, are mementos of special occasions or special people. Each has its own story; each is tabulated, as to date, place and occasion, and all are lovingly displayed in a full-size wall cabinet in the dinette of her home, in additional cupboards with glass doors, and in china cabinets.

She enjoys entertaining; the children always bring home friends from school and elsewhere. Their mother is also active in church work, and in the WCTU, where she conducts the speech department. She also works with youth groups.

With all these activities, it is easily understandable that a food-preparation idea of this type would be especially welcome in her busy schedule.

Mrs. Kern Olson left for Minneapolis this weekend. She will visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carl Hoppe, and plans to spend Christmas with her son Kern who is attending the university there. She expects to return after the holidays.

November Weather Report Shows Balmy Temperatures

November of 1962 was the only November in the past five years not to record a subzero reading, giving an indication as to the mild weather which enveloped the area during the month. Snow which was received disappeared rather quickly so that only a trace could be found at the end of the month.

Highest temperature for the month was 51 degrees on November 26 while the lowest reading was 10 degrees on November 22. A more accurate idea of the weather can be received, however, by noting that only five days had high temperatures of 32 degrees or lower and that the lowest high reading was 25 degrees on November 17. Highest low was 41 degrees on November 27.

During the month a total of 5.70 inches of snow was received in addition to .16 inch of rain. Greatest snowfall was three inches on November 7 and came after 1.7 inches had been received on November 6. Temperatures then climbed into the high 30's and 40's and the white stuff disappeared.

November of this year had high temperatures averaging 38.77 degrees, highest average in the past five years, and low readings averaging 24.27 degrees, also highest of the five-year period. Average temperature for November this year was just under the freezing mark at 31.52 degrees. One high was in the 50's, 11 in the 40's, and only two in the 20's. One low was in the 40's, seven in the 30's and 15 in the 20's.

Comparative figures for previous years were as follows:

1958 High of 60 and low of —26 with highs averaging 30.9, lows averaging 15.7, overall temperatures averaging 23.3 and rain and snow totaling 8 inches;

1959 High of 41, low of —15, highs averaging 23.2, lows averaging 8.17, overall temperatures averaging 15.68 and snowfall totaling 5.7 inches;

1960 High of 48, low of —7, average high of 36.53, average low of 20.1, overall average of 28.32 and 1.23 inches of precipitation;

1961—High of 54, low of —4, average high of 36.37, average low of 17.7, overall average of 26.98 and seven inches of snow.

Summary of high and low temperatures and precipitation daily for November of 1962 is as follows:

interested citizens and groups as the city may direct," Hodne said. "From this discussion it will be possible to determine with the commission Thief River Falls' development goals."

Phase II of the program will consist of refinement and detail development of the interim planning phase and constitute the remainder of the planning program. This would consist of development of a land use plan, circulation plan and public facilities plan.

"During the course of the program, Mr. Hodne will meet with the planning commission once a month to present progress reports, plan elements and provide technical assistance," stated James Parkins, commission chairman. "He will also be available for a reasonable number of public meetings as an education and public relations tool during the course of the planning program."

millet and sunflowers. Other areas especially the Hallock area, are expressing high interest in production of these crops. In addition the plant will provide some employment in Thief River Falls.

Another crop the company is interested in is production of a sizeable acreage of fescue grass. Farmers will want to hear about the possibility of this grass and see what opportunity it offers for their farm.

The crop improvement association will meet at the close of the general meeting to discuss and plan details for the annual Seed and Feed Show. If a list is available by then, new varieties will also be discussed.

VFW Auxiliary Gives Out Cards On Americanism

In observance of Pearl Harbor Day December 7, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary in Thief River Falls distributed 1,570 cards quoting the Preamble of the Constitution of the United States to elementary students in Thief River Falls public and parochial schools.

Distribution included 178 to students in grades 1 through 8 at St. Bernard's school, 563 at Knox elementary school, 413 at Northrop elementary school and 416 at Washington elementary school.

Printed on the cards was a statement which reads as follows: "Americanism is an unfailing love of country, loyalty to its institutions and ideals, eagerness to defend it against all enemies, undivided allegiance to the flag and a desire to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and posterity."

The statement was prepared at a conference in Washington, D. C. in 1927 by national commanders of the Grand Army of the Republic, United Spanish War Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S., American Legion and Disabled War Veterans of the World Wars.

Two Car Crashes, Vandalism Case On Police Report

$535 Damage Estimated To Autos Involved; Seek Driver of Hit-Run Car

Two accidents and one case of vandalism were reported by the Thief River Falls police department today. One of the auto mishaps involved a hit-and-run driver who is now being sought by the police.

The hit-and-run mishap occurred in the early morning Saturday, possibly about 1:30 a. m., when a car owned by Gerald Joringdal, city, was parked on the west side of Horace av. N. in the 500 block. An unidentified vehicle came from the south, skidded across the street and hit the Joringdal vehicle, then left the scene of the mishap. About $100 damage was done to the Joringdal car and the police are seeking the driver of a turquoise green car with damage on the left side.

At about 5 p. m. the same day, a car driven east on Sixth street by Verne Lefrooth, rt. 2, Strandquist, was struck on the right front fender by a car driven north on Horace av. by Rodney Collins, city. About $35 damage was done to the Lefrooth car and $300 to the Collins vehicle. No tags were issued.

Ole Ekeren, city, reported to police that the left vent and left door window of his car were broken while it was parked in the city parking lot south of the post office between 8:30 and 11 p. m. Saturday evening. The case is under investigation.

Rev. G. P. Ronholm, Former Resident, Dies In Mpls.

Rev. G. P. Ronholm, former pastor of the Newfolden Parish of the Lutheran Free Church passed away at Minneapolis on Saturday Dec. 8. Funeral services were held at Nokomis Heights Lutheran Church in Minneapolis Tuesday, Dec. 11.

Pastor Ronholm came to Newfolden in 1927 from Clan William, Manitoba, Can. where he had served a parish of the Lutheran Free Church. He was pastor of the Newfolden parish for a period of about 18 years, resigning in 1945. In addition to serving the five churches of the Newfolden parish he was interested in Bible Camp work and arranged for Bible camps for the parish to be held at the Covenant Camp at Warren. He helped to promote the Lutheran Tent Mission for Northern Minnesota and was active in that work for many years.

After he left Newfolden he served as insurance salesman for the Lutheran Brotherhood of Minneapolis and resided at Thief River Falls. Later he helped to organize the Pioneer Memorial Home at Erskine and he, with the help of his wife, served there as superintendent for several years. Later the Ronholms moved to Brainerd where they operated a rest home until they moved to Minneapolis.

Pastor Ronholm is survived by his wife, four daughters, and two sons.

Final Rites For Harold J. Johnson Here Wednesday

Harold J. Johnson, former resident of the Goodridge community who resided there for many years, and for the past five years has made his home in Eveleth, died on Friday, December 7 at Gilbert, at the age of 55.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday, December 12 at 2 p. m. in the Green Funeral Chapel. Rev. Leland Steen will officiate, and burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery of this city.

The body will lie in state at the funeral home from Monday evening until time of the services on Wednesday.

For a complete obituary, refer to the Thursday edition of the Times.

Sister of Mrs. H. H. Kelly Dies

Mrs. Ethel A. Shortley, age 58, a sister of Mrs. H. H. Kelly of this city, died unexpectedly November 30 in the Clearwater Memorial Hospital at Bagley. Mrs. Shortley was the operator of a beauty parlor in that city until just before her death.

Trinity Choirs To Give Concert Sunday, Dec. 16

Carols and Christmas selections will be presented by the choirs of Trinity Lutheran church at a concert to be held Sunday, December 16, at 8 p. m. in the church. A candle lighting service will conclude the concert.

Bryant Ulseth will direct the senior choir in presentation of a cantata entitled "Everlasting Joy" based on selected works from J. S. Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" and other chorales.

Mrs. Harold Peterson will direct the women's chorus and Paul Anderson will direct the chapel choir. Rev. Peterson will narrate the prophecy and the congregation will join in reading the Christmas Gospel and singing several Christmas carols.

Church Unit Buys Mill City Hotel as Home for Elderly

Purchase of the nine story Calhoun Beach Hotel in Minneapolis by Congregational Homes, Inc., a non-profit, Protestant organization, was announced December 4.

The 34-year-old south Minneapolis landmark will be operated as a residence center for active senior citizens, according to Kenneth A. Whitehead, president of CHI.

Congregational Homes, Inc., is a non-profit corporation affiliated with the Congregational Conference of Minnesota and its associated churches. Its purpose, according to Whitehead, is to facilitate the acquisition, development, financing and management of properties to serve the needs of the aging throughout Minnesota.

"The name of the building will be changed to the Calhoun Beach Manor," Whitehead said.

CHAMBER L.I.F.E.

Living-Industry-Farming-Education

By Rolly Larson
Manager Chamber of Commerce

1963 will be the "Golden Year" for the Chamber of Commerce as it will be the 50th year of active operation for the organization. One half century of community development efforts have not been easy as many of the old-timers will tell you. In the same breath, however, they will speak with chesty pride about the things that they have been involved in.

One cannot help but muse, however, as some of the same individuals rant and rave about the numerous community problems we have staring us in the face at this very moment. In fact, the humor of the matter is so tragic, one's laughter can soon turn to red-faced anger.

Thief River Falls has come a long way since the days of Chief Moose-Dung and some of the earlier settlers here back in lumbering days. Many old-timers will remember the efforts of men like Zeh, Oen, LaBree and many others. They were the ones who started the organizational process of this fair community. Reading some of the comments that they made in 1910, however, they would roll over in their graves if they were to find out that Thief River Falls hasn't developed as fast as they dreamed it would.

I'm sure Math Barzen had much higher hopes in 1914 when he was elected first president of the Commercial Club. Perhaps the reason that the community did not come along as fast as they imagined it would is due to the fact that more community citizens of more recent vintage did not have the dedication and progressive action spirit that they did. For an example, name one individual since his time who had the nerve and imagination of Rasmus Oen who built what is now the sizeable S & L Co. store. It can't be done because there hasn't been a singular effort that has been as significant as that particular enterprise.

So now the "has-beens" or "would have-beens and weren't" holler about the seriousness of our community problems and profess to know all of the answers because they have so many more years of practical experience. Frankly, if these same people had really experienced significant community development projects at the rate they should have, we wouldn't have so many of them staring us in the face at the present time.

So, for the really first time in about half a century, let's quit knocking those who would really do something tangible for Thief River Falls as a community with no floss in their own nest and give them the support they deserve. The vintage date of wine may tell you something about its quality but the same standard should not be applied to people. If we're going to pave streets, build roads and bridges, build schoolhouses, and attract new industries to provide increased employment we simply cannot direct ourselves by the comments of those who care no longer for the future of Thief River Falls.

Personally, I'm in favor of the community rolling up its sleeves and doing something and we don't have to wait for Washington, D. C. to come in and do it with the bum deal they're giving us for our own money either. Let's be proud we're from Thief River Falls and do something about it.

District Economy Has Forward Progress In Federal Bank Report

Ninth district economy continues to move ahead at a moderate pace according to September-October figures, the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis repots. In its current Monthly Review, the bank noted a continuing nearly 2 per cent increase in total nonfarm employment over last year's figures. Substantially fewer persons were drawing unemployment insurance and initial claims for unemployment compensation were fewer than a year ago.

Six to eight point gains in income from a year ago roughly approximate regional trends in over-all industrial production. The number and value of new building permits rose in October to levels above those of a year earlier, with the number of new housing units authorized registering a 15 per cent gain.

Early November showed a modest increase in dollar volume from a year ago in department store sales. October bank debits were up sharply from September indicating an expanding volume of business transactions.

Total district personal incomes have gained thus far this year in relation to year-ago comparisons. October personal incomes were up .7 per cent from September and 8.4 per cent above October 1961. The tempo of district business, as well as the recent improvement in farmers' incomes and personal incomes, have been due substantially to improved farm incomes. The effect of enlarged farm production and marketings is expected to continue as an economic stimulus during the current crop year.

Country bank loans registered record gains in October and in the first half of November, after rising by a near record amount in September. City banks recorded a modest seasonal decline in loans during October, following a record September gain. The first half of November marked the resumption of a more than seasonal advance in city bank loans.

Demand deposits continued to rise seasonally at both city and country banks during October, with the percentage gain at city banks running little more than half the year-ago figure, and at country banks, slightly above a year ago. Both city and country banks reported the percentage gain of time deposits in October at about double the year-earlier figure. In the first half of November, time and demand deposits at both city and country banks bettered the year-ago gains.

As in recent months, city banks continue to remain out of debt at the federal reserve. And, in spite of the impressive addition to loans at the country banks in September, October and the first half of November, their borrowings remain negligible, the Bank concluded.

Land Use Plans for Beltrami Co. To Be Revealed

Hearing at Grygla on Wednesday Called by Conservation Department

Grygla school will be the site of a hearing Wednesday at 8 p. m. on the Minnesota Department of Conservation land use report in eight townships in northwestern Beltrami county. A total of 104,000 acres of state-owned land are involved in the report and all interested persons are encouraged to attend the session.

Conducting the meeting will be Richard L. Knox, deputy commissioner of conservation for the state. Similar hearings were held for Kittson, Roseau and Marshall counties a short time ago.

Knox will meet with the Marshall county board of commissioners at Warren Wednesday morning to discuss with them possible solutions for the land use problems of the eastern part of the county. A letter received by Commissioner Sophus Bjertnes of Grygla from Knox indicated that Department of Conservation officials are willing to make some concessions.

A similar reaction was reported by Delmar Hagen of Gatzke who visited with Knox at St. Paul last week. Meeting with a small group at the Rex Cafe Friday noon, Hagen reported on his discussions with Knox and stated that he was hopeful that satisfactory solutions for the problems could be resolved.

As a basis for negotiation Hagen suggested a four-point plan which includes the following:

1. All lands now under the jurisdiction of the Division of Lands and Minerals be taken out of the Conservation Area;
2. That the 8,000 acres in question in the Eckvoll and Elm Lake areas be returned to the jurisdiction of the Division of Lands and Minerals as promised;
3. That lands retained by the state should be subject to assessment for ditch maintenance and repair on the same basis as privately owned lands; and
4. Beaver be removed from all ditches in the area.

7,000 to Fly to Allis-Chalmers Co. Milwaukee Plant

In what is believed will be the largest commercial airlift in aviation history, Allis-Chalmers Co. will fly more than 7,000 farmers and ranchers, farm equipment dealers and salesmen to Milwaukee during the first three weeks of December.

L. A. Gilyard, Allis-Chalmers farm equipment branch manager at Fargo, N. Dak., said that approximately 200 people would be making the trip from this area. They will leave December 11th and 12th from Fargo, Jamestown, and Bismarck.

The company offered the three-day, expense-paid trip as a bonus to anyone who brought an Allis-Chalmes farm tractor during September through November.

Selected As Tops in 1962 State 4-H Projects

Miss Stenerson

Ollila

Miss Milsten

Gilbertson

Four Minnesota farm teenagers have won 1962 statewide honors for their work in 4-H Club projects, planned and conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

They are Jean Stenerson, 18, of Rothsay; David Gilbertson, 19, of Ada; Marie Milsten, 18, of Mahnomen, and Milfred Ollila, 18, of Menahga.

Miss Stenerson was named the state's best in the clothing project, sponsored by Coats & Clark Inc. Her award is an expense-paid trip to the 41st National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago Nov. 25-29. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Stenerson, she is in her first year at Northwestern Hospital School of Nursing.

She took the clothing project during eight of her 10 years in 4-H, and now sews 90 per cent of her own clothes.

Gilbertson won state honors in the beef project, sponsored by E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, along with an expense-paid trip to the congress. He grew up on the 1,045-acre farm of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Gilbertson, and is a North Dakota State University sophomore.

During his nine years in 4-H, Gilbertson was a junior leader for five years and an assistant leader for three, helping the beef project leader. He intends to raise beef cattle as his life work.

Miss Milsten was top-ranked girl in the state in the achievement project, sponsored by the Ford Motor Company Fund. She too won an expense-paid trip to the Chicago meeting, plus a chance at a $400 scholarship.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mervin S. Milsten, she is a University of Minnesota freshman. During her 10 years in 4-H, she served as president of the Mahnomen County 4-H Federation, was delegate to the State 4-H Junior Leadership Conference, and was named outstanding girl 4-H'er in the county.

Ollila, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ollila, was highest-ranked boy in Minnesota in the 4-H Achievement Program, also sponsored by Ford. He will receive a special citation from Ford and will be eligible for one of 12 $400 college scholarships.

He engaged in such projects as forestry, garden, conservation, corn, potatoes, electric, shop, tractor, and junior leadership. He was elected president of his local club four times in eight years. He also was winner of the state forestry competition, repeated winner in the county electric project, and was named the outstanding boy junior leader in Wadena County.

New Regulations Set up for Pork

State Agency Sets up Standards for Products

New state regulations relating to smoked hams and similar pork products are being strictly enforced according to an announcement by Duane A. Wilson, Minnesota commissioner of agriculture.

Minnesota now has a definite set of standards, rules and regulations which require proper advertising and labeling of smoked hams, smoked pork shoulder picnics and similar products whether in whole, half, chunk or sliced form.

State inspectors have been issued instructions to take the action necessary to obtain complete compliance with the new regulations by all meat dealers. These regulations prohibit the sale in Minnesota of smoked meat products that contain more than ten per cent added curing solution. The provision eliminates the so-called "imitation" and "artificial" hams from Minnesota markets.

The new labeling regulations allow Minnesota consumers to have an option of purchasing their preference of either moist or non-moist hams. This is accomplished by requiring that the proper name of the product be conspicuously displayed on the label. The department is also conducting a survey of food outlets throughout the state by their inspectional staff to determine the degree of compliance with all Minnesota labeling laws and regulations.

Inquiries regarding food regulations are invited by the Commissioner and should be directed to the Minnesota Department of Agriculture, Division of Agricultural Products Inspection.

By conditioning his hay before raking into windrows, a farmer can reduce drying time by 30 per cent, New Holland tests show.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Laura Duerst

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

As Christmas time approaches, will your children be confronted with the problem of what shall I give so and so? Maybe it's Mom and Dad or Grandmother that pose the problem on the gift list.

Instead of trying to figure out how much you can spend on each person and planning their gifts within these limits, why not give of yourself this Christmas.

A coupon guaranteeing one day's ironing would be a welcome present for Mother. You may also want to include coupons good for dusting, washing and drying dishes, baking, baby sitting, doing errands or mending. Mom would be pleased to open a coupon which was good for one day of shopping while you took care of a younger brother and sister.

Has Dad been complaining about washing a car? Give him a coupon for these activities. Wouldn't he be glad to see a note entitling him to his favorite dessert baked by you? The coupons can be made to last the whole year, too, by including some for mowing the lawn, weeding the garden or washing windows.

Use your imagination and your family's wants to give them a really happy Christmas!

If you plan to use a metallic Christmas tree this year as a change from the traditional evergreen, beware of using electric lighting sets on this kind of tree. The National Safety Council warns that a voltage leak from lights or wiring could result in a death-dealing jolt or severe burns if the tree is touched. An off-the-tree spot or flood lights would give your tree a distinctive look, and also help you enjoy a safe holiday season.

Turkey & Chicken Best Market Buys

Reports on Food Supply Marketing Specialist

Good eating is in sight for December, judging from the U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for the month.

Broiler-fryers, turkey and cranberries are the featured items on the list.

The large supplies and low prices of both chicken and turkey make them best buys among meats. Supplies of broiler-fryers are expected to be as much as 20 per cent larger than a year ago, repots Mrs. Eleanor Loomis, extension consumer marketing specialist at the University of Minnesota. Turkey supplies are only 5 per cent down from last December.

Whether you choose turkey or chicken, you'll have no trouble getting cranberries to serve with either. This year's cranberry crop is estimated at a record 1,398,000 barrels—30 per cent above average.

Fresh oranges, tart red cherries and Maine sardines are among other abundant foods for December.

The Florida orange crop is expected to reach 118 million boxes, or over 5 million boxes more than last season. In addition, the navel orange crop in California and Arizona this season is forecast at more than double its size last year. Current inventories of frozen concentrated orange juice in the hands of Florida processors are also record large.

Nurses' Licenses Are Due January 1

Currently licensed Minnesota registered nurses and licensed practical nurses who intend to practice in Minnesota next year are reminded to renew their licenses prior to January 1, 1963, if they have not already done so.

The 1963 renewal fee of $2.00, renewal application, and information sheet are to be sent to the Minnesota Board of Nursing, 530 Minnesota Building, St. Paul 1, promptly to assure receipt of the renewal certificate by January 1.

A late penalty fee of $1.00 in addition to the renewal fee will be charged for such renewals postmarked after December 31, 1962.

Requests for placement in the nonpracticing status may be made instead of renewal of license by those currently licensed nurses who do not intend to practice in Minnesota at any time in 1963.

12 Cases Tried Last Monday in Municipal Court

$523.00 in Fines Are Asssessed; Two Charged With Liquor Violations

Twelve cases were tried in Thief River Falls municipal court last Monday with charges ranging from parking offenses to furnishing liquor to a minor. Fines and bond forfeited totaled $523.50 with $32 suspended.

Highway patrol cases included Robert M. Johnson, Lakeville, speeding, $17.50 bond forfeited; Mrs. Sadie Bugge, city, drive through stop sign, $15 bond forfeited; and Ronald Werner, Middle River, speeding, $20 bond forfeited.

Sheriff's department cases included William C. Everson, rt. 1, furnish liquor to a minor 18 years of age, $100 fined; Glenn Grindeland, city, furnish liquor to a minor 15 years of age, $100 fine; Harold Larson, city, speeding, $20 fine with $5 suspended; and Thornton Stark, city, careless driving, arrested on citizen's complaint, fined $35 with $10 suspended.

Police department cases included Douglas Anderson, city, careless driving, fined $35 with $10 suspended; Donovan Ranstrom, rt. 2, speeding, fined $19 with $7 suspended; Milton Wiebe and William Hildebrandt, Steinbach, Manitoba, drinking by minors, $15 bond each forfeited; Peter Wiebe, Steinbach, Man., drinking by a minor, fined $15 or sentenced to five days in jail, placed in custody; and Gwen Roering, city, two offenses of failure to pay parking tickets, fined $10 on each charge.

Undesirable Kinds of Wheat Listed by ASC

The wheat varieties designated as "undesirable" under the 1963 price-support operation are the same as for the 1962 program, Winton Knutson, chairman of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, reminded farmers today. The discount of 20 cents per bushel for the varieties also is unchanged from this year's program. As in the past, these varieties will not be eligible for quality premiums.

Varieties grown in Pennington county, which are designated as "undesirable" under the 1963 program include the following: Hard Red Spring: C. T. 231, Kinney, Premier, Progress, Russell, Gasser, Henry, Spinkcota, and Sturgeon, durum: Golden Ball, Pellss, and Pentad.

Altogether, 37 varieties were designated as undesirable for 1963 support operation. They were found to have distinctly undesirable milling and baking quality.

Chairman Knutson said that notice of the discount, which will apply to 1963-crop price support for the undesirable varieties, was given as early as last August as a means of discouraging their production and lessening the possibility of U. S. wheat of inferior quality finding its way into domestic and export channels.

He said that representatives of crop improvment associations have supported this action to help improve the overall quality of U. S. wheat production.

Acreages of the undesirable varieties have been declining in recent years, and the discount in the price-support program has been credited with speeding up this trend. Application of the 20-cents-per-bushel discount to producer support rates will be the same as under the 1962 operation.

As in the past, the 1963 program regulations for price support will require the producer to certify production of undesirable varieties based on his knowledge of the varieties he seeded and harvested. Because wheat varieties are difficult to determine from threshed samples, additional information may be required in certain instances in support of the certification.

Extension Staff at 'U' Conference

Three to Attend Session Tuesday Thru Thursday

The University of Minnesota's annual conference for agricultural extension workers will be held Tuesday through Thursday at the St. Paul campus.

Attending the sessions from Thief River Falls will be County Agent Paul Steinmaschultz, Home Agent Laura Duerst and Wm. Penning.

Among speakers will be James Harlow, dean of the college of education, University of Oklahoma; Richard E. Bowman, deputy chief in the division of agriculture affairs, Office of Public Affairs, Washington, D. C., Edgar Boone, National Agricultural Extension Center for Advanced Study, University of Wisconsin; and Kenneth Haugenson, Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

Annual meetings of the associations of county agents, home agents and 4-H club agents will be held Tuesday in the Curtis hotel.

McIntosh Votes Tuesday to Keep Its Liquor Store

McIntosh voters, after having an off-sale liquor store in operation for the past ten months favored keeping the store and voted its continuation by an 87-vote margin Tuesday.

Two hundred and ten votes were cast in favor of the store and 123 votes were recorded in the negative.

The liquor question has come before McIntosh voters nearly every year for the past 12. Last year voters approved the establishment of the off-sale liquor store there by a three-vote margin.

Supreme Court to Rule Today on Site of Recount

State DFL Leaders Ask for Albert Lea Judge, and GOP Favors St. Paul

The Minnesota supreme court becomes the center of attention today, Monday, when it hears arguments on a motion to move the governor recount case from Albert Lea to St. Paul.

Attorneys for Gov. Elmer L. Andersen are expected to submit arguments to bolster their contention the governor is entitled to have the matter handled in his home county of Ramsey.

Attorneys for Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag, who filed the recount petition in Freeborn county district court, will offer reasons to support their claim that the petitioner has the right to pick the county.

The GOP motion has been greeted by DFL charges — promptly denied by GOP leaders — that it is a part of a calculated plan to delay the recount.

National Square Dance Convention in St. Paul in June

Square dancers throughout a five-state area will be hosts to an expected crowd of nearly 20,000 dancers at the 12th national square dance convention, scheduled for St. Paul next June.

The giant conclave, biggest get-together of the amateur exponents of the only authentic folk dancing in America, which has snowballed into huge proportions in this area in recent years, will be held in the St. Paul Auditorium with several adjacent halls and hotels handling overflow crowds who descend on Minnesota's capital city for three days of concentrated dancing and fun, from June 20 to 22.

According to Gordon and Mable Pierce, Elbow Lake, Minn., general chairman of the convention, this will be the first time in history such a large number of people have danced together within the borders of the state.

Beiswenger Boys Top Navy Class In California

Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Beiswenger, rt. 4, Thief River Falls, have recently been notified by the commanding officer of U. S. Naval School Command, San Diego, California, that their sons, Ronald and Russell have attained outstanding achievements in Class A Shipfitter-Pipefitter School at the Naval Training Center.

Ronald graduated as honor student of his class and his twin brother Russell was runnerup for honor student and was only four tenths of one point behind Ronald. Mr. and Mrs. Beiswenger were congratulated by the commanding officer on their sons' outstanding achievements and a letter with this information was forwarded to the Navy men's next commanding officer at U. S. Naval Submarine Base, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

4-H CLUB NEWS

City View 4-H

The November meeting of the City View 4-H club was held in the meeting room of the court house.

The meeting was called to order by president, Peder Furuseth.

The leaders council report was given. We appointed our project leaders for the coming year. We sold our equipment for making safety-ladders at $1.50 each. This year instead of exchanging gifts at our Christmas party, we will give $5 to the Don Meyer's Memorial Fund. We discussed taking a plane ride to Grand Forks. The beginners were presented with their pins and the achievement pins and awards were given out.

Bruce Howick gave a project talk on shop and Becky Scholin gave one on bread.

For the program we had group singing, Diane Timm and Mitch Kezar played accordian solos; Gail Sande and Mary Bren sang a duet. A reading was given by Eddy Furuseth.

Lunch was served by the adult leaders.

Gary Sande, Reporter

Highlanding 4-H

The Highlanding 4-H club held its monthly meeting at the Harry Paulson home.

The meeting was called to order by the president Lynette Paulson.

The main discussion was the airplane trip. Mrs. Ernest Swanson gave us the details.

The meeting was adjourned. Lowell Swanson gave an interesting demonstration on how to construct a soil testing tube.

We held a "mock meeting" on parliamentary procedure. We each had an important part to do. We hope to continue this at every meeting.

Mrs. Paulson served a delicious lunch following the meeting.

In November the Highlanding club went to Grand Forks, North Dakota on the airplane. We had our tickets purchased by the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce for which we thank them very much.

We left on the plane at 12:00 noon and arrived in Grand Forks at 12:19.

Then we went to the Bronze Boot and had a delicious meal. Next to the Dakota Maid Mill where we received an interesting tour through the eight floors and also the test kitchen where they test the flour.

Then we went down the street to the KNOX radio and TV studio where we saw the disc jockeys and the many machines.

Next we went shopping at many of the stores of the city.

Some of the parents of our members motored to Grand Forks and we returned home with them after a very delightful day.

Lana Ellingson

Deer Park 4-H

The Deer Park 4-H club was called to order by vice president Greg Radniecki on November 27 at the Roman Radniecki home. The Christmas meeting was discussed and planned with Faye Stuey in charge.

After the meeting was adjourned Mike Radniecki was in charge of the program. Songs were sung by the group. Cheri Jensen and Mike Radniecki gave a team project talk. Beth Radniecki provided us with music on the piano. Regene and Keith Radniecki gave a team demonstration on "Gun Safety". Greg Radniecki gave a project report on "How to Stop Bleeding". A report on the dangers of shooting at highline wire insulators was given by Les Keifenheim. A movie entitled, "Is Your Home Electrically Safe", was shown and the new project photography was discussed.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Roman Radniecki.

GOP Planning for $100 Plate Dinner

Slated for Minneapolis Auditorium January 26

Organization chairmen are being appointed in each of Minnesota's 87 counties this week to head up preparations for the Republican Party's $100-a-plate dinner to be held in the Minneapolis Auditorium January 26.

John S. Pillsbury, Jr., President of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company, will be chairman of the dinner, according to the announcement this week by Lucian Strong, chairman of the Minnesota Republican finance committee.

In accepting the post, Pillsbury told a planning session of party leaders, "Never before in the history of Republicanism in the state has this event been so important. Although 1963 is not an election year, the closeness of the recent governorship race, our gains in the legislature and the need to meet the challenge of the immediate future emphasize what we have accomplished and also what we must do."

Radio Free Europe Chief Lauds State Legion Auxiliary

Russia's strategy in 1950 was to acquire five satellite countries and then push forward into Western Europe but Radio Free Europe helped spoil the plan, Carl Rupe, vice president of the Radio Free Europe Fund, said at the convention of the Minnesota department of the American Legion Auxiliary in Minneapolis last week.

Rupe said the USSR's goal was "much closer to realization" in 1950 than it is today.

He said refugee reports from Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria, the five major Iron Curtain countries, indicate that about 50 per cent of the people are regular RFE listeners. Radio Free Europe is supported by contributions from the U. S. people.

The American Legion Auxiliary's work on behalf of Radio Free Europe was given strong praise by Rupe.

Topic Given for 4-H Radio Speech Contest in 1963

"How Should 4-H Prepare Me for Responsible Citizenship?"

Minnesota 4-H club members entering the twenty-first annual statewide radio speaking contest will present their ideas on this subject in local, district and state contests.

All 4-H club members are eligible to enter community or county radio speaking events. However, participants in the district contest must be 14 years of age but not over 21 on January 1, 1963. Previous state and reserve state champions are not eligible. Local competition is arranged under the direction of local leaders and county extension agents. Last year over 1,100 Minnesota 4-H'ers participated.

The contest is sponsored jointly by the Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service and the Jewish Community Relations Council of Minnesota. The awards are given by the Jewish Council.

First Sub-Zero Reading Noted Here Last Night

First sub-zero reading of the season was recorded last night in the Times area when the mercury dipped to a —7 reading. Prospects for a warm day did not look good as the temperature had climbed only to —4 shortly before noon today.

Sub-zero readings are not uncommon for this time of year, however. First sub-zero temperatures the past several years included —4 on Nov. 27, 1961; —7 on Nov. 30, 1960; —5 on Nov. 13, 1959; and —11 on Nov. 24, 1958. Lowest reading for November this year was 10 degrees on November 22.

High and low temperatures the past several days included 22 and 1 on Thursday, 33 and 9 on Friday, 29 and 9 on Saturday, 9 and zero on Sunday and —7 degrees last night. The forecast calls for light snow today, clearing tonight, fair tomorrow with colder temperatures today and tonight with winds north at 20 to 30 m. p. h. tomorrow. Highs of 5 to 15 are expected today with lows of —5 to —15 tonight.

RRV Holstein Ass'n. to Meet At Angus Thursday

Annual meeting of the Red River Valley Holstein association has been scheduled for Thursday, December 13, with a farm tour, free dinner and business session included in the event. James Muzzy of Thief River Falls is president of the organization.

The day's activities will begin about 10:30 a. m. at the Lloyd Kasprick farm located three miles south and one-half mile west of Angus. Attention is called to an error in the mailed meeting notice which stated the farm was north of Angus. Time will be spent viewing the herd of about 120 Holsteins and the milking facilities.

At noon a free dinner will be sponsored by the association at Barb's Cafe in Angus. The business session will follow at 1:30 p. m. in the Angus hall with discussion to include the "Black and White Show" for the coming year, and election of officers. Kasprick is vice president of the organization with Robert McTaggart of Wahpeton, N. D., as secretary-treasurer.

Hay that's harvested while it is at the proper moisture point will have the most total digestible nutrients, New Holland tests show. By feeding top quality hay that's high in total digestible nutrients, farmers can cut feed costs.

SLOW DOWN AND LIVE

Economist Sees More Stable Farm Status

The next five years may bring more stability to agriculture, with smaller surpluses and production more in line with what consumers will buy.

That prediction comes from James App, extension economist at the University of Minnesota.

App makes this prediction in spite of the fact that total farm output is likely to increase by some 6 to 7 per cent in the next 5 years. However, that increase in output is likely to be less than the increase in population, meaning output and use might be more nearly in balance.

However, certain commodities such as dairy products and cotton may still be on the surplus list by 1967, unless we have some new programs.

App bases such predictions on several assumptions. These assumptions include continued feed grain and wheat programs, no major wars, population growth of about 1.5 per cent yearly, further gains in productivity, strong foreign aid programs and no major economic recessions.

Will dairy surpluses keep building up? Yes, says App, unless we find workable ways of reducing output or expanding domestic and foreign consumption of dairy products. There may also be a problem with cotton. The present program of supporting cotton prices 8½ cents above world levels can mean increased competition from synthetic fibers and imported cotton goods.

For feed grains, App says, continued liquidation at the rate of the past year would about bring supplies in line with needs in the next two years. Wheat supplies are likely to come into line with normal levels within 5 years.

If we can get rid of excessive stocks and bring production into balance with demand, App says, we can expect more stability in agriculture with rising per capita incomes for farmers. This process would be helped by continued expansion of the domestic and foreign market, by further declines in numbers of farms and farm people and further gains in farm efficiency.

The longer-term export outlook is encouraging for agriculture, according to App. In post-war years, world trade in farm products has increased faster than world population or world agricultural production. This is in spite of agricultural expansion programs in most underdeveloped countries and a worldwide trend twoard self-sufficiency in food supplies.

The U. S. share of world trade expansion has increased, particularly since 1954-55. And assuming a continued strong demand in advanced countries and an active program under Public Law 480, the U. S. should maintain its share of foreign trade.

Salvation Army Asks Application for Yule Baskets

Applications for Christmas baskets to be distributed by the local Salvation Army unit must be received by December 17, according to Envoy Carl Paulson. Baskets will be distributed just prior to Christmas in the several counties served by the local unit.

The Salvation Army store, now in its new location on LaBree av. N., will open on Thursday and be open on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Envoy Paulson said. A large stock of items is available for purchase at a nominal price.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends, neighbors, and relatives for their kindness and sympathy extended to us following the sudden death of our husband, father, and grandfather. Especially do we thank Rev. Larson for his visit to our home and for his comforting words; Romona Chervestad, Mrs. Paul Omild, and Mrs. Kenneth Kriel for their music and songs; the Green Funeral Home and pallbearers for their services. Special thanks to Larry Grim, Walter Todd, and Mrs. Lewie Bjerklie for their effort and assistance. Sincere thanks for cards and memorials, and to the ladies who brought food to our home.

Your kindness and thoughtfulness will always be remembered.

May God bless you all. Mrs. Ole Rindahl, Mr. and Mrs. Orlien Rindahl and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brovold and family. 1t99c

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our neighbors, relatives and friends and the hostesses, for the housewarming tendered us last Thursday evening, and the lovely gift. Mr. and Mrs. Roland Klamar and Brent. 1t99c

In Memoriam

In memory of our dad, Swan Mortrud, who passed away Dec. 11th, 1958:

What we would give if we could say,
"Hello", Dad, in the same old way,
To hear his voice, to see his smile,
To sit down with him and chat awhile.
If you have a father,
Cherish him with care,
For you'll never know the heartaches
Till you see his vacant chair.

Sadly missed by Mr. and Mrs. Louie Tale, Gatzke, Minn. 1t99p

LEGAL NOTICE

Nov. 26-Dec. 10-13

Notice of Special Meeting of Stockholders of Consumers Cooperative Assn.

Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of Consumers Cooperative Association will be held at Civic and Commerce rooms in the city auditorium in the city of Thief River Falls, on Dec. 13, 1962, at 2 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of considering and acting upon a resolution to amend the By-laws of the association as adopted by the Board of Directors and recommended to the stockholders for adoption, which said resolution reads as follows:

RESOLVED, that Article VIII of the By-laws be amended by adding thereto a new section which shall be numbered Section 6, the same to read as follows:

Section 6. Each member of this cooperative as of the effective date of this By-laws who continues as a member after such date, and each person who shall after such date become a member shall, by such act alone, consent that the amount of any distributions with respect to his patronage occurring in any fiscal year of the association beginning after December 31, 1962, and which are made in written notices of allocation (as defined in 26 USCA 1388), and which are received by said member from the cooperative, will be taken into account by him at their stated dollar amounts in the manner provided in 26 USCA 1385 (a), less any amount which may be excluded under 26 USCA 1385 (b), in the taxable year in which such written notices of allocation are received by him.

This amendment to the By-laws is necessitated by provisions of the Revenue Act of 1962. In order to receive the full benefit of the amendment under the Law, it is necessary that it be adopted prior to January 1, 1963.

Late Events in Middle River

Mrs. D. A. Hanson

The circles of the TLCW jointly presented the program in observance of the Advent season at the regular meeting Thursday, Dec. 6. The program entitled "Prelude to Christmas" was presented by members of the Martha and Ruth circles. Included were also songs by a group of women from the circles. Devotions were given by Mrs. Ing Gullikson and offering meditation by Mrs. Squire Holmes.

The American Legion Auxiliary held their annual Christmas party Monday evening, Dec. 10 at 8 p. m. in the Legion club rooms. A pot luck lunch was shared and each member donated something for Christmas baskets.

O. A. Widmark accompanied by Mrs. Widmark, manager of the Middle River Co-op Elevator assn., and delegate Nilo Rantenen left Dec. 9 for St. Paul, where they will attend the annual GTA meeting.

Roy Anderson left Monday for Minneapolis where he attended the annual board members meeting of the Co-op Oil Assn. held at the Leamington Hotel, and also visited at the James Schemel and Bennie Anderson homes, returning home Friday.

The past presidents' parley of the American Legion Auxiliary met last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Helen Pelton.

Visitors last Saturday evening at the Fred Larson home were Mr. and Mrs. Andy Shontz and family of Badger, and Mr. and Mrs. Hans Newman and Sheryl of TRF.

Roberta Young had a group of her classmates over to help celebrate her 7th birthday Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Myrtle Joringdal and Jerry of TRF were dinner guests last Tuesday at the Lloyd Peltons.

Mrs. Oscar Schenkey, Mrs. Joe Biskup, Mrs. Effie Scramstad and girls, and Mrs. B. A. Hanson were Friday evening coffee guests at the Gene Hanson home in TRF.

Mrs. Avlin Henning of St. Paul visited last Saturday with Mrs. Squire Holmes and also visited briefly with Mrs. Henry Walton.

Lloyd Pelton left Saturday for Killdeer, N. D. for a week's visit with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ness and Elwin visited last Tuesday at the John Aune home near Newfolden. Mrs. Ness and Elwin remained for a few days visit.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hanson visited Wednesday afternoon at the Wm. Lindahl and Gene Hanson homes in TRF.

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture

Wetland development, livestock watering pits, grassed waterways and tree planting were among the conservation practices shown to members of the Litchfield Sportsmen's Club recently. Einar Henrikson, SCS work unit conservationist; Henry Putzier, ASC office manager; and Dave Wiley, area game manager, conducted the tour. They also discussed land use capability classification, wildlife values of marsh and upland areas, SCS technical assistance, and ACP cost-sharing of wildlife practices.

"I had erosion problems back in 1958 and was forced to pasture my cropland," Donald Wilford, cooperator with the Fillmore SWCD. Since then, with the help of Arnold Aakre, SCS technician at Preston, Wilford has installed 31,000 feet of terraces and set up a seven-year rotation of two years corn, grain, two years hay and two years pasture on his 280 acre farm. "That solved my problems," he added.

Windbreak improvement. Both farmstead and field windbreaks have their snowcatching and holding improved by mixing species of trees. Lake States Forest Experiment Station research show that mixed stands of hardwood and conifers catch more snow than pure conifers and they hold snow longer than pure hardwood.

"Seeing is believing," says Herman Christopherson of Freeborn County. Before the fall of 1960 he was farming up and down hill on Clarion silt loam with an eight per cent slope. He had poor yields, huge soil and water losses and great inconvenience. After he built 4,150 feet of terraces in 1960, he found that he had bigger and better crops, much less soil loss and easier operations.

MAVIE . . .

Mrs. Henry Bendickson, Mrs. George Panek, Mrs. Vern Phillip, Mrs. Roy Aandol and Sharon Linwick met at the Lowel Hanson home last Thursday to make plans for the Christmas program to be held December 23 at the Germantown Zion Lutheran Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Erickson and family of Fargo, N. D. were guests at the Harry Nelson home from Monday noon until Wednesday evening. Saturday afternoon callers were Mrs. E. W. Brown and children and Mrs. Stan E. Pollman and children of Thief River Falls. Over night guest there Saturday evening was Timmy Herber also of TRF.

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans' benefits may be obtained by visiting or writing the VA Contact Office at the Fargo VA Center.

Q—IS Veterans Administration medical care available to peacetime veterans?

A—Yes, but they must have service-connected disabilities. A new law enacted by the 87th Congress extends the privilege to receive VA hospital and medical care to peacetime veterans having noncompensable, service-connected disabilities.

Q—Can a veteran pay off his GI loan before it becomes due and not be penalized?

A—Yes. A GI loan may be partially or fully paid at ANY TIME WITHOUT PENALTY. Part payments may not be less than one monthly installment or $100, whichever is less.

Q—May a veteran who has no service-connected illness enter a VA hospital and pay for his care?

A—No. The government extends hospitalization benefits free of charge to those veterans with service-connected disabilities and to those veterans with nonservice-connected disabilities who cannot afford to pay for their hospitalization. All other veterans are expected to use non-VA hospitals.

Warren Quintet Bows to Prowlers 77 to 60

A well-balanced and sharpshooting attack plus strong rebounding were the prime factors in giving the Prowlers a decisive 77 to 60 win over the Warren Ponies in a District 31 conference basketball game played on the Warren court on Friday evening.

The Prowlers will continue in conference play this week when, on Friday night, Dec. 14, on the Lincoln high school floor, they meet coach Al Droen's Crookston Central Pirates. The Pirates defeated East Grand Forks, 48 to 41, at Crookston on Friday night. On Saturday night, Dec. 15, the Prowlers will play at Ada.

In Friday night's tilt at Warren, the Ponies held the lead briefly, and that was in the opening seconds of play when Harley Marek scored a free throw point. That lead was short-lived as John Aune, getting a pass from Rick Jensen, drove in to score on a layup shot into the west basket. After Paul Klungness hit on a jump shot, Warren, on Dean Peterson's free throw and Ken Carlson's field goal on rebound, knotted the game at 4-all. Aune and Jensen scored Prowler field goals, and coach Jack Junker's crew gained the lead they never relinquished, and to which they added a comfortable point-cushion.

The Prowlers held an 18 to 13 lead at the end of the first period, and a 39 to 20 lead at the intermission.

Midway in the third period, with the score 44 to 30 in favor of the Prowlers, the locals erupted for six quick field goals, with Jensen getting three, and Ken Larson, Gary Hagen, and Bob Olson one apiece. This flurry shoved the blue-and-gold into a 57 to 30 lead. And at the end of the period, the Prowlers held a commanding 64 to 36 margin.

The Ponies, with Jerry Cook and Dennis Dvorak contributing six points each, out-pointed the Prowlers, 24 to 13, in the final period.

Aune led the Prowler scorers with 14 points, scored on seven field goals, and in addition the Prowler captain turned in stellar defensive performance on Warren's Cook. Cook, who gained the game's high-point honors on four field goals and nine free throws, was limited to but six points in the first half. The defensive assignments were changed in the second half as coach Junker sent numerous reserves into the game.

Joining Aune in turning in a fine all-round game was forward Tom Lindberg. Lindberg, along with Bob Olson, controlled the boards well, and on offensive the slender blond was making some neat moves as he maneuvered for close-in shots.

Locals Score Second Win of Season Friday Night

The Prowler 'B' squad, with center Rich Nelson scoring 14 points, and getting nine of these points in the first period; and with forward Dave Gustafson scoring nine points, all in the second period, defeated coach Bill Wagner's Warren 'B' team, 36 to 23, in a preliminary game played at Warren on Friday night.

The Prowler B's, scoring their second win of the season, held an 11 to 4 margin at the end of the first period, and 23 to 14 lead at the intermission.

Ron Loeslie, a guard, led the scoring for the coach Wagner's team, notching two field goals and six free throws for a 10-point performance.

SUCCESS on the deer trails this year was good for guests at Dirk's Hunters Lodge located 8 miles east of Grygla, according to Mrs. Byron Dirks, who has operated the lodge with her husband for the past three years Shown above is Wayne Klenen of Lake Park whos 300 pound buck was the first taken by a lodge guest this season. He was hunting with a party of 10 from Lake Park. In all the lodge had about 30 hunters quartered with more than 20 deer being taken.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Who is Better?

This is the time of the high school athletic year when the Twin City sports writers put their annual query to Bemidji's cage coach, Bun Fortier, as to the prospects of the Lumberjacks. And this is the time of year when coach Fortier answers with the statement that Bemidji has a number of problems, and that such teams as Thief River Falls, Ada, Fertile, Heundrum, and others must be given high ranking as regional contenders. But on their play to date, who is stronger than Bemidji in Region Eight? . . .

The Lumberjacks, who were shocked when they lost the Region Eight title to Ada last year, losing to the Vikings, 52 to 51, have been very impressive in scoring three wins this season. Bemidji handled Crookston and East Grand Forks with considerable ease, and on Saturday night, playing coach Marv Skaar's well-rated Grand Forks club at Grand Forks, the Jacks scored a 46 to 39 victory. To defeat the Redskins on the Grand Forks Central court is quite a feat.

While it is true, as Fortier explained, that last season's club was one of his better teams, the squad that he has this season will be just as strong by tournament time. It must be recalled that Ada's win over Bemidji in the regional finals last season, while it was deserved, must be considered somewhat of an upset. Just a couple of weeks before the Region Eight tournament, in a game played at Bemidji, the Jacks had handled the Vikings without much trouble.

In the Region Eight title game, Ada played near-perfect basketball while Bemidji gave some evidence of being over-confident.

Bemidji is Team to Beat

It is perhaps to dispel any thoughts of over-confidence by the Bemidji players that coach Fortier always stresses the strength of the other teams in the region. But Bemidji will be the team to beat.

This week's state high school basketball ratings, as compiled by Art Johlfs, finds Bemidji holding down the number one spot. Johlfs adds, "To me, rebounding is the most important factor in the cage game. I recall one of the greatest 'defensive' teams in the state winning the championship with a 101 score, due mainly to control of the boards, plus hot shooting. So I'm for the teams that score 60 points or more."

Oh yes, I must mention that Bemidji defeated the Bagley Flyers of District 30 on Friday night, and by a 57 to 40 score.

A Pair of the Best

This season District 30 can put forth a valid claim to having two of the finest players in Region Eight basketball. Referring, of course, to Herb Hasz of the Ada Vikings and Mark Carlin of the Fosston Greyhounds. Hasz won all-state tournament honors last season as the Vikings, as regional champions, represented Region Eight in the state meet. In Ada's first-round state tournament game, against Danube, Hasz scored ten field goals and eleven free throws as the Vikings dropped a 65 to 63 decision. And in a consolation round game against Crosby-Ironton, and which was won by Ada, 59 to 58, Hasz had another ten field-goal game, and added five free throws. The fast-moving Cloquet squad limited Hasz to a field goal and a free throw as they won the consolation title, defeating Ada 79 to 49.

Hasz and Carlin met in a man-to-man scoring duel at Fosston on Saturday night, and the Vikings' star gained a slight edge. Ada defeated Fosston, 59 to 57, and Hasz scored 12 field goals and nine free throws for 33 points. Carlin just about matched Hasz' performance as the smooth-playing Fosston guard tallied seven field goals and ten free throws for 24 points.

And the Prowlers will be meeting both of these players, and local fans will be able to see one, Carlin, when Fosston plays here on Feb. 8. The Prowlers will meet Hasz and the Ada Vikings at Ada on Saturday night, Dec. 15.

Prowler Wrestlers Defeat Warren 29-18

Coach Al Shaff's Prowler varsity wrestling squad won its third match of the season when, on Saturday night at Warren, the locals defeated coach Dean Erickson's Ponies, 29 to 18. Last Wednesday evening, in a match held at Crookston, the Prowler wrestlers scored a 37 to 11 win over the Crookston Central squad.

The win at Crookston could prove costly for the Prowlers as Terry Nelson, in winning his 165-pound class match by pinning Centrals Kent Charron, injured a knee. It is not known when the popular Nelson, a junior, will return to action.

This week's schedule will find the Prowler A and B squads meeting the Greenbush A and B squads on Wednesday evening, Dec. 12. On Monday, Dec. 17, the Crookston Aggies will bring their A and B squads here for a match. The B squad match will begin at 6:30 p. m. and the varsity matches at 7:30 p. m.

Call to Adventure . . .

Judy Gessner Enjoys Life As Stewardess

By Flora Allison
Times Society Reporter

Where do the graduates of Lincoln high school go after the diplomas are earned and pursuing a career becomes a matter of prime importance? The answer is, literally, "Everywhere. . .with the sky the absolute limit." As for example, Miss Judy Gessner, the daughter of the George Gessners, a graduate of LHS in 1957. Judy is an airline stewardess with Northwest Orient Airlines, with her home base in Minneapolis.

Now that she has earned almost three years' seniority with NW Orient, she, like the others with seniority, can select her schedule. Her contract calls for 80 hours of flying time a month, and she has her schedule planned a month in advance. "Some weeks I'm gone three days, and have four days at home; perhaps the next week I may fly a great deal more," she explained.

Her favorite flights include the winter trips to Miami; in summer she "loves" Seattle. . ."It's so cool, and lush and wonderful." Incidentally, she attended the World's Fair there several times this summer. Miss Gessner has made many trips to Washington, D. C., and Idlewilde International Airport, in New York City, is as familiar to her as Main avenue is to us.

Career Preparation

Northwest Orient has a training school for prospective stewardesses, the course including everything from food handling and serving meals in flight, through First Aid, familiarization with aircraft—"so you know what you're going to be flying in", on to meteorology, good grooming, charm and poise. Four of the five girls in the group with which she began her training are still together, and are roommates at "home base," which fact she says is in itself somewhat remarkable.

To qualify, a girl must be between 20 and 26 years of age, between 5'3" and 5'9" in height, and her weight should be in accordance with her height and build, approximately 106 to 130 pounds. She must be single! This last requirement accounts for the extremely high rate of turnover in this profession. Most of the girls who leave make a choice between continuing in their careers, and affairs of the heart, with Cupid having the edge.

The majority of the girls have two years or more of college, or the equivalent in business experience, meeting the public, and the like. "You need this experience in order to acquire the tact required to meet and deal with a veritable cross-section of humanity," she stated, adding, "The girls have to be gregarious, out-going, able to sit down and make 'small talk', reassure the apprehensive, and put the passengers at ease." She admitted it took a bit of doing, sometimes, to maintain a calm exterior when the flight becomes turbulent and danger seems imminent. But that is her function, and she says the preparatory training helps a girl achieve this ability.

Her Duties

The girls receive a "flight call" two hours prior to scheduled take-off time. They get dressed, pack and leave for the airport. They must be aboard the plane one hour before the flight is to leave. During this time they prepare for the trip, "pre-departure jobs, listing the passengers and their addresses, setting up the galley, counting the number of meals that will be served."

Meals are pre-prepared before being taken aboard the plane, and often feature a casserole, an entree consisting perhaps of steak or lobster tails. . .tenderloin tips of beef, shrimp Creole, veal. . .Desserts are often small cakes or a sundae or tart.

Miss Gessner says that she is required to carry her flight manual on every trip. This is a book of emergency procedure (among other things). In addition to this she must have a flashlight and keys to the various cabinets. The planes do not carry parachutes, but those that ply the ocean routes carry life rafts and life jackets.

"An Exciting Career"

"I always had somewhat of a yen for this kind of thing," Miss Gessner confessed, "but it wasn't too marked until I got right into it. A few of the girls actually badly hated it, and they washed out. Personally I think a girl of 20 is perhaps a trifle young for the responsibility entailed by this job; it takes a bit of maturity to cope with all of the situations that may arise. . .and these are many and varied, and sometimes call for a great deal of resourcefulness.

"But for a girl with the necessary qualifications, I would strongly recommend it as a career. There are many benefits. . .rates are drastically reduced for us on all the airlines; we can really get to see the world. We furnish our own uniforms, and we don't have a retirement plan, as the girls don't last that long; they get married, you know! But the benefits to a girl as a person are inestimable: it broadens her outlook, gives her poise and assurance, and the value of the experience of seeing so many interesting places and meeting such a conglomeration of people just can't be measured."

She has had some moments of fear; there have been some rough flights, but they have taught her to adopt a fatalistic attitude: "Whatever will be, will be. You can't thwart Fate. . .But you learn confidence; you know the planes, and the men who fly them, and the elaborate precautions that are taken to insure your safety; it reassures you. Besides, the airlines have an astonishing safety record, based on flight miles."

How far has her career taken her, in actual miles? "Well, that's almost impossible to calculate. I fly on both jets and prop-jobs, and in 80 hours of duty a month the miles can vary greatly. Flying time would be more easy to gauge. I've catalogued a lot of miles in my three years of flying, believe me. But I can't be specific."

At one time, Judy had roommates from the four points of the compass: Pittsburgh, Pa.; Los Angeles, Calif.; Milwaukee, Wis.; and Lincoln, Neb.

"Only one other local girl, to the best of my knowledge, is also a stewardess," Judy said. "She is Betty Nelson, also a graduate of Lincoln high. I met her once, in Newark, N. J. It was quite a surprise."

Judy has rubbed shoulders with a host of VIPs, but she takes them in her stride. On her trips to Washington, D. C., are many senators, representatives, government officials of all ranks, military officers, show people (including Art Linkletter), quite a few movie stars. . .Miss America of 1962. . .

She prefers jets to prop planes, but she says that the latter are good, too, although a little slower. "Jets are more spacious, though, more luxurious in their appointments, more pleasant as they have in-flight music, and people are always just a bit more enthused . . .you know, there's still a bit more prestige when one travels by jet. But of course, that situation won't last long. . .it's becoming almost commonplace."

Just last month Judy traveled to Europe. The trip was not in line of duty, however. . .purely for pleasure. "And it was a pleasure. . .every glorious minute of it!"

Eventually, as with all careers, she admitted, the glamour wears off, or at least diminishes. "You've seen everything, done everthing you set out to do, and the time comes when you want to put down roots." Perhaps that is why the turnover in this profession is probably greater than in any other. . .average length of employment is a year and a half. "But it is," according to Judy, "something a girl never forgets. . .or regrets. I wouldn't have missed this experience for the world," she concluded.

"If we do our best; if we do not magnify trifling troubles; if we look resolutely, I will not say the bright side of things, but at things as they really are; if we avail ourselves of the manifold blessings which surround us, we can not but feel that life is a glorious inheritance."

—John Lubbock

Why Our Tax Dollars?

A United States expedition to climb Mt. Everest and two Himalayan mountain peaks is scheduled for next summer, providing the Chinese and Indians are not fighting in the area. The cost of the venture is estimated at $326,000, a part of which will come from agencies that are supported by tax dollars.

We can understand the urge that prompts young men to do dangerous things. And, considering all of the publicity angles, before, during and after stunts of this kind, we can see the profit possibilities that would justify a large investment by the sponsors. But it isn't clear to us just how our country is going to benefit by the experiment as a nation.

If it's just a matter of getting to the tops of these peaks, we can do it much more safely and with a great deal less expense simply by flying a helicopter.

Harmony Prevailed

After serving a year as Acting Secretary General of the United Nations, U Thant has been elected to a full term in that very difficult office. The Russians didn't confuse the issue by reviving the Troika demand and the election was remarkable for its harmony.

In his acceptance talk he pledged himself to continued efforts in the interests of peace and an easing of tensions thruout the world. He said:

> "When the future of mankind itself is at stake, no country or interest-group can afford to take a rigid stand, or claim that its position is the only right one, and that others must take it or leave it. No difficult problem can be solved to the complete satisfaction of all sides. We live in an imperfect world, and have to accept imperfect solutions, which become more acceptable as we learn to live with them and as time passes on."

That's good advice not only for our international disputes but for human relations at all levels, even those that are strictly personal.

There are times when there is only one right answer, regardless of the consequences, but most of the time very satisfactory, if not perfect, solutions can be reached by reasonable compromises. Time is generally an important factor in the adjustment of differences.

Many Ideas

In the confusion of close elections and ballot recounts, it is not strange that many suggestions are being made for lessening the probability of such situations. One of the suggestions calls for fewer of our public offices to be filled by election and more by appointment. It is proposed that at the state level only the governor and lieutenant governor be elected and that the governor appoint all the other officers. On this suggestion Art Suel, editor of the New Prague Times, properly observes:

> "Governors and lieutenant governors come and go but Minnesota has a time-honored tradition of keeping its other constitutional officers in office over longer periods of time.
> "The duties of the secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney general and railroad and warehouse commissioners are largely administrative and more or less removal from the vagaries of partisan politics.
> "It is doubtful if the best interests of the state would be served by a change in these offices every time there is a change of guard in the gubernatorial office.
> "The Times feels no compelling need for inaugurating any such constitutional chang."

Marxism Out?

Another revolution is on the march in Russia. This revolution is revolutionary in the sense that it calls for a radical change, but a change that is not radical.

Basically the revolution is a break with Marxism and a swing to Capitalism. The profit system is going to be encouraged as an incentive to increased production.

Such extreme action has been approved by the Central Committee of Soviet Communist Party, and, as reported by the New York Times:

> "The five-day plenary session that ended yesterday adopted reforms almost dividing this vast country, which covers a sixth of the earth's land, into agricultural and industrial segments.
> "After a study of Premier Khrushchev's keynote speech Monday and the addresses of 50 other speakers, observers agreed that never before had such an unusual idea been tried, to marshal a nation's effort at economic development.
> "For the next 10 or 20 years, or as long as the new structure remains in effect, Soviet citizens will be designated urban-industrial or rural-agricultural from the cradle to the grave.
> "The sharp differentiation, to be carried out by a dual set of industrial and agricultural agencies in the party and the Government, represents at least a temporary retreat from the concept of ultimately leveling social economic conditions, but the Soviet Union's present pragmatic leaders have made it plain that the foremost requisite for such a society is material affluence and it is with this in mind that they have turned the country topsy-turvy.
> "The party conference made no decision on planning and incentives, which had been the subject of wide discussion. Premier Khruschchev described these matters as a technical problem to be handled by experts.
> "However, the Premier encouraged supporters of more extreme reform by endorsing profit as an important indicator of efficiency at the plant level. The profit index, proposed by the Kharkov economist Prof. Yevsey G. Liberman, has been criticized by some conservatives as excessively "capitalistic" for a planned Communist economy."

Press Responsibility

Adlai Stevenson, who speaks for us in the United Nations, has received much publicity because a magazine story indicated that he and President Kennedy had disagreed and that he would soon be replaced as United Nations Ambassador. The reporters who wrote the story will not reveal the source of their information, presumably a person who had attended a closed meeting of the National Security Council.

George Sokolsky, veteran writer, suggests that in this instance the reporters are right in refusing to reveal the name of the official who gave them the information but he thinks:

> "Older and more experienced newspapermen would have declined to accept such a story without first questioning the principal person involved, namely, Adlai Stevenson."

Sokolsky says the real culprit is the high official, who was included in National Security Council meetings, who could not keep a national secret sacredly to himself, whatever that secret may be. He points out that:

> "The danger is not that the story leaked out. Many assumed that a deal on bases would be the ultimate result of Russo-American negotiations. And it still might be, should the alternative be war. The danger is that the National Security Council, to which is assigned the task of guarding the security of this country, cannot keep its counsel and that those who attend its meetings must heretofore be suspect of peddling tales, of using special knowledge for private political reasons, of damaging the national interest for private advantage, whim or even gain. It is therefore an extremely harmful incident.
> "I am not writing this in support of or in opposition to Adlai Stevenson or his ideas. I am standing firmly for freedom of the press. For unless the press can police itself against being used for improper purposes by anyone, aganist being used as a weapon even at the expense of national security, the time will come and it will not be distant, when Congress will act against the press and against the publication of national secrets.
> A national secrets act will limit freedom of the press and no circulation drive by a publication, no aspirations for scoops by an editor or publisher, can justify the publication of national secrets on the National Security Council level which may give aid and comfort to an enemy. The Stevenson story, as it appeared in the Weekly Magazine, does give aid and comfort to Castro and to Mao Tze-tung, to say the least."

We like Sokolsky's reaction to the incident. However in excusing two young reporters he might have suggested that the pubuisher of the magazine that carried the story probably deserves some criticism for a lack of reasonable editorial restraint.

Study Is Needed

(New York Daily News)

After only a year on the job, Fowler Hamilton is quitting as director of United States foreign aid.

Hamilton says he has to get back to his law practice. But the talk around Washington is that he has been too hardheaded and business like for the tastes of the bleeding hearts who think our billions should be scattered to the four winds without restraint, judgment, or discrimination.

As he goes out, Mr. Hamilton is reported urging a top-to-bottom study of the whole foreign aid setup by a special Presidential commission.

The President would be wise, if you ask us, to adopt that recommendation. Most taxpayers are fed up to here with foreign aid, and unless some drastic revamping is done there just could be a taxpayer revolt.

THE ANDERSEN LETTER

Gov. Elmer L. Andersen

Money Grows on Trees.

Forester Joe Hudspith down at Caledonia has developed a new forest product outlet for his woodlot cooperators that is proving that money can grow on trees.

Early this fall Hudspith sent samples of walnuts to a firm in Arkansas. They liked the Minnesota walnuts so well that they told Forester Hudspith to start his cooperators collecting walnuts which the Arkansas firm would purchase. A couple of weeks ago Arkansas trucks came to Caledonia and Preston and loaded 10,000 bushels of black walnuts. The sellers received $8,000 for this load of nuts. Apparently this is only the beginning as the report reaching me indicates that the Arkansas firm will be in the market for many more next year.

I am confident that alert market research and consideration can open many opportunities for Minnesota forest products, even beyond the substantial industry we now enjoy.

Land Ownership Problem Solved.

Sometime back we told you of the milestone achieved within the past year with agreement between the U. S. Forest Service and our State Conservation Department on land exchange to consolidate state and federal ownership for better forest management. This was a great milestone for better management of our land.

We have had another problem that has been kicked around since the turn of the century, and it was relative to the so called Volstead lands. I won't go into all the detail of it, except to say that within the last two weeks this has been settled with the State of Minnesota acquiring 33,000 acres of federally owned land from the Federal Bureau of Land Management for $148,000. Now we can study this purchase and see that this land gets into the best productive use.

As part of our total natural resource program we are conducting county by county intensive land use surveys. I am convinced that fundamental to our future prosperity is to see that all of our Minnesota land is being used for the best possible purpose. This may well be recreation, or agriculture, or industry, or wild life habitat, but we should know what is the best purpose and see that it is put to that use. We have millions of acres of land in Minnesota just being wasted in the sense that it is being used to no planned purpose whatever.

We have some other snarls to untangle, but two major land management problems have been solved in the past year that I believe to be of the most fundamental importance.

It's Christmas Tree Time.

Among the many reasons you can be proud of Minnesota and what it does, and the substantial role we play in many channels of commerce, is to note that Minnesota continues to produce more Christmas trees for the market than any other state in the nation. Out of a total annual production of 21 million Christmas trees in the nation Minnesota produces six million. The only states that come close to Minnesota in this field are Montana and Washington.

One of the main reasons is the very large acreage of peat land in Minnesota, which is particularly suitable for producing black spruce, one of the popular Christmas tree species. Also, the nature of peat bogs is such that trees growing there can never be utilized for timber because it takes so very long for a tree to reach maturity for timber use. So the state policy is to authorize cutting for Christmas tree use.

Also, where good forestry management dictates, Christmas trees are sold to thin out overly dense stands of forest. It is interesting to note too, that of the six million trees being harvested in Minnesota about one million are now from plantations that were actuany planted and grown for the Christmas market exclusively.

Encouraging Support.

One of the most encouraging recent developments has been the support developing for the natural resource development program of our Minnesota Natural Resources Commission and the Department of Conservation recommendations. The Izaak Walton League, the Central Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, the Minnesota Conservation Federation, the Convention of County Commissioners, and a host of other groups are recognizing the validity of these recommendations and indicating legislative support.

If we will but get a vision of the future, our needs and opportunities, and act boldly and decisively now, the immediate years ahead could be of the most tremendous significance to the future enjoyment of the natural resources of this state by coming generations. Now is the time to act to insure an outdoor recreational opportunity for the people of the future as well as to build sound forest products and land use economic development.

CALENDAR LEAVES FALL AWAY TO DECEMBER, a little snow falls and the temperature drops—and suddenly we are in the midst of another Christmas preparatory season. Over the years the season has become most complex—heavy emphasis has been placed on merchandising and gift-giving (and receiving)—nation-wide goodwill is supposed to insure success of various charity appeals—friends and relatives are supposed to gather—evergreen trees should be trimmed and lighted. In brief, the season has become a sequence of motion and emotion.

Then, of course, if a person happens to have the time or inclination, there can be a few brief moments devoted to observing the birth of Christ. It seems, however, that original pagan customs have more appeal than the traditional Christian thoughts. Today I would like to sound off on one of them in full realization that it will have absolutely no effect on 99.99 per cent of the readers.

Most people are familiar with the fundamentals of an oft-quoted article used at this time of year. It concerns a reporter's answer to a girl named Virginia who wrote the New York Times to ask if there really was a Santa Claus. The article affirms that such a being certainly does exist. And while a person cannot take offense at the spirit of Christmas set forth in the article, there is room for criticism of the basic point.

More than ever this year our household is faced with meeting the menace of the Santa hoax. Perhaps the whole idea isn't worthy of much worry, but it is difficult not to become concerned with the side-effects.

My youngsters are getting older and the little rascals don't seem to miss much of what is going on. They see Santa Claus personified on TV and they remember last year when they saw Santa "in that building" at Christmas time. And you just can't explain to a soon-to-be-four-year-old that there is no Santa Claus when she has already seen that there is.

The result is a parental attempt to live a lie—tell falsehoods to protect a myth—evade the issue whenever possible—and then explain how a gift from some well-meaning person bears the greeting, "To Lori, From Santa Claus." It is a losing battle—with the real loss being the faith of youngsters in their parents when they finally realize that they have been duped. My sympathy is with youngsters who hear, "You better behave or Santa Claus won't bring you any presents."

No, Virginia, there isn't any Santa Claus. There isn't any jolly old man in a red suit and white beard who whisks around the world on Christmas Eve and brings gifts to everyone. There are thousands of children who will be cold and hungry and sick and disappointed this Christmas. The legend of Santa Claus is just a story—nothing more.

But there is a Christmas spirit that knows no earthly bounds. It stirs people to help others less fortunate. It moves men to believe in a devine being. It instills a desire to remember and be thankful for things he has forgotten and ignored during the year. It causes a person to forget some of the cares and worries of the world and look up to more important things. After all, isn't Christmas a time for these things?

The story is told of two English schoolboys who battled constantly during their youth, one later becoming an admiral and the other a bishop. Years later the bishop, who had gained considerable weight, recognized the admiral in full dress uniform at a railroad depot. Sweeping up to the admiral he sweetly inquired, "Stationmaster, from which platform does the 10:25 leave?" The admiral looked down at the churchman's robes and blandly replied, "Platform five, madam, but do you think you should be traveling in your condition?"

THE SONG OF THE ANGELS

by Marie Gustafson

The shepherds were watching
That dark winter night,
When suddenly 'round them
They saw there bright angels
Whose glad anthem rang
With joyful hosannas,
As sweetly they sang.

O 'list to the message.
We come here to bring
The Lord God has sent you
A heavenly King.
He's born in a manger
A baby so fair,
O haste to the stable
And you'll find him there.

All praise to the Father
In heaven so high,
All praise to his spirit
Redemption is nigh.
All praise to the savior
Who's come down to earth
O come all ye people
Rejoice at his birth.

University Reports '63 Recommendations as to Crop Varieties

The University of Minnesota has added seven crop varieties and removed three from its recommended list for 1963.

The decision was made at a recent conference of representatives of the University's Agricultural Experiment Station and Agricultural Extension Service, and the Minnesota Crop Improvement Association.

Varieties added to the recommended list were Larker and Trophy barley, Portage oats, Climax timothy and Turghal, Empire and White Wonder millet.

Removed from the recommended list were Lee wheat, Minton oats and Marine flax.

Evaluation of crop varieties is based on at least three years of tests involving maturity, yield, disease resistance, standability, plant height, winter hardiness, and feeding and market qualities. As new and better varieties are developed, old ones are removed from the recommended list.

Here is a brief look at the newly-recommended varieties:

Larker and Trophy barley, developed by North Dakota State University, are both superior to Kindred in standing ability, and are superior to both Kindred and Traill in kernel plumpness. In four years of Minnesota tests, Larker yielded slightly more than Traill while Trophy yielded slightly less. Both Larker and Trophy have been classified as acceptable to the malting and brewing industries, if marketed separately from other varieties.

Portage oats was developed by the University of Wisconsin and released in 1960. It is medium in maturity, has good test weight, is resistant to smut and most races of stem rust and has good field tolerance to leaf rust. A rather tall oat, Portage has less resistance to lodging than the shorter Minhafer and Goodfield varieties.

Climax timothy, selected and released in Canada, is a tall, fine-stemmed, leafy variety which is 7-10 days later in maturity than common timothy and may therefore be better adapted to alfalfa-grass mixtures.

Turghal is a Proso millet, has red seeds, is used for bird and livestock feed. Feeding value for livestock is about equal to oats.

Empire and White Wonder are foxtail millet varieties. This crop is usually grown for hay or silage, but some is used in bird feeds. Empire and White Wonder are later in maturity, taller and produce more forage than other varieties tested in Minnesota.

Lee wheat was dropped from the recommended list because it is susceptible to race 15B of stem rust and has not yielded as well as other recommended varieties. Minton oats was dropped because it has lower test weight and doesn't stand as well as other varieties of similar maturity. Marine flax has been replaced with Marine-62, a similar variety with higher oil content.

Also on the recommended list for 1963 will be three varieties that were approved last year, but too late for inclusion in University publications. These three varieties are Justin hard red spring wheat and Marine-62 and Windom flax.

Complete information will be contained in an Agricultural Extension Service publication, "Varietal Trials of Farm Crops" now being revised for distribution through county agents.

State Physicians Offer Advice as to Toys for Children

Parents Are Urged to Use Care in Selecting Toys Aimed at Purposeful Play

Today's toy departments are amazing worlds where starry-eyed adults wander for hours wondering which fantastic new toy they should choose for their children.

The Minnesota State Medical Association offers the suggestion that toys should be selected with care for purposeful play—not on impulse, or because they appeal to the parents. The best toys, the Association says, are ones that encourage alertness, demand resourcefulness, and prepare a child for future living, while entertaining through action, fascination, humor, or imitative play.

Another important factor in toy selection, says the association, is safety. Toys for young children should be examined to make sure eyes, buttons, and other decorations are sewed or firmly snapped in place. Painted toys should be examined to see if the label says a non-poisonous paint is used. Play tools should be easily washable and large enough so that they cannot be put in the mouth.

The association advises running your hand over the edges of toys to make certain they have no sharp or pointed edges. Additionally, any flammable item is dangerous, and so are cap guns with firing chambers exposed.

Additionally, a child should never use an air rifle, bow and arrow, dangerous tools, knives, or chemical sets unless he is under parental supervision.

Choosing the right toy, says the association, is well worth your time and effort if it means that your child is safe in happy, constructive play. If he has fun, so will you.

Growing Bluegrass Is Big Roseau Industry

Development of a new bluegrass variety by the University of Minnesota in cooperation with farmers and farm organizations has led to a new million-dollar-a-year business in the Roseau county area.

Park Kentucky bluegrass is returning nearly half a million dollars annually to the 150 farms producing it in the region near the Canadian border. That return amounts to some ten per cent of the total crop sales in Roseau county, according to Agricultural Agent William Provance.

Besides returns to growers, the industry generates another half million dollars of business in transportation, service, and retailers' margins throughout Minnesota and other states.

Park bluegrass is the culmination of 20 years of University research aimed at providing a good cash crop for this northwestern region and a hardier turf for lawns and pastures in nothern states and Canada.

Seed production has traditionally been a major farm enterprise in Roseau county. But until the late '50's, most of it concerned clover or other legumes. Some seed was being "stripped" by machines from standing wild bluegrass, but in most years, total volume was relatively small.

Park bluegrass first hit the retail market in 1958, when local growers produced 33,000 pounds certified seed and another 16,000 pounds registered seed for other growers.

Production of certified Park reached 280,000 pounds in 1959, 851,000 in 1961 and is expected to top the million mark this year.

So important has Park bluegrass production become in Roseau county that, according to Provance, only spring wheat and oats add more to farm income as cash crops.

Production of this crop in Roseau county accounts for more than two per cent of all bluegrass grown in the U. S. and roughly half of that which is cultivated. Most bluegrass—such as the common bluegrass sown in many lawns—is stipped from wild fields.

With Park, however, production is on tilled fields and harvesting is by combine.

One advantage of bluegrass as a cash crop is that the grower need not depend on bees for pollination, as he would with clover or alfalfa. Bluegrass produces seed asexually—without being fertilized by male pollen.

Minneapolis Auto Show Jan. 11-20

When the 8th annual Upper Midwest Auto Show opens to the public in the Minneapolis Auditorium, January 11 through 20, motorists will again flock in to see all the new cars and to be entertained by stars of stage, screen and television.

Max Winter, producer of the show, said he was presently negotiating with Pat Boone, Sammy Davis, Jr., the McGuire Sisters and Rickey Nelson in the hopes he can land at least two of these name attractions for the 1963 show.

Under the sponsorship of the Minneapolis Automobile Dealers Association, the show has been established as the one time during the year when all the new cars are on display under one roof.

$27,135,000 Paid to '62 Heart Fund

National Total is up 2.68 Per Cent over 1961

A record total of $27,135,317 was contributed by the public to the 1962 Heart Fund campaign conducted by the American Heart association and its affiliates last February. The sum represents a gain of $695,386 or 2.66 per cent, over the $26,439,931 contributed to the Heart Fund in 1961. About $9,600,000 or 35.4 per cent of the total, resulted from a neighborhood canvass conducted by more than 1,500,000 volunteers on Heart Sunday, February 25th.

The campaign results were announced by Donald C. Power, national campaign chairman. Mr. Power is chairman of General Telephone and Electronics Corporation.

Mr. Powers noted that since 1948, more than 75 million Heart Fund dollars have been spent for research, contributing to the great progress made in saving hearts through new methods of diagnosis and treatment.

Exercise and Watch Diet for Trim Figure

Want a trim figure? Then pay attention both to exercise and the food you eat. Your exercise and physical activity will affect the amount of food you should eat to stay trim.

Energy in the body is received from food in the form of calories. You need energy when you exercise; thus you burn calories.

Your height, weight, and body build determine the number of calories you will need to operate your body properly, say extension nutritionists at the University of Minnesota.

When you eat food that gives more calories than your body uses for energy, the excess of "left over" will be stored as extra fat. When you supply fewer calories from food than your body uses for energy, the stored fat will be used to make up the difference.

Exercise uses calories. Every action takes energy. One pound of body fat supplies about 350 calories when it is used for energy. Here are some of the common activities and their caloric cost per minute: walking upstairs, 17.5; swimming, 10.6; bowling, 7.1; walking, 4.6; making bed, 4.6; dancing, 3.5; sitting, 1.2.

You can burn up more calories by increasing your exercise. Reduction in calories will also help you to lose weight. You can cut down the calories you use by decreasing excessive of exhausting activities.

The number of calories you use each day in addition to those spent to keep the body functioning depends on the kind of work you do and the kind of leisure-time activities you engage in.

Both degree of physical exertion required by each task or activity and the length of time spent on it determine the amount of energy used. Obviously, swimming, skiing or skating for an hour requires more calories than studying at a desk for an hour.

U. S. farmers have twice as much invested in machinery as the steel industry and five times as much as the automobile industry.

Program of Work Adopted

Gene Beito Named To Head TRF Chamber of Commerce

Gene Beito, vice president of Northern State Bank, was elected president of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce at the first meeting of the new board of directors on Tuesday at the C of C office. He succeeds J. B. Holter, manager of Hotel Pennington, as chief executive of the local organization.

Other officers elected were Gene Gaar, manager of Ben Franklin store, first vice president; Stan Wilson, co-owner of Wilson Bros., second vice president; J. J. Womack, president of Union State Bank, treasurer; and Roland K. Larson, executive secretary.

Adoption of a $17,822 budget was also accomplished at the meeting as compared with a budget of $17,976 for 1962. Committee budgets include the following: Agriculture, $1,000; Business and Industrial Development, $300; Community Welfare, $750; Education, $200; Good Government, $100; Public Relations, $200; Membership and Finance, $100; Retail Trade, $1,800; and Transportation and Communication, $200.

Program of Work

Also adopted at the meeting was the 1963 program of work which will again be conducted under the general theme of "L.I.F.E."—Living, Industry, Farming and Education. The program calls for the president to appoint the chairmen and members of standing committees and for conducting general membership meetings in the spring, summer and fall in addition to the winter annual meeting.

Randall Noper was appointed chairman of the annual meeting committee and Nesland Accounting Service was selected as the firm to conduct the official audit of the 1962 books for the organization.

G. A. BEITO, JR
VICE PRESIDENT

PRESIDENT of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce is Gene Beito, executive vice president of Northern State Bank. Election took place at the initial meeting of the board Tuesday following mail balloting for election of directors of the organization. Beito succeeds J. B. Holter as president of the organization.

ASC Conservation Land Use Allowed in Certain Cases

Land retired from production under the Conservation Reserve program now may be used for certain purposes without violation of the contract, Edward A. Johnson, chairman, Marshall Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, has announced.

He explained that, even though the contract signers charge fees for the use of the Conservation Reserve acreage, the following uses of the land will be permitted without constituting a contract violation:

(1) Fishing and hunting enterprises, except the production of fish and game for commercial marketing, (2) camping, excluding permanent trailer courts; (3) picnicking; (4) boating; (5) riding; (6) hiking; and (7) swimming.

The following additional uses will be permitted provided the contract signers do not charge or receive compensation for such uses:

1) Community sports and athletic activities; 2) carnivals and fairs; (3) meeting sites for religious, cultural, and educational groups; (4) landing areas for use by civil air patrol or noncommercial flying; (5) parades; and (6) military maneuvers.

According to Johnson, this change in program regulations is in line with current agricultural policy, which is to convert land into other uses rather than to idle it.

Farmers who are interested in such uses of Conservation Reserve land are urged to discuss the matter with the ASC county committee.

Elect Directors for County Fair

Pennington County Fair Association, Inc., held its first annual meeting Wednesday evening at the courtroom of the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls with more than 40 members of the organization attending. Seventeen directors were elected to serve on the board which hopes to operate the Pennington county fair in the future.

Ray Oen, chairman of the organizational committee for the association, presided at the session Wednesday evening. Articles of incorporation were read by C. W. Rodekuhr, organizational secretary, the certificate of incorporation was shown and the by-laws were reviewed. The group also adopted the constitution for the association.

Directors elected include the following with length of term listed for each:

District 1—Silas Hanson, 3 years; Robert Parnow, 2 years; and Dale Svendsgaard, 1 year;

District 2—Fred Sorensen, 3 years; Bill Thompson, 2 years; and Dr. James Disse, 1 year;

District 3—Don Bruggeman, 3 years; Edgar Naplin, 2 years; and Wilbur Hallstrom, 1 year;

District 4—Everett Amundgaard, 3 years; Leonard Furuseth, 2 years; and J. J. Womack, 1 year;

District 5—Ray Oen, 3 years; Mrs. Adam Lendobeja, 2 years; and Merle Lundeen, 1 year;

St. Hilaire—Merle Rafteseth, 3 years; and Goodridge, Wallace Payne, 2 years.

Separate elections were held for each district with the entire membership present voting in all districts. Three year terms were awarded to the persons receiving the greatest number of votes in each district with two-year and one-year terms being given to the second and third highest vote recipients.

Directors will meet Monday at 3 p.m. in the courthouse to elect officers and transact other business which requires immediate attention. Membership in the new association now totals 443, it was announced at the meeting.

Consumers Co-op Association Sets Meeting Dec. 15th

Shareholders of the Consumers Cooperative association of this city have been called to attend a special meeting in the Chamber of Commerce room in the basement of the Auditorium Saturday afternoon, December 15, at 2 o'clock. Harry L. Solberg, secretary, stated that the purpose of the meeting is to vote on an amendment to the by-laws of the association.

Postmaster Explains Christmas Services

Postmaster R. J. Dryden today explained post office procedure which will affect the public during the Christmas season. Postal employees are being permitted to work up to the full time limits allowed in order to handle the volume of Christmas mail and packages.

Regular mail delivery and window service will be in effect on Christmas Eve, December 24, the postmaster said. Perishables and special delivery mail will be delivered on Christmas Day. Window service will be available on Monday through Saturday from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. until Christmas with the exception of the money order window which will close at noon on Saturday.

Although the tempo of Christmas mailing has increased lately, the flood of mail expected has not yet materialzied, the postmaster said. He urged all patrons to do their Christmas mailing soon so that the best possible service can be provided by the department.

"When names and addresses are carelessly written and packages are poorly wrapped or have insufficient postage on them,—such oversights result in delays and disappointments," Dryden added. He listed several simple requirements which can help avoid such delays as follows:

Be sure your Chrsitmas card and gift mailing lists are up-to-date;

Use the new 4-cent Christmas stamps on your greeting cards;

Pack your Christmas gifts securely in sturdy containers;

Use complete addresses — include street number, rural route or post office box number; be sure street names are complete with avenue, parkway, road or drive; avoid abbreviation of street and state names; use zone numbers, and be sure to include your own

Two New Business Firms Expected To Open Here Soon

Fabric and Yarn Store Will Open in January; Discount Store Planned

One new business establishment in Thief River Falls is in the process of preparing to open and a second is considered to be a likely possibility. Both would make use of existing buildings previously vacant in the downtown area.

Kenneth Tischart of Red Lake Falls has secured the north section of the remodeled Baehr building (Avalon Theater) fronting on Main avenue between Third and Fourth streets. Work has begun on preparing the building for handling lines of sewing fabrics, yarns and accessories.

The new store will be known as "Ken's Fabrics and Yarns", Tischart informed the Times, and is expected to open early in January. Mrs. James Solsten of this city will manage the store which will handle a large variety of fabrics, yarns, patterns, drapery materials and sewing and knitting supplies. It is expected that knitting lessons will also be a part of the store's service, Tischart said.

Olaf Taxerans, owner of the former Sande Auto and Implement building on Knight avenue and Third street, said that Fleet Wholesale Supply has purchased an option to buy or lease the property for use as a discount store. Taxerans stated that the building is 50x140 feet in size and that there is only a slim chance that the store will not be put into operation.

Langen Tells Rotary, Lions About Markets

Congressman Reports On Findings in Study Of World Trade Rules

Congressman Odin Langen of Kennedy reviewed complexities of the common market and its implications on this agricultural area at a combined meeting of the Thief River Falls Lions and Rotary clubs Wednesday noon at the Elks club rooms. Nearly 100 persons attended the meeting at which Rep. Andrew Skaar of Thief River Falls and Sen. Harveydale Maruska of Angus were also introduced.

Congressman Langen opened his talk by noting the economic potential to the area from processing of its raw material and agricultural products. He stated that talk of such industry is growing throughout the district and that added emphasis should be placed on such progress.

There can not be too much importance placed on the need for a market for products, however, the Congressman said. The nation finds itself in a position of cutting down on production within the country in favor of purchasing import commodities from other nations. Inconsistencies are cause for alarm and should be thoroughly investigated, he added.

Langen outlined the procedure involved in exporting under previous programs. He noted that a grain exporter in the U. S. purchases products from the commercial market or Commodity Credit Corporation, finds a buyer in a foreign country and that the government pays an export subsidy so that the exporter can pay transportation costs and sell competitively.

The importer in the foreign country must pay import levies on the commodities purchased. These levies are refunded, however, if the importer re-exports grain or livestock produced through feeding the grain. As a result, the Congressman said, our own products are competing against us on the world market by being sold from other countries. In addition, livestock produced on grain which we sell is being imported in the form of meat products and sold on U. S. food counters in competition

TRF Creamery Volume Nears Million Total

Gross Business Was 966,450 for Year That Ended Sept. 30

Despite subzero weather, 150 members and patrons turned out Tuesday afternoon for the annual meeting of the Thief River Falls Cooperative Creamery association in the city Auditorium.

F. H. Kaiser of the Cooperative read the annual report, which revealed that the co-op had a gross income of $966,460 during the year ending September 30, with net returns due patrons of $39,343, double the figure of $19,619 for the previous year.

The plant this year churned 1,312,081 pounds of butter, compared to 1,217,758 pounds in 1961. A total of 859,045 pounds of cream was received together with 23,894,796 pounds of milk.

The average net price paid for butterfat in sweet cream, including patronage refunds was 66.84 cents, while the average net price paid for butterfat in No. 1 milk was 67.57 cents including 3.70 cents patronage refund.

In the election of directors, Fred Koop was renamed to the board, and Lloyd Nelson was elected to succeed Carl Torgerson, long-time member currently serving as vice president.

Ralph Godin of the state department of agriculture was present to explain the new federal tax regulation affecting patronage refunds paid by cooperatives. A resolution was adopted which provides that each member shall pay the tax on his own accrued equities.

St. Bernard Pupils Plan Yule Program

The children at St. Bernard's School will present a Christmas program next Sunday, December 16, at 2:30 p.m. in St. Bernard's Hall, according to Sister M. Hyacinthe, O. S. B., principal.

The program will feature the reading of an excerpt from the Gospel of St. Luke regarding the birth of Christ. The first four grades will present the play, "The Littlest Angel." Other grades will feature selected Christmas music.

Following the program, the St. Bernard's PTA will provide each child with a Christmas treat.

Hubcaps Stolen Saturday Night

Theft of four hubcaps from a 1962 Dodge Dart owned by Louis Hill, city, has been reported to the Thief River Falls police department. The hubcaps were taken between 8 and 11 p. m. Saturday while the car was parked near Horace avenue and Second street. Anyone having information which could assist police in the investigation is asked to contact the department.

Three Proposals Presented

School Board Again Views Building Plans

Three more alternative proposals for building construction in the Thief River Falls school district were considered by the board of education at the regular meeting held Monday evening in the Lincoln high school cafeteria. About 20 interested citizens were in attendance at the session.

The alternatives had been requested by the board at a meeting held late in November to consider other possibilities. It is the problem of the board to submit to the voters a proposal which will satisfy the needs of the district and meet with the approval of district taxpayers. A previous bond issue proposal for a junior high school and attached 10-room elementary school at an estimated cost of $1,595,000 was twice defeated.

Richard Hammel of the architectural firm of Hammel & Green was present at the Monday session to present sketches and estimated costs of the new alternatives. The proposals were as follows:

The adjourned meeting of the board originally set for December 17 has been postponed due to conflict with other meetings and the inability of the architect to attend. New date for the meeting will be announced in a later edition of the Times.

Plan I

Construction of a new junior high school designed for 650 pupils and six elementary classrooms along a single corridor at one end of the building. Estimated cost of $1,298,000 would include the building and fixed equipment, site preparation and cost of design and supervision but not moveable furniture, borings, surveys, legal fees or contingencies.

Plan II

Construction of a new junior high school for 650 pupils without provision of elementary students. Estimated cost of $1,190,000 would include the same items listed in proposal 1.

Plan III

Construction of a new junior high school for 650 students and a separate six-room elementary school on the same site. A central heating unit would serve both buildings with heat pipes running under the sidewalk between the two buildings to keep it free of snow and ice. The school would be used for sections of grades 1, 2 and 3 with joint use of the junior high school cafeteria and multi-purpose room by elemenary students. The cost estimate was $1,-

New County Crops to be Aired Friday

New crops which could be produced in Pennington county will receive attention at a meeting of interested farmers scheduled for Friday at 1:30 p. m. in the meeting room of the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls. The crops will include sunflowers, millet, fescue grass and others.

George Pliitt, president of Valley Seed and Supply company of Spring Valley, N. Y., will be on hand to discuss contract arrangements for the 1963 crop year. His company, which has a branch plant located in Thief River Falls, is interested in a sizeable acreage of fescue grasses and he will explain his plans at the meeting.

Many farmers who signed contracts to produce sunflowers and millet for the firm in 1962 were unable to plant the crops due to bad weather conditions, according to Paul Stelmaschuk, county agricultural agent. They are wondering if they can do so in 1963. Production and marketing of these crops will also be discussed by Pliitt on Friday.

Plans for the annual Seed and Feed Show will also be made by the Pennington County Crop Improvement association which will meet following the public session. If new varieties have been released by that time, they will also be reviewed, Stelmaschuk said.

Jurors Drawn at Warren Today in Wangberg Trial

Completion of juror drawing in the second degree murder trial of Paul Wangberg, Thief River Falls, was taking place this morning at district court in Warren. Nine jurors were called Wednesday and it was expected that testimony in the trail could possibly begin this afternoon. Wangberg is charged with the fatal shooting of Police Sgt. Donald Myers north of Thief River Falls on February 17.

Santa Claus To Visit Saturday With Youngsters

Preparations are being made for another visit to Thief River Falls by Santa Claus Saturday with all area youngsters 12 years of age and younger invited to meet Santa at 2 p. m. in the city auditorium. About 1,000 youngsters turned out last Saturday for visits and free bags of candy distributed by the retail trade committee of the local Chamber of Commerce.

DUNKING in an icy river was taken by this National Guard 42-foot semi-trailer truck Wednesday afternoon. The vehicle was parked behind the armory in this city prior to unloading supplies when it rolled down hill (tracks in photo at left), neatly avoided a number of trees and a playground slide, and splashed thru ice into the river about 350 yards away. A broken air hose which resulted in brake failure is blamed for the mishap. The truck was loaded with supplies for TRF, Crookston, Moorhead, Fergus Falls, Detroit Lakes, Park Rapids and Wadena. Two tow trucks pulled the vehicle from the river.

LHS Christmas Concert Slated for December 18

Lincoln high school senior orchestra, junior high chorus, Lincoln Singers and concert choir choir will combine talents for the annual LHS Christmas program to be presented Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium. "The Light of the World" is the theme and will be presented in dialogue and choral and instrumental music.

Bryant Ulseth and James Solsten will direct the music groups and Everett Marshall will serve as narrator. Myrna Weckwerth and Gloria Philipp serve as student directors. The public is encouraged to attend the concert and there is no admission charge.

Valerie Hlucny Wed to G. R. Aune at Greenbush

Miss Valrie Hlucny of Greenbush became the bride of Gerald Roger Aune of Grygla in a double-ring ceremony at Bethel Lutheran Church of Greenbush on November 17 in an afternoon ceremony performed by Rev. John DeBoer. Vows were exchanged before an altar banked with white carnations and ferns. Pews for the 275 guests were marked with white and yellow bows. The wedding processional was played at the organ by Mrs. Rhett Haugen. Vocalist Ron Christianson sang, "I Love You Truly", and "The Lord's Prayer."

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hlucny of Greenbush and Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Aune of Grygla.

The bride's father escorted her down the aisle and gave her in marriage. She wore a floor-length gown of white satin which flowed into a train. Lace-appliqued, it was detailed with a scoop neckline accented with seed pearls and also featured long-pointed sleeves. She wore a shoulder-length veil and a pearl necklace which was a gift of the groom. The bridal bouquet was of white carnations and yellow roses.

Attending her was Evelyn Dockken of Greenbush as maid of honor and Brenda Hlucny, Badger, the bride's cousin, as bridesmaid. They wore satin dresses of cinnamon brown with headbands and shoes to match, and white gloves and pearls. Their bouquets were yellow and white fall flowers.

Best man was Orrin Aune, and groomsman was Olaf Aune Jr., both brothers of the groom, and both of Grygla. Jerry Zimmerman, Minneapolis, the groom's cousin, and Ronald Engelstad, Gatzke, seated the guests.

The bride's mother wore a dress of navy blue with black accessories; Mrs. Aune wore a black dress with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations arranged with yellow rosebuds. The bride's maternal grandmother and the groom's paternal grandmother were also in attendance, and received either corsages or boutonnieres.

The parents of the bride gave a reception in the church parlors following the ceremony. Approximately 275 guests were received. They were registered by Mavis Aune, the groom's sister.

The wedding cake, in cloverleaf design, was baked and decorated by Mrs. Floyd Jesme, the groom's sister. The wedding party and immediate families were seated at the bridal table, with other guests being served buffet style.

Guests came from Minneapolis, Thief River Falls, Gatzke, Grygla, Greenbush, Middle River and Roseau.

The bride is a graduate of Greenbush high school, and attended one year at the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis. The groom, a 1958 graduate of Middle River high school, is employed as a welder at Ford Motor company in Minneapolis. The couple are at home at 1608 E. 26th Street in that city.

Hamilton's
CLOTHING—MEN & BOYS

Elaine's CHATTER

Of all the tradition, custom and general hullabaloo of Christmas, there's nothing that quite compares with Christmas cards. It would be nice to go up and down the street shouting greetings to friends and enemies, to say nothing about the by-standers; on the other hand, it is fun to receive cards, if you don't send them, you won't get them.

Every year we get the "unsigned" card which throws us into a tizzy trying to figure out who sent it. Already this year we have received the prize one. Someone who is more confused than us (if that's possible) sent us a card with the warmest greeting and signed our own name to it. So help us, we did not send ourself a card . . . but we have had fun trying to figure out who thinks we should have.

"I think that I shall never see, a place to put that Christmas tree . . ." This is the universal chant these days. About two years ago Ma went down town and bought the most beautiful, greenest, fattest tree she could find, consequently we had a struggle. We wrestled it all over the place . . . moved the davenport, TV set, chairs and what not . . . thank goodness the bookshelves were nailed to the wall . . . we cut the top out, cut the bottom off, now it was a toss-up as to which end to trim. It also leaned threateningly to one side.

Fuses were blown, harsh words were said, forgiveness was given . . . once again the tree was trimmed and the house had that lovely cedar smell.

After all is said and done, it really doesn't matter how the tree looks; it's what's under that really counts. Big boxes, small boxes, covered with Christmas paper and pretty bows These boxes could be filled from Elaine's with many gift items. Maybe a dress or a new coat . . . stockings, jewelry, intimate apparel, sweater, skirt, slacks or many other items she would be proud of and of course when she knows that it came from Elaine's, she would know that she got the best in quality and latest style.

Peder Omundsons' 50th Anniversary Observed Dec. 4

The 50th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Peder Omundson and Mr. Omundson's birthday anniversary was the twofold occasion of an observance held at the Omundson home on Tuesday, December 4, when a number of friends and relatives of the couple gathered to extend their congratulations.

A social hour was enjoyed and as a climax, the self-invited guests served lunch.

Present to share the observance were Mrs. Marie Cernausek, Mrs. Ethel Sanders and Sandra, Mrs. Christine Trulson, Mrs. Sigurd Griebstein, Mrs. Martin Kulseth, Mrs. Inga Omundson and Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. Sybert Hanson, Mrs. Stella Kraakkala, of this city, and Mrs. Betty Omundson, Rodney and Carolyn, of Warren.

Eagles' Auxiliary Party To Be Held December 17

The Eagles' Auxiliary, meeting Monday night, December 17, will enjoy their annual Christmas party following the business meeting. Each member will contribute something toward the pot-luck party lunch, and bring with her a gift for exchange, the gift not to exceed a dollar in value.

O. Rolandsons Observe Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Rolandson were recently honored on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary at the St. Pauli Church.

A program was presented, opened by the reading of Scripture and the offering of prayer by Rev. Lawrence Winter. President of the ladies aid, Mrs. Gustafson, presented the couple with a corsage and boutonniere as a gift from that group; pinning them on their parents were the two daughters of the couple, Mrs. Rolland Larson and Dolores Rolandson. Eugene Rondorf, church trustee, gave a welcome on behalf of the congregation, and presented the couple with a 25th anniversary plate and a gift of money. Mrs. Anton Torkelson gave a welcoming address on behalf of the Sunday school.

Carolyn Torkelson sang several numbers, following which a reception was held in the church parlors, which were decked for the occasion with mums, gladioli, and other fall flowers.

The three-tiered anniversary cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Gil Sannes. Mrs. Orlando Chervestad of Oklee registered the guests, and Mrs. Isaac Anderson of Fisher and Mrs. Gunderson of Grand Forks, N. D., both aunts of Mrs. Rolandson, poured. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. William Seeger of Mentor and Agnes Johnson of Oklee, both sisters of Mrs. Rolandson.

Approximately 100 guests were present for the occasion, including Mrs. Douglas Olson, one of the original attendants. Her husband was stand-in for the best man, Adolph Hafstad of Cudahy, Wis., who was unable to attend.

Attending from out of town were guests from St. Hilaire, Fertile, Oklee, Bagley, Trail, Bemidji, Gonvick, East Grand Forks, Fisher, and Mentor, Minn., and Grand Forks, N. D.

Mrs. Chervestad Guest Of Oklee Garden Club

The Oklee Garden club held its December meeting at the Bakke home with Dorine Bakke and Pat Larson as co-hostesses. Marian Larson reported that the Commercial Club was offering prizes for the most beautifully decorated homes during the Christmas season. The club members decided to continue the practice of visiting the aged and the shut-ins in the community at Christmastime.

Honoring the club by her presence was the president of the 13th District Horticultural Society, Mrs. Orlando Chervestad, who reported on her attendance at the state horticultural meeting in Minneapolis. She also told of the choosing of Marian Larson as district historian.

Mrs. G. Milford Peterson, home economist from Crookston, displayed and gave instructions for making a variety of Christmas decorations and hand-crafted gifts. Following this demonstration, Joan Norquist and Marge Stenberg showed items which they have made for the holiday season. Other guests at the meeting were Mrs. Juell Chervestad, Mrs. Jack Radniecki, and Mrs. Ralph Jacobson.

Mrs. J. Larson Named To Horticulture Post

Mrs. Orlando Chervestad, president of the 13th district of the Minnesota Horticultural Society, has appointed Mrs. J. Herbert Larson, president of the Oklee Garden Club, as horticultural historian of the 13th district. Mrs. Larson's duties include keeping records of all of the activities of the garden clubs in the district.

Mrs. Larson asks the cooperation of all of the garden club secretaries in sending in to her reports of their club every second month.

Gust Larsons To Be Feted At Open House

Open house in observance of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Larson will be held at the Art Dicken home, 1515 East Third Street, on Sunday, December 16. Hours have been set from 2 to 5 p. m.

No cards are being sent, but all friends and relatives of the family are invited to join them in the observance.

Julie Peterson Is Christened Dec. 9th

Julie Linnae Peterson, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold L. Peterson of rural Thief River Falls was baptized Sunday, December 9 at the Silverton Lutheran church. Reverend Milton R. Wilson officiated, and the sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Roppe of Newfolden, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Mosbeck of Polk Centre.

After the services, a dinner was served at the Peterson home for the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Roppe and Barbara; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Mosbeck, Judy, Gary, and Lynn of Polk Centre and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Peterson, Carol and Joyce, of rural Thief River Falls.

Patsy Lou Thompson To Wed R. Amundson

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Thompson of Nielsville announce the engagement of their daughter, Patsy Lou Ann Thompson, to Ronald William Amundson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Amiot of Thief River Falls.

Miss Thompson is a graduate of Climax high school and area vocational school in Thief River Falls. She is presently employed at Thief River Jobbing company.

Mr. Amundson is a graduate of Lincoln high school and is presently attending Moorhead State college, Moorhead.

No wedding date has been set.

Kristine Kohler Notes Third Birthday

Kristine Kohler, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kohler, celebrated her third birthday on December 6. Guests were Kraig and Dawn Lerud, Gayle and Brian Peterson, and Kristy's sister Kathleen.

The little girl's mother served a lunch which featured a birthday cake as its main attraction, and upon departure presented the small guests with miniature felt stockings filled with candy.

THE engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Karen Yvonne is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Alpen Meyer of Plummer. The prospective bridegroom is Budd Burthwick, son of Mrs. Ida Burthwick, also of Plummer. The wedding date has been set for February 9.

Mrs. J. Lendobeja Host To Ladyslipper Club

The Ladyslipper Garden Club held its regular meeting and Christmas party at the J. C. Lendobeja home on Thursday evening, November 29. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Alvin Burstad, president, and members responded to the roll call by naming a favorite Christmas carol.

Mrs. Jake O'Hara showed numerous gift and Christmas decorating ideas to an appreciative audience. Handmade gifts were exchanged; and lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Lendobeja.

Those present were Mrs. Jake O'Hara and Mrs. A. Kleinvachter, guests of the evening; Clara Olson, and Mmes. H. Waale, T. Hemmetsvedt, A. Burstad, Vivian McCrum, N. Nelson, W. Lendobeja, A. Lendobeja, S. Wilson, and J. C. Lendobeja.

Next meeting of the club is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, January 23, at 2 o'clock in the Alvin Burstad home.

Birthday Club Has Yule Party Dec. 8

Mrs. Wm. Palmquist was hostess to the Christmas party of her Birthday Club on the afternoon of Saturday, December 8.

Following a social hour during which the group exchanged Christmas gifts and holiday cookies, a pot-luck lunch was served. Those present were Mmes. Clarence Hanson, Henry Sandburg, Clarence Roese, Herman Sandberg, Carl Peterson, Elmer Erickson, Erick Krats, Oscar Peterson, and Bill Palmquist.

Reception Given Ole Selmansons On Anniversary

A reception honoring the Ole Selmansons on their silver wedding anniversary was held on Sunday, December 9 at Our Savior's Lutheran Church of this city.

A short program was held; taking part were Torkel Ose, with the reading of the Twenty-third Psalm; a solo was sung by Miss Florence Bredeson, and greetings on behalf of the Women's Missionary Society were extended by Mrs. Norman Peterson, president. Lou Ann Johnson and Clark Dyrud gave a musical selection; Mrs. Nora Lurton of Grand Forks, N. D. gave an original reading; Kathy Ferguson, a niece of the Selmansons, played a selection on the piano, a nephew, Orrin Olson, gave a reading which was followed by a message from Rev. Marius Haakenstad, pastor of the church. The honored couple responded with their thanks, after Mrs. Selmanson had first been presented with a corsage, and the couple received a host of gifts.

The WMS of the church was in charge of the reception, presided over by Miss Judith Wold. Mrs. Lawrence Lubitz baked and decorated the three-tier anniversary cake which was decorated in Christmas colors of red and green. The table centerpiece was of candles, silver and gold Christmas bells, and sprigs of greenery. Guests were served buffet style. There were over 100 in attendance; those from out of town were from Grand Forks, N. D., St. Hilaire and Crookston.

E. Milligans, Plummer, Note Silver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. E. Milligan of Plummer observed their silver anniversary with open house at their home on Sunday, December 9.

About 70 friends and relatives visited with them during the afternoon. The couple received a money tree from the assembled guests, and a silver service from their daughter Sharon and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Paulson. Sharon also presented her parents with a corsage and a boutonniere.

Centering the serving table was a book-style figurine topped with a white candle with the silver anniversary emblem in silver. The oblong, white-frosted anniversary cake, with accents of pink and white, was served by Mrs. Don Overland, Erskine, a sister of Mrs. Milligan, while Mrs. Duane Rarick of Climax poured. The guests were served buffet style.

The Milligans were married in Red Lake Falls in 1937. They are the parents of two daughters, both of whom were present for the celebration.

Salvation Army Officers Given Gifts

The WCTU met at the Salvation Army hall on Friday, December 7, for a 6 o'clock pot-luck supper. Members and friends brought gifts and groceries which were presented to the local Salvation Army officers, the presentation followed with expression of thanks by Envoy Carl Paulson. The group then enjoyed a program of Christmas carols and readings, the latter given by Mrs. Hattie Lanska, Mrs. Minnie Mellem, Mrs. K. Gjesfjeld, and Elsie Koglin. Three of the speech contestants gave Scripture selections; Envoy Paulson gave a devotional, "The Gift Without the Giver is Bare," and Rev. K. Gjesfjeld closed the meeting with a prayer.

Speech Contest Held At Baptist Church

Awarded the silver medal in the speech contest sponsored by the WCTU and held in the Baptist Church on Monday of last week, was Miss Charlene Meyers. Her selection was "Sermon on the Mount." Others taking part in the speech competition were Sharon Tweten, Iven Ose, and LeRoy Ose. The contest was held in conjunction with the music recital presented by the pupils of Mrs. Hattie Lanska. The next contest will be held on Friday, January 18 at the Lester Rood home, 101 Conley Ave. South. Sponsors are hoping to have a large representation in the 12-year age group. For approved list of Scripture selections suitable for contest work, call Mrs. Tarkel Ose, MU 1-1167.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:

At the risk of being categorized with those who need Ann Lander's type counseling and realizing that you may say, ". . he speaks from the safety of distance," I have decided the cause is worthy.

Over a period of many years, the schools have been your prime target — with emphasis on the schools of Thief River Falls. Editors, by their very lot, must write on many subjects about which they are ill-informed and their readership is generally tolerant and understanding of the fact if at all concerned. I submit that you are either not well-informed on your schools or your vested interest, whatever it may be, leads you to print the truth "as you see it" in your editorials. The stand you take — and your reasons for taking it are your business — so long as you present the case accurately. I submit that you have failed to do this — just as the schools of your day failed in large measure to teach reading — as evidenced by the word callers who read your column and see it as more than editorializing.

I would like to refer to your editorial, "Present School Needs," in the December 3, issue of the TIMES. In paragraph one you indicate, by inference at least, that you are no longer proud of your schools. Strange; this is not what you have been telling your readers. Also in paragraph one you mention ". . the new Washington had met the foreseeable needs for elementary classrooms. . ." These are your words — not those of any of the "hired men" of 1957. The superintendent, prior to the building program to which you refer, gave a great many talks to interested groups in the community. At those meetings, the program was described as a "catch-up program". I attended all except two of those meetings and assisted the superintendent with his presentation. The vocational school is obviously your pet, even though it is a "frill" in so far as the required school program is concerned. It is a good program, however, it is neither free nor inexpensive — and state and federal dollars are our dollars (that is yours, Bill). I also favor a strong vocational school program.

In paragraph two, you indicate that ". . we are told that our school system is shamefully inadequate. . ." Not so Bill! Who said it and when? As applies to school facilities this must be true, however, "school system" includes school staff, administration and curriculum — and I submit that you have a school staff of which you and your fellow taxpayers (this includes me) should be proud and the last time I reviewed the curriculum offerings of District 564, they were excellent. I know you overlook the real contribution of the Thief River Falls' school staff in your writing and I am distrubed that so few citizens rise to their defense. Their comments of "Oh, consider the source," add nothing to the environment of the teaching community.

Let's move on to paragraph three and four and examine your "Facts". In 1958 we had at least one classroom in the armory. In 1959 two classes were being held in the armory, as I understand is presently the case, with other facilities also being rented. I would suggest that you look at the school enrollment of 1955-1956 if you wish to make some comparisons — and then realize that the new Washington School relieved some undesirably large classroom enrollments — and let's not talk about adding thirteen rooms to our elementary school plant upon completion of the new Washington School. The new school represented a net gain of only four classrooms for elementary use, since we abandoned the old Washington School as an elementary unit.

The record, then, will show that the boards of education of Thief River Falls have submitted to the voters and received approval at the polls for bond elections which added a sum total of ten classrooms for elementary school purposes. This figure includes the five rooms added to the Northrop School and the one room added to the Knox School. Simple arithmetic tells the rest of the story. While I was in Thief River Falls it was necessary, but not educationally sound, to take the Knox library for a classroom.

Since 1959, I believe two additional, substandard classrooms have been constructed in the "waste area" of the Knox School. I assume that because of their substandard size and the availability of funds, voter approval was not necessary in this case. Interestingly enough, these classrooms were constructed during the terms of the "protest" board members elected in 1959 — whom I understand were replaced by two new "protest" members quite recently. I'm using the term attributed to the vote cast in 1959 — as being a "protest against the board membership at that time" — a phrase I gleaned from your editorials.

Nowhere have you discussed the inadequate classroom size of the Knox School. If voter concern is what the elections have indicated the elementary classroom problem might be solved by making two classrooms from each of the existing rooms. This will immediatley double the number of classrooms available for children living on the East side of the river. I urge you to double-check your pupil-teacher ratio of 42 to 1 in the elementary schools — and then submit information on size of the facility used to your reading, remembering and regurgitating followers. Bear in mind, also, that a maximum enrollment of from 12 to 15 students is set for certain classes of handicapped children. Remember, also, an entrance-age change in the district reduced the size of the entering kindergarten class by nearly one-third — and, though it was not a factor in bringing about that change — that class size will remain small for 7 years — and will be compensated for in classes to follow.

In paragraph seven, you choose to minimize the possibility that receipt of state aids might be jeopardized. Disregarding reasonable recommendations is the type of activity that leads to enforced legislation, . .and so long as regulations are ignored, the need for legislation exists. Bear in mind the large percentage of dollar support for the Thief River Falls Schools which comes from the other taxpaying areas of the state in the form of state aids.

Your concern for the vocational school is understandable and commendable, if you choose to champion this branch of the school with full recognition of the total needs of the school — and remembering that vocational schools and junior colleges are fine complements to a school program if the district has the will and the means to support them. I believe both to be necessary and desirable if they truly serve the best interests of the school district's basic program of education.

I would like to ignore your plea for retention of the Washington School as a classroom building. The weight of evidence is against continued use of the building; some few architects, some woodbutchers and protestors notwithstanding. The theory "anything is good enough for children" should have died a natural death—along with the philosophy that the graduates of 1962 should pay no taxes for school buildings except on a year-to-year basis while their children are in school. It has been quite a while since your children were in school, Bill.

In closing, though I am far from having reached the omniscient state which editors are hired into, I would like to say that gambling with the education of children is betting on a dark horse — and the children will lose. My concern for the children of my home community is natural — and I do pay taxes in the Thief River Falls High School area and I do not rent facilities to the schools. My vested interest is children. My hope is for their future. I shall always be happy to say, "I was once one of their hired men".

At Northwestern Hospital . . .

Nurses Complete Refresher Course

Ten registered nurses from Thief River Falls who are on the disaster call list of Northwestern Hospital, recently completed a five-week refresher course in nursing at the hospital. Sessions were held twice weekly on Monday and Tuesday evenings with 10 lectures given by members of the hospital medical and professional staff.

Purpose of the course was to reacquaint the nurses with the latest methods of emergency treatment and changes in patient care which have occurred in the past five to 10 years, according to Miss Helen Black, director of nursing service and coordinator of the course.

In all probability the course will be offered again next year, Miss Black said. Nurses completing the course Monday night asked to continue group meetings every two months to cover subjects not included in the original course due to lack of time. The group held a party in honor of Miss Black December 6 at Noper's Motel.

Nurses enrolled in the course were Mrs. Eleanor Forberg, Mrs. Joyce Fox, Mrs. Eunice Flynn, Mrs. Kathleen Winjum, Mrs. Lois Amundgaard, Mrs. Avis Goddard, Mrs. Verna Noper, Mrs. Alice Olson, Mrs. Ruth Nepper and Mrs. Annette Bray.

Included in the lecture sessions were the following.

Orientation by Miss Black; oxygen therapy, fire plan and disaster plan by Les Vigness, chief engineer; first aid and mouth to mouth resuscitation by Dr. George Martin; medications, charting, admitting and discharging by Mrs. Martha Spindler, in-service director; pre and post-operative care of surgical patients and intravenous therapy by Dr. R. G. Anderson; equipment and signs by Mrs. Martha Spindler; isolation technique by Mrs. Spindler; preparing patient for x-ray by Miss Black; Obstetrics by Dr. H. P. Wendt; new trends in infant feeding by Mrs. Spindler; laboratory procedures by Dr. Leo Herber; equipment from C.S.R. by Mrs. Hanway; cardiac disease by Dr. S. E. Pollman; and pediatrics by Dr. K. O. Thorsgard.

Participants in the course also received a minimum of eight hours of clinical experience at the hospital.

School District Board Reviews Bldg. Proposals

355,000 for buildings, fixed equipment, site work and design and supervision.

Additional Costs

Hammel estimated additional furniture costs at $50,000 to $70,000; science room improvements at Lincoln at about $25,000 plus 40 per cent of the total cost available from the National Defense Education Act; and $5,000 to $7,000 for home economics department improvements.

The original proposal rejected by the voters included $1,131,000 for the junior high school, $260,000 for the 10-room attached elementary building, $70,000 for furniture, $83,000 for design and supervision; and $50,000 for contingencies. Another meeting with the architect will take place on Monday, December 17, at a special school board session.

Other Business

In other business transacted by the board, approval was given to a transportation contract with School District 1546; Mrs. Harry Ranum was hired as assistant for Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse, at a salary of $200 per month for a nine-month basis; Raymond L. Nelson was granted a high school equivalence certificate upon passing G. E. D. tests in military service and approval by the state department of education; and approval of a payment of 7½ cents per mile for mileage by school personnel after Jan. 1, 1963.

A salary committee composed of Howard Hoel, chairman, Morris Owen and Robert Bredeson was appointed by chairman Lloyd Howick to meet with the salary committee of the teacher's association and report back to the board at the January 14 meeting.

The board also gave permission for the Boy Scouts to use school buses for transportation to winter camp at Norris Camp and to provide a warming house at Northrop school skating rink. They also voted to provide supervision for skating at Northrop and Knox rinks. The warming house is to be built by the vocational school carpentry class.

Report Given

Ordered read into the minutes was a report to the board by Supt. M. R. Hankerson in regard to the school's standing in state ratings on per pupil cost and bonded indebtedness. He noted that the school was in the middle percentile in these divisions and not out of line with other districts.

Also incorporated into the minutes was a letter from Guy O. Tollerud, director of school plant planning for the state department of education, written to Supt. Hankerson and commenting on an editorial which appeared in the Times. He said the contents of the editorial disturbed him because of what was stated.

"I am rather certain that the state official referred to was very probably myself, and infers that I thought the Washington building could serve another 10 years as a school facility," the letter said. "This statement is not in accordance with the thought or statement I made. What I said was that the building might stand for another 10 years, but that it is not suitable as a school building. . . and that it should soon be demolished and removed."

Langen Explains Problems Facing World Markets

with products produced in our own country.

Support prices on grains in countries which do not produce enough agricultural products to feed their own population are considerably higher than in the United States, he said. This is necessary to protect the farmers in these countries from imported products which could destroy their market.

On August 1 many of the countries to which we export grain increased their import duties by more than three times, Langen said. Our import duties remained the same. If a reciprocal agreement is now made where another country and the United States agree to cut these levies in half, we are in a poorer position than before.

Commenting on the national picture, the Congressman said that the feed grain program is not giving this area a square deal. It restricts acreage for feed grains here but permits areas where feed grains are not adequate to produce more than in the past. This destroys the market for grain produced in our area for sale in our own nation.

In 1964 a wheat program will go into effect whereby the government will set a production quota based on what amount of wheat is used domestically, what is exported, and what is needed for seed—less estimated imports. This recognizes that we are actually cutting back production of U. S. farmers while importing these commodities from other nations, he said. The situation which hit the sugar industry, whereby the government will set a production quota based on what amount of wheat is used domestically, what is exported, and what is needed for seed—less estimated imports. This recognizes that we are actually cutting back production of U.S. farmers while importing these commodities from other nations, he said. The situation which hit the sugar industry, whereby nearly half of our domestic consumption is imported, could spread to other agricultural fields, Rep. Langen warned.

Edward Knutson, One-time Hazel Resident, Dies

Edward Knutson, 81, one-time resident of Hazel, and the father of Mrs. Harold Sellman of Grafton, N. D. died in a Grafton hospital on Monday, December 3.

Funeral services were held there on Thursday, December 6, from the Adams Funeral Home, with Rev. Oliver Sidney of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church of that city officiating. Burial was made in the Grafton cemetery.

Mr. Knutson was born at Avery, Wis., on May 9, 1881. The family moved to Minnesota soon afterward, and he grew to manhood in this state. On September 30, 1915, he was married at Bemidji. Following their marriage, the couple continued to live in that area, until moving to Fertile township near Grafton in 1932. In 1947, following the death of his wife, Mr. Knutson moved to the city of Grafton to make his home with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sellman.

In addition to his daughter he is survived by a grandson, David Sellman, and by one brother, Henry Knutson of Minneapolis.

Check Your Social Security Number, Workers Advised

Manager of Grand Forks Office Advises Those Taking Holiday Jobs

Students, housewives, and others who plan to make extra cash by working during the pre-Christmas rush were advised to avoid possible delay by getting a social security account number now.

Walter D. Kistler, district manager of the Grand Forks, North Dakota, social security office, reminded students who have never had a social security number to apply for one without delay at their nearest social security office.

Housewives should check their social security cards to make sure that the account is in their married name. If the card is still in the maiden name, application should be made to change it so that they may get credit for the wages earned.

The key to the benefits which are paid to workers who retire, die, or become disabled is the number on your social security card. Any person who cannot locate his or her card should take immediate steps to make application for a new one by obtaining a form for this purpose at the nearest social security office or post office. The new social security card will have the same number originally assigned to the worker.

Harold J. Johnson Dies At Gilbert; Interment Here

Harold J. Johnson, a former resident of the Goodridge area, and for the past five years a resident of Eveleth, passed away on Friday, December 7 at Gilbert, at the age of 55.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon, December 12, at the Green Funeral Home, with the Rev. Leland Steen officiating, and burial was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Born on August 17, 1907, in Wisconsin, Harold Johnson came to Minnesota with his parents at an early age, settling at Arco. Later, the family moved to the Goodridge community, where he attended school and grew to manhood.

On September 30, 1935, he married Miss Ruth Bergquist at Middle River. They farmed in the Goodridge area until 1957, in which year they moved to Eveleth.

Mr. Johnson served on the school board of District 56 for many years, and also served on the township board of Star township for several years, until his resignation in 1957.

Survivors are his wife Ruth; one son, Wayne, of Urbana, Ill.; his mother, Mrs. Christine Johnson of Goodridge; two brothers, Walter and Leo, both of Goodridge; and three sisters, Mrs. Edwin Nelson of Hibbing, Mrs. Sig Sigurdson of Goodridge, and Mrs. Clifford Thompson of Minneapolis.

He was preceded in death by his father and one brother.

Quentin Davidson, Formerly of Holt, Dies At Brainerd

Quentin Davidson, 43, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Davidson of Holt, passed away recently at Brainerd, where he has been a resident for the past eight years.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon, December 9, at the Collins Funeral chapel at Middle River, with Rev. Richard Snipstead of Greenbush officiating. Interment was made in the Holt cemetery.

Mr. Davidson was born on April 13, 1919, in Holt township, Marshall county.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hilmer Davidson of Holt; by three brothers, Milton of Holt, Robert of Thief River Falls and Dr. Dale Davidson of Caledonia; two sisters, Mrs. John (Donna) Sorum of Boise, Idaho., and Miss Annette Davidson of St. Paul.

Township Officers Organize Monday

Hanson, Parnow, Naplin Named Temporary Board

All but two of Pennington county's 21 townships were represented at a meeting of township officers held Monday in Thief River Falls. Henry Brummer, town clerk in Renville county, was in charge of the meeting called by the Minnesota Association of Township Officers.

Silas Hanson of Thief River Falls, Edgar Naplin of Red Lake Falls and Raymond Parnow of Goodridge were elected to a temporary board of directors for the county organization of township officers. The board will call another meeting at a later date to perfect the organization.

Brummer explained the purpose and need of a township association and reported that there are now more than 70 counties in the state organized. As a member of the Governor's Property Tax Committee, representing the Minnesota Association of Township Officers, he also explained some of the problems and subjects that had been discussed and acted upon at the committee's meetings during the past year.

Gene Rose, RLF, Is Candidate for Rhodes Scholar

Gene Rose of Red Lake Falls, a student at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks, was one of six young men competing Wednesday at UND for the right to represent the state at the district Rhodes scholarship competition in Portland, Ore., on December 15.

Each student participated in a 30-minute interview with a panel of five committee members and was questioned on his interests, plans, aptitude and scholarship. Four of 14 appearing at the district selection meeting will receive Rhodes scholarships to spend two years at Oxford University in England. The district includes North Dakota, Alaska, Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho and Wyoming.

Rose is a senior majoring in chemical engineering. At UND he has been on the honor roll from 1960 to 1962. He has been secretary-treasurer and is now vice president of the student chapter of Sigma Tau, engineering honorary fraternity, and has received a grant from the National Science Foundation for undergraduate research in electronic computers. He is also secretary-treasurer of the student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and a member of Delta Upsilon social fraternity.

Two TRF Firms Given SBA Loans

Sjoberg Appliance and Dow Key Are Assisted

Two Thief River Falls firms were among 28 small business firms in Minnesota and northwestern Wisconsin receiving loans totaling $898,400 from the Small Business Administration during the past month, according to Harry A. Sieben, regional director of SBA's Minneapolis office.

Sieben stated that 26 of the loans were made in participation with local banks. The SBA is authorized to make long-term loans to small business firms when this type of credit is not available from normal sources.

Local firms receiving loans were Sjoberg Appliance, $60,000; and Dow Key company, $20,000. Largest loan made during the month was $95,000 to North States Wood Products of Minneapolis.

The Small Business Administration is also authorized to make loans to local development companies to assist communities develop new industry. During the past month two loans were made, one of them for $170,000 to the Roseau Research and Development corporation at Roseau.

Stelmaschuk Wins Extension Award

Gains Runner-up Honors In Information Contest

Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agricultural agent, gained runner-up honors in the 15th annual University of Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service Information contest. Awards were made as part of the annual extension service conference held December 11-13 in St. Paul.

First place went to Barbara Carson, Scott county home agent; Honorable mention was given to Mary Ann Scharf, Stevens county home agent, and Audrey Blum, Big Stone county home agent. All were honored for outstanding work with press, radio, visual aids and direct mail in their county educational program.

Stelmaschuk was a blue ribbon winner in single article, radio interview, series of four black and white pictures, series of two pictures and teaching aids. Miss Laura Duerst, Pennington county home agent, was a blue ribbon winner in the business letter category.

Christmas Party for Retarded Is Set December 19

Annual Christmas party for the Pennington-Red Lake Association for Retarded Children will be held Wednesday, December 19, at 7:15 p. m. in the basement of First Lutheran church in Thief River Falls. A program presented by the children of the special classes will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m.

Officers of the association announced that there will be an exchange of 50-cent gifts for the children and 25-cent gifts for adults. A pot-luck lunch will be served at the close of the program. Members and friends of the association are invited to attend.

The association also reminds persons who wish to contribute a Christmas gift to the Brainerd state school and hospital may do so by placing the gift in the collection box at F. W. Woolworth or Red Owl stores. Adult gifts are needed much more than children's gifts.

E. Erickson Herd Tops County DHIA During November

Don Braggeman Herd 2d in Pennington County Herd Improvement Assn.

Orville Peters, supervisor of the Pennington County Dairy Herd Improvement association, lists the following herds as the top ten in the association for the month of November.

	Milk Av.	Fat Av.	Test Av.
Earl Erickson	801	37.7	4.71
Don Bruggeman	953	37.2	3.90
Martin Hanson	971	30.9	3.78
Wallace Peterson	918	31.3	3.02
Dale Svendsgaard	923	32.1	3.50
Paul Morkassel	792	31.0	3.92
Clyde Christensen	818	30.7	3.75
Art Stenberg	856	30.5	3.50
Darrow Lundeen	801	29.7	3.67

The herd averages are affected by the number of dry cows in the herd. The amount of milk or butterfat produced is averaged out over all the cows. This gives the farmer a record of the earning power of the herd for the month.

If too many dry cows are included in the herd then the average for that month may be low even though the cows which are milking produce a lot of milk.

There were 24 herds on test with a total of 615 cows during November in the Pennington association, 71 per cent of which were milking. The average amount of milk produced per cow was 682 pounds which tested 3.64 per cent fat. This amounted to 24.8 pounds of B. F. per cow.

One cow finished with over 500 lbs. B. F. during the testing year, in a 365-day or less lactation: Clyde Christensen herd, cow No. 44, 320 days, 17,850 lbs. milk, 750 lbs. fat.

Eleven owner-sampler herds were on test with a total of 240 cows, seventy per cent of which were milking.

Kittson County Again Votes 'Dry'

Liquor Sale Voted Down by Margin of 1845-1439

Residents of Kittson county, in a special election Monday, voted to retain the county's dry law.

The vote was 1845-1439, with returns from one small precinct in the eastern part of the county not available Tuesday.

The vote on the liquor issue, first in the county since 1947, was only the second test of the county's dry law since national prohibition.

The election was ordered on the strength of a petition bearing the names of more than 25 per cent of the total number of voters who cast ballots in the 1960 election for governor.

The vote in the county's seven villages on the question "Shall the sale of intoxicating liquor be prohibited in Kittson County?" was: Lake Bronson, 98 yes and 80 no; Kennedy, 126 yes and 57 no; Humboldt, 27 yes and 23 no; Lancaster 82 yes and 136 no; Hallock, 272 yes and 432 no; Karlstad, 231 yes and 73 no; and St. Vincent, 34 yes and 25 no.

Pennington Yule Seal Sale Third High in Region

Pennington county has the third highest percentage of the 1961 sale total in the 1962 Christmas Seal drive in the Northwest Region of the state, according to a release from the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association.

In 1961 a total of $2,815.38 was contributed from Pennington county and the return to date is $873.65 or 31 per cent of last year's total. Kittson county leads the region with 35 per cent and Marshall county is second with 33 per cent.

Grand total for Minnesota in 1961 was $740,936 with this year's total to date being $209,432 or 28 per cent of last year. Of the total last year, $227,608 came from Hennepin, $108,416 from Ramsey and $60,101 from St. Louis counties.

Local Students Get Scholarships from Concordia

Two more Concordia College Merit Scholarships for freshman students have been received by students at Lincoln high school, bringing the current total to four, according to Richard Edlund, senior high school principal.

Recent recipients are Nancy Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Newton of rt. 4, and Gerald Erickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Erickson of Thief River Falls. The scholarships are awarded upon application to students who qualify and range from $100 to $700 depending upon the need of the student. Previous recipients were Trudy Waale and Gloria Philipp.

Newfolden Student on MSC Committee

A number of Moorhead State college students have been named as student representatives on faculty committees at the college to assist in planning the academic, development and student programs.

Nominated by the student commission and appointed by the president, students serving on faculty committees participate in program planning in close cooperation with faculty members.

Faythe Dyrud, Newfolden, has been named to financial aids committee.

Selmanson Named To Farmers Union Dairy Committee

Organization Will Seek Direct Payment Program To Replace Supports

Ole Selmanson of Goodridge has been named to a statewide Farmers Union dairy committee for the promotion of an improved national dairy program. He is president of the Pennington county Farmers Union dairy committee for the promotion of an improved national dairy program. He is president of the Pennington county Farmers Union and notes that there are 522 farmers in the county who market about 420,000 hundredweight of milk annually.

The dairy committee, made up of members of the state board of directors of the organization, will have the responsibility of carrying out an informational campaign on behalf of the direct payment dairy proposal endorsed by the recent Farmers Union Convention.

Designed to achieve a gain of about one dollar per hundredweight in income for the producer, the proposal would mean increased income of about $420,000 in farm income for Pennington county.

The proposal is for the replacement of the existing dairy support program, which is operated through government purchases of surplus dairy products, with a system in which producers would receive direct payments to bring their income to $4.15 per hundredweight on milk used for manufacturing purposes. Officers of FU locals are urged to visit with as many dairymen as possible during December regarding the plan which would be voluntary and which would use incentive instead of marketing quotas to accomplish a balanced production.

Judge Sylvestre on Recount Panel

Three District Judges to Rule on Governor Contest

Three district judges were named by the Supreme Court Monday to have charge of a recount in the Minnesota governorship race and the judges chose Ramsey County as the place where they will sit.

Attorneys for both sides who met with the judges said they would try to agree on ground rules to be submitted to the judges Tuesday.

Named to conduct the recount case were District Judges J. H. Sylvestre of Crookston, who was chosen to preside; Sidney E. Kaner of Duluth, and Leonard J. Keyes of St. Paul. Named as an alternate was District Judge John W. Graff of St. Paul. Chief Justice Oscar Knutson announced the three-judge panel.

Attorneys expressed the hope 100 recount teams could be agreed upon by the end of this week and that members of the teams could be brought into St. Paul Monday or Tuesday to receive instructions from the court.

1st Baptist Choir to Offer Cantata Sunday Evening

The choir of the First Baptist church will present a Christmas cantata entitled: "The Music of Christmas" on Sunday evening. Most of the numbers of this popular Christmas cantata are based upon less-used Christmas carols and melodies combined with a few of the old favorites in an interesting choral arrangement. Soloists will include Misses Marjl Dalzell, Gloria and Lucille Melby, Morgan Ellingson, Carl Gustafson and Pastor W. R. Dalzell, who also will direct the cantata. The program, which will be presented in the church, is open to the public.

Beltrami County Land Use Plan Hearing Is Held

175 Attend Meeting At Grygla Wednesday; Session 4th in Series

Approximately 175 persons attended a Department of Conservation hearing on proposed land use in northwestern Beltrami county held Wednesday evening at the Grygla school. The meeting was the fourth held regarding state plans for land use in Kittson, Roseau, Marshall and Beltrami counties.

Appearing for the department were Richard Knox, deputy commissioner; Robert Greising, special assistant attorney general, Richard Wettersten, game projects leader; and Donald Burcalow, federal aid coordinator and secretary of the northwestern Minnesota Planning committee.

Principal speakers for area groups and agricultural interests were Sam Brattelie, Beltrami county commissioner; Paul Olstad, Bemidji, Beltrami county treasurer; Oliver Howland, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Marshall-Beltrami Soil Conservation District; and Ervin Anderson, former Beltrami county commissioner.

Mr. Knox told a Times reporter this morning that he was satisfied that the four meetings held in this area had been helpful in clearing up misunderstandings that had developed. He was sure that department officials now had a clearer understanding of the problems in the area, some of which had become controversial.

Knox also expressed hope that the interested people had received a better idea of the thinking of department officials and that with a broader understanding it would be possible to work out solutions that would be reasonably satisfactory to all.

He stated that the department has many projects in the planning stage for distressed areas and he hoped for early approval of some of these in eligible counties in this area. He anticipated up to $3 million would be made available for such employment projects in state and federal aid.

Final plans for a land use program in Kittson, Roseau and Marshall counties should be ready by next spring, he stated, and northwestern Beltrami county would be considered in an overall plan for the entire county.

Grygla Man Gets 3d College Degree

Among those graduating from Moorhead State college at the end of the Fall Quarter this year was L. Dennis Sundberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Sundberg of Grygla, who received a bachelor of science degree with a major in elementary education. He is a graduate of Goodridge high school and also received a B. A. degree from Bemidji State college in 1958 and a bachelor of philosophy degree with a major in social work from the University of North Dakota in 1961. He plans to secure a teaching position in either elementary education or in special education for the mentally retarded.

Firemen Called To Syversrud's

Thief River Falls fire department was called to the E. K. Syversrud residence in the Rustad Addition Monday evening where a chimney fire had created a great deal of smoke in the house. No damage was done but the fire could have been serious if not detected early since a strong wind was blowing at the time.

LEGAL NOTICE

Nov. 26-Dec. 10-13

Notice of Special Meeting of Stockholders of Consumers Cooperative Assn.

Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of Consumers Cooperative Association will be held at Civic and Commerce rooms in the city auditorium in the city of Thief River Falls, on Dec. 15, 1962 at 2 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of considering and acting upon a resolution to amend the By-laws of the association as adopted by the Board of Directors and recommended to the stockholders for adoption, which said resolution reads as follows:

RESOLVED, that Article VIII of the By-laws be amended by adding thereto a new section which shall be numbered Section 6, the same to read as follows:

Section 6. Each member of this cooperative as of the effective date of this By-law who continues as a member after such date, and each person who shall after such date become a member shall, by such act alone, consent that the amount of any distributions with respect to his patronage occurring in any fiscal year of the association beginning after December 31, 1962, and which are made in written notices of allocation (as defined in 26 USCA 1388), and which are received by said member from the cooperative, will be taken into account by him at their stated dollar amounts in the manner provided in 26 USCA 1385 (a), less any amount which may be excluded under 26 USCA 1385 (b), in the taxable year in which such written notices of allocation are received by him.

This amendment to the By-laws is necessitated by provisions of the Revenue Act of 1962. In order to receive the full benefit of the amendment under the Law, it is necessary that it be adopted prior to January 1, 1963.

Newfolden Cagers Split Two Games During Past Week

Lose to Lake Bronson, Trim Hallock 58-38; At Warroad Saturday

Newfolden high school Nordics broke even in two games played on the home court last week as they lost the season opener to the Lake Bronson Braves 35 to 32 on Tuesday night and defeated the Hallock Bears 58 to 38 on Friday. Both were non-conference games although they were against District 32 teams.

First game jitters were very evident on both sides Tuesday with many mistakes being made on wild passes. This was especially true of the Nordics against the Braves' press. The Braves jumped out ahead and were never headed although the Nordics tied the score with several minutes remaining in the third quarter and the game was nip and tuck from that point on. Quarter scores were 12 to 5; 18 to 16; and 27 to 25, all in favor of the Braves.

High point man for the evening was the Braves' Paul Larson with 20 points, all on field goals. For the Braves, Jim Dahl had 11 while Terry and Jerry Strandquist had 9 and 8 points respectively. The Nordics could have won this game at the free throw line as they made only 4 of 14 gift attempts, while the Braves had 3 out of 6 attempts.

A balanced scoring attack featured the Nordic win over the Hallock Bears as all eight men who saw action hit the scoring column from the field. The Nordics again started slowly as the Bears led them 12 to 7 at the end of the first period. The Nordics pulled out the stops at this point and led by 22 to 18 at the half and 41 to 23 at the third quarter stop.

High point men for the Nordics were Jerry and Terry Strandquist with 12 and 11 points respectively, followed by Jim Dahl and John Dill with 8 points each, and Charlie Olson and Ken Carlson with 6 points each. High point men for the Bears were Doug Street and Dale Dunn with 10 points.

Coach Sheldon Elseth's "B" squad also split in their first two games, winning the opener from Lake Bronson 26 to 24 and losing to the Bears "B" squad 31 to 20. Coach Elseth said the boys played better in their second game up against more mature opposition.

This week the Nordics travel to Warroad on Saturday night. Warroad holds a 30 to 28 victory over Middle River and a 31 to 30 victory over Badger.

Prowler Hockey Team Opens Play Saturday

Coach Gene Sack's Prowler varsity squad and coach George Schlieff's Prowler B squad will begin play on their 1962-63 hockey schedules on Saturday night when, on the Arena ice sheet here, they meet the Grand Forks Central A and B squads. The B squad preliminary game is slated to face-off at 6:30 p. m., with the varsity game billed for 8:00 p. m.

The Prowlers, handicapped by the lack of ice, moved into the Arena on Monday afternoon for their first intensive drill. The team, as it moves into its season-opener against coach Sergio Gambucci's Grand Forks sextet, will be without the services of co-captain Tom Morben. The veteran defenseman has been in the hospital undergoing treatment for a touch of pneumonia. He is expected to be released from the hospital on Friday, but will not be available for Saturday night's game. Coach Sack hopes to have the defenseman in action against coach Jerry Wolford's East Grand Forks team on Dec. 22, a Region Eight conference game.

The 1962-63 Prowler high school hockey schedule:

Dec. 15, Grand Forks Central, here, A and B squads, 6:30 and 8:00 p. m.

Dec. 22, East Grand Forks, here, A squad, and Roseau B squad, 6:30 and 8:00 p. m.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

It's Quite a Menu

Sports fans will have a varied menu of athletic events to sample this weekend. On Friday night, on the high school court, coach Jack Junker's Prowlers will meet the Crookston Central Pirates in a District 31 basketball conference game; on Saturday night, on the Arena ice, coach Gene Sack's hockey Prowlers will make their debut as they meet coach Sergio Gambucci's Grand Forks Central Redskins; and on Sunday afternoon, on the Arena rink, coach Duane Glass' senior hockey Thieves are scheduled to meet the Roseau Cloverleafs in a Northwest Hockey League game.

Friday night's cage tilt here will be the first home appearance of the Prowlers this season. The Prowlers have played a pair of games, taking a loss at Fertile and scoring a win at Warren, and local basketball fans should note some encouraging aspects in the Prowlers' play. It's a young squad.

And the hockey fans, Prowler fans, that is, should enjoy the Grand Forks Redskins game here on Saturday night. Coach Sergio Gambucci's North Dakota state champions lost their 1962 regulars by graduation, but Central, benefiting by the Grand Forks Park Board hockey program, will have a pretty good team here Saturday.

And all that need be said about Sunday's senior hockey game is that it's between the Thieves and the Roseau Cloverleafs.

Bowling Notes

Dale Rokke of the Marshall County State Bank team of the Monday night National league, bowling on the early shift Monday night, picked up the 4-7-6-10 split, the "big four". He made the pick by sliding the six-pin across the alley to bump down the four and seven pins.

If Dale accomplishes this feat again this season, Carl Onkka, the proprietor of the Family Bowl lanes, will give Dale the four pins, and perhaps give him a couple of lines of bowling for free.

The Northern State Bank team of the Tuesday night American league, has, over the past several weeks, made the climb from ninth place in the standings to the first-place rung.

But what adds interest to the Northern State's performance is the red-hot rivalry among the squad members for runner-up honors in the team's high-pin average. Doug Remick, with a 166-pin average, is just about a cinch to win the team's high-average trophy, but the battle for second place is something else again. Here's a run-down of the averages of the other bowlers on the squad: Stan Larson, 154; Keith Spindler, 153; Gene Beito, 152; Benny Bjerken, 152; Ed Leyden, 149; and Walt Larson, 147. I'll make a modest wager that Stan Larson will be able to withstand the challenges of Keith, Benny, Gene, Ed and Walt, and take runner-up honors. Stan will probably boost his average up into the 160's by season's end.

Good Luck, Pinky

I'm sure that the prayers and best wishes of his many friends will be with Harold (Pinky) Adolphson this coming week when, on Dec. 17, he undergoes heart surgery at the University of Minnesota hospital.

Pinky is a former Prowler athlete, and during the 1950-51 season he was captain and quarterback of coach Wayne Johnson's squad. He was never a robust individual, but he always had plenty of grit and determination, and he proved to be an inspiring leader for his teammates. Following graduation, Pinky was a member of Wally Grovum's baseball Bums of the Pen-Ro-Shall league, and he pitched effectively for this club. I'm sure that when the University of Minnesota surgeons enter Pinky's chest that they will be surprised by his big, big heart. And it's the hope that these capable surgeons can repair the defective valves in that stout heart.

The local Aerie of the Eagles, of which Pinky is a member, has made a plea to its members for the contribution of 25 pints of blood, which it is estimated he will require. These donations may be made at the local hospital at any time, and any type of blood.

It Makes Sense

The University of Minnesota regents will meet this week, and it is probable that they will discuss the appointment of a successor, or successors, to athletic director Ike Armstrong, who is slated to retire shortly.

It is reported that the board of directors of the University's lettermen's club, the 'M' club, has recommended that the following three Minnesota graduates—John Roning, Bud Wilkinson, and Billy Bye—be given consideration for the positions that will be made available. It makes sense to have a former 'M' man directing the athletic activities of the U. And any, or all, of the three given recommendations, would be valuable in building up good-will around the state.

Christmas Trim Must Be Properly Handled

Christmas decorations add to the yuletide spirit, but improper handling can mar a happy holiday season. This is a warning from the Minnesota Department of Health and the Minnesota Safety Council.

Fires caused by combustible decorations are one hazard. Skin irritations and upset stomachs from eating, inhaling, or handling toxic materials may also spoil the holidays, according to Dr. Warren. R. Lawson, supervisor of the Poison Information Center of the state health department.

Children are attracted to gay holiday decorations, but parents should teach them to look and not to touch, he states. If they are too young to understand, put the decorations out of their reach. Keep an eye on them when they are near the tree.

Holly and mistletoe berries can cause vomiting and diarrhea. Angel hair is spun glass which can cause severe skin irritations.

Christmas tree bubbling lights are pretty to look at, but inhaling or drinking the fluid can be fatal. Salts which produce the multi-colored flames on fireplace logs and snow sprays are other toxic hazards which should be kept away from toddlers.

To reduce the fire hazard from Christmas trees, select a fresh tree. Put water in the cup of the tree-stand and add more when needed. Water absorption is greater if the butt of the tree is cut on an angle about an inch above the original cut. Put the tree in a cool part of the room away from heaters and fireplaces. Take the tree out of the house when the needles begin to fall or turn brown.

Before trimming the tree, check all lights for broken sockets, frayed wires, and loose connections. When buying new sets, look for the UL (Underwriter's Label). Fasten electric lights to the branches rather than on the needles. Do not overload outlets. Turn off the tree lights when you leave the house. Non-combustible decorations such as metal, glass, and asbestos are best.

Metal trees usually will not burn but they can conduct electricity. Floodlights are the best type of illumination for them.

For outdoor lighting, use only sets specifically listed as outdoor equipment by the UL. When setting up or adjusting outdoor lights, turn off the power to avoid the possibility of schock. Turn sockets down so they do not collect water or snow.

U.S. Farm Bureau Chief Asks Cut in Government Costs

Charles Shuman Urges Ending Present Trend to Bigger Government

President Charles B. Shuman of the American Farm Bureau Federation called upon all Americans Monday to join in making 1963 a year in which a trend toward big government is ended.

The farm leader told upwards of 5,000 delegates and members from 49 states attending the big farm organization's annual convention in Atlanta, Georgia, that individual freedom and free institutions are threatened.

The convention worked on plans for an all-out drive to reduce the federal government's role in agriculture. Shuman, a registered Democrat, said a majority of the nation's farmers want less rather than more government aid.

In his annual address, Shuman said the nation's future as a democracy may well be determined by the coming session of Congress.

He lashed out at reported Kennedy administration plans to seek reductions in income taxes. He said the only way a tax cut could be justified would be to reduce federal spending by a corresponding amount.

"Further deficit spending by our government may generate disastrous inflation and jeopardize the confidence which other nations have in our fiscal responsibility," he said.

CHRISTMAS SEAL X-RAY UNIT

OPERATING THROUGHOUT MINNESOTA'S 84 non-metropolitan counties is the above pictured Christmas Seal mobile x-ray unit, recently acquired by the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health Association. The unit will be used to take chest x-rays of those who react to the tuberculin test. It will also be available for x-raying in high risk tuberculosis groups.

Drivers with Sloppy Habits Invite Trouble

Inept driving practices and poor vehicle maintenance will show up quickly if blizzard conditions erupt during the remaining weeks of December, warns the Minnesota highway department.

Highway officials pointed out that stalled vehicles can tie up traffic movement for hours and also endanger the lives of the owners and operators of the vehicles. Engine failure, lack of tire chains, faulty windshield wipers and defrosters, and weak batteries can cause traffic snarls that test the patience of other motorists, road maintenance crews, and traffic police. They also create road hazards that result in many tragic traffic accidents during the winter season.

Sloppy driving habits will quickly cause a guilty driver to get into trouble when visibility is cut by freezing rains and snow flurries, and streets and highways are covered with slippery coats of ice and snow. Reduced speeds, extra caution and a knowledge of driving skills s needed for safe maneuvering.

Tons of sand and salt are required to minimize the dangers of packed ice and snow and long hours are put in by highway maintenance crews who are charged with the responsibility of snow removal, but it is often difficult for crews to keep ahead of the storms. For safety's sake, the wise motorist will recognize the fact that "traffic safety is in his hands" during the winter season and will make a special effort to avoid becoming a traffic hazard that will endanger his life or the life of another, according to the Highway department.

The Department also advised motorists to stay off highways during severe storm conditions unless properly equipped to get through or until advised that the weather is clearning.

Yule Concert Set Next Thursday in Newfolden School

The music department of the Newfolden school will present its annual Christmas concert on Thursday, December 20, at 8:00 p. m. in the Newfolden school auditorium. The vocal department under the direction of Mrs. Vera B. Craig will feature the Nordic choir, girls chorus, boys chorus, and the junior high girls chorus. Dennes Borman will conduct the Senior Band.

Special features will be the combined band and chorus doing "Three Songs for Christmas" by Grundman, and a brass group will accompany the chorus singing "Lo, How A Rose" and "Adoramus Te".

The concert is open to the general public free of charge.

Safety Belt Saves Newfolden Driver from Being Hurt

The driver of a car, which failed to negotiate a highway curve ten miles north of East Grand Forks and broke a power line pole when the vehicle side-swiped it, escaped injuries because he was wearing a safety belt.

Thomas Gray, 23, Newfolden, told the Minnesota Highway Patrol Saturday he would have been ejected from the vehicle had he not been wearing a safety belt.

Investigating officers said Gray apparently fell asleep at the wheel. Damage to his car was confined to the left side and was quite extensive.

"This is the gradation of thinking, preaching, and acting; if a man thinks erroneously he may keep his thoughts to himself, and nobody will trouble him; if he preaches erroneous doctrine society may expel him; if he acts in consequence of it, the law takes place, and he is hanged."

What's Ahead of Us?

Election recounts in Scott county for local offices give us a fair idea of what may be ahead of us in the statewide recount for governor. The following comment by Editor John Suel of the Valley News at Shakopee is interesting:

"Some weeks ago, a University political science observer predicted that the margin of error in a statewide vote would be about 2 per cent. In Scott county, 8935 votes were cast last month. On the basis of the first recount, that of the race for state representative, 166 votes were counted wrong or were in dispute. (Henry Morlock led by 14 votes in the initial count. After the recount, John Fitzgerald led by 15 votes, a total shift of 29 votes. In dispute were 137 votes for a total of 166 votes.)

"That figure is just a shade under the 2 per cent forecast of the observers. If that average holds true statewide, the governorship dispute could involve 20 to 25 thousand votes for court decisions."

That Acheson Speech

Dean Acheson no longer is an official of our government and he does not speak officially for the government. But as a former official, serving as Secretary of State in the Truman administration, his public statements are important.

In a recent address, discussing international problems, and particularly the problems of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, he said things about the British that were far from complimentary. And what he said was of course resented by the British.

Writing from London, Charles King of the Southam News Service, makes these observations:

"There is some fear in Britain today that the outspoken remarks of Dean Acheson may create new difficulties for Prime Minister Macmillan in his upcoming talks with President de Gaulle and President Kennedy.

"The judgement of the former U. S. secretary of state that Britain is floundering without a role in the new world of power politics has hit this island nation like a bolt of lightning.

"There has been an outcry of resentment and much indignant attempt to downgrade Mr. Acheson's importance in the policy making group around Mr. Kennedy.

"Britain, in a word, is hurt. And this feeling is bound to be reflected somehow in the Kennedy-Macmillan discussion at Nassau December 19 and 20.

"But the predominant view of reflection seems to be not so much that what Mr. Acheson said was wrong but that he chose an artless way of saying it and a precarious moment to do so.

"British negotiators have already reached the crucial point in their efforts to achieve a satisfactory bargain with the six nations of the European Common Market. It's a time for tough and skilled bargaining, and Mr. Acheson's inference that Britain has no choice but to enter the alliance on whatever terms can be secured isn't going to make the job any easier."

The Winnipeg Tribune points out that Acheson's remarks "were extraneous to his main theme." The Tribune thinks, "It is unfortunate that the import of his observations in their broadest concept has been obscured by the reaction to his ill-timed remarks on Britain's role. The Tribune supports the main points which Acheson raised for a stronger NATO, and paid him the following tribute:

"Dean Acheson probably knows as much about trends in United States foreign policy as anyone even though he is not an active member of the administration. In the immediate post-war years as President Truman's secretary of state, he was a tireless and imaginative leader of western unity. He was the chief architect of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and, if judged on this alone, his contribution to security of the free world has been one of history's great landmarks."

During the formative years of NATO, Acheson was generally thought of as being "soft" in dealing with Communism, according to the Tribune, but, "It now appears that he has identified himself with the new hard policy approach emerging out of the American showdown on Cuba." Continues the Tribune:

"This American policy was implemented without NATO consultation and while the allies rallied in varying degrees to a policy beyond their control, the overall effect was one of militia levies being dragooned into line.

"Mr. Acheson wants to see more coordinated effort next time if such a confrontation is felt necessary on, say, Berlin. In doing this, an examination of his record, reveals he is not being hypocritical. He always had stood for a united west, and he now feels that the alliance has progressed to the point where common policy should be implemented in emergencies to avoid the necessity of unilateral American action. If anything, Mr. Acheson feels some uneasiness or embarrassment on the lone road taken by the United States but he believes circumstances left no alternative.

"He would like to avoid the situation recurring by having NATO develop political institutions to agree upon such policies to plan for joint economic and military measures to meet future emergencies.

"Mr. Acheson no doubt hopes the Cuban ultimatum will not have to be repeated but if there appears to be no alternative in the future, he wants to see the Western allies in a solid phalanx with a unity of purpose which would contribute to the safety of the world. Contrary to the old-fashioned "hard" school of forcing American policies on a bewildered world, Mr. Acheson believes that NATO has matured sufficiently to help formulate effective polices for itself."

Oppose Radical Change

Proposals for a radically different approach to marketing methods did not appeal to the members of the Twin City Milk Producers Association, following a discussion at their recent annual meeting. So states Editor Carl Weicht of the Northfield News, published in the heart of Minnesota's Dairyland. According to Weicht:

"While difficult problems were aired and sharp differences of opinion on marketing procedures were apparent, the recent annual meeting of the Twin City Milk Producers association made clear that this successful farmers' marketing organization, after nearly half a century of operation and solution of many problems along the way, is exceptionally stable and strong. That it will continue to be an effective instrumentality in the area, in which it now has a membership of 3,334 producing members, seems clear on the face of the record as presented to the producer-members by their association officers.

"The fiscal strength shown, the effective management capacity which the operators' reports reveal, and the apparent fact that there is sound reason to look upon the Twin City Milk Producers association as an outstanding example of co-operative action by the producers in the marketing of their products—these must also be matched by another distinguishing characteristic of this co-operative as of others that have been successful. That is the loyalty, the informed understading, and the support of the membership."

Factories on the Moon

Dr. Athelstan Spilhaus, dean of the University of Minnesota Institute of Technology, is back at his old job after 16 interesting months of service as Commissioner of the Unitel States Science Exhibit at the Seattle fair. He now is chairman of the board to maintain the exhibit permanently.

In an interview with Victor Cohn of the Minneapolis Tribune, Dr. Spilhaus made several interesting predictions. His crystal ball revealed that:

"In not many years we'll see factories on the moon.

"We'll be farming the sea.

"We'll be putting navigation beacons under the sea.

"We'll be traveling at sea either under water or skimming the surface on hydrofoils. The face of the sea is a nuisance—it's wavy.

"In the next 10 years, I think, we will also see an amazing growth in the teaching and public understanding of science."

We have confidence in Dr. Spilhaus and his crystal ball, and if he says we will see factories on the moon that's good enough for us. Just why anyone should build a factory on the moon we will not attempt to understand. It doesn't appear to be a logical location for a factory but no doubt Dr. Spilhaus has in mind a market that only a factory on the moon could serve. In the interests of the dairy industry of our world, we hope that the moon actually is not made of cheese.

We are glad Dr. Spilhaus did not include regular passenger service between here and such nearby planets as Venus and Mars in his predictions for the near future. It is now hoped that the bullet we fired at Venus several months ago is going to miss that target near enough to give us some idea of what kind of clothes we should wear if we should happen to be in that neighborhood. But at best, the information that bullet is going to be able to give us will be very limited.

We will be happy to turn over this assignment of building factories on Venus and Mars to the next generation.

Cadillac

YOUNGEST CADILLAC IN SIXTY-ONE YEARS!

Take a good look at a new 1963 Cadillac and you'll see what we're talking about.

For this one has a freshness . . . a brightness . . . a spirit . . . a flair that you've never seen before in a Cadillac car.

It's the look of youth—and it's written in every clean, crisp line . . . and mirrored in every lithe, nimble move the car makes.

And so it is not surprising that this beautiful new Cadillac is adding a host of youthful admirers to the ranks of its enthusiasts.

Nor is it remarkable that so many younger motorists can be seen this year at its wheel.

In fact, motorists of all ages have taken this Cadillac to their hearts as never before. The reception that has been accorded this new "car of cars"—whether measured by the praise of its followers or the number of its owners—is simply without precedent.

Why not visit your authorized Cadillac dealer soon —and see for yourself what the talk is all about?

Young in fact or young at heart—we know you'll want to make it yours!

Saturday Matinees

Dear Parent:

The Thief River Falls Parent-Teachers Association, the St. Hilaire Parent-Teachers Association with Mr. James Fissher and the Falls Theatre are again this year approving a series of ten movies. There will be one show each Saturday from Dec. 15, 1962 to Feb. 16, 1963 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The movies selected have been rated from very good to excellent for children and youth by the motion picture review editors of "Parents Magazine" and the "Legion of Decency."

Series tickets for the entire ten movies will be available from now until Saturday, January 9, 1963, to all school children from Kindergarten to Eighth grade at a cost of $1.00 for the ten movies. Pre-school children will be admitted at regular admission prices.

The ticket office will be open from 2:00 o'clock P.M. to 6:00 o'clock P.M. for the sale of these tickets on Saturday, Dec. 15th.

Following is a list of these approved movies:

EXTRA Egg Income Starts Now

One of the easiest ways to get higher egg income is to start with better quality chicks.

Swift's Hatchery brings you the best birds in the business. Tests prove the money-making ability of the Starcross 288. Look at these results.

$3.26... 98¢ MORE than test average (Western New York, 1960-61)
$3.60... 45¢ MORE than test average (Texas, 1960-61)
$2.95... 47¢ MORE than test average (Wisconsin, 1960-61)
$3.68... 41¢ MORE than test average (Missouri, 1960-61)

Order vigorous Starcross 288 chicks from your Swift's Hatchery or dealer.

Ask us to show you the full story in Swift's new booklet—"FACTS"

The Plummer PTA held its regular meeting last Thursday evening at the Plummer school auditorium with President Mrs. Nels Vigstol presiding. Mrs. Bonnie Peterson led in group singing of Christmas carols. Mrs. Segrid Tillman gave a very interesting report on the Fall convention held in Duluth, a girls trio of Patricia Toulouse, Joyce Martell and Sandra Robidoux sang after which Mrs. Sigurd Folkedahl of TRF spoke on alcohol education. The first grade won the attendance banner and treat after which lunch was served by the 3rd grade mothers.

(If you wish literature on the proposed new dairy program write to FARMERS UNION DAIRY COMMITTEE, 2470 University Ave., St. Paul, Minnesota.)

Mr. Dairy Farmer

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE TO DECLARE YOURSELF FOR A BETTER DAIRY PROGRAM

A new program is being proposed to the 88th Congress which would:

- Assure you $4.15 per cwt. on manufacturing milk, through direct payments.
- Reduce surpluses and surplus cost.
- Regain greater markets for milk and milk products.
- Strengthen family-type dairy farms and the local dairy industry.
- Operate on a voluntary basis, with incentives rather than controls to achieve balance between supply and demand.

If you feel that the above proposal would be helpful, send your views to Senators Hubert H. Humphrey or Eugene J. McCarthy or to your member of the U. S. House of Representatives. Address your Senators, care of the Senate Office Building, Washington 25, D. C., or to your House member, care of House Office Building, Washington 25, D. C. If you prefer, fill out the form below, clip and paste to a postcard and mail at once.

TO THE CONGRESS

A better dairy program is needed. Please help us by working for the bill for $4.15 per cwt. on manufacturing milk through direct payments.

Safety Workshop Is Set at Detroit Lakes

Time and place for six traffic safety workshops scheduled for January, 1963, in Minnesota have been announced by the safety division of the Minnesota highway department.

Kicking off the 1963 traffic accident reduction activities, the workshops will enroll the state's citizens, municipal officials, traffic courts and youth groups in a "United For Action" program for the entire year.

The six area workshops will include one January 16 at Detroit Lakes high school, sponsored by the Detroit Lakes Chamber of Commerce, for the northwestern part of the state.

Each program will open with a general session at five o'clock, enabling employed persons and school people to take part in the workshops without interfering with working hours. Following a break at six for a light supper, the program will split into four workshops for discussions in the following areas:

Traffic Courts — for the judges of all courts hearing traffic, for the coordination of driver control through driver licensing.

Municipal Officials — for a workshop on traffic activity inventory reporting and the resulting appraisal of local official actions.

Citizens Groups — for the consideration of a state-wide traffic safety federation whereby various organizations may give the state a strong promotion to fight traffic accidents.

Youth Groups — to include student councils and youth-serving organizations, to coordinate activities of the state's young people.

The January "United For Action" workshops are an extension of the highway department's program of providing field services in traffic safety for local communities. A basic part of the program will cover the annual inventory of traffic safety activities coordinated by the National Safety Council for several national professional organizations related to traffic.

Another important presentation will be that of various proposals for legislative action at the 1963 session made by safety organizations, enforcement agencies, and others.

Joining in the promotion of the workshops with the local sponsors named are the Governor's Youth Traffic Safety committee, the Department of Minnesota of Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the League of Minnesota Municipalities.

State Motorists Travel Five Billion Miles on Highways

1961 Total Represents Gain of Only 1.1 Per Cent over the Preceding Year

Motorists traveled over five billion miles on the 10,172 miles of rural trunk highways in Minnesota in 1961 according to data in the recently completed booklet "Minnesota Rural Trunk Highway and Local Rural Road Travel" issued by the Minnesota highway department in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

While this volume of driving is 1.1 per cent greater than the miles traveled in 1960, the rate of increase is far below the 3.0 per cent average annual increase recorded in the previous 10 years. Such annual surveys have been made since 1936 as part of the overall studies made to determine factors which go into the determination of where and how roads should be built, as well as technical considerations dealing with construction, the booklet explains.

It was noted that on rural trunk highways in Anoka, Dakota, Hennipen and Ramsey counties, travel increased about three per cent while similar travel on all such highways in the other 83 counties increased only 0.9 per cent. The influence of the metropolitan area of the Twin Cities, as well as the areas near Duluth and Moorhead, is evident here. Factors such as climatic conditions affect travel elsewhere in the state. Decreases were recorded on most routes in the estern half of the state and in the Mesabi range area in the northeast.

Extreme variations in seasonal travel occurred in the vacation area. Climatic conditions are such in Minnesota that travel in summer in the vacation area is about 2.5 per cent heavier than in the winter. Seasonal variations in other areas are not as extreme. The Twin Cities metropolitan area has the greatest average travel per mile of road.

Mobile X-ray Unit Now Serving State

Christmas Seal Funds Provide New Equipment

Minnesota's campaign to eliminate tuberculosis from the state has taken a big step forward with the acquirement of a mobile x-ray unit by the state Christmas Seal organization.

This unit which is already on the road, servicing counties outside of the metropolitan area, is to be used to give chest x-rays to those who react to the tuberculin test, and to high risk tuberculosis groups. Through the chest x-ray, it can be determined if the TB germs in the body are doing any damage to the lungs.

"We do not plan to use the unit for mass x-raying of the public," said Josiah G. Neal, managing director of the Minnesota Tuberculosis and Health association, "but will, instead, concentrate in areas where most needed."

"To maintain this x-ray service, as well as the association's expansion into the respiratory disease field, it is important that everyone answer his Christmas Seal letter received in November."

Judge Herman Kjos, Thief River Falls, president of the Pennington County Tuberculosis and Health Advisory council. "I urge everyone in the community to contribute as generously as possible to this very important helath work."

Trinity Choirs In Concert At Church Sunday

Choirs of Trinity Lutheran church will present a program of carols and Christmas selections Sunday at 8 p. m. in the church with a candle-lighting ceremony to conclude the concert.

A cantata entitled "Everlasting Joy" and based on selected works from Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" will be presented by the senior choir under the direction of Bryant Ulseth. Mrs. Harold Peterson will direct the women's chorus and Paul Anderson will direct the chapel choir.

Colleges Can Add 57,000 Freshmen

Many Institutions Have More Room, Survey Shows

Four-year accredited colleges have space for at least 57,000 more freshmen for the January term, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine. Examples listed in the current issue of the magazine include the University of Rhode Island, 300; Drew (N. J.), 35; University of North Carolina, 50.

The annual Changing Times survey of vacancies in accredited colleges, summarized in the magazine, indicates that although freshmen enrollments are rising faster than expected, there is room for students who take the trouble to learn about the many good colleges that are not overcrowded.

"This autumn, nearly six out of every ten students who graduated from high school in June entered college," the magazine states. "No one foresaw the drastic upturn in the per cent who would want to go to college. Result: the surge of applications from now on will exceed all earlier expectations."

Even so, the 638 schools responding to the survey reported a total of 41,200 fall vacancies in 585 colleges. "Best chance of finding room was at a large urban school where students can live off campus," the survey showed. "The University of Denver, for example, could have accepted 150 more day students; Boston University, 100; and so on."

Offer Program to Aid Mental Health

Governor Gets Proposals from State Association

Eight legislative proposals designed to improve mental health in Minnesota were handed Tuesday to Governor Elmer L. Andersen and Lieutenant Governor Karl F. Rolvaag by the Minnesota Association for Mental Health.

Representing a membership of 40,000 Minnesota citizens, the association laid down a platform of legislative action for 1963 to meet what it calls "urgent, current, minimum needs."

The governor and lieutenant governor were handed the proposals simultaneously by the Association for study and it is hoped joint endorsement.

All members of the state legislature will receive the program within the next few days.

Key objectives of the program call for strengthening medical and service programs for treatment of the non-hospitalized mentally ill; maintenance of progressive standards for active treatment of our hospitalized patients, assurance of long over-due treatment of mentally ill children and support for long-term research into the prevention of mental illness.

Puppets Perform Today for Lincoln Jr. High Students

A puppet show was presented this morning in Lincoln high school for junior high school students. The National Puppet Theatre staged "The Nutcracker."

The National Puppet Theatre originally was conceived in New England, but now it has moved to Oconomowoc, Wisconsin and makes its national headquarters there. Director Len Piper spent last summer at the Seattle World's Fair with one group of the cast of wooden people, while Eric Norman was at Storybook Gardens in the Wisconsin Dells. They and the rest of the company are together now for this tour of the Upper Midwest.

The Upper Midwest tour of the National Puppet Theatre has been arranged by the University of Minnesota Program Service, a division of the Department of Concerts and Lectures.

"LET NOTHING YOU DISMAY"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

One of a million carolers. And on Christmas Eve she will bring comfort, reassurance, joy to many.

Mrs. J. is blind. She has never seen the carolers . . . but eagerly she listens for their arrival.

Mr. H. is an invalid. His nurse invites the boys and girls in and serves them cocoa. Mr. H. loves their happy smiles as well as their joyous voices.

Little Paul R. broke his leg last Saturday. That's why he's not caroling this year. But they'll be around to sing "Silent Night" under his window. That one is Paul's favorite.

When you hear the carolers on Christmas Eve, pause and consider the Love that inspires their singing. That Love was born in a Bethlehem stable one holy night centuries ago.

A cookie you can't resist

Robin Hood Flour ALL PURPOSE

. . . made the Robin Hood 'No-sift' Way!

A real 'party' cookie...chocolate flavored and flecked with nuts. Frost it with your choice of creamy rich chocolate or vanilla icing. And these Chocolate Nut Drops are so easy to make the Robin Hood 'no-sift' way!

Because Robin Hood Flour is so fine and uniform and because it is pre-sifted through micro-fine silk, you need never sift again for anything you bake. Spoon Robin Hood straight from the bag into your dry measuring cup. This new, easy way you'll not only save time and trouble, but get better baking, too!

They'll all reach for more when they taste these tempting Chocolate Nut Drops. Make them the easy Robin Hood 'no-sift' way!

ROBIN HOOD FLOUR IS A PRODUCT OF INTERNATIONAL MILLING COMPANY

CHOCOLATE NUT DROPS (A Robin Hood Pre-sifted Flour recipe)

1½ cups ROBIN HOOD All-Purpose Flour
½ tsp. soda*
¼ tsp. salt*
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup shortening
3 squares (3 oz.) chocolate, melted
2 eggs
½ tsp. vanilla
½ cup milk
1 cup chopped nuts

SPOON . . . flour (not sifted) into dry measuring cup. Level off and pour measured flour onto a square of waxed paper.
ADD . . . . . . soda and salt to flour (not sifted) and stir to blend.
CREAM . . . . sugar, shortening, chocolate, eggs and vanilla.
ADD . . . . . . blended dry ingredients, alternately with milk, to creamed mixture. Stir in nuts.
DROP . . . . . by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet.
BAKE . . . . . at 350° for 12–15 minutes.
FROST . . . . while warm with icing (below) and sprinkle with chopped nuts, if desired.
YIELD . . . . . 5–6 dozen cookies.

CHOCOLATE ICING (for 5–6 dozen cookies)

¼ cup cocoa
2 tbsp. melted butter
2 tbsp. light cream
1 tsp. vanilla
⅛ tsp. salt
1½ cups powdered sugar

BLEND . . . . cocoa and melted butter together. Add remaining ingredients and mix well.

VANILLA ICING (for 5–6 dozen cookies)

FOLLOW . . . chocolate icing recipe above, omitting cocoa and increasing powdered sugar to 2 cups.

*If you use ROBIN HOOD Pre-sifted Self-Rising Flour, omit soda and salt.

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans' benefits may be obtained by visiting or writing the VA Contact Office at the Fargo VA Center.

Q—Has there been a recent change in the priorities for VA hospitalization?

A—Yes. Under a new law, the peacetime veteran with noncompensable service-connected disability now has the same eligibility for VA medical care as the wartime veterans with noncompensable service-connected disability.

Q—I have been getting drugs from my local pharmacy under the VA hometown pharmacy program. Will I be affected by changes I hear are being made in this program?

A—No. The changes involve billing procedures under which VA pays the pharmacies. Veterans will continue to go to their local pharmacies for services under the program.

Q—What new hospitals does the Veterans Administration have under construction, and when will they be completed?

A—New, replacement hospitals being built by the VA and their schedule of completion are: Cleveland, Ohio, fall of 1963; Martinez, California, spring of 1963; Nashville, Tennessee, early 1963; Washington, D. C., fall of 1963; Wood, Wisconsin, early 1965.

With An Eye to the Future

NW Hospital Staff Views New Radiological Equipment

Staff members at Northwestern hospital were given demonstrations of equipment utilizing radioactive isotopes for diagnostic work Thursday when representatives of Curtis Nuclear Corporation and Pengelly X-Ray Company showed their wares in Thief River Falls.

While the equipment shown may not be installed at the hospital, it had the basic working characteristics of radiological equipment which will be installed in the expanded radiology department planned for the new hospital addition. Included in the building plan is about 200 square feet of area which will eventually be used for radiological diagnosis and treatment.

Dr. Earl Dagg, radiologist at the hospital, noted that there are many uses for radioactive material in hospital work. Given in infinitesimal amounts, either orally or intravenously, radioactive material can be traced and measured with special equipment to show how the body uses chemicals normally in the body.

"Radioactive isotopes are chemically the same as those chemicals normally used in the body," Dr. Dagg said, "except that they give off rays which can be traced. In modern equipment, scintillation tubes are used. These tubes contain a crystal which reacts by giving off light, and the light is amplified and converted to a chart in the equipment, allowing comparison with the normal chemical use."

Main purposes for the radioactive isotopes at Northwestern hospital would be in diagnosis and treatment of thyroid diseases and types of anemia Dr. Dagg said. Through use of isotopes, it is also possible to determine blood volume in a patient, evaluate kidney functions and detect brain tumors.

New ways of using radioactive material in diagnosis and therapy are continually being found and are of increasing value to the medical profession. Installation and use of such equipment locally would mean increased benefits to patients at the local hospital.

Radioactive material used with such equipment would be received as needed from "piles" at such places as Oak Ridge, Tenn., since they lose their potency if stored. Materials with short-term radiation are desired since the object is to get them into the body and out again in a short time.

School Board To Meet Wednesday

Adjourned meeting of the Thief River Falls board of education, which had been set for this evening at 8 p. m. and postponed due to conflicts, has been rescheduled for Wednesday, December 19, at 8 p. m. in the school cafeteria. Richard Hammel, architect under contract to the board, will again be present to meet with the board.

Time of Essence for Success of Christmas Mail

"While it's too late to talk about early mailing of Christmas gifts and cards," Thief River Falls Postmaster R. J. Dryden said today, "I am grateful for your excellent cooperation to date in the 'Mail Early for Christmas' campaign."

"Time means everything now," he continued. "Even a few hours delay in getting your cards and gifts mailed may mean disappointment to your friends and loved ones on Christmas Day."

With the Christmas mail load now hitting its peak, here are a few of the postmaster's important reminders: Don't mail money in Christmas cards or parcels. Use postal money orders or checks. Be sure to include full name and address, postal zone numbers and your return address, written or printed clearly on every card and package. Parcels of real value should be insured, and if they contain delicate gifts, mark them "Fragile", and foodstuffs subject to spoilage should be marked "Perishable".

The postmaster suggests that last minute mailers use air mail for their Christmas cards and gifts that are going out of town. There is still time for local delivery, but all Christmas cards should be sent by first class mail.

The postmaster said, "Now that we are coming to the end of the big rush, let's all keep up the good work so that we can have every mail bag empty and every post office employee relaxing at home on Christmas Eve."

Traffic Mishaps Noted in City

More Than $700 Damage Results To Five Cars

Three traffic mishaps were investigated by the Thief River Falls police department during the past several days with two of the drivers being tagged for violations and the third case under investigation.

At 4:17 p. m. December 12, a car driven by Dennis A. Hanson, city, was traveling west on James street when it collided with a car driven north on St. Paul avenue by Theodore Booth. Damage totaled more than $200 to the Hanson car and more than $100 to the Booth vehicle with Booth charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

At about 8:50 p. m. Saturday, a car driven by Ray Anderson of Karlstad was stopped facing west on First street while waiting for traffic to clear before turning left on St. Paul avenue. One vehicle passed him on the right before the car was struck from the rear by a car driven by James Ellingson, city. About $80 damage was done to the Anderson car and $100 to the Ellingson vehicle with the case under investigation.

At about 2 p. m. Sunday a car driven east on First street by Bennie Borreson, Strathcona, struck the left side of the First street bridge and sustained about $200 in damage. The driver was cited for driving while under the influence of liquor and having an open bottle of liquor in the car.

Social Security Man Here Tuesday

A representative of the Grand Forks district office of the Social Security administration will be in Thief River Falls at the city Auditorium Tuesday, December 18 at 10 a. m. Individuals who have questions regarding social security or who wish to file claims may contact him on that date.

Monday, Dec. 24 Times Issue to Be Printed Saturday

To make possible the distribution of next Monday's issue of the Times by mail in advance of the Christmas holiday, the December 24 issue of the Times will be printed Saturday afternoon December 22. Ballot Recount In Governor Race To Be Held Here

Recounting of ballots in Pennington and Clearwater counties will begin Wednesday as the procedure to be followed in checking balloting on Minnesota's governor race gets underway. Representatives of GOP and DFL parties met Thursday to agree on a third member to serve on the recount panel.

Marshall Hankerson, Thief River Falls superintendent of schools, was agreed upon as the third member of the panel which is also reported to include Cy Carpenter of Thief River Falls, DFL, and Wayne Cease, Bagley, GOP. Selected as an alternate was Mrs. R. J. Dryden of Thief River Falls. The group will recount ballots in both Pennington and Clearwater counties.

Ballots will be counted on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week and on December 26, 27 and 28 if it becomes necessary to use additional time to complete the count.

Drotts Selected Regional Heart Fund Chairman

Campaign In February To Seek $500,000 from Residents of Minnesota

David A. Drotts, of Thief River Falls, has been named regional chairman of the 1962 Heart Fund Drive. Appointment was announced by Robert D. Johnson, state Heart Fund vice-chairman, for the drive, which will be conducted next February with a statewide goal of $500,000.

As regional chairman, Drotts will appoint and direct the activities of nine county chairmen to serve Mahnomen, Norman, Clearwater, Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau counties. Funds raised will enable the Minnesota Heart association to accelerate its research, educational and community service programs to combat Minnesota's number one killer — heart disease!

"The Heart Fund seeks voluntary contributions only once a year in February," Drotts declared, "and many strides in modern day heart research have been made possible through public support of our annual Independent Heart Fund campaign.

"The recent development of "open heart surgery", he stressed, "has been instrumental in saving countless lives, yet numerous fields of heart disease remain unexplored and need extensive research support."

Heart Fund dollars are currently financing more than $163,000 in Minnesota research projects. Fifty-eight heart scientists in eight Minnesota institutions are sharing in grants allocated from the 1962 Heart Fund drive.

A self employed insurance and real estate man, Drotts is a member of the Chamber of Commerce Mutual Insurance Association, Gideons International and attends the Covenant church.

He previously served the Heart Fund as Pennington county chairman, is married and the father of five children.

Murder Trial Move Toward Defense Plea

Questioning by the prosecution was expected to be completed by noon today in the second degree murder trial of Paul Wangberg, Thief River Falls, who is charged with the fatal shooting of Police Sgt. Donald Myers February 17 north of Thief River Falls in Marshall county. The trial is being held at district court in Warren with Hon. Lyman Brink presiding.

In his opening statement, County Attorney Warren Saetre stated that the prosecution planned to show the shooting was "deliberate, with design, and without excuse or justification".

Early testimony involved the facts leading up to the shooting which it is charged occurred when police officers chased the Wangberg youth by car north of the city on highway 32. Rev. R. A. Wangberg, the defendant's father, was the first to testify and related incidents at the Wangberg home prior to the pastor's calling police and the ensuing chase.

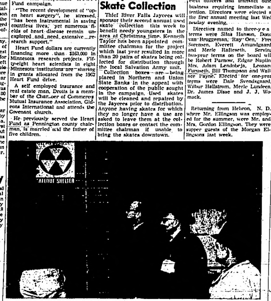
Others testifying were Bennie Miramontes, Thief River Falls police officer with Sgt. Myers when the shooting occurred; Calvin Peterson, Hackensack, George Glum and another resident of Plummer, who arrived on the scene shortly after the shooting; Dr. R. G. Anderson and Dr. E. O. Thorsgard, Northwestern hospital medical staff member and Pennington county coroner, respectively; Elton Cummings, TRF police chief; Charles Richards, Pennington county sheriff; and Oscar Erickson, Marshall county sheriff.

Representing the defense are attorney H. O. Chommie and C. L. Charlson of Thief River Falls. Jurors chosen for the case include the following: Gertrude Olson, Stephen; Lawrence Bjoraness, Newfolden; Roy Sorenson, Grygla; Fred Gehrls, Warren; Mrs. Henfred Bernhardson, Strandquist; Harvey Hanson, Strathcona; Elmer Rud, Stephen; Mrs. Earl Silberg, Strandquist; Harold Hope, Stephen; Helmer Wold, Middle River; and Clarence Hill, Alvarado. Alternates are Mrs. Theodore Bergman of Alvarado and Arvid Carlson of Stephen.

Jaycees Again To Sponsor Used Skate Collection

Thief River Falls Jaycees will sponsor their second annual used skate collection this week to benefit needy youngsters in the area at Christmas time. Kenneth Taylor has been appointed committee chairman for the project which last year resulted in more than 20 pairs of skates being collected for distribution through the local Salvation Army unit.

Collection boxes are being placed in Northern and Union State Banks in the appeal with cooperation of the public sought in the campaign. Used skates will be cleaned and repaired by the Jaycees prior to distribution. Anyone having skates for which they no longer have a use are asked to leave them at the collection boxes or contact the committee chairman if unable to bring the skates downtown.



SIGNS designating 12 Thief River Falls buildings as public fallout shelters under the Civil Defense program were erected in this city late last week. In the above photo, Kendall Gustafson (right), Pennington county civil defense director, and Ellsworth Jorgenson (second from right), deputy director, watch as two representatives of the U.S. Corps of Engineers place a sign on the Gamble-Robinson building just east of the Soo Line depot. Shelters will soon be stocked with supplies in quantity great enough to sustain the number of people the shelters will accommodate.

Specialty Crop Ideas Given Area Farmers

BAGGING operations began Thursday at the Valley Feed & Supply company plant in Thief River Falls. Operating as a branch plant of the Farmers Grain & Milling company of Wellington, Ohio, the plant packages a mixture of millet, sunflower and other seeds into wild bird food. Mrs. Orlin Ness is shown operating the bagging equipment while Corrine Nabben sews the sacks at right. A conveyor belt moves the sacks from the filling to the sewing and packing operation.

Local Processing Plant To Expand Contract acreage

Production of new crops in Pennintongton county and surrounding area was aired at a sepoial meeting of interested farmers held Friday afternoon at the courthouse in Thief River Falls. More than 60 farmers packed the basement meeting room to hear the discussion led by Paul Stelmaschuk, Pennington county agricultural agent, in regard to sunflowers, millet, fescue grass and red clover seed.

Farmers Grain and Milling company of Thief River Falls will offer contracts for sunflower and millet production in the area in 1963. Harlan Knutson, new manager of the firm, stated that the company will purchase larger supplies of these crops in 1963 than was contracted in 1962. George Pilitt, president of the company, has stated that 2,000 acres of millet and 3,000 acres of sunflowers will be contracted for next year and contracts will be offered to farmers later this winter.

In spite of adverse weather last year, sunflowers appear to offer an opportunity as a farm crop in the area. They need to be planted between May 15 to May 25, Stelmaschuk told those attending. The rate of seeding is about six pounds per acre for the Arrowhead and eight pounds for the Mennonite variety. Fertilization of this crop is necessary, especially with phosphate and in many cases with a little nitrogen and some potash. Sunflowers cannot stand "wet feet" in the spring, so well drained fields should be selected in planting the crop. Once the crop gets going, it develops a good root system and does well on most soils. Sunflower yeilds run from 800 to 1800 pounds per acre.

Millet seeding is done at the rate of 30 to 40 pounds per acre. This crop is usually seeded June 1 to June 15. It offers a real good opportunity to control the weeds which got away from farmers in 1962. By waiting for weeds to germinate in the soil and then giving the field an extra cultivation in the spring, farmers can help reduce the weed problem. The biggest problem with the crop is drying it in the fall.

Other Possible Crops

Another possible crop for the area is tame mustard seed production, Stelmaschuk stated. A Montana firm is expanding production of this crop which has sold for five and one-half cents per pound. The seed per acre has been only 70 cents. Yields of this crop vary from 500 to as high as 2,000 pounds. Farmers would have to contact the business firm buying mustard before any planting is made since no open market exists for this crop.

Fescue grass, used in lawn mixtures, was also discussed at the meeting. This is planted at about six pounds per acre. A perennial, it would be harvested for several years like blue grass without reseeding. Average yields where the grass has been produced are about 300 lbs. per acre. A market for this grass would be available to farmers who wish to produce it.

Lakland, Penscott and Red Clover seed production is also possible in the area as is Climax timothy. All these specialty crops should bes carefully considered by farmers. More information on all of them may be secured from the county agent's office.

New Fair Group To Name Officers At Meeting Today

New directors of the Pennington County Fair association, Inc., are meeting this afternoon at the courthouse in Thief River Falls to elect officers and transact other business requiring immediate attention. Directors were elected at the first annual meeting last Wednesday evening.

Directors named to three-year terms were Silas Hanson, Donovan Bruggeman, Ray Oen, Fred Sorensen, Everett Amundgaard, and Merle Rafteseth. Serving two-year terms on the board will be Robert Parnow, Edgar Naplin, Mrs. Adam Lendobeja, Leonard Furuseth, Bill Thompson and Wallace Payne. Elected for one-year terms were Dale Svendsgaard, Wilbur Hallstrom, Merle Lundeen, Dr. James Disse and J. J. Womack.

Returning from Hebron, N. D. where Mr. Ellingson was employed for the summer, were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ellingson. They were supper guests of the Morgan Ellingsons last week.

Show No Interest In Land Sales

No interest was shown in the Pennington county auditor's sale of tax forfeited lands on Friday, according to Auditor C. W. Rodekuhr. Lands offered were in Norden, Reiner, Sanders, Star and North townships, villages of St. Hilaire and Goodridge and Hemmingson's, Rafteseth, Porter's and Fairfax additions to Thief River Falls. No interested buyers attended the sale.

Visiting briefly in the city last weekend with friends were former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Lamp of Minneapolis.

NFO Will Hold Meeting Dec. 20

Area farmers interested in hearing an explanation of the National Farm Organization are invited to attend a meeting to be held Thursday, December 20, at 8 p. m. in the American Legion club rooms. Ed Pudwell and Robert Gundy of Hibbing will be the speakers at the session.

Damaged in Blaze

The fire department was called Saturday noon to Fred Forsberg & Sons plant on Conley av. S., where a blaze developed in a partition of the welding room, originating possibly from sparks of a welding torch. A moderate amount of damage resulted, according to Fire Chief Langevin.

Former Area Girl Married Recently In Minneapolis

Marian Ardell Tvelten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Tvelten of Grand Marais, formerly of Hickory township, exchanged vows with Lawrence H. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Jones of Minneapolis recently in the latter city. Rev. Carl Nelson, pastor of Lebanon Lutheran church, officiated.

The bride chose white satin brocade for her bridal gown. She wore a shoulder-length veil which was caught by a crown. Her bouquet was a single white orchid in a setting of stephanotis.

Darlene Tvelten was her sister's maid of honor. She was gowned in pale blue satin brocade and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Attending the groom was Marvin Rood.

A wedding buffet supper was served at the G. A. Gunderson residence in Anoka following the ceremony. Approximately 90 friends and relatives were in attendance. The bride's parents were hosts to the reception.

The couple honeymooned on the West Coast. They are at home at 2417 Bloomington Avenue S., Minneapolis.

RECENTLY married in Minneapolis were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Jones (the former Marian Ardell Tvelten). Mr. Jones is an electronics technician with Ecklen Radio Co., Minneapolis, while Mrs. Jones is a clerk at the Federal Reserve Bank of that city.

BPW To Have Costume Party at L. Collins'

The Business and Professional Women's club will have a costume Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Lowell Collins on Tuesday evening, December 18, commencing with a pot-luck holiday supper at 6:30. Miss Frances Shanahan is in charge of entertainment. Each member will contribute one item of food for the supper; in lieu of the customary gift exchange, the members decided to bring 50 cents each, the money to be diverted to some charitable cause.

Rebekahs, Odd Fellows To Have Party Dec. 18

200 at Hospital Christmas Party Saturday Night

Approximately 200 members of the Northwestern hospital professional staff, board members, employees and guests attended the annual Christmas party held Saturday evening at the American Legion club rooms in Thief River Falls. Lester Vigness, chief engineer at the hospital, served as master of ceremonies for the evening.

Opening remarks were given by James Winjum Sr., board president, and Dr. H. P. Wendt, chief of staff. Included in the program was a vocal quartet comprised of Lutheran Deaconess student nurses, a violin solo by Miss Martha Reeve, accordion solo by Paul Furuseth, Scandinavian dialogue by Marvin Lundin and impressions by Orvis Olen. Kelly's Combo played for dancing following the program.

Employees of S & L Enjoy Holiday Party

S and L Store employees, and their husbands or wives, were guests at a Christmas party sponsored by the store management. The affair, a smorgasbord style dinner party, was held in the Rex Cafe on Tuesday, December 11, with 48 in attendance.

Following dinner, the guests enjoyed a social evening and dancing. Manager Clarence Waldera was presented with a gift, and Mrs. Waldera received the Christmas centerpiece with which the serving table was decorated.

Goddards Play Hosts To Penney Employees

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Goddard were hosts at a Christmas dinner party for the employees of the J. C. Penney store at Nuper's Fireside room on Tuesday evening, December 11. Dinner for the 24 guests present was prepared by Mrs. Goddard. The serving table was made festive with a Christmas centerpiece flanked by tapers.

The hostess was presented with a corsage by the employees, and her husband also received a gift from the guests.

Previously, the Penney company paid a Christmas bonus to the store personnel.

NW Bell Co. Staff Honors Mrs. M. Collins

A birthday party to honor the chief operator at Northwestern Bell Telephone, Mrs. Lowell Collins, was held in the lounge there on Friday afternoon, December 14. During the course of the afternoon about 20 of the girl employees enjoyed a birthday cake which was decorated by Mrs. Roger Tunberg, in a pink and white floral motif. Also served were Christmas cookies and coffee.

Mrs. Collins was presented with a gift from the entire group.

Newcomers Club Holds Its Yuletide Party

The annual Christmas party of the Newcomers Club was held Wednesday evening, December 12, in the courthouse meeting room. Each member brought a half dozen cookies which were served with coffee later in the evening. There were games, and the exchanging of dollar gifts.

Three new ladies of the community were in attendance at the party. Anyone else interested in learning about the club is invited to call Mrs. Hagen, MU1-1645 for information.

DeCor Club Has Party For The Elderly

The DeCor Club, meeting at the Mauritz Scholin home on December 10, enjoyed its annual holiday party. Following a short business meeting, the ladies exchanged gifts and spent a social evening. Lunch was served by the hostess.

The evening climaxed a busy day of activity for the club; that afternoon, they served lunch to the residents of the Oakland Park nursing home, and also viewed the slides shown to her interested audience of elderly folks by Mrs. Elmer Benson, in which were featured pictures of their European trip of last summer.

Members of the club who were present at the party were Mmes. T. Aasland, John Anderson, Ed Leyden, S. E. Sinding, J. Arthur Johnson, E. Thorsgard, Joe Dostal, Jr., Betsy Legvold, and the hostess.

Priscilla M. Johnson of St. Hilaire Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Axel T. Johnson of St. Hilaire, Minnesota, announce the engagement of their daughter, Priscilla Mae to David A. Jackson of Moorhead. Mr. Jackson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jackson of Starbuck, Minnesota.

Miss Johnson is a graduate of Lincoln High School and is a senior at Moorhead State College. Mr. Jackson is a graduate of Starbuck High School and also attends Moorhead State College.

No wedding date has been set.

Vaarblomsten Lodge To Have Yule Party

A Christmas party for members of the Vaarblomsten Lodge will be held at 7 p. m. on Thursday, December 20 at the Odd Fellows hall. A pot-luck supper and the exchange of 50-cent gifts are part of the entertainment planned for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lager and Mr. and Mrs. Nels Flom left for California on Sunday. They plan to spend the holiday season there, the Lagers at the home of their daughter Jeanette and family at Modesto, and the Floms at the home of their son Hewitt and family at Monterey.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

MRS. HARWOOD OLSEN

In deference to the large segment of our area population who lay claim to being Norske or Svenska, your German editor (with the Norwegian name) features today a viand traditional at Christmas among many Scandinavians of her acquaintance, something called sweet soup. And being of the frame of mind to try national dishes of any nationality, I found this one quite delicious, although the use of the name "soup" puzzles me a little.

SWEET SOUP

½ cup minute tapioca (or use regular tapioca, soaked in water over night)

2⅓ cups water	½ cup seedless raisins
½ teaspoon salt	1 cup pitted prunes
1 tablespoon vinegar	1 cup apples, chopped
1 stick cinnamon	⅓ cup dried apricots
1 cup sugar	½ lemon
1 cup currants	½ orange

Any diced dried fruit may be added or substituted—and Maraschino cherries, if desired.

2 cups grape juice (to be added last).

Add tapioca to the boiling water, stirring constantly. Add the other ingredients (simmering until fruit is tender). Before serving; add the grape juice. If you are serving this hot, re-heat after adding the grape juice.

For a blazing finish to a holiday meal, top each serving with a sugar lump which has been dipped in lemon extract, and light it as each guest is served. Or, this soup can be a first course to a meal, served with a dainty roll of buttered lefse. It can also be served cold, as a dessert.

Mrs. Olsen, who gave us this recipe, is active in PTA and in church work, serving presently as a church circle president at Trinity Lutheran Church, Sunday school secretary and awards secretary on the parish board of education.

Family interests (there are three in this family, Mr. and Mrs. Olsen, and a teenage daughter, Ellerine) center mostly around reading, and around sports—basketball and football especially. Mrs. Olsen's brothers (her family name is Stadum) were former basketball players, on State teams in 1932 and 1938, so the interest in basketball is a family tradition.

Mr. Olsen is an electrician, and is self-employed.

Miss Margo Reopelle, a student at Bemidji college, is spending the holiday vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reopelle.

Mrs. Ray Solney and Mrs. Ruby Mortenson were visitors at Hallock and Kennedy on Wednesday. They spent the day with Mrs. Mortenson's mother and with friends of Mrs. Solney.

N.W. School Students Recipients of Awards

At the annual awards assembly for the fall term at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, on December 11, awards were presented to students who had participated in football and cross-country. Scholarship certificates also were presented to students who had been on the school's Honor Roll for two, four, or six consecutive semesters.

Captains elected, by their team members, for the 1963-64 football and cross-country teams were announced. Y. James Swenson of Moorhead was elected captain of the football team and Dennis Stahn of Donnelly was elected captain of the cross-country team. James Swenson was elected by his team mates as the most valuable player of the Northwest School football team the past season. He received a trophy award.

Athletic Letter "A" or chevrons for football were awarded as follows: Letter "A" — Steven Beyer, Red Lake Falls; Robert Bergeron, Argyle; Robert Bye, Euclid; Selvin Erickson, Jr., Badger; Eldred Evanson, Drayton, N. Dak.; Robert Honek, East Grand Forks; Conrad Larson, Morris; Drew Larson and Wayne Odegaard, rural Crookston; Donald Lubinski, Euclid; Ardus Nelson, Emerado, N. Dak.; Paul Overgaard and Stanley Overgaard of Dalton; Larry Paupst, Emerado, N. Dak.; Robert and Richard Peck, Euclid; Ronald Philipp, Thief River Falls; Jonathan Saxman, Georgetown; Charles Steer, Euclid; Y. James Swenson; and Neil Wetzel, Waterville.

Chevron awards — Dennis Diamond, Humboldt; Timothy Eisenhardt, Kelso, N. Dak.; Wesley Pake, Moorhead; William Saxman, Georgetown; and Allan Stromstad, Lockhart. William Saxman and Allan Stromstad also received captain's stars.

Receiving the cross-country awards were: Letter "A" — Richard Ferguson, Drayton, N. Dak., and Thomas Odegaard, Hickson, N. Dak.; Chevrons — Danny and Dennis Stahn, Donnelly; Gary M. Pedersen, Grandin, N. Dak.; Vern Cleveland, Gardner, N. Dak.; and Captain's Star — Danny Stahn.

None of the students who were presented scholarship certificates are from this locality.

Presiding at the awards assembly was Superintendent B. E. Youngquist. The awards were presented by H. H. Lysaker, football coach; B. C. Beresford, cross-country coach; and E. N. Reiersgord, principal.

Infant Daughter Of R. Kezars Dies; Rites Dec. 12th

Carrie Ann Kezar, 4-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Kezar of Middle River, died unexpectedly on Monday morning, December 10, at Northwestern hospital in this city.

Funeral services were conducted on Wednesday afternoon, December 12, in the First Lutheran church at Middle River, with Rev. James Hanson officiating. Arrangements were by Collins Funeral Home of Middle River.

The child was born on August 11, 1962, at Thief River Falls.

She is survived by her parents, a sister Rhonda, and a brother, Jeffry, both at home; by her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Odin Avren, her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kezar, and her maternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Wettestad, all of Middle River.

Rites Conducted At Argyle For Ernest Poolman

Funeral services were held on Friday, December 14 at the Community Presbyterian Church at Argyle for Ernest E. Poolman, Sr. Rev. Donald Reynen officiated, and interment was in the Woodlawn cemetery at Argyle. In charge of arrangements was the Collins Funeral Home of Middle River.

Mr. Poolman's health had been failing for several months, and he passed away at the Warren hospital on Tuesday morning, December 11 at the age of 89 years.

A native of England, he was born there on August 27, 1873, and came to America in 1894. He lived first at New Lenox, Ill., and in 1903 married Miss Lucy Gill at Joliet, Ill. They moved to Marshall county in 1919 and settled on a farm near Argyle. Mrs. Poolman died in 1940 and four years later her husband retired from farming, but continued living in Argyle.

He is survived by two sons, Ernest Jr. of Warren, and Francis, of this city; by seven daughters, Mrs. Ivan (Olive) Houfbourg, East Grand Forks, Mrs. Richard (Grace) Kilfoyl, Fargo, N. D., Mrs. May LaFond, Mrs. Bertel (Florence) Hjelle, Mrs. Louis (Ila) Deschene, Mrs. LeRoy (Inez) Johnson, Argyle, and Mrs. Roy (Evelyn) Edgar of Warren.

Also surviving are 32 grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren, five sisters, and one brother. He was preceded in death by his wife, two children in their infancy and a son Harry, in 1957.

Willie Larson of Middle River Dies; Services Dec. 21

Funeral services for Willie Larson, who died suddenly on Saturday night, December 15, at Middle River, will be held on Friday, December 21 at 2 p.m. at Emmanuel Lutheran Church of Ringbo, northeast of Holt. Rev. Richard Snipstead will conduct the rites. Collins Funeral Home of Middle River is in charge of arrangements.

The Thursday edition of the Times will carry a complete obituary.

Rites Saturday at Middle River for Mrs. McKeever

Mrs. Mildred McKeever, 55, a Middle River resident for most of her life, died at the Methodist hospital in Rochester on Tuesday evening, December 11. She had been in poor health for some time.

Final rites were held on Saturday afternoon, December 15, at the First Lutheran church in Middle River. Rev. James Hanson conducted the services, and burial was in the church cemetery, with Collins Funeral Home of Middle River in charge.

Mildred Ellefsen was born in Middle River on May 13, 1907, attending school and growing to womanhood there. In 1929, she married Glen McKeever in Thompson, N. D., at which place they made their home until moving to Middle River in 1940. Mr. McKeever died in 1954.

Survivors include three sons, Sgt. Ralph McKeever, stationed with the US Army at Wildeflecken, Germany; Noel and Glendon, both of Middle River; two daughters Mrs. James (Betty) Hjelle, Newfolden, and Miss Elaine McKeever, of Middle River. Also surviving are 11 grand-children, a brother, and a sister.

She was preceded in death by her husband, her parents, and one brother.

Goodridge Lions Note Anniversary After First Year

Goodridge Lions club held its first anniversary dinner and ladies night Wednesday evening at the home economics room of the Goodridge school. Wallace Payne, club president, served as master of ceremonies for the evening.

James Parkins, Thief River Falls, Lions International councilor, explained the operation of the Lions Minnesota Eye Bank and presented one-year perfect attendance certificates to Wallace Payne, Dr. David Brown and Ernest Swanson. Also speaking at the program was Armond Sannes of McIntosh.

Entertainment included numbers by a vocal trio composed of Harold Janneck, Larry Zenner and Mike Lehre. The dinner was served by the St. Anne's Ladies Aid. Several guests were in attendance from Thief River Falls and McIntosh.

PACKING the 10-pound bags into 50-pound bales is Mrs. Harlan Knutson. Valley Feed & Supply purchased from the plant from Farmers Co-op Grain & Seed association this spring and contracted for millet and sunflower acreage in the local area. Bad weather conditions restricted the crops but processing is going ahead with grain shipped in from other areas. It is expected that the first carload of locally-produced wild bird food will leave Thief River Falls Tuesday.

Goodridge Yule Program Slated for December 19

Groups at Goodridge high school will combine to present a Christmas program on Wednesday, December 19, at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium. Preceding the program will be a dinner featuring lutefisk, lefse and Swedish meatballs with serving to begin at 5:30 p. m. and continue until all have been served.

Included in the program will be selections by the high school band and chorus under the direction of A. M. Lehrer and the grade school chorus under the direction of Mrs. Donald Bernhardson. A new feature of the program this year will be a one-act play, "Christmas Recaptured", presented by the high school student council and directed by J. O. Muldoon.

Everyone is invited to attend both the dinner and Christmas program.

St. Bernards Has Christmas Event

"The Littlest Angel" Is Presented on Sunday

The band of "angels" in long white robes filed gingerly onto the improvised stage in the basement of St. Bernard's school Sunday afternoon and the school's annual Christmas program was underway. The production, called, "The Littlest Angel", was staged among "the clouds of heaven and in the hills of Bethlehem," with the demanding leading role capably handled by Mary Ellen Grundhaus, first-grader.

Tinsel halos glittered and small faces glowed, while the decorum, after each angel had first established to his or her satisfaction the whereabouts of his parents in the crowd, was most in keeping with the solemnity of the occasion.

The angel chorus achieved two-part harmony in the rendition of "Silent Night", "Ye Faithful With Gladness," and "The Carol of the Drum," accompanied at the piano by Misses Erin Carlson and Katherine Wengler.

Before the packed house, the 5th and 6th graders also sang several numbers. They were accompanied on the piano by Thomas Hunt.

Longren Elected Noble Grand of I.O.O.F. Lodge

Alfred Longren was elected Noble Grand of the Young Pine Lodge of the International Order of Odd Fellows at the semi-annual election held recently. Jorgen Austad was elected vice grand and George G. Swanson and Harry R. Lund were reelected financial secretary and trustee respectively.

Joint installation of elective and appointive officers will be held in January, according to Millard A. Nelson, recording secretary. Committees of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are now working on several year-end activities.

Golf Club Board Discusses Plans At First Meeting

First board meeting for the Thief River Golf club was held Saturday with president Robert Flynn presiding. Preliminary plans for a White Elephant sale to be held in February were discussed and chairmen of standing committees for the coming year were appointed.

Committee chairmen named include Lloyd Bennes, greens; Lowell Swenson, clubhouse; Elton Cummings, membership; James Solsten, league; E. B. Benson, rules; Jarvis Prichard, social; Robert Bredeson, tournament; and Roger Tunberg, public relations.

Flynn and Prichard will serve as co-chairmen for the White Elephant sale with details to be announced later. Solsten serves as vice president of the club with J. J. Womack as secretary.

Mr. Arnt M. Aune, Director
Vocational Education
Area Vocational-Technical School
Thief River Falls, Minnesota

Dear Arnt:

This letter is to thank you for the pleasant day I spent with you and your staff last Tuesday. I received a great deal of benefit from our discussion. I was sorry I couldn't see Superintendent Hankerson after the meeting was over but I know how busy schools are at this time of year and I appreciated seeing him a few moments before the meeting.

In discussing the different facilities you have provided for four of your vocational classes, I found myself feeling concerned about the future of the area vocational program. I realize that we frequently find it necessary to operate in rented facilities and I am fully aware that many of our schools started in this manner. In each instance, however, we could foresee an eventual improvement in the future. I'm wondering if this is the case in Thief River Falls. I suspect that these rented facilities are as good as can be expected under the conditions, although I would suggest that the auto body shop leaves a great deal to be desired.

My reason for questioning this is that I'm wondering if you see any improvement facility wise in the future. If the area vocational program is to be dispossessed because we approve of rental space thereby freeing this space for other purposes, we are in effect, subsidizing other programs through the use of vocational funds. A portion of the cost of the capital outlay of these facilities have already been charged against the non-resident students attending Thief River Falls. I would be reluctant to see vocational education funds used to provide buildings which, when paid for, revert to general education programs and a new building program undertaken. In the case of the rental facilities, vocational funds are, in effect, paying a goodly portion of the taxes which in turn go into the general school fund. This is particularly true in schools having a large non-resident enrollment.

Besides the question of the best use of vocational funds there is also a question of adequate supervision when courses in the vocational program are scattered over the city. I mention this and new demands which might be forthcoming under new federal legislation. Under the conditions now present I would find it difficult to advise increasing your present enrollment or adding any new occupational training areas.

Perhaps my attitude on these matters is unjustified, but I know Minnesota has as good a vocational aid legislation as exists in the entire country and I would hope we could retain our position. I think this also applies to the actual training our preparatory students are getting. Your school has helped build a fine reputation for the program in the state as well as Thief River Falls specifically and we would all like to see this fine contribution continued.

Cordially,
Robert P. Van Tries
Assistant Director
Vocation Education

Mr. M. R. Hankerson, Superintendent
Thief River Falls Public Schools
Thief River Falls, Minnesota

Dear Mr. Hankerson:

I have received a copy of Robert Van Tries' letter to Arnt Aune regarding your area vocational-technical school and, frankly, I am very much disturbed. No longer can I point with pride to the accomplishments at Thief River Falls with regard to their area school.

We received a letter from the parent of a student who attended your auto body training class and while he did not condemn the instruction or the school, he did speak very disparagingly about the facilities. I expect we are going to get more letters like this and, ultimately, this is going to have an effect on your enrollment.

When Thief River Falls first started their school they rented two buildings with an opening between and tried to carry on auto mechanics in this facility. For a number of years the Thief River Falls program was stationary and seemed to make no progress. The community came up with a new addition to the high school for the area vocational school students and immediately the school blossomed out. Now you are going the other direction and I believe it will be disastrous. Other area schools are coming into being and we will have 15 in operation by September 1963. While we will permit a school to start in rented quarters they must come up with a long term plan that will, in time, produce a unit with sufficient facilities in one place. I think students from outside of Thief River Falls are going to gravitate towards these newer schools if they can get in them. This, also, will affect your future enrollment and you may find it necessary to close down some of your courses. Certainly, the best students who can get in other schools will bypass Thief River Falls and the result there could be that you would have a lower level of students with resulting unsatisfactory performance and decreased placement.

Good students, good training and good placement go hand in hand. Removing any one of the three will eventually destroy your program. It is time to take stock and plan action that will restore good facilities for the area vocational-technical school. If this cannot be done I fear for the future of the program in Thief River Falls.

Sincerely yours,
S. K. Wick, State Director
Vocational Education

Two Break-ins Are Checked by Police Friday

Two break-ins were reported to Thief River Falls police late last week and are now under investigation by the department. Larceny of a billfold was also solved by the department last week.

Break-ins occurred Friday at Inga's Cafe and the Land O'Lakes turkey plant. Entry at Inga's Cafe was made through a window early Friday morning and the cash register was opened and found empty by the would-be thief. At the Land O'Lakes plant, a window pane was broken in a door to gain entrance and about two dollars in coffee kitty money was taken.

Investigation of a case involving the larceny of a billfold from a woman store owner in the city was solved when two juvenile girls were questioned and admitted the theft. The billfold was emptied of money and discarded at another business place.

Ada Defeated by Prowlers 88-52

Coach Jack Junker's Prowlers continued to exhibit remarkable marksmanship from the field on Saturday night as, in a game played on the Ada court, the locals scored a convincing 88 to 52 win over the Ada Vikings, the defending Region Eight champions.

On Saturday, Dec. 22, the Prowlers will make journey into the Iron Range for a game against the Virginia high school squad. In a game between the two teams, played here last season, Virginia marked up a 40 to 44 victory.

In Saturday night's impressive win over coach Bill Brady's Region Eight Ada Vikings, the Prowlers revealed explosive scoring potential. In the first period, during which the Prowlers gained a 27 to 17 lead, Paul Klungness hit on field goals. In the second period, which found the locals moving into a 54 to 32 half-time lead, the Prowlers had Rick Jensen scoring five field goals and John Aune hitting on four field goals.

And after a comparatively "tame" third period, with the Prowlers outpointing the Vikings, 12 to 11, the blue-and-gold erupted for 22 points in the fourth period, with Bob Olson looping in five field goals.

Aune, who turned in a fine defensive performance in holding Ada's All-State tournament choice, Herb Haaz, to 14 points, was the game's high scorer with 24 points, getting 11 field goals and a pair of free throws. The Prowler captain was forced from the game late in the fourth period when, on drive in to the basket for a lay-up shot, he was tumbled to the floor and turned an ankle.

He was taken out of the game, and a cold compress was applied to the ankle. It is reported that the ankle was badly sprained, and that it is doubtful if Aune will be able to play in the Prowlers vs. Virginia game on Saturday night.

Greenbush Defeats Prowler Wrestlers

Coach Al Shaff's varsity Prowler wrestling squad, after marking up three successive wins, had their winning skein broken on Wednesday night when, in a match held at Greenbush, they dropped a 27 to 21 decision to a veteran Greenbush squad.

The Prowler wrestlers will make a home appearance this evening, Monday, when they meet the Crookston Aggies A and B squads on the Lincoln high school gymnasium mat. The first match in the 'B' squad preliminary is slated for 6:30 p. m.

In the match at Greenbush on Wednesday, the Tigers' Lawrence Gonshorowski, pinning Rich Brown in the 133-lb. class, and Vincent Ames, pinning the Prowler's Tom Larson in the 138-lb. class, paced the veteran Greenbush squad in their win over an injury-riddled Prowler squad.

For the Prowlers, Roy Delorme, in the 103-lb. class, and Roger Wilson in the 112-lb. class, scored pin victories, gaining falls over Omdahl and Klementson, respectively.

Following the Aggies' matches here on Monday evening, the Prowler varsity will travel to Mahnomen on Thursday evening for a match against the well-rated Indians. The match is scheduled for 2:00 p. m.

Local 'B' Quintet Edges Crookston

Prowlers Win 43 to 39 in Overtime Friday

A free throw and field goal by Rich Nelson and a free throw by Dave Gustafson accounted for the four points that the Prowler 'B' squad scored in the three-minute overtime period to defeat the Crookston 'B' squad, 43 to 39, in a preliminary game played here Friday night.

Coach Ron Thompson's Crookston 'B' squad, after trailing by a 19 to 13 score at the intermission, rallied in the second half to take the lead, and with but seconds of play remaining in the game, held a 39 to 37 lead, Gustafson drove in to score a lay-up shot into the east basket to tie the game at 39-all and force the overtime period.

Nelson, with 24 points, and Gustafson, with 12 points, led the scoring for coach Joe Mrkonich's squad. Dave Peterson with 13 points and Roger Schmidt with 12 points paced the Pirate 'B' team scorers.

Prowlers Score 75-47 Victory at Crookston

Utilizing a zone press to good effect, and exhibiting sharp marksmanship from the field, the basketball Prowlers, for a second game in succession rolled up a 70-plus point total as they defeated the Crookston Pirates, 75 to 47, in a district conference game played here Friday night.

The Prowlers will move into the Iron Range next week meeting the Virginia cagers at Virginia on Saturday night, Dec. 22. On Saturday, Jan. 5, coach Lowell Anderson will bring his Park Rapids team here for a game against the Prowlers.

In Friday night's tilt, the Prowlers, with John Aune hitting on three field goals and Tom Lindberg looping in a pair, moved into a 16 to 4 first period lead. In this first period the Prowlers limited the Pirates to a field goal, by Mike Dille, and a pair of free throws, by Roger Parkin and Steve Erie.

In the second period, with Lindberg tallying five points, Aune and Paul Klungness getting four points apiece, the locals outpointed the every-trying Pirates, 20 to 15, to hold a 36 to 19 lead at the intermission.

The Pirates made a brief flurry in the opening minutes of the second half, with Parkin and Erie hitting on field goals. Klungness scored on a jumped shot for the Prowlers, and Lindberg batted in a rebound to regain the Prowlers' 17-point margin. Erie, who along with Mike Dille and Jim Johnson, played well for Crookston, scored on a rebound. But then the Prowlers, pressing real well and taking advantage of the Pirates' miscues, rapped in seven consecutive field goals to gain a 54 to 24 lead.

In the final period, with numerous reserves in the Prowler lineup, the Pirates played the locals on near-even terms: being outpointed, 20 to 19.

The Prowlers, again showing a well-balanced scoring attack, had four players in double figures, with Aune having 20 points for game honors. Lindberg rolled in eight field goals and a free throw for 17 points; Klungness notched 11 points; and Ken Larson followed with 10 points.

Mike Dille, a left forward who showed to good advantage in driving in from the corner, scored eight field goals and pair of free throws for coach Al Droen's Pirates.

Thieves Win 1st Tilt from Roseau

Coach Duane Glass' senior hockey Thieves opened play on their 1962-63 Northwest Hockey league schedule on Sunday afternoon by scoring a 10 to 6 win over the Roseau Cloverleafs in a game played on the Arena rink here.

An exhibition game has been scheduled for next Sunday afternoon between the Thieves and Sid Vraa's "Old Timers". Game time is slated for 2:30 p. m.

In Sunday's game here, which was marred somewhat by the slow ice, the Thieves were in the lead throughout, holding a 3 to 1 lead at the end of the first period, and a 6 to 3 lead at the end of the second period.

Center Joey Poole and wing Larry Poole were the leading goalgetters for the locals, with the pair getting two goals each. Del-Pay Offerdahl, a wingmate, added a tally and had four assists. The Dale Wennberg-Eddie Holmes-Chip Strand line accounted for three goals. Defensemen Arlan Hjelle and Gordon Hipsher scored a goal apiece.

Goalie Tom Teal turned in a strong game for the locals, with the former Prowler netminder kicking out thirty on-goal shots.

The summary:

Grand Forks Whips Hockey Prowlers 10 to 1 Saturday

Local Sextet Will Face East Grand Forks Here Next Saturday, Dec. 22

Coach Sergio Gambucci's Grand Forks Central Redskins, playing an impressive and inspired brand of hockey, defeated the Prowlers, 10 to 1, in a game played on the Arena rink here Saturday night. The game was the schedule-opener for the local sextet.

On Saturday night, Dec. 22, coach Gene Sack's Prowlers will open Region Eight conference play when they meet coach Jerry Wolford's East Grand Forks squad on the Arena rink.

In Saturday night's game here, the Redskins were sparked to their decisive win by the three-goal performances of Gary Como and Rick Koons.

Grand Forks moved into a 4 to 0 lead in the first pelod on goals by Como, Darrell Gilbertson, Pete Ryan and Koons.

In the second period, Koons, Gilbertson, and Ryan tallied for the visitors, while center Elroy Frolland beat goalie Scott McBride to register the lone Prowler goal.

In the third period, a pair of goals by Como and a single by Koons boosted the North Dakota team's lead to 10 to 1.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Some Remarkable Basketball

The Prowler cagers, in their last three outings, have turned in some newsworthy basketball. In defeating Warren, 77 to 60; Crookston, 75 to 47; and Ada, 88 to 52, the Prowlers have turned in three consecutive games of seventy points or more. Checking back into my records, and they go back into the 1910's, this is the first time that a Prowler basketball squad has made such a three-game scoring streak.

And that 88-point total scored against Ada on Saturday night, and the Prowlers posted a 42.7 scoring percentage in racking up that total, was a near-record for single game scoring. In the 1915-16 season, the Prowlers, captained by Roy Brown, defeated Red Lake Falls by an 88 to 11 score.

The local school's high single game mark is held by the Prowlers of 1932-33. This team, the defending state champions and captained by Wendell Kielty, defeated Oklee, 92 to 14, in a game played on the Auditorium court. And the most lop-sided game in the local basketball annals was probably that 84 to 2 win that the high-scoring Prowlers of 1934-35 turned in over Climax in a first-round district tournament game here.

High Scoring at Ada

But it is doubtful if these Prowler squads of the by-gone years could have matched the first-half scoring that coach Jack Junker's team exhibited on Saturday night. In the first period, with Paul Klungness scoring five field goals, Tom Lindberg adding three field goals and a free throw, John Aune scoring three field goals, and Rick Jensen scoring two field goals, the locals tallied 27 points.

And in the second period, with Jensen getting five field goals, Aune scoring four field goals, Gary Hagen scoring a pair of field goals and a free throw, and with Bob Olson and Klungness adding free throws, the Prowlers put together another 27-point cluster. That's a 54-point production in sixteen minutes of basketball.

And against the defending Region Eight champions! Well, it's a cinch that the Prowlers can't continue at this pace, but it was surely a privilege to have been able to witness these three games.

And now we will have to worry about John Aune's sprained ankle. The Prowler captain, who has been blistering the nets with his outside shooting in the past two or three games, suffered a severe sprain when fouled late in the Ada game. He'll be out of action for a week or ten days.

Have a Look at the Wrestlers

Coach Al Shaff's Prowler wrestlers will be on view for the local fans tonight, Monday, when they meet the ever-dangerous Crookston Aggies squad.

The loss of veteran Terry Nelson, the 145-pound wrestler who was injured during a match at Crookston a couple of weeks ago, has forced coach Shaff to re-shuffle his lineup and move some of his wrestlers up into a heavier weight classification.

But the fans who attend tonight's matches will see some first-rate wrestling, and they will be impressed by such Prowlers wrestlers as Roy Delorme in the 103-lb. class, co-captain Roger Wilson in the 112-lb. class; Joe Taylor in the 154-lb. class; and co-captain Dwight Myhrer in the heavyweight class.

And if you get to the gymnasium by 6:30 p. m. you will see coach Dale Folger's Prowler 'B' squad in action. These boys, of course, don't have the finesse of the varsity wrestlers, but they have the enthusiasm.

What's in a Name . . . Plate?

John Anderson Builds On Basement Business

by Flora Allison
Times Society Reporter

Realization of an idea which resulted in a basement enterprise took form several years ago for John Anderson, 314 Conley av. S., as he manufactures plastic door and desk plates for sale throughout the United States. With his wife and 14-year-old son Mike assisting, the business has become a family enterprise.

A veteran of more than a quarter century in the jewelry business, Anderson sold his Thief River Falls store about three years ago. He began the plastic plate business five years before giving up the jeweler's profession, retaining his engraving equipment when he sold his store and moving it into the basement which he had previously remodeled with such a move in mind.

Born in the Karlstad community, Anderson lived on his parents' farm until he "came of age" and then started in the jewelry business at Roseau. "I picked a million rocks," he recalled of his farming experience. "No, better make that two million." The change from unwanted rocks to valuable stones was more to his liking, and three years after opening his store in Roseau he moved to Thief River Falls. Twenty-five years of business here was conducted at several store locations.

He now has 76 salesmen for school supply firms taking orders for door and desk plates throughout the nation and has shipped products to New York, Oklahoma and Montana as well as nearby states. In the plate-making process, the surface color of the plate is routed off to form letters with the contrasting color beneath the surface. Letters may range in size from newspaper type to four inches in height.

After getting off to a good start, he was struck by a heart condition that threatened to halt operations. "But the invaluable aid of such friends as the Floyd Canfields and Ted Mills helped us over that hurdle," he said. "Now my wife takes care of the packaging and mailing, and our son Mike is my right-hand man." Mike, 14, is a sophomore in high school, so his help cannot be counted on except after school hours and the like. (A daughter, Janice, majors in music at UND. Minoring in art, she will graduate at the end of the term.)

Mechanics of the Trade

The engraving is a routing process, making use of a sort of mechanized pantograph. Templates used are both of wood and of plastic, many made by Anderson to cut costs. Name-plates are made of Formica, an extremely hard, heavy duty plastic, which is available in 10 colors. Most popular color is black (With white lettering), with walnut a close second. Coming into popularity now is an antiqued gold, which is absolutely impervious to weather.

His supplier is a nephew, whose supply house is located in Minneapolis. Formica is used for the name-plates because of its resistance to extremes in temperatures, warping and for its engraving qualities. Developed during World War II for the armed services, Formica has resistance to salt water, among other desirable properties."

Ingenious Equipment

Anderson crafts his own wood backings in cases where mounting easels for desks and counters are desired. He has designed another mounting, a spring-tension base with "feet" made of wire and ball bearings, which he brass-plates in a make-shift plater. A crock, a storage battery, a solution of cyanide and a brass electrode constitute the "machine". In fifteen minutes, a number of wires and ball bearings can be coated with the attractive brass. "The uncoated wires and bearings are most satisfactory, for plating," Anderson explained. "Some finishes won't take brass plating at all, such as chrome for example."

He has also equipped a drill with a vacuum cleaner attached, to clear away the dust that accumulates in the routing, and has made power equipment for edging finished plates. His power drill is an early model conversion unit with a simplified use of spring tension.

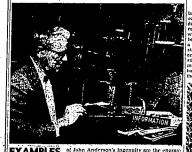
"The field is not too highly competitive," Mr. Anderson thought. "It is quite specialized, actually."

The product is shipped to the user mostly by parcel post, but occasionally by express, directly from the plant. There has been no problem in filling rush orders. "We haven't really attempted to do much with the local market," he stated. No local work is turned down, however, and work for several local buildings has been done in the Anderson shop.

It isn't "all work and no play" either for Mr. Anderson. "I'm interested in everything," he stated. "But the life of a sportsman appeals to me most — hunting, fishing, that kind of thing." He is an avid bow-hunter, among other things.

It seems like a busy, full life. A reward, perhaps, for those back-breaking, rock-picking years. After all, what's in a name - plate?

ENGRAVING formica desk and door plates is a form of livelihood for John Anderson, former Thief River Falls jeweler, who tired of the jewelry business after more than 25 years and retreated to his basement workshop.—In the above photo he operates one of his engraving machines, a device which employs a high-speed rotary bit and a pantograph which enables him to enlarge or reduce the size of letters from his alphabet templates.



EXAMPLES of John Anderson's ingenuity are the engraved plates and desk name-plate stands shown above. Since selling his jewelry store in Thief River Falls three years ago, he has earned his living by products made in his home basement workshop. Metal stands for holding name plates are made by Anderson from No. 13 wire and untreated ball bearings which are brazed together to form a triangle. He also does the brass plating with a home-made plating operation using a six-volt battery and an earthen crock.

Squirrel, Rabbit, Racoon Hunting Seasons now Open

Minnesota hunters have been urged to take advantage of the unseasonably mild weather to harvest some of the state's surplus squirrel, rabbit and raccoon population.

Dave Vesall, supervisor of the conservation department's section of game reminded hunters that the squirrel season extends through December 31. Hunting is allowed from sunrise to sunset with bag limits of seven daily and 14 in possession in the aggregate of all species.

Rabbits are fair game until sunset March 1. Shooting hours are sunrise to sunset with limits of 10 daily and 20 in possession for each of the three species — cottontail, jack and snowshoe.

Raccoons may be hunted on a 24 hour basis until midnight December 31. There are no bag limits imposed on raccoon hunting.

More Veterans Are Now Eligible for Dental Care

Peacetime veterans are eligible for dental treatment under certain conditions, according to John R. Parrish, Director of the Fargo VA Center.

Under a law effective August 14, 1962, peacetime veterans with service-connected dental conditions which existed when they were discharged from active service, may be authorized any dental treatment found to be reasonably necessary for a one-time correction of the condition, provided they apply within one year after their separation from active duty.

Mr. Parrish pointed out, however, that if the service-connected dental condition was the result of an accidental injury incurred in the line of duty, the veteran is not required to apply for dental treatment within one year from the date he was discharged from the service, and treatment for such conditions is not limited to a one-time correction.

Applications filed prior to August 14, 1962, are not valid for this treatment, Mr. Parrish emphasized, and new applications must be submitted. Veterans who believe they are eligible for dental treatment under the new law should contact the VA Center, Fargo, North Dakota for assistance in applying for treatment.

Marriages Now Last Longer

In the year 1900, death put an end to 28 out of every 1,000 marriages, by ending the lives of one or both partners. But today, only 16 out of every 1,000 marriages are ended each year by death. This means not only longer and more productive lives — it also means that more children are raised to adulthood by their parents. Modern drugs have played a vital role in bringing about this change. Tremendous

The successful shot into space of the Mariner spacecraft was a truly remarkable achievement. The fact that this odd looking ship came so close to its target, the planet Venus, after travelling 180 million miles, is convincing proof of the advances that have been made in scientific knowledge and accuracy, and for the layman, it is unbelievable that the flight of this small object could be followed through space and that at the right time instruments capable of making various observations could be started to operate by flash signals, reaching the ship from our planet, in three minutes.

We have lived in an age of scientific discovery. Much of that which now is commonplace was unknown and unbelievable a century ago. While we still doubt it, we will have to admit the possibility that for the generation that follows, manned flight to other planets may also become a commonplace.

The Price We Pay

New York City is without newspapers because of a strike called by the 3,000 members of the International Typographical Union. The total number of the employees' unemployed is estimated at 20,000 and tens of thousands of others who provide services of various kinds for the industry are idle.

We are not informed as to the questions involved in this strike except that, whatever the demands may be, they would add greatly to production costs which would have to be passed along to the customers. The number of newspapers published thruout the country, in cities large and small, has been steadily decreasing, and as production costs continue to increase the number of publications will continue to decline.

The decline in the number of publications has been partly the result of increased competition from other advertising media, radio, television, magazines. The struggle for survival is becoming more intense.

These general problems are not peculiar to the publication field, and the strike in New York is interesting mainly, not because of the problems of the publishers but because of the ultimate effect of such strikes upon the workers and the public. They will add to the problem of unemployment and they will increase the cost of goods and services. The higher wages that will be paid will seem like a gain at first, but the more dollars will gradually buy less.

What is happening in New York is what happened in Minneapolis, and it will happen elsewhere and in other industries, a part of another cycle of wage and price increases that was triggered by the federal government with the election-year increase in the pay for federal employees.

More inflation and continued unemployment are inevitable. These are the prices we must pay for irresponsible leadership in government at all levels.

Let's Take Another Look

Guy Tollerud, director of School Plant Planning for the Department of Education, seems to be disturbed because the Times reported him as saying that the old Washington school building might serve another ten years. But that is what the gentleman said. He said other things too. He made it clear that he did not favor its continued use and his position on the matter has been generally understood. Certainly it has not been misrepresented.

The survey team that studied the needs of our district was of substantially the same opinion. They said in effect that the old building could be put in condition for continued service but they thought it would be better to build a new structure. And that is substantially the position the architect has taken.

We have no quarrel with these men. We understand their point of view. They are hired to make recommendations. But they are not hired to make the decisions. Nor are the local school officials hired to make decisions on matters of this kind. Such decisions are made by the voters and the taxpayers. And in three elections they have indicated that they are not satisfied with the recommendations that have been made.

Under the circumstances it would seem reasonable that the overall problem should be reconsidered and further study be given to those phases of the problem that are controversial.

As we understand it, the architect did make an estimate of what it would cost to put the old Washington in good condition. Some competent construction men are of the opinion that his estimate was much too high, but his estimate nevertheless would be a good starting point for the study.

The first step then would be to compare this figure with the estimated cost of building eight new classrooms, plus another gymnasium with cafeteria facilities. With that information before them the voters would have a clear-cut view of the problem with which we are confronted.

That is the kind of procedure any reasonable person would follow in considering whether he should repair or replace a building of his own, and a prudent person, properly concerned about debt, would examine every possibility carefully before making a decision.

The present members of the school board are not in agreement on this question. It so happens that the two members who think that further consideration should be given to possible reconditioning of the old building have some knowledge of construction problems.

It wouldn't take long to complete such a study, and the study would not be costly. A slight delay would not be harmful and there is the possibility that a careful reconsideration would save us a lot of hard-to-get dollars.

The Sky-bolt Missile

Our friends in Britain were just starting to calm down following Dean Acheson's offensive statements when they exploded into new outbursts of anger following President Kennedy's anouncement that no further efforts would be made to produce a successful Skybolt missile. It seems that the Skybolt missile was being developed especially for Britain under an agreement made by Prime Minister Macmillan and President Eisenhower. It would give the British retaliatory striking power in the event of nuclear attack.

John Beaufort, Chief of the London Bureau of the Christian Science Monitor, reported on the arrival of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, with the bad news which he presented to British Minister of Defense Peter Thorneycraft. Beaufort stated:

> "No statement was issued after the two officials' talks, but Reuters reported that Mr. Thorneycraft had laid the British position on the line in a tough bargaining session. Mr. McNamara flew on to Paris Wednesday for the NATO Council meeting."

According to Beaufort, the implications are not military but political. They bear directly on Britain's future as an independent nuclear power. They involve American desires for an increase in European conventional military forces and the establishment of a North Atlantic Treaty Organization nuclear force under American direction with Britain and France cooperating. He quotes the Daily Telegrapha on the broad issues involved, saying that the Kennedy view of the world of this decade —

> —"does not include an independent British nuclear force, nor, for that matter, a French one.
> "Ideally, what the men of the New Frontier would like, as Mr. McNamara will probably make clear at the NATO ministerial meeting at the end of this week, is a Europe pre-occupied with increasing its conventional strength and content to leave strategic nuclear considerations in transatlantic hands.
> "What they have, in practice, is a Europe determined, with every justification, to control its own nuclear policy."

It is becoming increasingly clear that our European allies are becoming resentful of important decisions being made by Washington and handed down as decrees from on high. Possibly some of these matters will be straightened out by the Macmillan-Kennedy talks to be held at Nassau.

The following editorial comment by the Winnipeg Tribune expresses an interesting Canadian point of view:

> "The controversy between London and Washington over the Skybolt will almost certainly have one result—President de Gaulle will be more determined than ever to create an independent French nuclear arsenal.
> "If Washington persists in its decision to scrap the Skybolt, all the effort and all the billions Britain has spent on maintaining an independent deterrent may be down the drain. The embarrassment this would cause Prime Minister Macmillan's government can be imagined.
> "This is all the more distressing to the British government because the Skybolt agreement was not arrived at in isolation. Much of the financial and technical effort which had been directed to the development of the British Blue Streak air-to-ground missile was switched to support of the U.S. program for Skybolt.
> "Further, the agreements covering the Skybolt were made in relation to British permission for the stationing of Thor missiles in the British Isles and for the use of Holy Loch in Scotland as a base for U.S. Polaris submarines. At the time the British opposition parties described this as a bad deal to which charge the Macmillan government replied that it had complete confidence in its American allies."

Danger Ahead

The death toll on our highways during the four-day Christmas holiday season is estimated at 600. According to J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, December traditionally is the most dangerous month of the year and Christmas leads in the number of holiday deaths.

For each person killed, several are injured, and the property damage adds up to a terrific total the cost of which is assessed against all who pay for accident insurance. Do all you can to help reduce this awful slaughter.

Mrs. D. A. Hanson

The circles of the First Lutheran church women met for the month of December at the following places: The Ruth circle met at the home of Mrs. Ruth Gresly Thursday, December 13, at 2 p. m. for a Christmas party and pot-luck lunch. The Rachel Circle met at the home of Mrs. Earl Anderson Thursday evening, and the Mary circle held their meeting at the church following the serving of the 4-D banquet Thursday evening. The Martha circle will meet at the church Tuesday, December 18 at 2 p. m. for their Christmas party and pot luck lunch.

The Middle River community was agin shocked when word was received of the sudden death of Mrs. Mildred McKeever, who passed away at Rochester Tuesday evening, Dec. 11, following surgery the previous week. Funeral services were held for Mrs. McKeever Saturday, Dec. 15, at the First Lutheran church of Middle River with Pastor James Hanson officiating. The Collins Funeral home was in charge of arrangements. A full obituary will appear elsewhere in the Times.

The annual Middle River School Christmas concert will be presented Wednesday, Dec. 19 at the school gymnasium. The band will play several numbers including "A Song for Christmas", and "Christmas Season". Mixed chorus, girls sextette, boys quartet, and the grades will also sing a number of carols, and the elementary band will play a few selections. The band mothers will serve lunch following the program.

The fire department was again called out Wednesday afternoon to the Joe Blom farm home near town when fire was believed to have started in the fuse boxes in the well house near their barn. Mr. Blom had just started the pumps in the well house. The well house and the water system was burned down. Due to the strong winds, the efforts of the Middle River fire department failed to check the fire. A big hole was also burned into the barn. The Widmarks who reside at the Blom farm were in the Cities attending a GTA meeting. They returned home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Overvold left Friday for Kenyon and Northfield to visit overnight at the Ton Fonnest home at Kenyon and to get their daughter, Janis, who is a student at St. Olaf college. They plan to leave from there Saturday for Claremont, Calif. to spend the Christmas holidays with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Overvold and daughter.

Lynn Walton entertained a group of friends at a birthday celebration Sunday evening at her home. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walton and Jeff visited at the Herb Hanson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ing. Gullikson left Thursday morning for Tooele, Utah, where they will spent the Christmas holidays with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gentry and daughter.

Funeral Services Held Wednesday for H. Johnson

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Green Funeral chapel in TRF for Harold Johnson of Eveleth, who passed away suddenly last Friday. Burial was made at the Greenwood cemetery. Pallbearers for Mr. Johnson were Gerald and Edwin Sjulstad, Martin Ekwall, Glennie Lein, Arnold Hovet and Hilmer Melhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Iverson were Tuesday afternoon luncheon guests at the Henry Hovet home.

Mr. and Mrs. Teloy Johnsrud were shoppers in TRF Wednesday and also took a birthday cake to Mrs. Minnie Rendahl at the Johnson Rest Home. Mrs. Rendahl's birthday was last Saturday, Dec. 8th.

4-H Christmas Party

The Star 4-H club had their annual Christmas party Monday evening at the Town Hall. The children presented a program, gifts were exchanged and lunch was also served.

Visitors Sunday at Norman Kriels were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schloefer, Mrs. Kenneth Kriel, Joyce and Bruce.

Several families from Star attended the Lion's club supper at the Home Ec. Rooms of the schoolhouse Wednesday evening.

Monday visitors at Edwin Sjulstads were Mrs. Harold Johnson of Eveleth, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson of Illinois.

For those who wish to write to the Swen Sjulstad family, their address is as follows: 2408 W. Butler Drive, Phoenix, Arizona.

New Citizen Reception

A short time after I took office in early 1961 my wife Eleanor suggested having a reception for new citizens — to give an individual welcome to those who had not only recently acquired U. S. citizenship but also selected Minnesota as a place to live.

We were surprised to learn that in our state alone there are about sixty new naturalized citizens each month. We decided to try Eleanor's idea. It worked so well we have continued it since. It is a refreshing and heartwarming experience for us and our guests seem to enjoy it greatly.

Sunday before last was a typical gathering. Over one hundred new citizens from 21 nations came, and with their families swelled the crowd to over 200. We met in the Governor's reception room. Eleanor and I greeted each family individually, they met friends of ours who helped host, and enjoyed refreshments.

I spoke to the group for a few minutes and then we took a little tour of the Capitol, visiting the Senate, House of Representatives, and Supreme Court chambers. The Capitol Christmas Tree was lighted as they left and added a gay and festive touch.

We can report to you that Minnesota is gaining some fine new citizens. When I would inquire as to background and occupation I was impressed. Here were research chemists, physicists, doctors, tool and die makers, tailors, and many other fine skills, crafts and talents being added to our community.

Two little girls were from Korea — war orphans — each having found a secure home with a Minnesota family and the new parents, a new dimension to life and love.

Naturalized citizens cherish their citizenship and are deeply devoted to the United States. They universally despise Communism and dictatorship. They are anxious that we be aware of the danger of our ruthless opponents — that we be firm and strong in foreign policy, and preserve freedom, self-reliance and individual independence at home.

They love to learn about their new land, and they go to everything — concerts, museums, parks community festivals, historic landmarks and also keep a vital interest in the cultural heritage they brought with them. They join together in nationality groups to preserve homeland dances, cooking, handicrafts, and music. They have a great zest for everything and a happy outlook.

In the background of most is an experience of hardship, tragedy, and difficulty. After each reception as we go home Eleanor and I remark on how truly grateful we can be for all we enjoy in this great land of ours. If you want a new appreciation of America talk to someone who has recently come here.

It is in this spirit of thankfulness that we enter this Christmas season. We hope it will be a happy time of family reunions for you, we hope everyone will be particularly careful on the highways, and that 1963 will bring you a particularly abundant measure of happiness and prosperity.

Beaver Is Problem for Game Wardens

Four Tons Dynamite Used Annuallyto Destroy Dams

Castor Canadensis is the Latin designation for Minnesota's most persistent conservationist, the beaver. In these days of intensive agricultural practices, extensive road networks and increasing forest product use the beaver frequently clashes with man's ideas of what is good water conservation.

The role of arbitrator in these disputes between man and beaver falls to the game warden. This is not an envinble position. One northern Minnesota warden, recipient of innumerable complaints from County engineers, farmers and forestry personnel and also the possessor of a wry sense of humor, has reclassified the little dam builder castoria obnoxious.

The hours of hard, dirty, mosquito-plagued labor required of game wardens to alleviate damage complaints represents a large percentage of total activity in many areas of Minnesota. The total cost in terms of labor and travel is difficult to assess because much of it is done in the course of regular patrol. The cost of dynamite for this work, however, is directly assessable and averages about $3,600 per year. At .40 cents per pound, Minnesota's wardens detonate approximately 4½ tons of high explosives every year to remove the handiwork of nature's hydrologic engineers.

The beaver is not entirely without friends, however, and removal of dams and the beaver themselves is undertaken only where they and man are completely incompatible.

Budget Proposals Filed with Governor Call for Total of $537,000,000

An indication of tax increases at the state government level faced by Minnesota taxpayers during the next two years was shown last week in a $75,000,000 boost in proposed spending by three of the 38 state departments — conservation, education and public welfare.

Budget proposals filed by the three departments with Governor Andersen total $537,000,000 to be paid out of direct taxes and $28,300,000 for state college buildings financed out of long term bond issues.

If approved by the 1963 legislature, spending increases for the three departments alone would raise the average Minnesota family's taxes $43 per year.

Education increases account for the largest portion — $40,000,000 combined for public schools and the state colleges over 1961. Public welfare spending would require an additional $30,000,000, the greatest portion of which would be $18,000,000 for mental hospitals and schools. An increase of 1,536 new employees would add about $12,000,000 to the departments payroll. Public assistance programs call for an additional $4,600,000 over 1961.

The education department wants 76 new employees. It anticipates an increase of 47,000 in state public school enrollment during the next two years for a school population of 860,000 by 1965.

Conservation department increases total $4,300,000 over 1961, with 15 new parks and 21 new employees proposed.

VITAMIN A AND D PREMIX

The summer and fall of 1961 and winter of 1961 and 1962 hould have taught all of us a lesson in animal nutrition and I hope none of us ever forget it. The combination of drouth grown roughages and Soil Bank hay brought home to us how quickly feed deficiences can develop especially of Vitamin A.

During the past year, it has been pretty clearly brought out that:

1. Vitamin A, as such, does not exist naturally in feed, but must be manufactured by the animal from carotene.
2. Drouth grown roughages are very low in carotene and so are roughages that are severely weathered due to excess rains and sun bleaching.
3. Drouth grown roughages tend to be high in nitrates which seem to interfere with the conversion of carotene to Vitamin A.
4. The development of straight barley feeding to cattle has shown that some reaction there ties up available supplies of Vitamin A so extra amounts should be provided.
5. Vitamin A is essential to normal development of unborn animals, and to get them off to a healthy start in life.
6. Vitamin A is essential to the maintenance of healthy tissues of the eyes, linings of the mouth, stomach and intestines, skin and haircoat.
7. The development of true Vitamin A has given us a simple, cheap, easy-to-use means of providing our livestock with all the Vitamin A they need.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Knutson and Laurence were Thursday evening visitors at the Ed Monson home.

Mrs. John Loven visited Mrs. Gertie Abrahamson and Ruby Larson Monday evening.

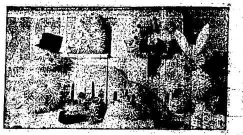
Aksel Gormsen called at the Amos Aase home in TRF Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Engelstad left Thursday to spend the remainder of the week at the Ronald Bucholz home at Grace City, N. D. to help little Charlie Bucholz celebrate his 3rd birthday, and also attend the Sunday school program in which their grandchildren, Lorri and Charles are participants.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lian accompanied by Mrs. Emily Carriere of Middle River visited Mrs. Elmer Thompson at NW hospital in TRF Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lunsetter, Janelle and Julie arrived from Ozark, Ala., Monday to spend his furlough until Jan. 5th, before he leaves for Viet Nam, where he will be stationed 12 months. They, together with Mrs. Esther Lunsetter, were supper guests at the Howard Lunsetter home Monday evening and are spending his furlough at the Lunsetter homes, and Nels Satre home at Grygla and with other relatives. They also visited relatives in Alabama and Minneapolis enroute home.

The parent of any college student can tell you that higher education certainly is.—The Times Record, Aledo, Illinois.



DECORATIONS for the holidays can be made quickly and easily with the use of styrofoam balls and round toothpicks. Some of the ideas are shown above and include snowman, Christmas tree, wreath, candelabra and snow bunny. Use of aerosol show in a choice of colors, sprinkle glitter and miniature ornaments add to the brightness of the decorations.

BY MARY LINDON

WHO EVER HEARD OF GUMPERSON'S LAW? It is doubtful that there is a person named Gumperson but his law of perverse opposites is most certainly factual. The philosophical phenomenon is taken from the 1963 edition of the Changing Times Calendar and Engagement Book, published by Changing Times magazine.

Gumperson's Law explains a number of irritating events that might otherwise be charged against mere chance. For example, Gumperson's law causes grass to grow in the cracks of concrete sidewalks but not on your lawn. It also explains how a person can start a forest fire by throwing a burned match out of a car window—but can use two boxes of matches and a whole edition of the Sunday paper without being able to start a fire under dry logs in the fireplace.

Gumperson's law grew out of research on the phenomenon that the record of the weather bureau, despite use of advanced equipment and highly trained personnel, was not as good as that of the Old Farmer's Almanac. Research has also revealed the following parts of the law:

After a raise in salary you will have less money at the end of each month than you had before;

Children have more energy after a hard day of play than they do after a good night's sleep;

The person who buys the most raffle tickets has the least chance of winning;

A child can be exposed to the mumps for weeks without catching them but can catch them without exposure the day before the family goes on vacation;

And good parking places are always on the other side of the street.

Dr. Gumperson also served as consultant to the armed services during World War II and evolved the procedure whereby the more a recruit knew about a given subject the better chance he had of receiving an assignment involving some other subject.

He did not, however, complete research on the relation of car washing to rainfall or running out of heating fuel on the coldest night of the year.

"What do you do when you're not dancing?" a television emcee asked a guest. "Help my brother," was the reply. "What does your brother do?" the emcee asked. "Nothing," the dancer emphatically answered.

He also explained his week as follows: "Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday I don't do nothing for nobody. Thursday, Friday and Saturday I rest. And on Sunday I spend all day getting ready to do nothing on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday."

At the request of several Lincoln high school students, here is a plug for the Christmas concert to be presented Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium and vocal director Bryant Ulseth. A man of many talents, Ulseth teaches several classes and directs the junior high school choir, Lincoln Singers and senior chorus in addition to helping a number of smaller ensembles. See your local kids in action Tuesday night. You have my personal guarantee it will be worth the price (free) of admission

Father exercised a sage bit of reasoning when daughter insisted on an off-the-shoulder dress for a holiday party but mother was convinced it was a bit too sophisticated for the girl's age. "Let her try one on," the father said. "If it stays up, she's old enough to wear it."

It has been said that friendship, business, democracy and hash all have a common dependency on a man's faith in his fellow man.

The following poem is by an unknown author and reprinted here for its content in this holiday season:

A CANDLE

A candle's but a little thing;
It starts with just a bit of string.
Yet dipped and dipped with patient hand
It gathers wax upon the strand,
Until complete and snowy white
It gives at last a lovely light.

Life seems so like that bit of string—
Each deed we do a simple thing.
Yet, day by day, if on life's strand
We work with patient heart and hand,
It gathers joy, makes dark days bright.
And gives at last a lovely light.

STAR . . .

The Alvin Hornings received word from their daughter and family, the Vernon Christiansons, that they were settled in their home and their address now is Mill Road, R.F.D. No. 1, Box 183, Northampton, New Hampshire.

On their way to New Hampshire the Christiansons also visited the Allen Horning family in New Jersey, from where they telephoned the Alvin Hornings to wish Mr. Horning a happy birthday. The address of Allen Hornings is: BLD 3925E, McGuire A. F. B., New Jersey.

Lloyd Sanderson, who has been employed in Grand Forks since last spring, will spend the winter months on his farm here.

On Wednesday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sjulstad visited Mrs. Sjulstad's mother, Mrs. Andrew Wells, who is a patient at NW Hospital at TRF. Mrs. Wells expects to be released soon. They also visited Ray Wells, who is still a hospital patient but is greatly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sjulstad, Lynette, and Ivan called at the Andrew Wells home in TRF last Thursday evening and helped Mr. Wells celebrate his birthday.

Medical Group Tells Men How to Get Ulcer

If you would like to develop a fine ulcer, or perhaps a few heart problems, the Minnesota State Medical Association suggests that you make the following New Year's resolutions:

1. Resolve to forget everything but your job. Just ignore your family. Who cares if they don't understand and appreciate what you're doing for them?

2. Work at the office on weekends and holidays. Let the family go to the cabin by themselves.

3. Make it a rule to always have your brief case with you. This way you can review completely the troubles and worries of the day—and also impress people.

4. Learn to never say "no" to any request that might in any way assist your career. Go to every meeting you can. Be chairman of every club and committee possible.

5. Remember that all forms of recreation are a waste of time unless done with business associates or customers. Forget about playing cards, going to movies, or fishing — unless it will help you out in business.

6. Carry all the responsibility for everything yourself. Never share any responsibility at the office. Distrust everyone. After all, they might want your job.

7. If you travel in your job, make sure you work all day and drive all night to keep the next appointment. Take a few pep pills so you'll be bright and fresh in the morning. (But if you want to have that ulcer or heart problem, make sure you don't get killed on the highway first!)

8. Remember that two or three quick martinis before supper will help your appetite. There's no reason to sit down, relax and talk to your family for half an hour or so. If you've been following the other rules, you have nothing in common with them anyway.

9. Ignore your doctor's advice. Don't slow down. And remember that plenty of potatoes and gravy are what you need — those height-weight charts don't apply to you, and your doctor is probably just an alarmist.

If you follow these suggestions the Association says that you'll probably have your ulcer by the end of 1963, and a little high blood pressure and other complications to go with it. However, the Association warns that when you get that first stab of pain you may wonder if it was all really worth it.

GTA Has Annual Meet Last Week In Twin Cities

Co-op's Assets Reach $100 Million; Freeman Pleads Wheat Program

More than 5,000 co-op farmers and managers are back home this week after attending the three-day 25th annual convention of the Farmers Union Grain Terminal association. Farmers representing 700 local communities in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana attended the meeting held December 10-12 at the St. Paul Auditorium.

Headlining the list of speakers was Agricultural Secretary Orville Freeman who joined Minnesota Senators Hubert Humphrey and Eugene McCarthy on the speakers' platform for the annual GTA banquet.

Freeman told the throng that farmers face a major decision in the wheat referendum to be held next June. For ten straight years, they have approved government wheat programs in the annual voting, but Freeman said opposition has formed a battle line this year for the first time. He urged passage of the program.

Secretary-treasurer Ervin Schumacher, Drayton, N. D., reported that farmers marketed more than 119 million bushels of grain through GTA last year, and the volume is growing annually. For the first time, total assets of GTA now exceed $100 million, and the net worth of the co-op is $42 million.

GTA merchandires grain and oilseeds, mills durum wheat at Rush City, processes flaxseed in Minneapolis, manufactures poultry and livestock feed at three plants in Minnesota, two in North Dakota, one in South Dakota and three in Montana.

It directly operates 221 cooperative line elevators in the four states, as well as financing and marketing grain for 447 locally-owned and directed co-operative elevator associations.

It owns and operates terminal and subterminal facilities with a total of 35,600,000 bushels in Minneapolis, St. Paul, Superior, and in Lewistown, Shelby and Great Falls, Mont.

Related regional cooperatives are the Honeymead Porducts Company in Mankato, Farmers Union Marketing Association of South St. Paul, the Great Plains Supply Company and seed processing facilities in North Dakota and Nebraska.

Reelected directors were A. M. Larson, Beltrami; Fred Ehlers, Hettinger, N. D.; Harold Skaar, New Town, N. D.; and Lloyd Michels, Medicine Lake, Mont.

Fire Razes House on Farm at Oklee Monday Evening

The Oklee Fire Department was summoned last Monday night at 12:30 a. m. to the Klasen Brothers farm south of the village to fight a fire which had begun burning in the downstairs part of the house, says the Oklee Herald.

The flames had progressed rapidly in the two-story frame structure because of the high winds, and the department was unable to save the building and its contents.

Fortunately, the brothers—Art, Bill and Joe escaped without serious injury after being awakened by the heat of the fire. Although all their personal possessions and household goods were destroyed, they plan to re-establish housekeeping in a trailer house at the farm.

Drive to End Scabies in Sheep Opens Today

A campaign to eliminate scabies from Minnesota's $16 million-a-year sheep industry will be launched today, Monday, by state sheep producers, farm organizations, veterinarians and state and federal agencies.

Scabies is a rare but highly contagious skin disease, caused by tiny mites. Few cases are likely to be found, according to Raymond B. Solac, extension veterinarian at the University of Minnesota. However, complete eradication is necessary to keep and help expand Minnesota's markets for sheep and wool.

Each of the 21,000 Minnesota farms having sheep will be visited by a representative from one of the cooperating agencies. The visitor will be a county extension agent, vocational agriculture instructor, or staff member from the Minnesota department of agriculture, the Minnesota livestock sanitary board or the U. S. department of agriculture.

Each flock will be placed under quarantine as of Dec. 17 and will be released from quarantine immediately after inspection by the livestock sanitary board, if there are no signs of scabies.

Flocks where scabies symptoms occur will remain under quarantine until the board is notified and the flock is reinspected by a veterinarian. If the second reinspection shows no scabies, the flock is then released.

Sheep found to be scabies-infected will be dipped in a solution, under official supervision and at state expense, as soon as possible. These flocks will remain under quarantine until reinspected 30 days or more after dipping. A second dipping may be required in some cases.

Minnesota will qualify as a scabies-free area after the U. S. Department of Agriculture is assured that scabies no longer exists and sheep are protected from reintroduction of the disease. Sheep from Minnesota will then be able to move freely into any area for any purpose.

Here are some other aspects of regulations which will be in effect until Minnesota is declared to be scabies-free:

Sheep infected with or exposed to scabies may be shipped for immediate slaughter within the state during the quarantine period, but only under a permit from a veterinarian.

Apparently healthy sheep not under quarantine may be shipped within the state for immediate slaughter without dipping, if accompanied by a written statement signed by the owner giving the number being shipped and the destination.

All sheep loaned, traded, exchanged or sold for any purpose other than immediate slaughter or are shipped to public stockyards or auction markets must be dipped under veterinary supervision within ten days prior to movement.

Scabies, according to Solac, has both direct and indirect results. Fleece may suffer in quality and in quantity. Severely infected sheep may die unless treated.

More important are indirect effects in loss of markets. Sheep from infected areas, except those for immediate slaughter, can cross state lines without restrictions only to go to other infected areas.

ERIE . . .

Claire Ann Dahlen accompanied Mrs. Bernie Wells to Thief River Falls Monday evening, where they attended 4-H council meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Anderson and Lorine were visitors at Alvin Hylands Sunday afternoon. Audrey and Arlette Hyland and Lorine also visited with Elaine Dahlen.

Those who came to wish Dean Anderson a Happy Birthday on Monday evening, were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hovet.

MANGER SCENE at Community Methodist church in Thief River Falls is the work of several women of the congregation. They have combined an interest in the church and a hobby of art to create the hand-made figures. Mrs. Lloyd Bennes was chairman of the committee with other workers including Mrs. Roy Oen, Mrs. Ray Jude, Mrs. D. H. Stewart, Mrs. Lowell Swenson and Mrs. Russell Embury. The wood stable was constructed by Ronald Ewing. Figures are made from a mixture of salt and corn starch with padded coat hangers for bodies. Animal figurines were purchased. The group of women plans to add figures to the scene each year, using their ingenuity and odds and ends of material to add to the display.

Insurance Program Reviewed

Council Asks Federal Aid for Planning Commission

Adoption of a resolution requesting federal assistance in the financing of the Thief River Falls planning commission was among the items of business conducted by the Thief River Falls city council Tuesday evening at its regular meeting. Federal government will provide two-thirds of the cost of the program for which Phase I is now underway.

Considerable time was also spent reviewing the city's workmen's compensation program. The company which has been underwriting the insurance, Auto Owners Insurance company, has refused to renew the contract since records show that losses paid are 149 per cent of premiums over the past five years. Premiums totaled more than $30,000 with losses paid totaling more than $45,000. Action on contracting with a different company was deferred to an adjourned session set for early this morning.

At the request of the Northwestern Hospital board, the council set a hearing date for January 15 in the matter of vacating the alley south of First street between LaBree and Horace avenues. The hospital has the area included in its expansion plans.

Building Permits

Building permit applications totaling $9,500 were approved as follows: Langlie Electric company, warehouse at Pennington avenue and First street, $6,500; R. L. Noper, carport at 1010 Main av. N., $1,500; and Sherman Johnson, domestic garage at 301 Oak av. S., $1,500.

Upon application by the postal department, the council adopted a resolution granting an additional 38 feet of "no parking" area south of the present 10-minute zone on LaBree avenue. The department will install two drive-in mail deposit boxes so that mail may be deposited directly from the car.

Thief River Falls Independent School District 564 was granted an abatement of $84.87 in penalty on special assessments paid recently in a lump sum rather than in two payments with one due earlier this year. The council also passed a concurring resolution with Pennington county to establish Sixth street from Arnold avenue west to the junction of highway 59 as a County State Aid Highway.

Appointments made by Mayor Orin Green for the Carnegie Public Library board were approved by the council. Mrs. H. O. Chommie and R. J. Ulferts were reappointed and Mrs. Lloyd Bennes was named to succeed Mrs. J. B. Holter who declined renomination.

SEAT BELTS saved the day for John Wettestad Monday morning when the Corvair car he was driving struck a large buck deer about a mile south of Strandquist on highway 59. Although the impact shattered the windshield, spraying broken glass throughout the car and sending the rear view mirror hurtling into the back seat, Wettestad, sustained only a cut on his left hand. He has used seat belts since 1956 and this was the first occasion when they were well worth the little extra effort. The deer was one of two which suddenly appeared on the road about 7:15 a.m.—the only deer which Wettestad has seen in two years of driving in the area. It was struck in mid-air, sailed over the top of the car and was believed killed instantly.

185 Miles of Ditches

Group Drainage Is SCD '62 Highlight

Cooperative drainage systems among farmers highlighted the 1962 project work of the Pennington County Soil Conservation District, according to Robert Kloubec, work unit conservationist. An all-time record was set when 21 groups of farmers established cooperative drainage ditches to eliminate wet field conditons.

During the year a total of 159 county farmers installed 185 miles of drainage ditches to take care of excess water from wet areas in crop land. At the peak of the construction season there were 33 pieces of earth-moving equipment employed in doing on-farm construction work with drainage.

Since the origin of the Pennington county district, a total of 1,225 miles of drainage ditches have been installed in the county with the assistance of the Soil Conservation service, Kloubec said. Cost-sharing assistance furnished under the ACP program of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service was used by most farmers in the ditching program.

While many farmers were concerned with removing excess water from their cropland, other farmers were taking action to retain water in their pasture areas. A total of 31 stock water pits were also constructed with SCS assistance during the year, bringing the total to date to 198. Pits were still being dug as of December 17 this year.

Farmers wishing to obtain assistance with drainage in 1963 must make their requests early since all drainage applications, whether for layout assistance or for cost-share assistance, must be cleared with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. This federal department, under new legislation enacted in 1962, is given 90 days to approve or dis-approve of any and all drainage projects.

Postmaster Lists Office Schedule

Special Christmas hours at the Thief River Falls post office will come to a close this weekend, according to R. J. Dryden, postmaster. Regular hours will be observed on Saturday when window service will end at noon.

No Sunday mail delivery will take place on December 23 although mail will be distributed at the post office for pick-up by box-holders. Regular mail delivery and window service will be observed on Monday, Christmas Eve. Only special delivery mail and perishables will be distributed on Christmas Day.

County Fair Board Names Oen Chairman

Election Held Monday At Director Meeting In County Courthouse

To elect officers and discuss other business demanding immediate attention, directors of Pennington County Fair Association, Inc., met Monday afternoon at the county courthouse in Thief River Falls. Thirteen members of the 17-member board were present for the session.

Ray Oen, who headed the organizational committee to originate the new organization, was elected president of the association. Donovan Bruggeman was named vice president and Wilbur Hallstrom was elected treasurer. The office of secretary has not as yet been filled since the director elected in absentia has declined the office.

Although the Pennington County Agricultural Society has not yet fulfilled its expectations to dissolve, directors of the new association initiated plans for operation of the 1963 county fair. Donovan Bruggeman was selected to attend the state meeting of county fair officers in early January together with a board member from the society. This will provide the new organization with a knowledge of general procedure.

The board also authorized the payment of bills incurred in the formation of the association and for the secretary and treasurer to purchase necessary supplies. They also designated the treasurer and either president or secretary as co-signors on checks issued by the association and voted a $5,000 bond for the treasurer.

Opinions in regard to the 1963 fair operation were expressed but no definite action was taken. The concensus of opinion seemed to be toward the elimination of professional grandstand entertainment in favor of locally-produced activities.

Salvation Army Christmas Event

Annual Christmas program for the Salvation Army congregation will be held Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in the citadel with the public invited to attend. A color movie entitled "The Spirit of Christmas" will be shown and a program of recitations and special music will follow.

Envoy Carl Paulson of the local Salvation Army unit has urged support of the Christmas kettle campaign for funds and the letter appeal which has also met with slow response. "Your donations will help make Christmas merrier for others less fortunate than you." Envoy Paulson said.

Clearwater Gets Wetland Project

A new wetland project in Clearwater county will provide duck hunters with a 200 acre marsh to hunt on next season, the conservation department's game and fish division reports.

Called the "Little Pine" project, the marsh was created through the use of dikes and a water control structure.

The Little Pine area was acquired under the "Save Minnesota's Wetlands" program which to date has purchased or optioned over 112,000 acres of wetlands in 72 Minnesota counties.

Detroit Lakes Youths Discover Fun Expensive

Five Forfeit Bonds of $195 in Court Here After Police Arrests

Five boys from Detroit Lakes found Thief River Falls an expensive place to do some pre-New Year celebrating last week. One was charged by city police on four different counts, another on two counts and three others on single charges. The cases were brought before municipal court here Monday.

Dennis Meyer forfeited bond of $35 for possession of an altered driver's license, $25 for using foul and obscene language on a public street, $15 for possession of liquor by a minor and $25 for having an open bottle of liquor in a motor vehicle.

William Storm Jr., rt. 2, Detroit Lakes, forfeited bond of $25 for having an open bottle of liquor in a motor vehicle and $15 for possession of liquor by a minor. Roger Wilson, Ronald Clark and Steven Taves, all of Detroit Lakes, each forfeited bond of $15 for possession of liquor by a minor.

Albert Doyea, Brooks, waived preliminary hearing on a charge of fourth degree arson and was bound over to district court on $1,000 bond.

Other city police cases included Theodore Booth, city, failure to yield right-of-way, accident involved, $25 fine with $10 suspended; Clayton Blom, Middle River, improper turn, fined $15 with $5 suspended; Doris Martens, city, driving after suspension of driver's license, fined $15 and license plates and title card impounded; and Bennie Borreson, Strathcona, driving while under the influence of liquor, accident involved, fined $100 and driver's license revoked, and open bottle of liquor in a motor vehicle, fined $25.

State highway patrol cases included Robert Hoard, city, speeding, $15 bond forfeited; and John Haglund, Holt, no valid driver's license, $30 bond forfeited.

Overflow Crowd at Yule Concert

Lincoln High Musicians Give Excellent Program

Climaxing the holiday observance in the local schools, the Christmas program presented Tuesday evening by Lincoln high school music groups attracted an overflow audience to the school auditorium, more than 100 persons being turned away.

Participating in the excellent rendition of Christmas music were the orchestra, directed by James Solsten, and the senior choir, Lincoln Singers and junior high school chorus, all directed by Bryant Ulseth.

A Nativity scene graced the stage, with Everett Marshall, speech instructor, narrating the Christmas story. Gloria Philipp and Myrna Weckworth were student directors.

School Board Votes 5 to 2 To Revive Building Plans

ON TRIAL at district court in Warren on a charge of second degree murder is Paul Wangberg of Thief River Falls. He is shown leaving the courtroom Tuesday ahead of Milan Sorenson, Marshall county deputy sheriff, at the conclusion of the day's testimony. During the trial Wangberg is being held at the Polk county jail at Crookston since there is no full-time jailor at Warren, according to Oscar C. Erickson, Marshall county sheriff.

Rebuttals Begin In Wangberg Trial

Three Inducted by Lions Wednesday

R. J. Dryden, Arnt Aune, James Wilson Join Club

Three new members were inducted into the local Lions club Wednesday noon in a ceremony conducted by Stanley Mortenson, past president. Joining the group formally were R. J. Dryden, postmaster; Arnt Aune, director of the area vocational school; and James Wilson, manager of the TRF telephone exchange.

Envoy Carl Paulson of the Salvation Army displayed a new trophy to be awarded to one of four local service groups which collects the most money for the Army during the current Christmas season. The Lions contributed a substantial amount in a special collection taken up at the meeting.

James Parkins reported on his attendance at anniversary parties staged last week by the Goodridge and Newfolden Lions clubs.

SCHOOLS CLOSE FRIDAY FOR CHRISTMAS RECESS

The local schools will close Friday afternoon for the Christmas holiday recess, and classes will resume Monday morning, January 7.

Defense Rests Case After Attempts To Prove Youth Insane

Prosecution and defense attorneys have rested their cases in the second degree murder trial of Paul Wangberg, Thief River Falls youth, at Ninth District court in Warren. Wangberg is charged with the fatal shooting of Donald Myers, Thief River Falls police sergeant, following a chase north of this city on highway 32. Rebuttal witnesses are now being called by the prosecution as the trial continues.

In opening statements, the prosecution stated it planned to show the shooting was "deliberate, with design, and without excuse or justification" while the defense stated it planned to show that Wangberg "was not a juvenile delinquent, to prove that he was insane at the time of the shooting and to indicate the possibility of an accident connected with Wangberg's emotional state of that night."

Warren A. Saetre, Marshall county attorney, is prosecuting the case for the state while the law firm of H. O. Chommie and C. L. Charlson, Thief River Falls, represents the defense. A number of witnesses have testified in regard to various aspects of the case and the person involved. Major witness for the defense was Dr. Howard C. Reid, director of the Upper Mississippi Mental Health Center at Bemidji.

Psychiatrist Testifies

Appearing on the stand Tuesday, Dr. Reid stated that he had given psychiatric examination to Paul Wangberg at the direction of District Judge Arnold Forbes on March 28, 29 and 30. He had prepared a detailed history of the defendant by interviewing people to evaluate his thinking abilities and by observing his actions.

Apparently laying grounds for the defense' plea of insanity, Dr. Reid listed points in the defendant's life which, in his opinion, provided a basis for his medical opinion that Wangberg was suffering from severe mental illness. He termed the illness as "schizophrenia, undifferentiated type with paranoid trends." This he described to the jury as a split or difference in how a person looks and the manner and way in which he may think.

Dr. Reid said it was his opinion that the illness was a slow, evolutionary process which becomes a way of life. He said that he believed the defendant had been

Adopt Resolution Wednesday After Heated Debate

As a result of a five to two split decision by the Thief River Falls board of education at an adjourned meeting last evening, another bond issue proposal is in the offing. By the majority vote, the board approved a resolution calling for construction of a new junior high school and 10-room elementary school at a cost not to exceed $1,495,000

Rufus Olson introduced the resolution and moved its adoption with John Burtness seconding the motion. The resolution placed the board on record as favoring such construction and further called for T. G. Evenson & Co., bonding attorneys, to meet with the board and prepare a method of payment for such construction.

Third portion of the resolution contained instructions to the architectural firm of Hammel & Green to prepare preliminary sketches of such buildings for presentation to the board. The bond issue twice defeated earlier this year was for $1,595,000 or $100,000 more than the amount called for in Wednesday's resolution.

Opinion Presented

In presenting his resolution, Olson reviewed the needs of the district in regard to space for the educational program as outlined by the administration and shown in school census reports.

He stated his belief that building was necessary, that both a junior high school and elementary facilities were needed and that construction would benefit not only elementary and secondary students but the vocational school as well. He also considered the Doman report recommendations on school needs to be factual and correct.

Noting that current rentals cost the district more than $13,500 annually and that additional rental estimated at $7,500 annually would be needed if no construction took place, Olson said the building program could be handled with little increased cost to the taxpayer.

He said that capital outlay would decrease by more than $32,000 from the present payments by 1965. With further yearly deductions on existing bonds and the rent saved by owning facilities, he said, the bonds for building would not need to increase the mill levy significantly from its present rate. Other costs of school operation, however, can not be predicted.

Opinion Contested

In a stormy session following the presentation of the resolution, K. Russell Anderson maintained that sufficient study had not been made of alternatives to the proposal. He expressed the opinion that since he and Howard Hoel had been elected to the board, their proposals had not been given adequate consideration by the five other board members.

Anderson further contended that several weeks of looking at possible alternatives was not sufficient time to make a proper decision. He said that more intensive studies

Many Alumni To Attend Reunion

LHS Christian Fellowship Luncheon Set Dec. 29th

Response to invitations show that alumni of the Lincoln High School Christian Fellowship club from both coasts and other points in the United States plan to attend the reunion to be held December 29 at 7:30 p. m. in the Mission Covenant church in Thief River Falls. It will be the first reunion since the club began 13 years ago

Younger members of the club will serve as ushers and waitresses for the evening candlelight luncheon which will feature toasts and greetings from former presidents and special music number by previous members. The luncheon will feature Christmas cookies, bars, sandwiches, tea, coffee and other holiday trimmings.

All former and present members of the club are urged to attend. Tickets are available from Lois Drotts, club secretary, 509 Markley av. S.

Beverly Severson and Don Lindbo Are Married

Beverly Lynn Severson and Don Arthur Lindbo exchanged nuptial vows Saturday evening Dec. 15, in the First Methodist Church of Grand Forks, with Rev. Earl Butz performing the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Severson, and of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lindbo of Rolla, N. D. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Severson of this city are the bride's paternal grandparents, and the maternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. James Patten, also of this city.

Mrs. George G. Finlay was at the organ for the processionals and accompanied Pamela Wilson, soloist.

The bride was gowned in a white silk floor-length sheath dress fashioned with chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a pearl crown. She carried a Cymbidium orchid in a setting of white feathered carnations and holly.

Gail Severson, the bride's sister, and Raanne Sullivan and Janice Spangelo, sorority sisters of the bride in Kappa Alpha Theta, were her attendants. Their identically-styled gowns were of Kelly green velveteen fashioned with bell skirts and cabbage rose headpieces of the same material. They carried red carnations and holly.

Best man was Charles Juntuen of Rolla, while the groomsmen were Rolfe Sobolik and Dean Hall, the groom's brother-in-law. Ushering duties were shared by his brothers, Harland and Larry Lindbo. Mr. Juntunen and Mr. Rolfe are Phi Delta Theta fraternity brothers of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Cutting the cake were Mrs. Otto Stenberg of this city, the bride's aunt, and Mrs. Dean Hall, sister of the groom, while Mary Ann Lanning and Margaret Stefonowicz poured.

The couple will make their home in Tennessee temporarily, following a honeymoon trip to Winnipeg, Manitoba, Can.

Both are graduates of the University of North Dakota, and Mr. Lindbo, a lieutenant in the Air Force, recently completed pilot training at Reese AFB in Texas. He will receive additional training in Tennessee, after which they will leave for Tachikawa AFB in Japan, where the lieutenant will be stationed.

Mrs. Duane McFarland Is Shower Guest

A baby shower, honoring Mrs. Duane McFarland was held at the Leland Enge home on Thursday, December 6. Hostesses were Mrs. Enge and Mrs. John Jorgensen.

The evening was spent in playing games, after which the gifts were presented to the guest of honor, opened, and lunch was served.

In attendance, in addition to Mrs. McFarland, were Mmes. Milton Burstad, Ronald Engen, Oliver Mossestad, Morris Roadfelt, Ralph Foster, Clarence Waldera, and Camille DuChamp. Sending gifts but not able to be present were Mmes. Charles Krause, John Drury, Ferdie Anderson, Evie Beadle, and Bella Tollefson.

In Appreciation—

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to each and everyone for your many acts of kindness toward me during my twenty years as your County Superintendent of schools. It has been a privilege to work with you and for you. May the good Lord bless you and keep you and may you have a Blessed Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Sincerley,

Martha Matheson

Gloria Ekwall, Lester Jasperson Wed December 8

At a simple ceremony at the Ecklund Lutheran Church, Miss Gloria Constance Ekwall, daughter of Carl Ekwall and the late Mrs. Ekwall of Goodridge, became the bride of Lester Jesperson of Plummer. The wedding took place on Saturday, December 8 at 4 p. m., with Rev. A. B. Heltne performing the double-ring ceremony.

Providing traditional nuptial music was Nancy Stucy, a cousin of the bride, who presided at the organ. Faye Stucy, also a cousin of the bride, sang, "O Perfect Love," immediately before the exchange of vows.

The bride wore a royal blue double knit sheath dress with white gloves and hat. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklance and earring set, her gift from the groom, and her corsage was of pink sweetheart roses and white baby carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Wittman of Warren, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, were the couple's only attendants. Mrs. Wittman chose a sheath dress of red wool, accessorized with a white hat and gloves, a gift from the bride. Her corsage was an all-white floral arrangement.

The men of the party wore dark business suits with white carnation boutonnieres.

The groom's mother wore a medium blue wool dress with black accessories. She had a corsage similar to that worn by the bride.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party were given a turkey supper at the home of the groom's parents. Centering the table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a bridal couple in miniature. The cake was decorated by Mrs. Oscar Houske. Following a short social hour, the bridal couple opened their gifts.

The bride graduated from Goodridge high school this spring and is at present employed at Sears Roebuck and Co. in Minneapolis. The groom attended Lincoln high school in Thief River Falls, and later took a course in carpentry at the area vocational school in this city. He is in the employ of Riley Construction Co. in Minneapolis.

The newlyweds will make their home at 3125 Harriet Ave. South, in that city.

Caroline Stennes, Charles Farmer Exchange Vows

An informal wedding took place Sunday afternoon, December 16, in the Bethesda Lutheran Church at Strandquist, when Miss Caroline Stennes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stennes, and Charles (Gene) Farmer of Menlo Park, Calif. recited their marriage vows. Rev. C. Lindgren officiated at the service, using the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Gilman Stennes, aunt of the bride, sang a solo, accompanied by Miss Carol Holmstrom.

Larry Stennes, Joliet, Ill., the brother of the bride, attended the groom as best man, while her sister, Mrs. Cameron Thibodo of Stephen, attended the bride as matron of honor.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Stennes chose for her wedding a brown knit suit with brown halo hat and an orchid corsage. The matron of honor wore a blue wool dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses and white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a black dress and a corsage of red roses with a pink ribbon bow accent.

The groom's suit was gray and that of his attendant was black. Each wore a white carnation boutonniere.

The bridal party was honored at a reception at the Ed Stennes home. Attending were the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Gilmen Stennes and Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stennes and Wendy, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thibodo, Susie and Diane, and Mrs. Harold Hope, all of Stephen; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kranz and Carol Holmstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Farmer, and the Rev. Lindgren family.

The couple left for Menlo Park, California, on Sunday. They plan to make their home in that city.

Elaine's
CHATTER

The glowing countenance of children . . . The friendliness of strangers on the street . . . Men and women rushing along with last-minute purchases, mumbling to themselves . . . Strolling carolers singing the old familiar tunes . . . The smell of pine and the red buds of holly . . . The laughter and shouting . . . The sadness and tears . . . All of it together means but one thing . . . It is Christmas Eve!

From now until doomsday, there will be speculation as to what it is all about. Deep in our hearts, we know it is the time to remember and let the two Commandments left by the one whose birthday we honor, take effect: "Love God, who is everything and everywhere, and love thy neighbor as thyself." If, for only one day, twenty-four little hours, we come a little closer to this, we will find what the world is seeking . . . Peace.

We, at Elaine's, have enjoyed serving you this Christmas season; it has been a privilege and a pleasure. We wish to thank you from way down deep for the confidence you have placed in us and our merchandise.

Just like everyone else, we are already making plans for next Christmas. We would like to have a sound truck . . . Just think of the fun we could have riding around the community giving a special greeting to everyone! You could listen to our chatter with no commercial at all.

You would hear Bert, Hulda, Lila, Sharon, "Keks," Matt, Myrt and Rudy shouting at the tops of our voices . . . Merry Christmas to all and to all good night!

Tuesday Is Quietest Day on Trunk Routes

If you want to take a trip when traffic is lightest on a rural trunk highway, what day would you pick?

The answer is provided in the 1961 booklet entitled "Minnesota Rural Trunk Highway and Local Rural Road Travel" compiled by the Minnesota highway department in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. Statistics on this and many more problems were gathered by actual field work in 1961—as they have been each year since 1936. This continuing research provides the facts upon which the department can base its judgment of where and what kind of roads to build to meet specific conditions.

Tuesday is the day for quiet travel — though that is a relative term. Its percentage distribution of travel is set at 11.8 which represents 597,000,000 vehicle miles. A relative comparison can be made with the heaviest day—Sunday, when the percentage is 18.4 and the vehicle miles are 930,000,000. The days in order of volume are: Tuesday, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday, Friday and Sunday.

The percentage of daily travel performed during each hour of the day determined from these statistics changes with normal variations in the tempo of business and social activities. Less than three-quarters of one per cent of all daily travel is performed between 3 and 4 a. m. and almost eight percent is performed between 4 and 5 p. m. — easily recognized as "rush hour".

These variations illustrate why motorists traveling during off-peak hours find many sections of the rural trunk system adequate for their needs while other motorists who travel the same sections during peak travel hours are constantly encountering delays due to congestion.

About 52 per cent of the total travel on rural trunk highways is performed between 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. and about 75 per cent is performed during the all daylight hours.

Sunday travel generally peaks during the late afternoon and early evening hours. During these peak hours, routes frequently become congested because most of the traffic tends to be moving in one direction. Studies made on U. S. 169 South of Onamia revealed that as much as 75 per cent of this peak hour traffic is moving southbound and only 25 per cent is moving northbound. Fortunately, travel by tractor-semitrailers during these peak hours is almost non-existent.

Mrs. Victor Kvikstad attended a silver tea on Sunday at Mahnomen in honor of Miss Gretchen Berge, the fiancee of her son James.

Rebuttals Begin In Paul Wangberg Trial At Warren

"harboring the seeds" for many years and that the manifestations appeared during a six-month period in which the youth was involved in several alterations. He added that he believed the weakening of restraining forces when the youth attended college contributed to his inability to handle the controls over his inner emotions.

Cites Mental Illness

In response to questions from C. L. Charlson, Dr. Reid gave the following opinions: That schizophrenia was present in the youth on the night of the shooting; that following an altercation with his father the same evening he was unable to control hostilities in a usual socially acceptable manner; that there was a relationship between what happened in the home and the shooting later that night; and that, if the youth did shoot the policeman, that the shooting was a product of his mental disease.

Under cross-examination by Warren Saetre on Wednesday, Dr. Reid said it was his opinion that the defendant had an awareness and knew the nature of his act but did not appreciate the consequences and that the criminal act was a product of a mentally ill person.

Testifying on his observations in regard to the case, Dr. Reid said the early rearing of the defendant had been extremely strict and rigid and his life very carefully regimented and planned. "As he grew he did not develop as comfortable a relationship with his parents as they would have wanted or he would have wanted," he said. "It was difficult for the boy to show affection, and he became a very lonesome and retiring individual."

As he grew older, the defendant developed a pattern of perfection, particularly in athletics, and placed himself on unusual and excessively rigid diets, the psychiatrist said. He was disappointed in athletics because he expected to excel as a result of his extreme effort but was unable to do so because he did not possess the innate ability.

No Love for Father

Referring to a "difficult relationship" with the defendant's father, Rev. R A. Wangberg, Dr. Reid said that in his interviews with the defendant "he was unable to detect any love that this boy had for his father".

Dr. Reid referred several times to what he termed "suicidal tendencies" in the youth, stating it was his opinion that several altercations in which Wangberg had been involved had been suicide attempts. He said the youth was moody and sullen and went out of his way to be aggressive. He also stated that a fight between the defendant and his room mate in college was prompted by the youth and that, according to the boy's testimony, he would have killed his room mate if other students hadn't stopped him.

He said the interviews found the youth in an attitude of "studied relaxation" which give a feeling of "intellectual insolence". He referred to "candid" testimony when the defendant "acted as if he were playing a game." There was a striking absence of any ordinary feeling of anxiety or concern in the defendant during the interviews, Dr. Reid added.

"I was unable to elicit any real depression—any feeling of sympathy, remorse, guilt or grief," Dr. Reid said of his interview. He added that the youth was childish in his reasoning and philosophy of life and primitive in this thinking.

Youth "Wanted to Die"

The psychiatrist also said Wangberg told him, "I am going to prison—I want to go to prison—and as soon as I get there I am going to commit suicide." He planned to do this, Dr. Reid said, by scaling the wall so that the guards would have to shoot him. Dr. Reid added that the defendant told him he wanted the police to kill him after the February 17 chase and that he wanted to do this to "get back" at his father.

Tests showed the defendant to have an Intelligence Quotient (IA) of 123 which would place him in the upper six per cent of the nation's population, Dr. Reid said

The psychiatrist said the youth did not recall loading the deer rifle used in the shooting when he talked with him and that the defendant believed the gun had discharged due to the temperature change from inside to outside the car. Reid said the youth told him "his head was so full he couldn't think—that he wanted to die—and that he wanted to kill somebody." He said the defendant recalled seeing the policeman coming at him—that he wanted the officer to shoot him—that he felt himself covered by someone and was surprised that he was alive.

Dr. Donald DeKrey, psychologist at the Bemidji health center, reported on his tests Wednesday. Following his testimony the defense rested its case and the calling of rebuttal witnesses began. Appearing in rebuttal for the prosecution were Eugene Prestegaard Pennington county deputy sheriff; Charles Richards, Pennington county sheriff; Oliver Swanson and Warren Larson, all of Thief River Falls. The four men had served as guards while Wangberg was confined to Northwestern hospital and recovering from bullet wounds he has sustained in the incident.

When court adjourned Wednesday, the prosecution had just called to the stand Dr. Burton Grimes, psychiatrist and superintendent of the state security hospital at St. Peter. He was being questioned this morning to provide the prosecution with rebuttal evidence by the state in regard to the sanity of the defendent.

Trial of the Wangberg youth was ordered after Grimes released him from the hospital where he was adjudged sane and responsible to stand trial.

School District Board Revives Building Plans

should be made with the hope that the entire board could be in agreement on a solution to the problem.

Board members responded that the situation and possible solution had been studied for several years and that the solution seems to return to the initial proposal. In being questioned by the board, school administrators agreed that the proposal outlined in the resolution would be "adequate for the foreseeable future".

Voting in favor of the resolution were Olson, Burtness, Robert Bredeson, Lloyd Howick and Morris Owen. Opposing were Anderson and Howard Hoel. A tentative date of January 7 was set for a meeting of the board with the bonding attorneys to determine a method of payment. A roll-call vote was requested by Anderson on this motion, and the same five to two majority prevailed.

In the only other business transacted at the adjourned meeting, the board unanimously approved a motion presented by Anderson that minutes of board meetings be published in the next issue of the legal newspaper following approval of the minutes by the board.

Peterson Named Dist. U.S. Savings Bond Head

E. O. Peterson, board chairman of Union State Bank in Thief River Falls, has been appointed U. S. savings bonds district 1 chairman, it was announced by Rollin O. Bishop, state chairman of the Minnesota savings bonds committee. District 1 includes Clearwater, Kittson, Mahnomen, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau counties.

Peterson succeeds the late L. H. "Lee" Evereth formerly president of 1st National Bank, East Grand Forks, who had served the savings bonds program since the War Finance Division years. During these 20 years he had received citations, medallion, pins and the "Eisenhower Award" in recognition of his continuous valuable service to this important program.

Peterson is not new to the savings bonds program. In 1942 he organizated five northwest counties for bonds and was appointed to the Pennington county volunteer committee. For a number of years he has been serving as banker advisor.

Peterson was born, educated and started his banking career in North Dakota. He has served as an officer at the State Bank, Warwick, N. D., First National Bank, Browns Valley; First National Bank, Belle Plaine; became president of the Union State Bank, Thief River Falls, in 1938 and director and board chairman in 1959.

A U. S. Navy veteran, he is active in banking organizations, civic affairs and fraternal organizations, American Legion, VFW, Masons, Elks, Thief River Falls Golf Club and Sportsmen's Club.

His family are sons James P. with Westinghouse in N. Y., Edward A. with State Farm Mutual in St. Paul, and daughter, Mrs. Ara L. Burwell, wife of Lt. Rodney P. Burwell, 24th Engr. Bn. at Nurenberg-Furth, Germany.

The ability to play an outstanding game of hockey is one of Thief River Falls' claims to fame. This is an undisputed fact that is proven by the records of Minnesota hockey history. Several state championships have been chalked up by the Prowlers and the Thieves. My suspicion at the moment is that 1963 will find Thief River Falls taking at least one state hockey championship so all other competition had better beware.

Coach Gene Snek's team is on the ice now and working hard at brushing up their game. With a high school team it is often difficult to predict just what will happen by the season's end. Therefore, I'll only wish them luck and hope that they play their usual hard-fought game and if they do that I am confident that they can match anyone they will meet this year.

With the Thieves team, however, I will predict that they will battle their way down to the state tournament in the amateur finals and will win it. The Thieves are well-organized this year under Clarence Amiot and Dale Glass as I understand it and are legally entered into a league with communities surrounding us here in Northwest Minnesota. Among others, we understand that Joey Poole will be playing this year and that in itself will be quite an addition to the lineup. Joey's brother, Jackie, plays with the U. S. Olympic team and local observers tell me that Joey plays just as good a game, so that sounds good.

The thing that the Prowlers and the Thieves will need this year is a lot of support from you folks in town and in the area. Hockey is the fastest, gamiest contact sport in America and some of the best of the game is played right here in Thief River Falls. Therefore we can assure continuance of this claim to fame by really turning out for what promises to be a really hot competitive year. There will be some Canadian teams down as well as towns from all around our area.

So let's all be Hockey Boosters, let's have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year and be sure to Shop and Trade Where Bargains Are Made—Here in the Heart of Northwest Minnesota, Thief River Falls.

John McNamara Dies At Walker; Rites Here Friday

John McNamara, who lived in the Newfolden community for many years, passed away on Monday, December 17 at Walker at the age of 80.

Final rites will be held on Friday morning, December 21 at 10 o'clock in the Green Funeral Chapel, Rev. Marvin O. Carlson will officiate. Interment will be made in the Oak Grove cemetery at Newfolden. The body may be viewed at the funeral home until time of the services on Friday.

Mr. McNamara was a native of Brookings, S. D., having been born there on June 8, 1882, and coming to Alma township east of Argyle at the age of 18, with his family.

He married Miss Lydia Sundmark in this city in 1918. They farmed in Alma township until 1940, when they moved to New Maine township, near Newfolden, where they continued farming until 1959, when Mr. McNamara retired because of ill health. He has been hospitalized since his retirement.

Surviving are his wife, Lydia, four sons, LeRoy, of South St. Paul; William, Chicago, Ill.; Johnnie, Seattle, Wash.; and Ralph, Fort Lewis, Wash.; three daughters, Mrs. James (Josephine) Kleinvachter, Sauk Center; Mrs. Dorothy Woolridge of Oroville, Calif.; and Mrs. Frank (Janet) Stanina of Pengilly. Also surviving are 17 grandchildren.

Mr. McNamara was preceded in death by two daughters, one son, and one sister.

The Wayne Wegges and daughter Taunya of Middle River, were weekend guests at the home of Mr. Wegge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wegge.

Rites Today for Peter Sater, 86, Area Pioneer

Peter Sater, a resident of the community for over 60 years, died on Tuesday morning, December 18 at Northwestern hospital at the age of 86 years.

Funeral services will be conducted this (Thursday) afternoon at 2 p. m. in the Green Funeral Chapel, Rev. Marius Haakenstad will officiate, with burial to take place in the Rindal cemetery. The body is reposing at the funeral home until the time of the services.

Mr. Sater, born in Norway on June 12, 1876, came to America at the age of 18, and settled in this area. He was united in marriage to Miss Clara Stoe on November 8, 1921, in this city and has been a resident of the city for over half a century, having been employed in various capacities, among them being the position of janitor at Northrop school for over 15 years.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Vernon (Lydia) Mellem, of Forest River, N. D. and two sons, Clifford, of this city, and Robert, of Great Falls, Mont. Also surviving are three grandchildren, and one brother who still lives in Norway.

Preceding him in death were his wife, one sister, and one brother.

Services For Willie Larson To Be Held Friday

Services for Willie Larson, 63, a Holt township resident who died unexpectedly at Middle River on December 15, will be held on Friday, December 21, at 2 o'clock at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church of Ringbo. Reverend Richard Snipstead will officiate, with interment to be made in the church cemetery, and arrangements by Collins Funeral Home of Middle River.

Mr. Larson was born in Holt township on November 3, 1899, attending school and growing to manhood there.

He was united in marriage to Miss Hattie Olson December 12, 1927. They lived in Minneapolis for a year, moving to Holt in 1928. Always taking an active interest in community affairs, Mr. Larson served on township and school boards at various times.

Survivors include his wife, two foster-sons, Clifford of Holt, and Joseph, of Seattle, Wash.; three sisters, Miss Amanda Larson and Mrs. Lydia Olson of this city, and Mrs. James Maneles of Valley City, N. D.; and two brothers, Leonard Larson of Tacoma, Wash., and Albert, of International Falls.

Preceding Mr. Larson in death were his parents and three brothers.

Mrs. W. Spillman, Former Resident, Dies In Wisconsin

Mrs. Walker Spillman, the former Elsie Rehm, passed away suddenly at her home in Waukesha, Wisc. on December 11 at the age of 54. Funeral services were held in Wisconsin on December 15.

Elsie is the daughter of the late Otto Rehm and Mrs. Rehm. She grew to womanhood in this community.

Surviving are her husband, Walker, a son Nickolas, and one grandaughter; her mother, two sisters, Mrs. Orlie (Marie) Haldahl of this city, Mrs. Claude (Dorothy) Johnson of Strandquist, and three brothers, Martin and Joe Rehm of Thief River Falls, and Allen Rehm of Monica, Ill.

T. E. Gilthvedt, Father of Mrs. M. Burrell, Dies

T. Erling Gilthvedt, Grygla, father of Mrs. Melford Burrell of this city, died at the Roseau Area hospital on December 14 at the age of 84. His health had been failing since August of this year.

Funeral services were held on December 18 at the Grace Lutheran church at Grygla with Rev. Julian Erickson conducting the rites. Helgeson Funeral Home of Roseau handled the arrangements. Burial took place in the Northwood cemetery at Grygla.

Mr. Gilthvedt was born in Oslo, Norway, on October 18, 1878. He came to America with his parents at the age of two. They settled originally in Wisconsin, later moving to Foldahl township near Middle River. In 1907 he married Miss Bengta Modin in Roseau county, and that same year took up farming on a homestead in Northwood township near Grygla.

Survivors include his wife, five children, Mrs. Lyle (Daphne) Thieling, Bloomington; Earl, Roseau; Vernon and Russell of Grygla, and Mrs. Melford (Eunice) Burrell of this city. Also surviving are 9 grandchildren, 7 great-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Edward Larson of Portland, Ore.

Mr. Gilthvedt was preceded in death by two brothers and two sisters.

February 1 Set As Date for Annual Seed & Feed Show

Pennington County Seed Growers association set the date for the 6th annual Seed and Feed Show as Friday, February 1, when details of the event were discussed at a meeting Friday. The session was held after the close of the specialty crops meeting at the courthouse in Thief River Falls.

Program for this event will be a discussion of RAD (Rural Area Development) according to Silas Hanson, president. Speakers will be secured and announced at a later date. This will be a public meeting so everyone concerned with or interested in RAD is urged to keep this date open.

Peter Probasco, vocational agriculture instructor at Lincoln high school, will co-ordinate a grain clinic held for FFA members. Four surrounding schools are expected to participate, Probasco stated.

Laura Duerst, home agent, stated that home councilors will examine possible topics for a women's section in the program. This will be done at the next meeting. The association went on record to offer exhibit premiums and ribbons to any homemaker exhibits that may be brought in for display.

The crop association reduced their fees for exhibit booths to one-half of previous amounts for this year only. "In view of the bad crop year and our association's sound financial position, members decided to carry most of the cost burden of the show this year," stated treasurer Edgar Naplin.

The dairy industry will again combine to set up exhibits under the leadership of Art Stenberg. This was done effectively last year and the group is planning similar entries this year.

The exhibits this year will again include grain, corn, potatoes, silage and hay samples. This was a bad year for crops but it is hoped farmers, 4-H members, and FFA members will prepare samples for the show in an effort to advertize and promote agriculture in general. All above groups are urged to take part in exhibiting.

Grain samples can be brought to the county agent's office as soon as they are ready. Premium money will be paid on all lots of entries as in the past even though the cost to sponsor the show will be cut in half this year.

Co-operating in staging the event are the seed and feed dealers, financial institutions, REA, Pennington county, the Chamber of Commerce, and the original sponsor of the show, the Pennington Crop Improvement association.

GRADUATE of the University of Minnesota school of chemistry December 15 with a major in chemical engineering is James Alan Kvikstad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kvikstad of Thief River Falls. He is a past president of the University Toastmasters club. In January he will begin employment with the film division of DuPont in Buffalo, N.Y.

The Library Corner

The Christmas spirit has invaded the library. (However, the librarians are not giving books — only lending them to cardholders). Members of the "Friends of the Library" donated a yule tree and decorations, plus time, so patrons would be further instilled with the meaning of the season while browsing a bit.

Quite in keeping with the time of year are the selections placed at strategic points around the premises. New books and old ones which tell "the story" are available for both the young and the older to borrow and enjoy. Each lifts the spirits of the reader and gladdens his heart. Titles range from "The Littlest Angel" to "Charlie From Yonder" on the juvenile side and from Roy Roger's "My Favorite Christmas Story" to "So This Is Christmas".

The Carnegie Public Library isn't all Christmas books this time of year, though. There's the new sensational selection "Child of the Dark" which is actually the diary of Carolina Maria de Jesus telling of her life in the slums of Sao Paulo, Brazil. The sophisticate will read this shocking story of one woman's life and become appalled at the sordid, day-by-day existence as she fights for survival for herself and three children.

The book has sold more copies than any other book in Brazilian history. Any person interested in the world today and its inhabitants and in what causes Communism and want to find out how it keeps its way into human lives and thoughts, needs only to read "Child of the Dark" for a very abrupt and shudder-producing answer. The reader may be startled and he may be shocked but whether he is or isn't, one thing is for sure. . . he'll never be quite the same again!

Harry Golden's "You're Entitled" will do double duty — amuse and amaze. Those who were pleased with "For 2-cents Plain" and "Enjoy, Enjoy", will realize the author was in fine fettle when he wrote his latest. The cosmopolitan flavor satisfies the appetite of the most avid fan but leaves him hungry for another Golden entree.

James Bassett writes of Rear Adm. Rockwell (The Rock) Torrey, one of the professionals who fought during the first year of the Pacific war in 1942.

It's a story of Annapolis graduates and petty officers and enlisted men and the war and battles. It's the story of a man and his emotions and the name of the book is "Harm's Way". This tale of naval valor in the Pacific will quite probably be remembered and reread through the years for it is undoubtedly one of the highlights of the 1962 publishing season.

Come browse a bit at Carnegie — where there is always something interesting on the shelves.

Ev. Free Church Gives Cantata Sunday Evening

Evangelical Free Church of Thief River Falls will present a Christmas cantata entitled "The Christmas Song of Songs" on Sunday, Dec. 23, at 8 p. m. in the church. The choir is under the direction of Orville Trontvet. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Having special singing parts in the presentation are Mr. and Mrs. Everett Kompellien, Mrs. Roger Nygaard, Miss Carol Carlson, Mrs. Harold Vatthauer, Mrs. Clyde Christensen, Mrs. Orville Trontvet and Ronald Trontvet. Mrs. Floyd Dalzell is pianist with Roger Nygaard as narrator.

Soo Line to Add to Rolling Stock

The Soo Line Railroad announced in Minneapolis it plans to buy 244 freight cars and 22 new locomotives next year at a cost of about $7.5 million. The locomotives will be assigned to main-line service between Chicago, Ill.; the Twin Cities and Portal, N. D.

The new locomotives will permit retirement of 33 units now in service, the railroad said.

Decorations Are Easy with Versatile Goods

Holiday wreaths, Christmas trees, snow bunnies, snowmen and candelabrum which can be used year after year and are easy to make can be economically produced with the use of styrofoam balls and round toothpicks. The decorations can be used for mantelpiece, table top or window decorations.

Toothpick balls are made by taking 1½-inch styrofoam balls and inserting in each about 75 round toothpicks. Forms are then made by pushing the "pincushion" balls together, spraying with aerosol snow and adding glitter and miniature ornaments.

Perhaps the easiest and most seasonal is the Christmas wreath. To make one 16 inches in diameter you will need 12 styrofoam balls and eight boxes of 250-count round toothpicks. Make the toothpick balls and arrange them in a circle. With a piece of string about five feet long, make two turns around the outside of the circle, pulling tightly after each turn—finishing by making several turns through the inside of the wreath and tying. Spray with aerosol snow, add a ribbon and miniature ornaments to complete the wreath.

A tree can be made by using 16 balls, sticking about 125 toothpicks into each. Assembly is done by placing seven balls in a circle for bottom of tree, five on the next circle, three on the next and one on top. The tree may be mounted on a mirror, styrofoam base or large circular platter. Spray the tree with aerosol snow and add miniature ornaments.

A number of other ideas are available from stores selling styrofoam supplies.

Consider Safety When Buying Toys

'U' M. Specialist Offers Last-minute Suggestions

If you're doing some eleventh-hour toy shopping, take enough time to select a toy that will be appropriate to the age of the child and also one that will be safe for the child.

To be sure the toys you select are safe, Glenn Prickett, extension safety specialist at the University of Minnesota, suggests some questions to ask yourself before you buy:

Does the electrical toy carry the Underwriters' label insuring its' safety? Are definite instructions included for operation?

Has a non-poisonous paint been used on the toy?

Do dolls and stuffed animals have button eyes that may be bitten off and swallowed by young children?

Do metal cars and trucks have sharp corners that can cut the child?

Is the child for whom you want to buy a BB gun or a .22 caliber rifle really old enough to learn how to handle a gun safely?

Giving careful consideration to the safety of toys before buying them may prevent many an accident, the University safety specialist says.

35 Youngsters In One Year Must Be Record of Sorts

Sow on Ray Cameron Farm Near St. Hilaire Produces Three Litters

Any mother claiming 35 offspring may well be considered as having set some sort of a record. But to accomplish this amazing feat in only one year—this requires a bit of explanation.

A Duroc Jersey sow on the Ray Cameron farm west of St. Hilaire can lay claim to giving birth to 35 pigs in 1962 and saving every one of them. Owner and operator of a feeder pig enterprise featured in the Times about a year ago, Cameron has now built a colony barn and is farrowing 100 sows. He explained the feat of his favorite sow as follows:

In her first farrowing in January of 1962, the sow produced 10 pigs; in June she farrowed again with a litter of 11, and just recently she produced her third litter which numbered 14. All the pigs were healthy but at the last effort the sow out-did herself. At least two of the pigs will have to eat out since dining facilities at home are restricted to 12.

In 1962 Cameron's sows averaged nine pigs saved per litter—excellent production by the standards of any hog breeder. He expects to farrow 240 litters in 1963—selling to a commercial buyer who has easily been able to market all the feeder pigs he has been able to produce. Cameron told the Times that this market has been slightly higher than the Wisconsin Feeder Pig Marketing Cooperative which has been the most popular outlet in this area.

Donald Peterson Calls off Recount for Lt. Governor

Election Certificate Is Issued This Week to A. M. Keith, DFL Winner

A. M. Keith, Democratic-Farmer-Labor candidate who won the lieutenant governor's post, has a clear path toward certification after his Republican opponent, C. Donald Peterson, said Saturday he will not contest the election.

Peterson said he was asking Mrs. Bernice G. Levy of St. Paul, his campaign manager, to withdraw notice of contest which had been filed in court Dec. 3.

Keith won by 4,997 votes, according to returns of the state canvassing board, and the state supreme court refused to stay that announcement. However, the court had held up the official certificate, which was issued early this week by the secretary of state.

Peterson said he was contesting to have the certificate issued immediately "to avoid delay until Christmas."

The young DFL victor commented at Rochester he was glad to hear of Peterson's decision and said he hoped Peterson would continue his interest in state and metropolitan affairs.

Home Councillor Group Prepares Yuletide Favors

One-hundred and sixty-six favors were prepared Tuesday afternoon by the Pennington County home councillors and home chairman for the shut-ins. A short Christmas party was held with group singing and the Christmas story being read by Mrs. Ed Koglin of the Kratka homemakers group.

Those who served on the committee in charge were Mmes. James Erickson and Don Omdahl, Happy Homemakers; Ernest Swanson, Highlanding; Arnold Gunderson, Rocksbury; Oscar Houske, Smiley III; and Ernest Droppo, Helperettes.

A brief committee meeting was held to discuss the Food and Seed Show February 1. Women are invited to exhibit products that contain eggs. Rules will be written up shortly and publicized. Each homemaker will be eligible to take part and there will be awards presented to the first place winners in four different divisions. Also, it was suggested to have a demonstration in the afternoon on some topic using eggs in various ways.

The ladies on this committee are Mmes. Sheldon Joyner, Chat and Chew group; Edgar Naplin, Black River; and Ed Koglin, Kratka.

Candle Service At St. Hilaire Lutheran Church

Special effects will be used for emphasis at the Christmas Eve candlelight service to be held at 8 p. m. Monday at the St. Hilaire American Lutheran church. Each person attending will be given a candle to be lighted at the close of the service during the singing of "Silent Night".

Festal arrays of evergreen boughs and lighted candles will decorate the windows and the congregation and friends attending will join in singing of Christmas songs.

Meditation for the service will be "What the Birth of Christ Means to Me" and the choir will sing "Come, O Come Emmanuel" and "Angels We Have Heard on High". The public is invited to attend the service.

STATE winner in the adult division of the Make It Yourself with Wool contest held last week in Minneapolis was Mrs. Roger (Yvonne) Magnusson of Roseau. She entered state competition by winning the district contest at Thief River Falls in November.

Roseau Woman Is State Winner in Sewing Contest

Mrs. Roger Magnusson Repeats District Feat At Minneapolis Event

Mrs. Roger (Yvonne) Magnusson of Roseau, district winner in the adult division of the Make It Yourself with Wool contest held at Thief River Falls in November placed first in the adult division of the Minnesota event late last week. JoAnn Odegaard, Gonvick, last year's national senior division winner, was in charge of the state style show and modeling held at the Minneapolis YWCA.

Mrs. Magnusson modeled her charcoal brown Forstmann wool jacket and dress which were made from Vogue patterns. She competed against 10 other homemakers from all parts of the state and received a $15 award from George Amluxen Jr., of Amluxen's Fabric Shop in Minneapolis.

Robin Shalde of Perley, district junior winner, placed first in the junior dress division with her pumpkin-colored sheath dress made from a Simplicity pattern. She received a dress length of brown wool which she hopes to use in the 1963 district contest, according to Mrs. G. Milford Peterson, Crookston, district director. The state junior division winner was Patricia Bergland of Scandia.

Linda Thordahl of Gary received honorable mention in the senior division which was won by Elizabeth Clark of Barrett. She was awarded a wool skirt length. The national contest will be held in Las Vegas, Nev., in January.

Mrs. Lowell Collins Hosts BPW Yule Party

Mrs. Lowell Collins was hostess to the annual Business and Professional Women's Club Christmas party at her home on Tuesday night, December 18. A large group was in attendance at the 6:30 pot-luck supper which was served in the dining room in a setting of Christmas trees and the lighted tapers which formed the dining table centerpiece.

The costumes of the various members caused much hilarity as each put in a appearance, and set the mood for the gala evening. After supper the group enjoyed a social hour. Dispensing with the customary exchange of gifts, each member donated 50 cents for a charitable cause.

Ice cream and coffee, and candy which was sent in recognition of the group's being one of the top ten in the state in securing memberships, terminated a memorable evening.

Telephone Staff Anticipates Busy Christmas Holiday

Long-distance Operators in TRF Handled Total of 2,666 Calls Last Christmas

Christmas isn't a holiday for everyone. Many people — policemen, firemen, doctors, nurses, and those employed by other businesses which must remain open — are on duty both Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. Long-distance telephone operators are among this group.

Because Christmas is a time when families and friends want to be together, those who can't make it in person because of distance rely on the telephone for their reunion. This, and the fact that holiday rates apply, combine to make Christmas the busiest telephoning time of the year with more operators on duty, in many cases, then during a normal business day. Last Christmas 2,666 calls were placed thru the Thief River Falls exchange.

To handle this expected increase in calling, J. M. Wilson, Northwestern Bell Telephone Company manager here, suggests a few tips to those who plan to call their loved ones during the holiday:

If possible, call on Monday night or even Sunday when the special rates are also in effect. This will help spread out the heavy calling load and will result in calls going through faster.

Obtain the telephone number to be called well ahead of time. The call will go through much faster if the distant number is known beforehand.

PUBLIC OPINION

Dear Editor:

Santa Claus surely made a quick trip to Viking Saturday evening, so quick in fact a lot of kids didn't even get to see him. The hour was set from 8-9 p. m. but at 8:30 he was no where in sight. A little guy at our house is still asking about the Santa that wasn't there. There were quite a few disappointed country kids that evening, and some disgusted parents too.

Gamble Robinson Employees Attend N.D. State Meet

To review the 1962 program and outline Snoboy-Standby promotions for the coming year, the annual state managers and salesmen meeting of Gamble Robinson company was held Sunday at Devils Lake, N. D. Attending from Thief River Falls were William Holmos, Irwin Johnson, Ames Pederson and William Unruth.

John Helser, state supervisor, and several company executives from Seattle, Wash., and Minneapolis were in attendance. Neil Harty, division manager, announced that 1962 sales in North Dakota would hit an all-time high.

Founded 71 years ago, the Gamble Robinson company is considered to be the largest produce wholesaler in the nation. The Thief River Falls branch of the company is a part of the North Dakota unit.

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

by Laura Duerst

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

Imagine so many of you are busy doing some holiday baking. At the homemakers Christmas lesson, a number of the ladies brought in food with a recipe. Recipe booklets were made and have now been completed and are ready for you. If you belong to a homemakers group your councilor has one for you, but if you don't, stop into the office and pick up one. In these booklets one finds several cookie, bread and other Christmas goodie recipes.

Decorations add a lot to your Christmas cookies and can be fun to do, too! Try decorating with frosting the easy way by using a pastry tube or paper funnel. Or add colorful finishing touches to your Christmas treats with jam, gum drops, cinnamon candies, silver decorettes, bits of chocolate, granulated sugar and shredded coconut colored red or green, candied fruit, raisins or currants.

Christmas Tree Time

Christmas is almost here and tree dealers are busy marketing this year's crop of Christmas trees. In fact, they've been harvesting since early October, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Forest Service reports.

Seventy-five per cent of our Christmas trees come from natural wooded areas or pasture land. Usually, these are in the North country and harvesters must move in early so the trees can be brought out before the heavy snows fall.

About 70 per cent of the trees move to market over the highways; the balance go by rail and a few by air.

At every season of the year it is good to have some tricks up your sleeve for making candies that can't go wrong. This recipe may fill this need to perfection with never-fail formulas for candies that never fail to tickle your palate. No matter what the weather may be, hot or cold, wet or dry, this technique can be depended upon for best results. Although it is simple and quick to make, don't forget to make use of your marketing list. The time you save by using this recipe can very easily be lost by having forgotten to add one of the ingredients to your marketing list.

Peanut Butter Fruit Squares
1 cup pitted dates
½ cup seedless raisins
1 cup currants
1 cup peanut butter
⅓ cup sweetened condensed milk

Put all fruits through food chopper. Add peanut butter and sweetened condensed milk; mix well. Press into bottom of 8" x 8" x 2" buttered pan which has been sprinkled with confectioner's sugar. Smooth surface of candy and sprinkle with confectioner's sugar if desired. Chill until firm. Cut into squares.

2 Car Accidents Occur in T.R.F. Tuesday, Dec. 18

Two traffic mishaps were investigated by the Thief River Falls police department on Tuesday with four vehicles involved being damaged to the extent of more than $225.

The first mishap occurred about 12:30 p. m. when a pickup truck driven by Manley Torgerson was traveling west on Second street and was stuck on the right front fender by a city truck driven by Gerhart Hanson and traveling south on Horace avenue. Damage was estimated at $175 to the Torgerson vehicle and $2.50 to the city truck.

At 8 p. m. the same day, a car driven by Phyllis Peters, rt. 3, Bagley, was traveling west on First street and attempting a right turn on Duluth avenue when the car skidded across the street and struck a parked car owned by Clarence Wangsness, city. Damage was estimated under $50 to the Peters car and over $50 to the Wangsness vehicle.

RR Valley Potato Growers to Meet in G. F. Friday

Potato growers of the Red River Valley are invited to attend a meeting in the Grand Forks Armory Friday, Dec. 21, at 1:30 p. m., to air the subject of, "What Do We Want From Our Red River Valley Potato Organization". The meeting has been arranged by F. L. Behling, veteran Moorhead potato grower and dealer.

Behling stated that there is apparent dissension with the Valley potato industry and he believes that it is important for potato growers of the Valley to get together and air their views.

The potato organization, he said, belongs to the growers of the Valley, and what it does is dependent upon the wishes and desires of Valley growers.

Newfolden Cagers Trim Badger 52-35

Lose to Warroad Quint by Close 37-32 Margin

Coach Frank Kohoutek's Newfolden Nordics recorded a win and a loss in the pair of Border Conference basketball games played last week. The Nordics defeated Badger, 52 to 35, and dropped a 37 to 32 decision to the Warroad Warriors. Newfolden has a conference record of one loss and one win, and a season's record to date of two wins and two losses.

In the game against Badger, the Nordics turned in a polished performance as they sped away to a 12 to 2 first period lead, and a 25 to 10 lead at the intermission. Badger rallied in the third period to pare the Nordics' lead to ten points, 36 to 26, but Newfolden regained control of the game and outpointed Badger, 16 to 9, in the final period to mark up their 52 to 35 win.

High point man for the winning Nordics was Jerry Strandquist, who tallied 18 points, and captain Jim Dahl, who accounted for 10 points.

Against the Warroad Warriors, Newfolden held one-point leads at the end of the first period and the first half, holding a 11 to 10 and a 23 to 22 advantage. Warroad, employing a man-to-man defense effectively, limited Newfolden to but nine points in the second half while tallying 15 points to gain the 37 to 32 win.

In commenting on the game, coach Kohoutek stated that the Nordics "were out-rebounded and out-hustled". High point man for the Nordics was Terry Strandquist with 10 points.

Coach Elseth's Newfolden 'B' squad showed a fifty-fifty performance in the two games played during the week, losing to the Badger 'B's, 46 to 14, and defeating the Warroad 'B's, 44 to 17.

The Nordics will play in the annual Soo Line Christmas tournament at Karlstad on Jan. 3 and 4. Karlstad, Newfolden, Lake Bronson and Strandquist will participate in the tourney.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Holmstrom of this city will drive to Walker Friday, where they will be joined by Mr. Holmstrom's sister and her husband in a trip to the east coast. They will drive to Los Angeles by way of Boise, Idaho and Sacramento, California, and plan to return by a southern route. They expect to return about January 15.

Fewer Deer Taken in Agassiz Refuge During '62 Season

Herb Dill Refuge Manager, Reports 332 Deer Taken by 949 Hunters This Season

Seven out of every 20 hunters tagged a deer during the recent five day season Nov. 10-14 at the Agassiz National wildlife refuge, according to Herb Dill, refuge manager. This means that 35 per cent of the hunters were successful. Last year success was slightly more than 53 per cent; but the season was four days longer, Mr. Dill added.

Based on daily automobile counts during the season and a tally of license plates, the number and identity of the hunters was learned. Part of these hunters were queried by mail following the season.

A total of 949 hunters spent 1,629 hunter-days on the refuge and adjoining state-owned lands. They tagged a total of 332 deer. A total of 53 deer were weighed by refuge personnel, Mr. Dill said. The largest buck weighed 215 lbs. and the largest doe 140 lbs. Fawns averaged approximately 70 lbs.

Over half the hunters came from the Marshall-Polk-Pennington county area. The deer were in excellent condition. However, Mr. Dill said, hunting conditions were poor in that most of the marsh was not sufficiently frozen to permit travel by hunters. This factor, plus the shorter season accounts for much of the decrease in hunters success, he said.

Goodridge Cagers Take Oklee 55-41

Huskies Defeated 56-42 by Fisher Last Friday

The Goodridge Huskies, with Szymanski, Parnow, and Saurdiff scoring in double figures, defeated the Oklee Bobcats, 55 to 41, in a game played on the Goodridge floor last week. For coach Roy Hokkanan's Oklee club, forward Bob Bernier, with ten points, was the high scorer.

In a Polar conference game played at Fisher on Friday evening, the Huskies dropped a 56 to 42 decision to coach Norman Wagner's highly-rated Fisher club. Roger Beiswenger, with 18 points, was the game's high point player. The Huskies, who trailed by only one point at the intermission, were paced in their scoring by guard Dick Saurdiff, who tallied 16 points.

Prowler Wrestlers Defeat Aggie Squad

Coach Al Shaff's Prowler wrestlers scored a 35 to 19 win over coach Rod Mosher's Crookston Aggies squad here Monday evening.

This afternoon, Thursday, the Prowler varsity will be meeting the Mahnomen Indians, always a "power" in District 30 wrestling, in a match at Mahnomen.

In Monday evening's match here, the Prowlers, with Myles Olson and Roy Delorme scoring quick pins, and Roger Wilson getting a decision, moved into a 13 to 0 lead after three matches had been completed. But the Aggies, with Ron Osowski, LeRoy Sikorski, and Larry Paupst gaining decisions, and with Wayne Naplin scoring a pin, overcame that Prowler lead to take a 14 to 11 advantage.

In the 145-lb. class, the Prowlers' Luke Kaushagen edged out the Aggies' Wayne Wetzel, 3-2, to send the Prowlers back into the lead. And when Joe Taylor, in the 154-lb. class, and Ray Ulrich, in the 165-lb. class, scored wins by falls, the Prowlers had the match. The Aggies' Neil Wetzel pinned Bob Benson in the 175-lb. class to narrow the Prowlers lead; but co-captain Dwight Myhrer pinned the Aggies' Don Thorson in a heavyweight match, boosting the Prowlers' point total to 31.

The summaries:

95-lb. Myles Olson (TRF) pinned Curtis Bouton (A), 0:22.
103-lb. Roy Delorme (TRF) pinned Walter King (A), 0:29.
112-lb. Roger Wilson (TRF) decisioned Don Kovar (A), 7-0.
120-lb. Ron Osowski (A) decisioned Gary Olson (TRF), 5-2.
127-lb. LeRoy Sikorski (A) decisioned Gary Nereson (TRF), 6-2.
133-lb. Wayne Naplin (A) pinned Larry Goethe (TRF), 2:14.
138-lb. Larry Paupst (A) decisioned Tom Larson (TRF), 2-0.
145-lb. Luke Kaushagen (TRF) decisioned Wayne Wetzel (A), 3-2.
154-lb. Joe Taylor (TRF) pinned Dick Pecke (A), 3.48.
165-lb. Ray Ulrich (TRF) pinned Jim Swenson (A), 3:32.
175-lb. Neil Wetzel (A) pinned Bob Benson (TRF), 3:05.
Heavyweight Dwight Myhrer (TRF) pinned Ron Thorson (A), 2:43.

Annouce Fishng House Regulations

State Conservation Department Lists Rules

With the advent of colder weather, ice fishermen will soon be moving their fish houses and dark houses onto Minnesota lakes.

Although veteran ice fishermen are acquainted with the various rules pertaining to these shacks, the conservation department asked that new-comers to the sport consult the regulations spelled out in the fishing synopsis.

Among other things, the synopsis points out that the name and address of the owner and the house license number must be plainly and legibly painted on the exterior of the house in letters at least three inches in height.

The house license, which can be purchased from the license agent for a cost of one dollar, must be securely fastened to the interior of the house.

Another rule makes it unlawful to have a spear within a fish house or dark house while it is being used for angling purposes.

Fishermen were also reminded that fish shacks must be removed from the ice no later than Feb. 28 except on Minnesota-Canada boundary waters where they may be left until Mar. 31.

A special spearing license is required in addition to the angling license for those wishing to spear. The spearing license cost is one dollar.

6500 Geese Winter Near Rochester

Big Birds Attracted by Year-round Open Water

The annual build up in the flock of geese wintering at the Rochester game refuge has reached its peak with about 6,500 of the big birds in the area at the present time, the Minnesota game and fish division reports.

A body of open water is available through the winter due to the presence of an electric generating plant which discharges heated water into a lake within the Rochester city limits. The birds fly out during the day to feed in the fields around the city and return again in the evening.

Aside from a relatively few birds which stay the year 'round, most of the geese have flown in from Canada and will return to their northern nesting grounds in the spring.

The birds are of the Canada species and are thought to be decendents of a flock of extremely large size geese which once existed on the North American continent in greater numbers.

Scout Troop 57 Makes Plans for Fishing Derby

Discussion of the annual ice fishing derby and the possible choice of a scoutmaster to succeed Doug Remick who is leaving for military service took place at a meeting of the Boy Scout Troop 59 committee Sunday evening at St. Bernard's church.

Tentative date of January 20 was set for the sixth annual fishing derby with a short meeting in the church basement set for 7 p. m. December 23 to make final arrangements. All committee members and fathers of scouts are urged to attend.

Plans were made for the scouts to attend the winter camp at Norris Camp on December 27, 28 and 29. Review of duties of committee members also took place at the meeting.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Soft Ice

"It wasn't much of a surprise that coach Sergio Gambucci's better-conditioned Grand Forks Redskins hockey team were able to defeat the Prowlers in the locals' schedule-opening game here last Saturday. But that 10 to 1 score was a surprise and a shocker. Grand Forks, it must be remembered, has a "feeder" system comparable to the Roseau high school system, and the Redskins come up with strong teams every year. In fact, in a game played at Grand Forks on Monday night, the Roseau Rams were forced to rally for three goals in the third period to score a 4 to 2 win.

It's a fact that the Prowlers' loss of their co-captain and veteran defenseman, Tom Morben, who was out of action because of illness, was a great handicap. Tom is a leader. And it's doubtful if Morben will be able to see full-time service in the Prowlers' Region Eight game here on Saturday night when the blue-and-gold meet the rough and burly East Siders, with a roster well-Wave. Coach Jerry Walford's East Siders, with a roster well-supplied with athletes from this season's East Grand Forks football squad, is off to a surprising start in conference play, having posted two wins and a tie.

It's a hope that the Prowlers will be able to shake off the effects of that 10 to 1 loss to Grand Forks. A loss such as that, and the fact that the Prowlers did not play well, could have a demoralizing effect on a young team such as the Prowlers. I have a hunch that the Prowlers will turn in a good game against the East Siders.

Old-Timers vs. Thieves

Hockey fans should make a note to the effect that the Old Timers, coached and managed by Sid Vrna, will meet the senior hockey Thieves on the Arena rink on Sunday afternoon. Knowing Sid as I do, I'll wager that he has been making phone calls and sending telegrams in order to get all the former Prowler and Thieves hockey players that are still able to skate to be on hand for Sunday's game. Perhaps he can even persuade Mouse Efteland to take a turn or two on the ice!

Bowling Notes

It is rumored that Jim Muzzy, the sponsor of the Daleford Farms team of the Service league, had intended to present a Christmas bonus to team members Helmer Skomedal, Arnie Engelstad, Percy Hagen, and Bernie Myers. But this was before Monday's bowling session which found the Dalefords in third place in the league standings, dropping three games and four points to Wally Torkelson's Farmers Union Oil team. No bonus. And Jim is even contemplating making a trade with a curling rink skip, offering to trade a pair of his bowlers for a couple of curlers!

About the two "hottest" teams in the league bowling at present are the Northern State bank and the Holsum Bread squads. The Northern State has picked up twenty-nine points out of thirty-two available the past several weeks; and the Holsum Bread squad has garnered thirty points out of thirty-two points available.

Incidentally, Stan Larson of the Northern State bank team has opened up a spread of a few pins in his campaign to win the team's second high-pin average. Stan, who had the league's high series last week, boosted his average to 157, and a three-pin lead over Keith Spindler's 154.

Miscellany

There were a couple of cousins in competition against each other in last Saturday night's Prowlers vs. Ada Vikings basketball game at Ada. The Prowlers' center-forward, Tom Lindberg, and the Vikings' starting guard, Steve Haug, are cousins. Tom's mother, Mrs. Merle Lindberg (Agnes Haug), is the sister of Steve's dad, Clarence Haug. The Clarence Haug's resided in Newfolden until a year or so ago when the family moved to Ada, where Clarence is in the insurance business. During his high school days here, Clarence, or Clutch as he was called, was a pretty good basketball player, and his boy Steve, who has another year of high school play remaining, is going to be a good one—I see that Roseau's veteran hockey coach, Oscar Almquist, is up to his old trick of moving an experienced goalie out of the nets and up on a forward line. Gary Johnson has given the Rams top-notch goal-tending the past couple of seasons, but this year coach Almquist has put Johnson at center. And the convert is turning in a first-rate job, being a factor in giving the Rams a 4 to 2 win over the Grand Forks Redskins on Monday night. It's not the first time that coach Almquist has made such a goalie-to-center shift. I can recall back in the days when Kenny Wellen, after playing goalie for a number of seasons, was, in his senior year, moved out on the ice and into the center position. Kenny proved to be a star as a forward, and he went on to earn hockey letters at Minnesota and North Dakota. Ken's now the Hallock Bears hockey coach.—The Bemidji Lumberjack cagers had their winning streak broken last week when, in a game played at International Falls, they dropped a 56 to 53 decision to the Broncos in overtime.

Hunters Urged to Send in Reports

Conservation department game officials today asked hunters to be sure and mail in their license report card on the game they bagged during the 1962 hunting seasons. The reporting form is attached to the hunting license.

The information is used for game management purposes. Hunters were urged to send in their report even if no game was taken.

Department game researchers analyze the reports as an aid in determining the take of game birds and animals during the year.

State National Guard Has Unchanged Status

Designation of the 47th Infantry Division as one of the top six priority divisions in the National Guard has not been officially announced by the Department of Defense despite news reports to the contrary, Brigadier General Chester J. Moeglein advised National Guard commanders in a letter today. General Moeglein said he was unable to obtain confirmation of this report while he was in Washington Monday and Tuesday and that there has been no official change in the division's status since it was designated as a priority II division with a 70 per cent strength on December 4.

The possibility of a further upgrading of the division's status was not ruled out by General Moglein, but he advised commanders that they would be informed of any change as soon as it was officially received.

In the meantime, he urged that they continue training and recruiting in their present status.

The Adjutants General Association, which met in Washington December 10 and 11, found the Defense Department's proposed realignment of the National Guard unacceptable in two main areas, Moeglein said. The Adjutants General felt very strongly that the changes in troop units allotted to the states should be made concurrently with reorganization of the divisions to the ROAD structure to avoid a prolonged period of turbulence, which would retard National Guard training and readiness.

The Adjutants General also objected to the Army proposal that there be only two classes of National Guard units — those in a top priority at a strength of 80 to 85 per cent and all others in a low priority with a strength of 50 per cent. They believe that the levels of readiness should be such that the priorities can be shifted from one organization to another as circumstances might require and so that units could be moved up the priority scale as those at the top were called into service.

The Adjutants General Association stated its position in a letter to Governor Ernest Vandiver, Chairman of the Committee on National Guard Affairs of the Governors Conference, and recommended Governor Vandiver's committee stand fast on these points in conference with the Secretary of Defense.

Governor Andersen has informed the Secretary of the Army, Cyrus R. Vance, that he does not consider the proposed troop allotment for the State of Minnesota satisfactory and has indicated he will withhold his decision on approval or disapproval until the committee of the Governors Conference has had an opportunity to act.

Two Redlake Men Who Beat up Jailor Get Prison Terms

Willard Lajeunesse and Charles May Sentenced in Court in Crookston

Two men who were charged with assault in the second degree and with the unauthorized use of a motor vehicle by Polk county authorities, were sentenced on those charges in Crookston Thursday in Ninth judicial district court.

Sentenced to serve not more than five years at the state reformatory for men at Stillwater on each count, with sentences to run concurrently, were Willard M. Lajeunesse, 25, and Charles T. May, 28, both of Redlake.

Lajeunesse was also sentenced to serve up to 20 years at Stillwater for a first degree robbery conviction in Clearwater county. All his sentences are to run concurrently.

The assault charges stemmed from the beating of Polk county jailor Tony Janorschke of Crookston during a jail break in October.

A third man, who was charged as a result of the October incident, has already been sentenced in district court and committed to the reformatory at Stillwater.

Sylvester O. Nathaniel, 34, Philadelphia was sentenced to serve not more than 27 years for second degree burglary and for escaping from a penal institution. Nathaniel was being held on the burglary charge when the escape took place

Aquatennial Queen in Rose Bowl Event

To Share in Tournament of Roses Parade Jan. 1

Minnesota's football Gophers may not be Rose Bowl bound this year, but the state will be represented prettily by the Minneapolis Aquatennial Queen of the Lakes who will ride in the Tournament of Roses Parade New Year's Day in Pasadena, California.

Petite Connie Haenny, 20, of Edina, has been invited to be the featured queen on the Florists Telegraph Delivery (FTD) float. In the past two Rose Bowl Parades the FTD float has been runner-up to the sweepstakes winner, and this year hope to cop the coveted top award.

Queen Connie, who will be seen by an estimated 80 million television viewers, will ride together with Martin Milner, handsome co-star of Route 66. Through the cooperation of Twin City Federal Savings and Loan Association, Aquatennial officials accepted the invitation allowing Queen Connie an opportunity to ride on what promises to be one of the parade's most dazzling floats. FTD indicated they intended to spend approximately $35,000 on the Queen of the Lakes' float.

Queen Connie will be accompanied on the trip by Aquatennial Commodore and Mrs. T. Floyd Cullen, General Festival Chairman and Mrs. Paul Mans, Jr., and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver T. Ellingson.

Robert Benke in UND Honor Guard

Thirty-three freshman and sophomore men at the University of North Dakota have been named to the newly named Army ROTC Honor Guard. The group was formerly called the drill team. Members wear army green uniforms with white accessories. The West Point dress uniforms will be worn during special appearances. A member of the group is Robert Benke of Thief River Falls.

SEASONAL SERENITY reflected from the face of Minnesota's Princess Kay of the Milky Way serves as a pleasant reminder that spiritual values remain uppermost for most Minnesotans during this most cherished of holiday seasons. As pretty Kathleen Hjelle knows so well from working experience, the wheels of commerce and competition never stop completely. But like so many others, she deeply appreciates the moments for reflection and thanksgiving which are afforded by the Christmas and New Year season. The staff and management of this publication join Princess Kay and the dairy industry in the sincere wish to our readers that the Christmas season be truly joyous and that the New Year be both peaceful and prosperous.

Nonfarm Payroll in State Reaches $4.9 Billion in '62

Employment Security Department Reveals 6.9 Per Cent Gain over 1961

Employers in Minnesota's nonfarm industries paid an estimated $4,852,417,900 in wages and salaries during 1962, the department of employment security announced this week. This is a gain of $314,788,900 or 6.9 per cent over the revised 1961 payroll.

According to Frank T. Starkey, commissioner, the 6.9 per cent increase over the year compares favorably with the historical rate of increase which has ranged between six and eight per cent a year, with the exception of recession years. The 1961 payroll figures reflect the recession which slowed the economy most of the year; however this year's figures show solid payroll gains in all industrial categories. Manufacturing construction and government payrolls showed the largest percentage gains over the year were public utilities, manufacturing state government, and construction.

Starkey pointed out that since 1947 the total annual payroll has increased by almost threefold.

Local Woman wins Prize in Contest

A local woman was one of the winners in the area-wide Dakota Maid Bonanza puzzleword contest sponsored by the North Dakota Mill and Elevator.

Mrs. Russell Moen, Thief River Falls, was one of 201 prize winners in the contest which ended November 25, and she will receive a GE Electric Alarm Clock. The grand prize winner was Mrs. Bonna Paulson of Fargo who received a doubled grand prize of $5,000 because her winning entry was accompanied by a Dakota Maid trademark. The contest was open to residents of North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Montana. Dakota Maid dealers in the area have been furnished with the complete list of prize winners.

Jobholders in State Decline in November

Nonfarm employment in Minnesota, at 995,200 in November, was down 12,300 workers from October but remained 17,200 above the year ago level, according to the monthly report of the state department of employment security. The over-the-month drop was about normal for this time of year as gains in trade and government only slightly offset seasonal losses in canning, construction, and mining, said Commissioner Frank T. Strakey.

Manufacturing employment was down 4,300 workers in November. In addition to the season-closing decline in canning there were slight losses in almost all of the listed durable goods industries. Only electrical machinery and transportation equipment did not contribute to the 800 decrease in the durable goods manufacturing group, Starkey said.

The losses in mining and construction were closely related to the onset of cold weather and were about usual for this time of year. Within the construction group, highway and heavy construction dropped about 3,500 workers; special trades contracting was down 1,900 workers; and building construction showed a decline of 1,500 from the previous month, he added. Other losses related to the approach of winter occurred in the forestry and fisheries category (—600), outdoor recreation (—900) and eating and drinking places (—900).

Minor gains were recorded in department store employment and in state and local government activity. The Christmas holiday build-up in retail trade began in November and will reach the year's high point in December.

Starkey reported that production workers in Minnesota's manufacturing industries earned an average of $104.24 per week in November, an increase of $1.02 from the previous month. Compared to a year ago earnings are up $2.04 per week.

The average workweek, at 40.7 hours in November, was up .2 of an hour from the previous month but .3 of an hour below a year ago. The over-the-month gain in earnings in November was largely due to the longer workweek.

Unemployment in Minnesota, which was at its low point for the year in October, rose seasonally to a level of 58,700 persons in November. The number of unemployed was 15,400 above the previous month but remained 9,300 below the year ago figure.

The rate of unemployment rose to 4.2 per cent in November, Starkey's report revealed, compared to 3.0 per cent the previous month and 4.9 per cent a year ago.

Editorials . . .

"And numerous indeed are the hearts to which Christmas brings a brief season of happiness and enjoyment. How many families whose members have been dispersed and scattered far and wide, in the restless struggle of life, are then reunited, and meet, once again in that happy state of companionship and mutual good-will, which is a source of such pure and unalloyed delight, and one so incompatible with the cares and sorrows of the world, that the religious belief of the most civilized nations, and the rude traditions of the roughest savages, alike number it among the first days of a future state of existence, provided for the blest and happy. How many old recollections, and how many dormant sympathies, Christmas-time awakens."

Stop The Fumbling

Reports from Cuba indicate that Soviet troops and technicians in large numbers are still present. A United Press report states that four elite combat units are among the thousands that are still there and there is some doubt as to whether all of the offensive weapons have been removed. Some competent observers think the Russian retreat may actually have been a Cuban victory.

It shouldn't be difficult to ascertain the facts and, under the circumstances, getting the facts and dealing with the problem if the problem is serious, should not be a matter for American unilateral solution. We have offended our allies by acting without having informed them of the facts. Whatever we do now should be with the full understanding of our allies and with the assurance of their support.

Khrushchev's self-satisfaction may not be entirely a sham. It is time that the fumbling be stopped.

Good Advice

Dr. Paul Dudley White, who served former President Eisenhower in the capacity of a heart specialist, thinks we are living too soft a life. In a recent article written for the Massachusetts Heart Association, he gave the following sensible advice:

> "We spend so much time trying to entertain ourselves in our leisure time that we are probably less culturally adapted than were our grandparents, who fortunately for them, did not have automobiles and television; they walked and read—
> "We seem to delight in the absurd belief that we must avoid strains, either physical or mental, that we must pamper ourselves and not walk upstairs or work physically hard, or mentally either—whereas on occasion midnight oil should be burned.
> "Our important challenge today is to begin with our children, to get them to walk to school again, not to get overfed as so many of our over-robust teenagers are, and to have this sort of a program adopted by entire communities, not by single families."

Candid Comment

Senator Allen Ellender of Louisiana was not a welcome visitor in several African countries, we gather by the press reports. He obviously was not favorably impressed by the new freedom in that continent, and the creation of many new independent nations. He stated quite bluntly that in his opinion the natives in most instances were not ready for self-government. What the 72-year-old Senator said was not tactful, but probably it was true. And we are always discouraged when we hear a prominent public official express a disagreeable fact truthfully and candidly.

It so happens that we have a special interest in the countries he was talking about and their governments. They are asking us to help them in what they refer to as development programs. And they no doubt deserve help. The question is how can they best be helped. How can the development programs be administered so as to accomplish their purpose with a minimum of wasted effort and dollars.

No doubt these were the things Senator Ellendar was thinking about when he made his observations. And our guess is that it will be in the best interests of sound development in Africa if Congress listens attentively to Senator Ellender's recommendations.

Students and Automobiles

Dean Symons of the University of Toronto, writing in the school paper, says that students who own cars tend to get the lowest marks and to run into the biggest money troubles. According to him the proportion of car-owning students who fail examinations is twice that of those who do not have a car and they are prominent among those who have to seek financial help from the University to complete their studies.

Commenting on Dean Symons report, the Financial Post offers the following observations:

> "Dean Symons finds the students' rising obsession for cars so alarming that he urges Canadian universities to follow the example of all British and many American universities by excluding vehicles from the campus and regulating student ownership.
> "The young sirens of the campus are still inclined, it seems, to look upon the make and year of a car as evidence of its owner's economic and social status and, in consequence, his eligibility for their hand in marriage.
> "But the Symons sermon may well induce the women students to revise their philosophy of courtship, bringing home to them the fact that car-owning suitors are less likely to get a degree, less likely to have a nest egg and therefore less likely to make good providers than those whose wooing is managed with buses and streetcars."

News Manipulation

Spokesmen for the Kennedy administration continue to defend falsehood as a proper practice by government leaders. Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester recently defended the administration's news manipulation policy before a New York journalistic audience. He told them, "It is basic thruout history that it is the government's right to lie to save itself. It seems to me basic."

Most of us would agree that many of the world's political leaders thruout history have had little regard for he truth. That probably is one of the reasons why so many of the pages of our histories are devoted to the wars of mankind. But the fact that many of the world's leaders have been liars does not justify falsehood.

The unfortunate thing about the administration's news manipulation policy is the doubt it creates as to the truth of any statement made by an administration spokesman, and the consequent loss of respect for our government both here and abroad. A reputation for integrity is just as important for a government as it is for an individual.

Have We Sold?

The flag of Panama now flies in the Panama Canal Zone. By treaty, since 1903 the United States has exercised sovereignty over this strip of land on which the canal was built. The rights were granted by Panama to the complete exclusion of such rights by itself.

Maybe there was justification for such a sanction by our government, but it would be interesting to know by what authority such a concession was made by the administration. Ralph Skinner, writing for the Christian Science Monitor, states:

> "Many United States citizens here predict that the flying of the Panama Flag in the Canal Zone will lead to further demands for jurisdiction here by Panama.
> "Agreement has been reached already that Panama stamps will be used by the Canal Zone postal system, although the date for this has not been announced. This is for prestige only as the income will be inconsequential and the actual administration of the Canal Zone postal system will remain under unilateral United States control; it is said."

If we are selling this important installation it would be interesting to know what is the consideration.

Not a Partisan Issue

(Tracy Headlight Herald)

"Imagine that your salary is $8,200 a year — and you are almost $30,000 in debt," says Congressman Norblad, of Oregon. "Last year your debt increased by $390. This year you are adding at least $700 to your indebtedness.

"Your friends are warning you that you can't continue to pile up additional debt — that this is the road to financial ruin. So you and your wife talk it over and decide to draw up a budget for next year. But instead of reducing expenditures—or even holding them at their present level — you decide that you will spend $840 more next year than this year. You reach this decision on the assumption — there is nothing definite — that you will receive a salary increase next year; therefore an increase in spending is in order. Little or no consideration is given to the $30,000 debt. The significant thing is that you expect to make more money next year — therefore you plan to spend it.

"Nearly everyone will agree that a family handling its finances on this basis is headed for serious trouble. Yet, add seven ciphers to these figures, and you have the exact fiscal situation of the Government."

Continually spending more than you earn, whether you are a private citizen or a government is the way to bankruptcy. It is a cold-blooded financial problem, not a partisan political issue.

By the end of the week the days will be getting longer again. This winter weather has been so nice we almost don't like looking forward to spring—almost.

Your Minnesota Hostess

Hi, and happy holidays! I thoroughly enjoyed my many Summer and Autumn visits to Minnesota civic celebrations; hope I had a chance to greet you personally. But it's nice to be home this month! In our block, we have a progressive "trim the trees" party . . . with beer, easy-fix food, and neighborly fun. Beer, you know, is enjoyed in two out of three American homes today. In fact, in national consumption, beer rates right below milk and coffee, now. Serve it often, this season!

Pretzel Wreaths
Special report from Stuttgart, Germany: now modern pretzel-vending machines have invaded traditional beer-gardens! I'm reminded cream cheese, whipped with a bit of green food coloring and decorated with sliced stuffed olives, can turn pretzels into tasty Christmas wreaths. You also might hollow out a whole (unpared) cucumber, stuff with tuna and mayonnaise, and chill. Slice, garnish with pimiento and olive. Pass chilled beer, and there's a party!

Fashion from the Farm
Advance Spring fashion note: "Barley" is to be a favored shade for Spring, '63. Minnesota farmers, fourth in national barley production and second in production of malting barley, may smile proudly! Minnesota brewers bought 3,443,619 bushels of that barley last year. Our brewers used a glorious total of over 222,000,000 pounds of Minnesota farm crops; a harvest that helps make many a Christmas merrier here.
To add to your holiday fun, send for "Minnesota Hostess Favorite Recipes," 333 WCCO Bldg., Minneapolis 2, Minn. Bursting with beer cookery ideas, my book is free! Merry Christmas to you and yours.

COME TO Church ON Christmas

AT THE CHURCHES

Community Methodist Church
A. Dean Headley, Pastor

Worship services will be at 9:30 and 11:00 this Sunday, with the Junior Choir assisting at 9:30 and the Sr. Choir at 11:00. The sermon theme is: "Made in the Mind of God," for both hours. There will be no Sunday School this Sunday, the 23, but there will be on Dec. 30.

At 8:30 this Sunday the Seniors in High School will serve a breakfast at the church for College youth, those in the service and older youth at home for the holiday season. Plans will be completed for Student Recognition Day the following Sunday. There will be no MWY this Sunday for either Jr. or Srs.

This Sunday the Irvin Wilson family has the Candle Service at 9:30, and the Howard Hoel Family at the 11:00 hour. Extra copies of the Advent Service will be available for use in the home on Christmas eve or Christmas day. Every family with children is urged to make use of this meaningful service. The various ways to make use of the service have been shown at the worship services each Sunday.

The MYFs are urged to keep the mid-winter institute in mind, Dec. 28 and 29 at the Fergus Falls Church, closing at 1:00. Registrations are to be in this coming week.

Holy Night

The choir sings with near-celestial sweetness, the candles burn with a bright, pure light, and the meaning of the birth of Christ comes into glorious reality.

For, in church, the story of the Night of Nights is told with a beauty that seems to deepen with the years. To miss hearing it again would be to miss one of the Yuletide season's greatest moments.

Yes — it is natural to think about going to church at Christmas. But what about a rainy October Sunday or a hot July one?

In Church, the inspiration is there all year round. The message is as vital in August as it is in December. Promise yourself now — this Christmas — to start going to church regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Report on Viking News of the Week

Mrs. Gordon Skjerven

As there will be no Viking news next week I wish to take this opportunity to wish everyone a joyous Christmas and New Year of Peace and Happiness.

A very nice program was presented by the Zion Lutheran Sunday School Sunday evening The theme of the program was "Light a Candle for the Savior". The choir under the direction of Rev. Weltzin also gave three numbers. With the beautiful weather the church was filled to capacity. The Zion Sunday School will now vacation until January 6th.

Viking looks very festive with the lighted street decorations, the big tree on the corner as well as several nicely decorated residences. The Christmas tree in the Covenant church this year is a joy to behold. Everyone is invited to see it at the Sunday School program Dec. 26th at 8 o'clock.

Annual Meeting of Zion Lutheran Church

The annual meeting of the Zion Lutheran Parish was held Wednesday afternoon with the ALCW having their meeting first at 12:30. Mrs. Leroy Gustafson as president presided and Mrs. Weltzin gave the devotions. The annual secretary and treasurer reports were read and approved. There were several devotions given for mission work. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Grandstrand were re-hired for the church custodians.

The Congregational meeting was presided over by the church chairman, Leroy Gustafson, opening with a hymn by all present. Rev. Weltzin gave devotions, reading from Ephesians 5 and stressing living for the Lord. Earl Erickson gave the secretary report and Raymond Halvorson the treasurers report, with Mr. Erickson also reporting on the parish fund. Rev. Weltzin gave the annual pastoral report. Earl Erickson reported on the Sunday School on behalf of Mrs. Erickson. It was decided to have Sunday School according to the public school year with June, July and August as vacation. The ALC budget will remain the same as last year. It was decided the Zion church will sponsor another Vesper service. It was also voted to have a weekly prayer service in the church. Officers of the church remain the same as for the Lutheran Welfare. Keith Grandstrand and George Bjorgaard were added to the list of ushers. The meeting closed by repeating the Lord's Prayer. A pot luck lunch was served by the ALCW.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Halvorson were honored at a housewarming in their new home Friday evening. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Engen of TRF, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Melvie, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Stokke, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stokke, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Shern, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Ranum, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Krohn, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Halvorson and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Halvorson and Harlan. The evening was spent playing games and the Halvorsons were presented with a group gift in remembrance of the occasion. Lunch was enjoyed together at the close of the evening.

National Farmers Organization

NFO Purpose Aired At Meeting Thursday

"The NFO is going to succeed and there is no power on the earth that is going to stop it." This statement was made by Ed Pudwell, Hibbing, organizer for the National Farmers Organization, at a Pennington county meeting held Thursday evening at the American Legion club rooms in Thief River Falls. About 25 persons were in attendance.

Pudwell and Hobert Gunday, both dairy farmers in St. Louis county, were main speakers at the meeting. They explained the goals and purpose of the controversial organization and reviewed requirements and benefits contained in the membership agreements.

Gundy opened the meeting by noting that the NFO is an association strictly for farmers with products for sale with the objective being "to gain a reasonable price for the products raised on our farms". Rights of farmers to organize and bargain collectively are contained in the Capper-Volstead Act passed in February of 1922 by the U. S. Congress, Gundy explained.

Objectives of the NFO collective bargaining plan were listed as follows:

(1) To organize producers so they can control sale of their production and make their bargaining power felt; (2) To give producers the power to price their production; (3) To give producers a voice in grading, weighing, establishing market incentives and other marketing stipulations; (4) To develop orderly marketing procedures; (5) To stabilize farm prices; (6) To place farmers in an economic position equal with the rest of the economy.

Conceals Membership

Although the organization will not reveal its number of memberships or the amount of its operating capital, Pudwell told the group Thursday evening that the NFO is the largest farm organization in the United States today. The NFO has been criticized for its withholding action technique of withdrawing produce from the market, particularly perishable items such as dairy products. The failure to release membership and finance statistics has also led to suspicion of the organization's integrity.

Gundy told farmers attending Thursday's meeting that there was no danger of the organization becoming a one-man machine. He said that the NFO must be run by farmer members at county levels to insure its success. Only farmers who derive 51 per cent or more of their income from farming are eligible to become members.

Membership Cost

Membership in the organization costs $25 annually until a contract is secured for the sale of farm produce. Membership agreements are signed for three-year terms. The $25 annual membership fee is replaced by a one per cent assessment on the gross price of products sold by members after a

Christmas Lights Stolen in Crookston

A wave of stealing light bulbs from Christmas decorations on Crookston homes was reported Thursday by Police Chief Harry Dillabough.

He said during the past several days more than 150 bulbs have been reported stolen from outoor light decorations.

Police files indicate nine different individuals have reported thefts to police. Thefts range from six to as many as 45 bulbs, and at one residence all bulbs were stripped from an outdoor tree.

14 Shopping Days

Jan. 10 Deadline for License Tabs

Only 14 shopping days remain for motorists to purchase their 1963 auto license tabs without penalty, according to Mrs. Marjorie Hanson, deputy registrar of motor vehicles in Pennington county. A penalty of $1 will be added to the license fee on January 11.

On January 21 the penalty increases to $2 and on February 1 reaches a maximum of $2.50. Located at 101 E. Second street in Thief River Falls, the motor vehicle office is open at usual hours Monday through Friday and will remain open from 8:30 to 6 p. m. on Saturday. This is being done to enable the motoring public otherwise engaged during the week to obtain their tabs.

Truck owners, who for specific reasons require a change of class of registration, are reminded that they must present a weight ticket showing the unloaded weight of the vehicle plus the 1962 license plates that have been attached to the vehicle. An example of this would be a farmer, being eligible for a "T" plate, who may have purchased a commercial licensed (Y class) truck, or an opposite situation where a commercial user would not be eligible for a farm (T class) plate.

Truck owners desiring to select a gross weight different from the previous year will use about the same procedure as last year, but in some cases a weight ticket of the unloaded vehicle will not be necessary. It is advised that the truck owner present his registration cards and cab cards in addition to the IBM application cards.

Mobile home owners are reminded that a penalty of 8 per cent of the personal property tax on the trailer will also go into effect on January 11.

L.O'L. Members Receive Checks for '53 Equities

Members and patrons of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., Minneapolis, Minnesota, received checks totaling $2,403,592.00 on December 13, 1962. These checks were issued to redeem in cash all outstanding patronage equities of the association for the year of 1953.

The total equities redeemed in deemed were acquired by the patrons from the earnings and savings of Land O'Lakes.

The total equities redeemed in cash over the past 10 years exceeds $15,000,000.00. This represents an additional payment to Land O'Lakes patrons over and above the cash price paid for products marketed, or an additional savings on purchases made.

3 Shifts Needed To Meet Demand for Artcic Cats

Arctic Enterprises Has 49 Employees Working At Plant in This City

Ten to 18 Arctic Cat all-season vehicles are rolling off the production line daily at Arctic Enterprises, Inc., in Thief River Falls. Depending upon which of the seven models produced by the firm are being made, the production ranges from 10 to 18 each day, reports Steve Rugland, vice president of the corporation.

In order to meet demand as nearly as possible, three shifts have been operated at the plant for the past three weeks. Rugland noted, however, that there has been no problem in securing workers and that additional employment is not available. A list of previous applicants has also been kept and will be used if additional help is needed.

Depending on snow conditions in the United States and Canada, which are relatively non-existent at the present time, the demand for the vehicles could be expected to last another three months, Rugland said. New York state is about the only place where any amount of snow has been received and that arrived just recently, Rugland added.

The European market is just beginning to open up with shipments from the Thief River Falls plant having been made to Norway through an import-export firm in New York City. Main outlet, however, is through distributors in the United States and Canada. Alaska is the state making major use of the vehicles.

Employees at the plant now total 43 and additional equipment has recently been added to increase production. The demand has been so great that the firm has been able to do absolutely no warehousing. Units are shipped nearly as fast as they come off the assembly line and are crated.

4-H'er Wins Trip to Electric Parley

Peder Furuseth of TRF Listed among Winners

Twenty-five Minnesota 4-H'ers will have an opportunity to examine their future in electricity at the third annual state 4-H electric conference.

These 4-H'ers have been selected to attend the conference Jan. 2-4, on the St. Paul Campus, University of Minnesota. Club members who have won trips for their achievement in the 4-H electric project include Peder Furuseth, Thief River Falls.

During the three-day conference 4-H'ers will tour the Northern States Power company's Black Dog Plant, the Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport and the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. building and will participate in group sessions discussing careers in the electrical field.

Permits for New Buildings Higher in 1962

Valley Home Makes up over Two-thirds of $451,595 Total

Building permits with a conservative value of $451,595 were issued in 1962, it is revealed in a report prepared for the Times by Roy Langevin, city building inspector.

The total, while not large, is more than the $391,100 in permits issued in 1961, and is four times as large as the 1960 total of $138,200. For 1959 the total was $645,470.

More than two-thirds of the 1962 total is represented by the $320,000 permit for the Valley Home for the Aged, now nearing completion on Highway 32 in the southwest section of the city.

Only four permits for new dwellings, aggregating $45,000, were issued in the city this year. However, about ten new houses were erected adjoining Thief River Falls in Rocksbury township, and three in the Town of North. Also not included in the total is the elevator erected in the town of North by the Farmers Co-op Grain & Seed assn.

Twenty-five additions to dwellings called for an outlay of $24,150, in addition to $18,545 for domestic garages.

Permits issued for commercial buildings included a Northland Chemical Co. warehouse and a warehouse for Langlie Elec. Permits for additions or remodeling were issued to the Falls-Starekow Clinic, Thief River Jobbing Co., Kelly Hardware, Farmers Seed & Grain Co. and Shetler Hatchery.

Gov. Andersen Stands To Gain 15 Votes Here

Pennington Recount Panel Challenges 112 Ballots from Election

Recounting of ballots in Pennington county's gubernatorial election was concluded at 4:55 p. m. Friday by a panel of three judges. A total of 112 ballots were challenged; several errors in the official canvass were also discovered. The recount panel will begin work in Clearwater county Wednesday.

Of the ballots challenged, 58 favored Governor Elmer L. Andersen and 54 favored Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag. If the challenged ballots are allowed by the courts, Gov. Andersen will gain 15 votes in Pennington county. Challenged ballots have been mailed to the clerk of district court in Ramsey county by registered mail.

Official canvass of the county ballots following the election in November gave Anderson 1,720 vo-

Final Approval Received for Hospital Expansion

Bids on Construction Will be Opened Here At 2 p.m., January 23

Final plans for a 36-bed addition to Northwestern Hospital have been approved and bids will be opened at the hospital at 2 p. m. on January 23. Plans and specifications are now available at the Thief River Falls Builders Exchange. Estimated cost of the addition is $800,000, including some additional equipment.

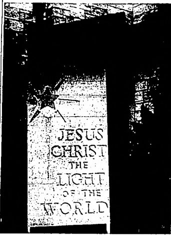
Approval of the final plans was learned by hospital officials at a meeting in Minneapolis Wednesday. Attending were representatives of state and federal agencies and the firm of Betenburg, Townsend, Stolte & Comb of St. Paul, architects.

Officials of the Department of Health represented the state and the U. S. Public Health Service of Kansas City represented agencies through which government funds will be made available. The government will pay one-half of the cost through a Hill-Burton grant and a grant from the Accelerated Public Works Agency.

This 36-bed addition will provide facilities for the expanding convalescent and rehabilitation unit of the hospital plus expansion of the radiology department and some rearranging of the present building. Work will be started shortly after the letting of contracts and actual construction is expected to get under way as soon as conditions permit next spring.

Representing the hospital at the Minneapolis meeting were James Winjum, president of the board; J. J. Womack, secretary; and Norman Peterson, administrator.

Special Church Rites in TRF for Christmas



REMINDER of the true meaning of the star of Bethlehem is this sign erected near the entrance of Zion Lutheran church on Main av. N. Using reflectorized material on relief letters and a spot light, the scene has created considerable comment and makes a striking appearance.

To Climax Series of Programs Staged in City Past Few Weeks

The Christmas observance will reach its climax in Thief River Falls with special services scheduled in local churches Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Christmas Day, to celebrate the birth of the Christ-child.

Previously numerous programs have been conducted in the public and parochial schools, as well as Sunday schools and clubs and lodges.

The Community Methodist church will hold its Christmas services Sunday at 9:30 and 11 a. m., with the junior choir singing at the first service and the senior choir at the second.

Trinity Lutheran church has arranged Christmas Eve services Monday evening at 10:20, and festival services Christmas morning at 10:20 a. m. Both services will be broadcast over radio station KTRF.

The First Lutheran church has set festival services for Monday at 5 p. m., when the chapel and senior choirs will sing, and Christmas Day at 10 a. m., with music by the senior choir.

St. John Lutheran church will hold a children's service Christmas Eve at 7:30, with festival services Tuesday morning at 10:30.

Zion Lutheran church will hold its Christmas festival services Sunday morning at 9 and 10:30, with Sunday school programs at 3 and 8 p. m. A Christmas Eve candlelight service has been planned for Monday at 11 p. m.

The First Baptist church will hold special Christmas services Sunday at 11 a. m.

The Mission Covenant church has arranged to hold its Sunday school program Sunday at 6:30 p. m., while the traditional Julotta service will be held in the English language at 6 a. m. Christmas morning.

A special Christmas service will be held at the Evangelical Free church Christmas Day at 10:00 a. m., with special music. A Scandinavian Christmas festival will be held at the church on New Year's Day at 2:30 p. m. with Rev. Ole Sande in charge. Rev. Leonard Linholm of Roseau, a former pastor of the Mission Covenant church of this city, will be the guest speaker.

Jury Returns Verdict . . .

Wangberg Found Guilty of Murder

Found guilty of murder in the second degree by a district court jury in Warren early Saturday morning was Paul Wangberg, 19, son of Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Wangberg of Thief River Falls. The all-Lutheran jury returned its verdict about 1:50 a. m. Saturday after nearly 12 hours of deliberation.

Sentencing was not announced by Hon. Lyman Brink, Ninth District judge who presided over the trial, but sentencing is expected to take place this week. Conviction on a second degree murder charge is punishable by a prison term of 15 to 40 years, according to Warren A. Saetre, Marshall county attorney who was prosecutor in the case.

Defense attorneys H. O. Chommie and C. L. Charlson were not present when the verdict was announced by Elmer Rud, Stephen, foreman of the jury. Judge Brink asked the defendant if he understood the verdict and the youth asked that the jury be polled. Upon question put by the clerk of court, each jury member stated that he agreed with the verdict announced by the foreman.

Polling the jury is not uncommon in such a case, Saetre said. The procedure offers jurors the opportunity to state that they are not in agreement with the verdict. If such answer is given in the poll, the Judge would send the jury out again to reconsider its verdict.

In his instructions to the jury prior to their leaving the courtroom to deliberate, Judge Brink gave them four alternatives. He said they could find the defendant not guilty, not guilty by reason of insanity, guilty of third degree murder or guilty of second degree murder. The jury filed out at 2:20 p. m. Friday.

A not guilty verdict would have freed the defendant; a not guilty by reason of insanity verdict would likely have resulted in the defendant's being committed to a mental institution until such time as he was adjudged sane and then released; and a third degree murder verdict would have carried a seven to 15-year jail sentence. The second degree murder verdict was as charged by the prosecution.

Reason for Trial

Wangberg was on trial for the fatal shooting of Donald Myers, Thief River Falls police sergeant, with a deer rifle on February 17, following a 15-mile chase on highway 32 north of Thief River Falls. The chase followed after the youth had bested his father in an altercation at his home and the police had been summoned by the father. The physical fight between the defendant and his father was said to have resulted from the father's suggestion that the youth receive psychiatric help.

After the scuffle with his father, Wangberg took a deer rifle and shells from a closet where hunting equipment was stored, took

Social Security Tax on Rise Jan. 1

To Increase to 3⅝ Pct. on Workers and Employers

Thousands of Minnesota private business employees will feel the pinch of higher taxes January 1, when federal social security takes another "bite" out of their take home pay.

All employees covered by the act will contribute another cent for each two dollars earned up to $4,800 for the year. The tax contribution beginning the first of the year will be 3⅝ cents out of each dollar earned.

The additional social security tax increase will range from $12 a year on pay totaling $2,400 a year to $24 a year on pay of $4,800 or more. Employees in the $2,400 group will pay $87 for the 1963 tax while those in the top group covered will pay $174.

Under the law, employers must match the amount collected from the employees.

Two additional increases taking another cent for each dollar earned will be added to the present levy by January 1, 1968. Employers must pay this, too.

Washington sources pointed out that pending proposals for medical care to be attached to social security will mean further increases in the tax on both employees and employers.

Regular Service at P. O. Monday

The Thief River Falls postoffice will maintain regular services on Monday, December 24, Postmaster R. J. Dryden stated today, adding that parcels post and other windows will be open until 5 p. m. In common with stores and other public offices, the postoffice will remain closed all day Tuesday, Christmas Day.

Barbara Saustad Is Wed To Allen Christenson

Miss Barbara Saustad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Saustad of this city, exchanged vows recently with Allen Christenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rude Christenson of Holt, at a candlelight service in the Methodist Church. Rev. A. Dean Headly prompted their vows in a double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with vases of fall flowers.

Presiding at the organ was Mrs. Frank Harger in the rendition of traditional nuptial music and accompanying Mrs. Harold Storhaug as she sang, "O Perfect Love," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, was attired in a floor-length gown of white lace over net, with long sleeves and a scalloped neckline. Her fingertip veil was of white nylon net attached to a crown of pearls, and her jewelry was a pearl chain, a gift of the groom. The bridal bouquet was fashioned of yellow roses and fall flowers.

She was attended by Miss Carol Kjensrud as maid of honor. Miss Kjensrud wore a lavender dress and veil, and carried a smaller bouquet similar to that of the bride's.

Best man was Elray Christenson of Duluth, brother of the groom, and ushers were Robert Dahl, Denny Inman, and Roger DeLap.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue knit sheath with gold and beige accessories. The groom's mother wore a royal blue knit sheath with black accessories. Their corsages were of yellow and white fall flowers.

Following the ceremony, the couple were honored at a reception in the church parlors, with approximately 150 guests attending. Circle 5 of the church served. Centering the serving table was a four-tiered bridal cake topped by a miniature bridal couple. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Oscar Christenson, Mrs. Edward DeLap and Mrs. Denny Inman poured. Barbara Stromberg registered the guests. At the punch bowl were Mary Ann Maruska and Jean Sandvig, and those who displayed the gifts were Lorne Inman and Mrs. Elray Christenson.

Guests present at the reception were from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, International Falls, South St. Paul, St. Paul, Holt, Erskine, Newfolden, Vergas, Ogema, Middle River, Warroad, and McIntosh.

The bride selected a gold two-piece suit for their wedding trip to points in Northern Minnesota.

Mrs. L. Hanson Host to Legion Aux. Group

Past presidents of the American Legion auxiliary enjoyed their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Leonard Hanson on Monday evening, December 17.

Activities began with a 7 o'clock supper, with Mrs. Hanson preparing the entree and other members of the group each contributing an item of food for the holiday meal. Decorating scheme throughout the house was in the Christmas tradition, with a Christmas centerpiece on the dining table. Card games provided the main entertainment of the evening, with high honors being awarded to Mrs. Esther Plough. Also featured was the exchanging of gifts.

Legion Aux. Enrolls Now '63 Members

Enrollment of members for the activities of 1963 is rapidly being completed by Ecklund Holmstrom Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, according to Mrs. Orville Geragen, Unit Membership Chairman. The Unit is expecting to reach its 1963 quota before January 1, she said.

Song of The Shepherd

By Flora Allison

West wind, blow more softly still—
The Prince of Peace lies shivering
In a cave beneath the hill!
Stars, shine brighter, shed your light
On the humble manger He blesses tonight!

Be still, oh, heart—for can't you see
He looks just as poor as we?
From my flock tonight I'll bring
My first-born lamb to give this King . . .
He will not frown on a gift so small,
He whose home is a lowly stall!

Oh, Bethlehem, bow penitently . . .
You shut your doors on royalty!

Legion Aux. Gives Yuletide Joy To War Disabled

Gifts from "Daddy" will brighten Christmas in the homes of hospitalized war veterans throughout the country as a result of the Christmas gift shops operated in the hospitals by the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Chester Swanson, President of Ecklund-Holmstrom Auxiliary Unit, reports.

These gift shops are attractively decorated and well stocked little shops, set up in a hospital room for a few December days. The main difference between them and other shops is that there are no price tags, no prices, every-thing free to the sick and disabled veterans. The gift wrapping and mailing to their homes is also free, done by Auxiliary volunteers.

Ambulant patients, those in wheel chairs or on crutches, come to the shops where they are helped in making their selections of gifts for wives and children by the volunteer workers from the Auxiliary. Those who are unable to leave their bed made their selections from hospital carts loaded with gift items which the Auxiliary workers wheel through the wards.

"By means of the gift shops, the Auxiliary is able to give to the hospitalized veterans the most appreciated gift of all — the joy of Christmas giving," said Mrs. Swanson. "We also give them Christmas gifts for themselves, but I am sure they appreciate more the help we give them in sending gifts to their families."

Gift shops are operated by the American Legion Auxiliary each year in nearly all of the Veterans Administration's 170 hospitals, and in other hospitals where war veterans are under treatment. The activity is conducted by Auxiliary state organizations supported by contributions of gift articles and cash from local Units. Last year expenditures for the shops amounted to nearly $300,000 plus the work of many thousands of Auxiliary volunteers.

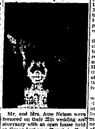
Trinity Ruth Circle Honors Aged Members

Golden Years members of the Ruth circle of Trinity Lutheran church were feted in recognition for their years of devoted church work at the regular meeting of the circle on Wednesday, December 19, at the Robert Flynn home. Mrs. Vernon Nelson was co-hostess.

Following the brief business session, the ladies were presented with a religious commemorative plate filled with Christmas goodies which were baked by Mrs. Ray Harris. She also made the presentation, assisted by Mrs. Morris Owen. Christmas carols were also sung and lunch was served by the hostesses.

Honored were Mmes. Lena Skaar, Lizzie Owen, H. S. Dahlen (in absentia), Clara Thompson, Maria Ege, Josie Jahr, and Emma Myrom.

Arne Nelsons Honored On 25th Anniversary



Mr. and Mrs. Arne Nelson were honored on their 25th wedding anniversary with an open house held at Grace Lutheran Church in Grygla early in December.

The daughters of the honored couple presented them with a corsage and boutonniere. Also receiving a boutonniere was their attendant, John Nelson.

The program included a reading by Howard Hendrickson, a song by Carol and Gloria Tiegland, a poem by Edith Peters, the playing of a humorous record, and devotions led by Rev. J. L. Erickson. Presentation of the cards and gifts was made by Howard Hendrickson, after which the couple responded with their thanks.

Lunch was then served by the hostesses, Mmes. Pete Hendrickson, Rudy Rude, John Byklum, Harry McLean, Alvin Blaine, and Ida Sund.

The anniversary cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Rudy Rude. It was cut and served by Mrs. Milton Mathieu, assisted by Mrs. Sund. Mrs. Clarence Peters poured, and Miss Edythe Peters was at the guest book.

Relatives and friends attending the celebration came from Grygla, Goodridge, Thief River Falls, Oklee, Warren, and Waubun.

Susan Sundstrom Weds A. Skallet Jr. Recently

Wedding vows were exchanged between Miss Susan Sundstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sundstrom of Duluth, and Alton Skallet Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Skallet of this city, in an early-December wedding at First Lutheran Church of this city. Rev. Marvin Carlson performed the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. William Halbasch played the traditional processional music at the church organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of blue chiffon over net and taffeta, in ballerina length. It featured a rounded neckline and long sleeves and matching veil and headband. Her pearl earrings were a gift of the groom. The bridal bouquet was of pink roses with white carnations, arranged with streamers of ivy.

Attending as matron of honor was Mrs. Ted Koropatnicki of this city, a sister of the groom. Her attire was a dress of lavender chiffon over net and taffeta, with matching veil and headband. Her necklace and earrings were a gift of the bride. She carried a bouquet of pink roses with white carnations and ribbon streamers.

Ted Koropatnicki of this city attended the groom as best man. Ushers were Darryl Skallet of Minneapolis, and Roger Solem of this city. The men of the wedding party wore black business suits with black ties.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a brown sheath dress with matching accessories, while Mrs. Skallet wore a black sheath dress with lavender accessories.

The ceremony was followed by a reception for the wedding party and about 80 guests, and held in the parlors of the church. The bridal cake was of three tiers, and was cut and served by two aunts of the groom, Mrs. Carl Peterson and Mrs. William Koskela. Another aunt of the groom, Mrs. Harold Walseth, poured, and Mrs. Roger Solem presided at the guest book.

Out-of-towners attending the wedding came from Duluth, Goodridge, Plummer, Oklee, and Minneapolis.

Mrs. Ray Molskness Guest At Baby Shower

Mrs. Orvin Peterson of rural Thief River Falls was hostess at a pink-and-blue shower to honor Mrs. Raymond Molskness on Tuesday evening, December 11.

Devotions given by Mrs. Ray Collver, preceded the entertainment, which consisted of a number of appropriate games and the gift presentation to the honored guest. Lunch was served by the hostess.

Present, in addition to Mrs. Molskness, were the following guests: Mmes. Alfred Hagenbeck and Ervin Strandquist, both of Newfolden; Ray Collver, Archie Ptacek, Harold Hjelmeland, Alma Lindquist, Earl Arnold, Rose Fluke, Esther Hagen, Sophie Taylor, Mel Johnson and Miss Ida Ramstad.

Sending gifts, although unable to be in attendance, were Mmes. Nell Paulson, Bruce Blazer, Gust Peterson and Muriel, Gottfred Hagenbeck, Mrs. Heinze and Miss Sharon Sanders.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the kitchen of

Who among us have taste buds so unresponsive that we can resist the confection so aptly called "Divinity"? Strangely enough, however, even in these days of the electric mixer, which takes most of the toil out of the process of making this particular candy, a surprising number of homemakers admit to having given up the effort. "It just doesn't turn out for me," they wail. "Either it's sticky, or it turns sugary."

After much experimenting and thanks to a "do or die" attitude on our part, we have come up with a never-fail method, . . .well, almost! The secret seems to be in the timing and in swift handling at the several critical stages. It takes two to tango, and that can be said of making divinity.

The ingredients in this heavenly confection are few.

DIVINITY FUDGE

3 cups sugar
¾ cup white syrup (dark syrup caused our failure!)
¾ cup hot water
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten.
Pinch of salt

Nuts, chopped, drained, maraschino cherries, your choice of extracts and colorings — whatever you desire.

Beat the egg whites at room temperature, until stiff and dry. Use a large mixer bowl for this.

Meanwhile, combine in a 2 quart saucepan the sugar, syrup, and hot water. Stir well. Cook, stirring occasionally, until it spins a thread AND forms a hard ball in cold water. Do not cook beyond this stage, as this causes the candy to become sugary. Now, have your assistant pour this cooked syrup in a VERY thin stream into the beaten egg whites, with the mixer at high speed, while you use the rubber spatula to guide it into the beaters. This is the second critical phase, the one which I am convinced causes the most failures. No syrup must be allowed to collect at the bottom of the mixing bowl, and the syrup must be added SLOWLY . . . .very slowly. Beat at high speed all the while, until the gloss disappears and the candy retains its shape when scooped off a spoon. From this point, work very quickly. Add flavorings, coloring, nuts, or maraschino cherries cut into bits. Two of you, working together from opposite sides of the bowl, quickly scoop up heaping spoonfuls of candy, and using the second spoon, ease each piece off onto a buttered surface such as a counter top or wax paper. If desired, sprinkle with colored sugar, top each piece with half a walnut, Brazil nut, or tinted coconut, or arrange bits of maraschino cherries in designs on the pieces.

It can be frozen after it cools, or packed into airtight containers.

On this holiday note, your editor and her family wish you and those you love, all the blessings of this sacred season: the warmth of love that is shared with family and friends. . .and yes, the lonely and the shut-ins too and those without families with which to share . . . This is in the true spirit of the season, the giving, the sharing.

And incidentally, we wish you the good eating that is also a part of this very, very special time.

Bless you!

HAPPY HOMEMAKING

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

Tonight the nation over will be observing Christmas eve. I wish to express my wishes for the most sincere Merry Christmas to each and every one of you.

Will you have some left-over food from the Christmas dinner? You can save it by freezing it. Unfrosted cookies freeze very well. You can prevent breakage by freezing them in covered metal cans.

Fresh fruit pies, pumpkin, chiffon and mince pies, baked pie shells and graham cracker shells all freeze successfully. But don't freeze meringue toppings on pies because they tend to be tougher, shrink and separate and stick to wrappers.

Gelatin molded salads freeze well if you use 1¾ cups of liquid instead of two cups. Keep gelatin salads in the freezer less than a month.

Treat grease spots on wash and wear fabrics before you put the spotted garments into the laundry. One effective way is to apply a liquid detergent to grease spots on finely woven cotton and dacron mixtures and other wash and wear fabrics. Then rinse. Often, however, you may need to pre-spot with a grease solvent like carbon tetrachloride.

Open House Held For Gust Larsons December 16

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Larson of this city were honored guests at an open house Sunday, Dec. 16, in observance of their golden wedding anniversary. The affair, attended by over 100 friends and relatives, was held at the Art Dicken home, with Mrs. Dicken as hostess, and Mrs. Eldon Larson, daughter-in-law of the couple, as co-hostess.

Mr. Larson received a corsage and her husband a boutonniere. A boutonniere was also presented to Paul Thyren, who was best man at their wedding, a corsage and boutonniere to the pastor of the Larsons' church, Rev. and Mrs. Eldor Langager of Mission Covenant parish, and Mrs. Dicken likewise received a corsage.

The members of the Mission Covenant church honored the Larsons with a floral arrangement in the golden wedding motif, and they also received a host of gifts and a purse of money. Rev. Langager gave a message and led devotions, after which the trio composed of the couple's three nephews rendered several vocal numbers. Pictures were taken later.

The centerpiece of the serving table carried out the theme of the top of the three-tiered anniversary cake. It was an old-fashioned brass plated lamp base with a glass chimney which held a golden candle. Surrounding it were peppermint-striped carnations, holly, and golden Christmas ball-shaped ornaments.

The cake was topped by an open bell inside of which were arranged peppermint carnations, and on the first and second tiers of which golden tapers had been placed.

Lunch was served buffet style, with Nancy Dicken serving punch. Mrs. William Gilbertson of St. Hilaire, a sister of Mrs. Larson, pouring, and Mrs. Chester Rude cutting and serving the cake. Mrs. Joe Solney was kitchen chairman.

The Larsons were married in St. Hilaire, and are the parents of two sons, Eldon, of St. Hilaire, and Stanley, at home.

BLESSINGS of Christmas are dependent upon a child-like faith in the Savior who was born in Bethlehem and the strength to carry on in His tradition. The nativity scene, symbol of the Christmas season throughout the world, is an inspiration to young and old alike. The scene above is erected by William LaFave each year near his home at 1215 E. Taft Street, and is one of the focal points of holiday lighting which again this year adds its splendor to the Christmas season.

REV. Gustav P. Ronholm at Newfolden for 18 years and chaplain for Thief River Falls hospitals and sanitorium for four years, died recently in Minneapolis. He was 71 years of age at the time of his death. He served the Newfolden parish from 1927 to 1945 and made his residence in Thief River Falls from 1945 to 1949 when he moved to Erskine.

Kiddies Treated By VFW and Auxiliary

The annual Christmas party sponsored by the local VFW Post and auxiliary for the children of the members was held on Sunday, December 16, at the club rooms. Over 400 bags of goodies were distributed to the youngsters, while their parents were served cookies and coffee. As Santa visited with the younger children, the older ones were entertained at games by girls of the junior unit of the auxiliary.

The local hospital reported that it had 16 children among its patients that day, and these children were remembered also, each being presented with a bag of candy and fruits by the junior girls. On the following day, 26 bags of treats were also brought to the children in the retarded class in the public school's special education program.

Campanulas Visit Shut-ins; Bring Gifts

Campanula Garden club met December 11 at the meeting room of the court house. Their project for the meet was the decoraton of coffee cans which were later filled with goodies and given to various shut-ins. This phase of the project was carried out on December 21, when the group met at the home of Miss Geneva Overum to fill the containers with cookies and candy. About 30 such homemade gifts were delivered to as many shut-ins, most of them in private homes. Following the delivery, the members enjoyed a pot-luck lunch at the Overum home.

Next meeting of the club will be at 2 p. m., Friday, December 28, at the Irving Swanson home.

THE STORY OF CHRISTMAS

By Marie Gustafson

Will you tell me the story
Of how Jesus came to earth,
And why it is at Christmas
We celebrate his birth?
One night in far Judea
Some shepherds heard the sound
Of angels sweetly singing,
And a bright light shown around.
They heard the angels tell them
That Christ the Lord was born;
They hurried to the manger,
And it was Christmas morn.
That same night three great wise men
Were looking for a star
And when they saw it shining
They followed from afar.
They brought gifts to the Baby,
The little Jesus there
Asleep beside his mother
In lowly manger bare.
We may not hear the angels
Who sang so long ago,
But we can hear their message
And bring him gifts you know.
For what is done for others
He says is done for him,
The glory of the Christmas Star
We know will never dim.

Injunction Issued in Free Church Dispute

A temporary injunction ordering an association of Lutheran Free Church congregations opposing the merger with the American Lutheran Church to stop using the name "Lutheran Free Church" was issued Monday by Judge Lyman A. Brink in 9th Judicial District court.

The temporary injunction was filed in Roseau county, where the case was originated. The order was issued at the request of the Lutheran Free Church board of administration which has its headquarters in Minneapolis.

The temporary injunction restrains the anti-merger group from using any name similar to that of the LFC, and the order will remain in effect until a ruling on a request for a permanent injunction is made.

Defendants in the action were the anti-merger group and its secretary, the Rev. Richard Snipstead, Greenbush.

Judge Brink in a memorandum said the LFC merger with the ALC does not take effect until Feb. 1, 1963, and that the LFC board of administration will continue its legal existence after that date.

He said, "much confusion will result if the anti-merger group retains its present name or any other one similar to the LFC.

It is a common principle of law, he added, that those who have used a name for a long time should be given protection in that use.

The anti-merger group was organized in October in Thief River Falls. It is made up of congregations and individuals which opposed the ALC merger in three referendums conducted in LFC congregations.

The third referendum a year ago received a required majority after the first two earlier ones had failed.

Those opposed to the merger with the ALC have cited its "liberal" trends in theology, its "centralized" organization, its membership in the World Council of Churches and its departure from pietism as evidenced by social dancing at some ALC colleges.

Highway Use Tax Installment Due

Revenue Agent Reminds Truck and Bus Owners

George O. Lethert, district director of internal revenue in St. Paul, today reminded truck and bus owners who have elected to pay their highway use tax in installments that December 31st is the due date for the next payment. A notice of payment is being sent to these taxpayers.

A form 2290 should be filed on all taxable vehicles by the end of the month following the month they were first used on public highways. However, liability for highway use tax arises only once each year on each taxable vehicle. Therefore, on second-hand trucks or buses acquired, the new owner should check to see if the use tax has already been paid by the previous owners for the current year. If it has, the new owner incurs no liability for tax on his use of such vehicle for that year.

Truck and bus owners who first became liable for the Federal highway use tax in November or who put additional vehicles into operation are reminded that returns should be filed for such vehicles by the end of December. The tax may be paid in full by December 31st or in three equal payments by December 31st, March 31st and June 30th.

Mr. Lethert reports that $1,309,000 was collected in highway use taxes during the period July 1, 1962 to November 30, 1962 compared to $839,000 in the same period in 1961, an increase of $470,000.

Additional information, forms or an instruction booklet may be obtained at any internal revenue office.

Services For Christ Nissen To Be Held Here

Funeral arrangements are pending for Christ Nissen, a Pennington county resident for many years who died Friday, December 21 at the age of 82 years. Green Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements. Funeral services will be held from Zion Lutheran Church of this city.

of Rhyme & Reason

by MARY LINDER

"ANGELS WE HAVE HEARD ON HIGH" . . ." rings out the Christmas Carol which becomes more familiar each year. The story of Christmas—this narrative of God's own son being born in a lowly stable in the village of Bethlehem to live among men—is a most cherished part of the Christian heritage throughout the world.

It is evident that the significant fact of Christmas, this very birth of the Christ Child, is often greatly obscured by the insignificant factors combined under the intangible term of "Christmas spirit". Aggressive merchandising may be held accountable for much of this camouflage, but the real neglect of our heritage lies within the people themselves.

Our nation's population, and I'm sure most of us can be held accountable, has found greater earthly satisfaction in the glamor of the present than the hallowing of the past or the glory of the future. In this manner we have trod unceremoniously on God's Greatest Gift while scurrying to please the kids, the neighbors and ourselves.

This year let us at least pause for serious reflection on the true meaning of Christmas. Let us meditate on God, His Gift, His purpose and His love. Let us realize that the commemoration of the birth of Christ is the beginning of a re-birth for Christianity and that it marked the beginning of what was to come more than 30 years later—the crucifixion of this same Christ for the salvation of mankind.

Let us hark to the angels who brought the glad tidings of great joy: "For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, which is Christ, the Lord."

Action by the Thief River Falls board of education last Wednesday means that residents of the district will again be presented with a bond issue election. It is the duty of each citizen to become informed on the issues so that he may vote intelligently when the question is placed on the ballot. School board meetings are open to the public, but a woefully small attendance of interested persons has been noted at past meetings. Form your own opinions—but base them on facts rather than hearsay.

Queried about his enthusiasm for obstetrics, the medical student in the maternity ward said, "When I was on medical rotation I suffered from heart attacks, asthma and itch. In surgery I was sure I had ulcers. In the psychiatric wards I thought I was losing my mind. Now, at last, in obstetrics I can relax."

Mrs. Olga Kelly of Thief River Falls was a victim of circumstance recently, according to the Warren Sheaf. She was attending to the family of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Dan Green, while Mrs. Green was hospitalized. It was reported that she spent most of the day plucking cockleburrs off the family dog, giving it a bath and brushing it 'til it shined. Dr. Green admitted, upon his return home, that Lucky made an exceedingly fine appearance but seemed to have grown a tail. Mrs. Kelly had spent the day grooming someone else's dog.

What would your neighbors think, Mr. Smith," wrote the collection agency, "if we came to your town and repossessed your car?" A week later the letter was returned with the following note scrawled across the bottom: "Sir, I took the above matter up with my neighbors and they think it would be a lousy trick."

MECHANICAL MARVEL

Do you take an active interest
In your home community?
Do you glory with your neighbor
In his opportunity?

Do you wish him well in ventures
That involve a bit of work
And pitch right in to help him
To achieve his aims, or shirk?

Or do you do the knocking
And deplore the sad estate
Of the present situation
That more knocking helped create?

Do you say the price of progress
Is too dear a cost to pay?
Do you clog the future's pathway
Just by standing in the way?

It's known that missing motors
In cars performance rob,
And the ones that knock the loudest
Do by far the poorest job.

Don't Blame All Air Pollution on Cars

AAA Cautions Against Unjustified Measures

Increased concern over air pollution in U. S. cities must not be used as an excuse for "unjustified measures adverse to the ownership or use of automobiles," according to Dr. William G. Sauer, Rochester, president of the Minnesota State Automobile Assn.

"Air pollution is a complicated matter," he added, "and unless the subject is viewed objectively and comprehensively, there is a real danger that undue emphasis might be given to individual factors in the total picture."

The AAA head said that "troublesome urban air pollution" is created by two basic factors: substantial amounts of air pollutants in the air and insufficient air movement to dissipate the pollutants.

"Research, particularly in Los Angeles, has established that, when in operation, motor vehicles produce considerable amounts of fumes which then become part of the air pollution picture. But this is not to say that motor vehicles in your city are important factors in producing a serious degree of air pollution," Dr. Sauer declared. "Indeed, in most places, the conditions essential to development of serious air pollution have not been shown to exist simultaneously in dangerous degree."

Dr. Sauer also pointed out that automobile manufacturers are now designing vehicles to combat the air pollution problem as much as possible. He said "blow by" devices to reduce gases from the crankcase will be on most '63's.

NFO Explained At Meeting In T.R.F. Thursday

contract has been received. The processor purchasing the product would also be required to pay a five per cent "service charge" to the organization for providing him with his needs.

The organization is divided into marketing areas comprised of 10 to 25 counties for the purpose of bargaining. County and area bargaining committees are elected by the members. Nothing in the membership agreements can be changed without a two-thirds majority of all the members voting in a mail referendum.

In signing a membership agreement with the NFO, a farmer authorizes the organization to be his exclusive representative in collective bargaining in respect to all commodities marketed from. He also authorizes the organization to act as representative in the presentation, prosecution and adjustment of any complaint against the processor.

Agreements are made for three years and are automatically renewed unless canceled by written notice to the NFO not more than 20 nor less than 10 days prior to the date of expiration.

No contract consummated with a processor shall be effective or binding until it has been ratified by a two-thirds vote of members in a marketing area who have signed NFO contracts for the commodity in question. Members must receive at least 10 days written notice by first class mail if such meetings are to take place.

When a contract has been consumated in accordance with the terms of the agreement covering a member's commodity, and he sells his commodity to a processor other than the one specified in the agreement, he will be assessed 10 per cent of his gross sale to the NFO for liquidated damages.

"We would expect you to be a loyal NFO member," Gundy told the group, "and as a loyal member would expect you to supply the man holding the contract for your product."

If quotas should become necessary on members under contract, they will be determined by the same procedure as ratification as the contract with the processor—a two-thirds majority. If quotas are established they will be based on contracts with processors for a specific quality and quantity of products. They will also be based on quality, bushel and poundage basis and good land practices and ratio instead of crop history, and administered by the establishment of pools based on quality.

Herbert Walter, Red Lake Falls, reported on his attendance at the NFO national convention in Des Moines, Ia. The organization currently has members in 16 midwest states with boundary states including Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Oklahoma and Idaho.

Aviation Agency Joins with State in Safety Drive

The Minnesota department of aeronautics and the Federal Aviation Agency have jointly announced the start of a state-wide flying safety campaign.

L. E. McCabe, Commissioner of Aeronautics, and A. J. Prokop, Supervising Inspector, Federal Aviation Agency, stated, "We believe this will improve the safety record of an already safe means of transportation. Pilots not observing regulations which are based on safety are the major cause of our aircraft accidents in Minnesota."

All aircraft owners and pilots are being asked to pledge to fly safely in 1963 and to observe all flying regulations.

Support for the campaign has already been pledged by Minnesota Airport Operators Association, Flying Farmers, Insurance companies and flying organizations.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS, BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS PENNINGTON COUNTY, MINN.

Dec. 4, 1962

Pursuant to adjournment the County Commissioners met in the Commissioners' Room in the Court House at 10:00 A. M., December 4, 1962.

Members present: Hanson, Olson, Almquist, Lindberg and Tasa: All present.

Moved by Olson seconded by Almquist that the sum of $540.00 be appropriated from the Road & Bridge Fund and the Ditch Repair Fund for the assessed benefit to County Roads as determined by Court Order in the Construction of Branch A, Judicial Ditch No. 30. Carried.

Moved by Lindberg seconded by Hanson that the Auditor be authorized to transfer Ditch Maintenance Funds to the Road & Bridge Fund to reimburse the Highway Department for services and materials expended in the year 1962, the details of which appear on page 163 of the Auditors Journal. Motion carried.

On motion by Hanson seconded by Olson a Ditch Maintenance levy of 2 per cent of the original cost is hereby levied for maintenance purposes against properties assessed to the various ditches, and when said tax is collected such maintenance tax shall be credited to the various ditches as follows: Rock-North No. 1, Co. 31, Co. 38, 44, 45, 47, 57 and Jud. 1; A levy of 4 per cent is levied against the following ditches: San-Bit 1, Co. 38, 42, 49, 55 68, Wy-RF 3(18), Jud 13 and Co. 75; A 5 per cent levy against Co. 33; A 6 per cent levy against Co. 37 and Jud. 18; An 8 per cent levy against Co. 21 and a 10 per cent levy against Co. 51, Jud 25, Jud 41 and Jud 60. Motion carried.

Commissioner Hanson introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED: That the sum of $8,415.00 be set apart from the General Revenue Fund and appropriated subject to the order of the Dean of the Institute of Agriculture of the University of Minnesota for the support of county extension work in agriculture and home economics in Pennington County, for the year beginning January 1, 1963, in accordance with Chapter 203, Laws 1953 and acts supplementary thereto.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Almquist and declared carried.

Upon motion by Lindberg seconded by Olson the amount of $44,139.00 was established as the amount needed for the County School Tax Fund for the year 1962 and collectible in 1963 to be spread on the tax records against property in schools that do not have a high school. This amount calls for an estimated 53.1 mills, a reduction from an earlier estimated 60 mills, that had resulted from estimates of the Department of Education before consolidation of Common School 1553 with Goodridge school 561. Motion carried.

Application for Homestead approved for Bernhard Rustan in Town of North on 4.8 acres in the SE¼SE¼ of Sec. 29, for the 1962 tax records.

Commissioner Olson introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, Pennington County, Minnesota, by resolution of its Board of County Commissioners, has heretofore approved a plan providing for a community mental health program to serve the geographical area of Pennington County and of Polk, Roseau, Kittson, Marshall, Red Lake, Norman and Mahnomen Counties in the State of Minnesota, and

WHEREAS, a similar plan has been approved by and on behalf of the other said participating Counties, and

WHEREAS, the plans, as so approved, provided for the administration of the program by a Community Mental Health Board, consisting of nine (9) members appointed by the Counties, which said Board is now administering the program, and

WHEREAS, the members of the said Community Mental Health Board have submitted their resignations therefrom and requesting acceptance thereof as of January 1, 1963, and

WHEREAS, the Northwestern Mental Health Center is a non-profit corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of Minnesota Statutes Annotated, Section 317, as amended, for the purpose among other things, of administering a mental health program within the said counties and to qualify and function under Minnesota Statutes Annotated, Sections 245.61 through 245.69 generally designated as "the Community Mental Health Services Act of 1957", and

WHEREAS, it appears that there is a continuing need for a mental health program within Pennington County, and

WHEREAS, it has been made to appear to this Board of County Commissioners of Pennington County that the other Counties herein named have adopted or are about to adopt resolutions approving the continuance of a community mental health program in the nature of the plan previously approved and now functioning within the Counties, and providing for the administration of the program by the said corporation, to commence on January 1, 1963, and

WHEREAS, the operation of the program by the corporation appears to be in all respects feasible and according to Law,

NOW THEREFORE, under authority in us vested by law in the State of Minnesota, we do hereby resolve:

(1) We do hereby approve, re-approve and confirm a plan for a community mental health program to serve Pennington County and the geographical area of the Counties of Polk, Roseau, Kittson, Marshall, Red Lake, Norman and Mahnomen, in the State of Minnesota, which plan shall be in full force and affect from and after January 1, 1963.

(2) That the plan as hereby approved shall in all respects and so far as possible, conform to the program now in effect in the said counties, except that the program under the plan shall be administered by the Northwestern Mental Health Center, a Minnesota Corporation.

(3) That so long as the said corporation continues to administer the said program under authority of Pennington County, it shall receive financial support as is accorded the program by Pennington County.

(4) That on January 1, 1963 and for such a time thereafter as the corporation continues to administer the program under authority of the Counties participating therein, it shall be entitled to have and possess all records, files and fixtures and equipment heretofore or hereafter used in the administration of a community mental health program within the Counties.

(5) That the Secretary of this Board be and he is hereby directed to send a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of the Community Mental Health Board now administering the mental health program within the said Counties, and to the Secretary of the Northwestern Mental Health Center, the corporation referred to in this resolution and to the Department of Public Welfare of the State of Minnesota.

The foregoing resolution was duly seconded by Commissioner Hanson and declared carried.

The resignation of Norman Peterson as a member of the Northwestern Mental Health Center Board was accepted effective January 1, 1963 upon motion by Lindberg seconded by Almquist and declared carried.

Moved by Lindberg seconded by Hanson that Norman Peterson be appointed to the Board of the Northwestern Mental Health Center, Inc., effective January 1, 1963 for a term to terminate June 30, 1966. Motion carried.

Moved by Almquist seconded by Lindberg that Pennington County enter into agreement with the Northwestern Mental Health Center, Inc., to support said Corporation for the balance of its fiscal year ending June 30, 1963 in the proposed amount of $2,964.75. Motion carried.

Moved by Olson seconded by Almquist that the Civil Defense Budget for the year 1963 in the amount of $2,883.00 be approved and the County Auditor be instructed to transfer $1,442.50 from Revenue to the Civil Defense Fund as of January 1, 1963, as the County share of the City-County budget. Motion carried.

At 4:00 P. M. the Board proceeded to open bids for a new Motor Grader as duly advertised and called for and offering as a trade in one used Adams 610 Motor Grader.

The following bids were opened and read, aloud:

Sweeney Bros., Fargo-Model 45, net bid of	$ 19,990.00
Phillippi Equip. Co., Mpls., Model 118	17,725.00

Krider Equip. Co., Fargo, Model 440	18,908.00
Wm. H. Ziegler, Mpls., Model 12	21,529.00

The bid of Wm. H. Ziegler Co., Inc. appeared to be the lowest and best bid received and upon motion by Hanson seconded by Olson said bid was accepted and the Auditor and Chairman were instructed and authorized to enter into agreement with said Wm. H. Ziegler Co., Inc., for delivery of a new Model 12 Cat for the indicated amount of $21,529.00.

Carried.

Moved by Hanson seconded by Almquist that the reading of the minutes of Nov. 7, 1962 be postponed until the January 8, 1963 meeting.

Carried.

Prowler Wrestlers Take Mahnomen 37-10

Coach Al Shaff's Prowler wrestlers marked up their fifth win in six matches this season when, on Thursday afternoon, they defeated the Mahnomen Indians of District 30, 37 to 10, in a match held at Mahnomen. In a preliminary match, coach Dale Folger's Prowler 'B' squad scored a 29 to 16 win over the Waubun 'A' squad.

In leading the Prowlers to their decisive win over the Mahnomen club, co-captains Roger Wilson and Dwight Myhrer, in the 112-lb. and heavyweight classes, respectively, scored five-point wins by pinning their opponents. Gary Nereson, in the 127-lb. class and Joe Taylor in the 145-lb. class, also scored pin victories. Prowler decisions, worth three points each, were gained by Roy Delorme, Donovan Berggren, Steve Skadsen, Ray Ulrich, and Bob Benson. Tom Larson wrestled to a draw in the 138-lb. class.

The Prowler varsity squad will participate in the Grand Rapids Invitational meet at Grand Rapids on Saturday, Jan. 5. The first-round matches will begin at 12:30 P. 4-H CLUB NEWS

St. Hilaire 4-H

The monthly meeting of the St. Hilaire 4-H club was held December 13. New business was picking a safety slogan for the 4-H booths.

Sibyl Sjulson gave a project talk on safety around horses and Margie Vik and Marlene Rolland read a poem about Mrs. Santa Claus, followed by a demonstration by JoAnn Wald on Christmas decorations. An accordion solo was played by Coral Sjulson, a demonstration was given on how to make mosaic tile pictures by Chad Rolland, and a skit on "The Night Before Christmas" was given by several 4-H members. After a prjeet talk about dairying by Mickey Tollefson, another skit was given by Gary Bruggeman on "Keeping Busy", and Phyllis Christenson gave a demonstration on "How to Make a Santa Claus Cake", followed by group singing. Then there was a Christmas party and lunch was served by Mrs. Ray Haugen, Mrs. Walter Hooas, and Mrs. Ray Kurowski.

the family car from the garage, rammed the police car which had just arrived on the scene, and proceeded north out of the city on highway 32 at a moderate rate of speed. The shooting occurred when Sgt. Myers and Patrolman Bennie Miramontes attempted to rush the youth after he had driven his car onto a snow-covered road approach. Wangberg himself was wounded twice.

Key Witness

Considered to be the key witness in the prosecution was Dr. Burton Grimes, psychiatrist and superintendent of the state mental hospital at St. Peter. As the first rebuttal witness for the prosecution, Dr. Grimes said it was his opinion, based on several months of observation, that Wangberg knew the nature of his act, understood what he was doing and that it was wrong. He added that he did not think the boy was mentally ill or that he was schizophrenic.

Dr. Henry W. Hogan, neuro-psychiatrist at the Northwestern Mental Health Center at Crookston, concurred with Dr. Grimes' diagnosis. Dr. Hogan said that Wangberg was the victim of what he termed an "immature adolesceneeadjustment" but that it was not of such severity to require hospitalization and treatment.

Opinions of Dr. Grimes and Dr. Hogan were directly opposed to those expressed by Dr. Howard C. Reid, psychiatrist from Bemidji, and Dr. Donald DeKrey, psychologist from Bemidji, in their testimony as witnesses for the defense. Both expressed the opinion that Wangberg suffered from extreme schizophrenia.

In his summation, prosecutor Satere pointed out that the law provides that a defense of insanity must prove the defendant did not know the nature of his act or that it was wrong. He cited Wangberg's clear and concise accounts of the shooting and added, "If he did not know the nature of his act and that it was wrong—if he was, in fact, insane—how do we account for his perfect recollection of his actions?"

H. O. Chommie, in his defense summation, described Wangberg as a "poor young man, his mind in a turmoil, who was deeply disturbed by what had happened in his home." He termed the police officers "brash and foolhardy" in rushing the youth. "All he wanted was to be left alone," Chommie said. "He had only half a mind that night, and when those police officers rushed in on top of him, the remaining half of his mind went like smoke."

Verdict of the jury was in agreement with the prosecution's charge that the murder was committed "with design, and without excuse or justification."

Challenged ballots were those which could be said to contain distinctive marking — such as check marks rather than "x" marks, duplicate voting for candidates in other races or marks on the ballot other than required for voting.

Sen. Elmer L. Andersen

Minnesota on the Move.

It has become traditional to take stock of economic progress at the end of the year. Newspapers issue special editions, companies strike off balance sheets and profit and loss statements, communities review progress.

Minnesota can look upon 1962 as a good year and the future as offering encouragement. Early 1962 was very uneven as to crop conditions, particularly in flood areas, but overall crops came through in good shape. Farm income is up.

Industrial employment is a bright spot. Jobs passed the million mark this year for the first time, unemployment is far below the national average and per capita income is increasing more rapidly than the national average.

Researchers of the Upper Midwest Economic Study tell me that Minnesota is out-performing the region as well as the nation and the difference is showing up on charts and graphs.

Most serious economic problem is that of northeastern Minnesota. Without immediate inducements for substantial taconite expansion the near future is bleak. Tourism and forest product development make longer range estimates more favorable.

Most serious threat to agriculture are rising tariffs of the common market area. While we talk of all the benefits of the "trade expansion act" the fact is it could have a devastating effect on midwest agriculture. The common market is going both ways at once — encouraging lower tariffs for its industrial goods so they have ready access to our markets, yet putting prohibitive — not protective — prohibitive tariffs on our agricultural products. Our Congressmen and Senators simply must do something about this.

auditor-elect has announced the Significant Figures

As I have traveled from one end of the state to the other reviewing rural county trade and financial figures two facts are characteristic:

Bank deposits are up. There's a lot of money in Minnesota. Chances are, in your town, that bank deposits have risen faster than in the bigger cities.

Retail sales in our smaller towns are down. Although people are making more, saving more and spending more, they are doing more and more of their retail buying in bigger cities.

Here's How to Boost Your Town

There are many ways to boost a community, but from the facts I just mentioned, here are two: Trade in your home community. The dollars you spend with your local merchants are a bigger boost than you might imagine to employment and prosperity in your own town. Each additional job you generate pumps new energy into your local economic lifestream.

Second suggestion — instead of waiting for some new industry or plant to come to your town — start one yourself. If the leading merchants, farmers, and professional people of any Minnesota community would get together, assess their potential, go to work on manufacturing or distributing ideas, and organize an enterprise—they themselves could develop the payroll that would so much help balance agricultural activity.

Almost any Minnesota community has more resources in the way of educated, talented people, economic potential, and available money than places in other states we vaguely look to, hoping they'll come in with a nice payroll.

That's the big challenge of the future — to realize we have everything right here — in people, resources, money, opportunity — all we need is to add the factors of vision, determination and hard work. Waiting for something to happen — or "government to do something" — or someone else to come along with all you desire—is not the American way. The American way is to get on with the job yourself — wherever you are, with the tools at hand. This attitude built America. It can continue Minnesota moving ahead.

A Happy New Year to you.

Offer Tips on Caring for Christmas Plants

The blooms on your Christmas plants will last longer if you follow a few rules in caring for them.

Most flowering plants of the Christmas season are short lived when brought into the home because it's difficult to obtain the ideal conditions under which the plants have been growing in greenhouses. However, C. G. Hard, extension horticulturist at the University of Minnesota, says you can prolong the beauty of many of these plants by placing them in bright light, preferably sunlight, keeping them at cool night temperatures, and keeping the soil moist but not bog-like.

Of all the Christmas plants, the poinsettia is perhaps most sensitive to sudden drops in temperature and to drafts. A temperature of 70 to 75 degrees F. is preferable. Temperatures below 60 degrees F. or above 75 degrees F. shorten the life of the poinsettia. Avoid setting it near a cold or hot air register or near the door. The poinsettia should never be near a window at night.

Keep the soil in the pot moist but do not overwater. Placing the plant in a metal tray in which sand is kept constantly wet will increase humidity.

Hard gives these further tips on caring for other popular gift plants:

Jerusalem cherry. Keep as cool as possible and in full sunlight. Discard when fruits have dropped. Fruits drop naturally soon after they mature.

Cyclamen. A cyclamen may bloom for several months if placed in a cool room of 65 to 68 degrees F. Place it where it gets some morning light. Never allow the soil to dry out completely while the plant is in flower.

Cineraria. Keep in full sunshine during the day and at a night temperature of 50 degrees F. Water heavily. The lower leaves will turn yellow and wilt if the soil is too dry or if the plant gets too little light.

Azalea. The blooms will last much longer if the plant is kept at a temperature between 50 and 60 degrees F. Keep in partial shade and water moderately.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schenkey went to Red Lake Falls Thursday evening where Mr. Schenkey attended a bankers meeting. They were later lunch guests at the Walter Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Olberg and Ricky and Mrs. Ellen Anderson and Carolyn left Sunday for the Cities, where they will spend the Christmas weekend with relatives and will return Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hanson accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lindahl of TRF left Friday for Waukegan, Ill. to spend the Christmas week with their children and families. Enroute they visited at the L. C. Lindahl home at Coon Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Skadsem, Mr. and Mrs. James Hjelle, Mr. and Mrs. Jens Bach, and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Skadsem were also among the visitors at the family gathering held at the Glendon McKeever home last Sunday.

Adolph, Sarah and Marie Anderson, Mrs. Florence Anderson and Mrs. Harvey Anderson were among those who helped Beda Anderson observe her birthday last Thursday.

Mrs. Ernest Berg and Mrs. Hjalmer Hanson visited Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Effie Scramstad. Other callers during the week were Mrs. Caroline Hanson, Mrs. Gene Hanson and Laurie, Mrs. O. Schenkey and Mrs. B. A. Hanson.

Heavy Snowfall Saturday Brought White Christmas

Five Inches Received At TRF Airport; Cold Follows Heavy Snowfall

White Christmas for those who wanted it became a reality Saturday morning when snow in excess of five inches was reported in the Thief River Falls area. Temperatures at 27 degrees at 6 a. m. Saturday at the municipal airport here dropped to 10 degrees by 11 a. m. and were expected to plummet to lows of —8 to —18.

A drop of nine degrees in one hour from 9 to 10 a. m. Saturday was noted as the cold snap accompanied the storm. Winds anticipated from 30 to 50 miles per hour were expected to cause drifting snow and zero visibility in the area.

Snowfall in heavy amounts was noted generally north of an east-west line through Little Falls with the state highway patrol reporting the heaviest snowfall north of Erskine and Mahnomen. Detroit Lakes had rain and freezing conditions which resulted in glare ice on the highways and that condition extended south to Brainerd and nearly to the Twin Cities. The metropolitan area was receiving snow on Saturday noon.

The highway patrol also noted that plows were out and all trunk highways were open. They advised extreme caution when traveling, due to poor visibility in this area and icy conditions further south. The snowfall extended over Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

A Note from Bob Johnson

Bob Johnson, the hockey coach of the Minneapolis Roosevelt Teddies, who will bring the Teddies' A and B squads here for games against the Prowlers on Thursday, Dec. 27, sends an interesting letter on the progress of his team.

Says Bob: "Just a note to you telling about the present Roosevelt hockey squad. To date we have played the best teams in the state outside of Region Eight, and after the trip up there we will have played them all.

"Scores so far: Roosevelt, 4; Richfield, 3. Richfield has the best team in the hockey history of the school, and are presently undefeated in league competiton.

"International Falls, 3; Roosevelt 1. Falls are again a tough team, and receive excellent goaltending from Larry Roche.

"Roosevelt, 3; Eveleth, 2, in overtime. Eveleth has an excellent first line.

"South St. Paul, 3; Roosevelt, 2, in overtime. The Packers have great balance, and have worked out two hours daily on their new rink since Nov. 12. They will be tough.

"Rosevelt 5; Minneapolis West, 5. West has a boy from Finland, Jula Rahtaalla, an exchange student, who is great. He scored four goals against us.

"Roosevelt, 8; Minneapolis Edison, 0. We had a good night.

"We have good balance, led by Jon Hall (who was an All-State tournament selection in his sophomore year, two years ago) and Bob Lindberg, an excellent left wing.

"We still have problems with out defense, and also in putting the puck in the net. Hockey has really developed throughout the state, and there is great balance between the teams from the various sections of the state.

"We are looking forward to our trip to Thief River Falls and Roseau. We have had excellent games in the past, and I know that our game on the 27th will be a good one. We are also playing a 'B' game with the Prowler 'B's".

Wrestling Notes

The Park Rapids varsity wrestling squad suffered a serious loss this past week when it was learned that Roger Holmes, the Region Eight titleist in the 154-lb. class, will be out of competition for the rest of the season because of a dislocated shoulder. Holmes received the injury during a match with the Bemidji Lumberjacks.

Prowler coach Al Shaff is hopeful that Terry Nelson, one of the Region's best wrestlers in the 145-lb. class, will be back in action the latter part of January. Terry will undergo surgery for the removal of some cartilage fragments in his knee, and if complications do not develop, he will be able to begin training shortly. His presence will surely bolster the Prowler squad.

The Greenbush Tigers, the only team that has scored a win over the Prowlers this season, have a pair of Region Eight champions on their roster. LeRoy Sikorski won the regional 95-lb. class championship last season, and Vincent Ames was the 133-lb. class champion. The Tigers will meet the Prowlers in a return match here on Wednesday, Jan. 16.

Winnipeg Concerned About Hockey

That the Winnipeg hockey enthusiasts are concerned by the caliber of junior hockey that is being developed up there can be judged by these comments from the Winnipeg Tribune:

"The west still turns out some reasonable talent but we no longer have the facilities and the season to match the eastern brethern whose peewees have been on skates since September.

"Some Toronto minor teams will play 80 games or more this season. Our own little guys still are hopefully watching the weather man and trusting their open-air rinks will be playable all over town next week.

"Winnipeg, a city of a half-million, only has one artificial ice rink. Metro Toronto, admittedly twice the size, has at least 15 indoor artificial rinks plus a number of open-air artificial ice surfaces which have proven most satisfactory. Our facilities are so hopelessly inadequate for turning out the fellow who wants to make hockey a serious business, it is a wonder we make any showing at all."

It will be a long time before American hockey reaches the national-pride level that it has attained in Canada.

Late Events in Middle River

Mrs. B. A. Hanson

Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Kottsick and family left Friday for Minot, N. D., where they will spend the Christmas holidays at their parental homes and also to observe her grandfather's 80th birthday.

Edwin Ellefson, Buddy Hemp and Billy Stardig arrived here at their respective homes Monday from Fort Ord, Calif., having completed their six-months training duty through the National Guard.

Mrs. Ole Johnson received the sad news that her brother, Harold Swanson, 47 years of age, passed away at Grand Forks, Tuesday, Dec. 18. Funeral services will be conducted at Grand Forks on Friday. Sympathy goes out to Mrs. Johnson.

P. F. C. Robert Prickett arrived home Tuesday evening from Germany for a 30-day furlough with his folks, the Robert Pricketts.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Evans left Friday night for Winthrop Harbor, Ill., and Waukegan, where they will spend the Christmas holidays with their children and families.

A. L. Kezar and Esther Wallin left last Thursday for Florida to spent the winter months with Mrs. Wallin's relatives.

Anyone as busy as Santa's hectic helpers can err occasionally. But no problem—we'll exchange it easily, willingly, gladly. If it's the wrong size, style or color or you prefer something entirely different, just bring it back. That's our policy before or after Christmas and every day of the year!

Property Tax Short Course at Crookston Is Set for Assessors

A series of nine property tax short courses for local assessors will be held around Minnesota in January and February. Each course will involve four day-long sessions, according to James Schwinden, University economist and course coordinator. Courses will be held at Rochester, Waseca, Lamberton, Morris, Little Falls, Detroit Lakes, Crookston, Grand Rapids and St. Paul.

More than 500 local assessors attended five similar courses last year. Response was so enthusiastic, according to Schwinden, that the series is being expanded this year and more topics will be included.

The University of Minnesota departments of economics and agricultural economics are sponsoring the courses, in cooperation with the branch stations and Ag. extension service of the University of Minnesota, Minnesota department of taxation, Minnesota County Assessing Officers association Minnesota Association of Local Assessing Officers, Minnesota County Commissioners association and the U. S. soil conservation service.

Objectives of the courses are to help local assessors understand the importance of their jobs, to demonstrate tools for assessing and how they can be used cooperatively with county assessing officers and to familiarize local assessors with helpful sources of information.

Township and village assessors ar invited to attend. A fee of $10 is charged for each complete course. County officials may attend a single day's session as observers for $3.

Instructors will include county assessing officers, University staff members, and representatives of cooperating groups. Topics will include fundamental taxation concepts, equalization, soils and land maps, valuation of farm and village property, special purpose property assessments, and related subjects.

Interested persons may contact the Department of Agricultural Short Courses, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1.

The complete schedule of courses is:

Rochester, Jan 21 and 28 and Feb. 4 and 11; Waseca, Jan. 22 and 29 and Feb. 5 and 12; Lambertson, Jan 23 and 30 and Feb. 6 and 13; Morris, Jan. 24 and 31 and Feb. 7 and 12; Little Falls, Jan. 25 and Feb. 1, 8 and 15.

Detroit Lakes, Jan. 28 and Feb. 4, 11, and 18; Crookston, Jan. 29 and Feb. 5, 12 and 19; Grand Rapids, Jan. 30 and Feb. 6, 13 and 20; St. Paul, Jan. 31 and Feb. 7, 14 and 21.

Bond Sales Slump Here in November

$9,012 Worth Purchased in County Last Month

Cash sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds in November in Minnesota totaled $4,707,371, bringing the month total to $56,261,378.

Rollin O. Bishop, Minnesota volunteer savings bonds chairman, today reminded state residents that "Savings Bonds are excellent gifts for Christmas. How else could you give a $25.00 gift for $18.75? Besides, they are an investment in the security of our country."

Purchases of E and H bonds in Pennington county during November amounted to $9,012, according to J. M. Roche, county Savings Bonds chirman. This brings sales for the first eleven months of the year to $100,268, the chairman said, which is only 37.8 per cent of the 1962 quota of $265,000.

Marshall county has attained 37.9 per cent of its quota; Red Lake 56 per cent; Polk, 49.8 per cent; and Roseau, 54.2 per cent.

'U' M. Specialist Gives Eating Tips for Youngsters

Parents Are Urged to Make Study of Dietary Habits of Little Folks

If you think your pre-schooler has eating problems, the trouble may be that you've forgotten how your child grows and develops.

Many parents use adult standards to measure their children's eating habits. Charles Martin, extension family life education specialist at the University of Minnesota, points out that after a child reaches two years he grows slowly until he is about nine. It's important to keep this fact in mind when serving food to this age group.

Martin and Grace Brill, extension nutritionist at the University of Minnesota, suggest that parents ask themselves these questions if they are concerned about a preschool child's eating habits:

Are his servings larger than he needs?

Do between-meal snacks take the edge off his appetite?

Are meals served at regular timets?

Is the child overtired or overhungry?

Is the child excited and keyed-up at meals?

Are mealtimes pleasant times?

If you expect your child to eat more than he needs or wants, you're in for trouble. If your child snacks too close to mealtime or is scolded or punished just before or during a meal, he may find it difficult to eat.

Encourage the child to eat, but don't let the issue develop into begging or bribery, the specialists suggest. After a reasonable time, remove his plate.

Other suggestions to parents are given in a new University agricultural extension service publication, extension folder 220, "Food for Young Children." Copies are available from county extension offices.

Highway Patrol Gets No Holiday

To Work on Christmas, Also on New Years Day

All uniformed men in the Minnesota Highway Patrol, including safety officers and supervisors, will be on duty for the Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, New Year's Eve and New Year's Day periods which could be treacherous traffic hours, Highway Commissioner James C. Marshall said Wednesday.

The men will be available for saturations patrols, special vigilance in areas where accident records have been unfavorable.

Marshall said that so far in 1962 highway fatalities are under those of last year and this special holiday effort is being made to maintain and, if possible, improve that record.

State Cropland Expected To Gain 2% by 1975

Inventory Report Shows Marshall County Expects 2.8 Per Cent Increase

About a two per cent increase in the amount of cropland in the state by 1975 is foreseen in a newly issued Minnesota Soil and Water Conservation Needs Inventory Report just received by John Polley, Warren, chairman of the Marshall Conservation Needs Inventory Committee.

The inventory report, published by the Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service at St. Paul, is a compilation of conservation needs reports prepared during the past three years in every county in Minnesota. "Our county inventory was prepared", the chairman said, "by a group of local agricultural representatives who are well acquainted with Marshall county agricultural problems and trends." The reports were prepared by a similar group of people in each county.

In addition to chairman Polley, who is the work unit conservationist for the Marshall county Soil Conservation District, the following people also served on the needs committee: Francis Hoack, Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization service; Fred Heck and William Henderson, extension service; Conrad Larson, Division of Forestry; J. P. W. Friederich, Farmers Home Administration; and Richard Field, Marshall County Soil Conservation District supervisor.

Other Trends Indicated

The county inventory covered 1,061,952 acres The report shows an increase in cropland of 2.8 per cent; increase in pasture of 5.5 per cent; a reduction in woodland by 6.15 per cent; a reduction in other land of 2.1 per cent; and land removed from agriculture due to new or improved roads, addition to towns and villages etc. of 2.1 per cent.

While several local agricultural offices have received study copies of the state report, additional distribution is not anticipated. "However", chairman Polley pointed out, "copies are available at 50 cents from the Extension Editor, Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service, St. Paul Campus, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

"Additional copies of the Soil and Water Conservation Needs for Marshall County are available at the Soil Conservation Service office in Warren," Polley said.

Dakota Maid 32% Supplement B Is A Feed To Consider

I've noticed that more than ever before, farmers in our area are going into the beef cattle business. There's good reason for this. Beef prices are strong and this area grows lots of good "beef feed" (pasture, hay and straw). Finally, beef cattle don't require a lot of labor and attention in the summer when the farmer is busy with the crops.

Another thing I've noticed is that the real successful beef cow operators always feed some (cake protein supplement) for about six weeks prior to calving. Beef cow men who are using Dakota Maid 32% Supplement B for this purpose are reporting excellent results. Available in either wafers or pea size pellets, 32% Supplement B contains 20,000 units of all-important Vitamin A in every pound, plus 2½% phosphorous! I recommend feeding 32% Supplement B at the rate of 1 pound per day for each cow for 40 to 60 days prior to calving ,depending on roughage quality and weather conditions. You'll use less hay and get a stronger, healthier calf in the bargain.

Railroad Crossings Call for Winter Heed

Minnesota motorists were urged today by the Minnesota highway department to be especially alert for the "thundering locomotive" during the winter season.

Recent studies have disclosed that traffic mishaps involving railroad trains occur more frequently during the months of December, January and February. About 40 per cent of the annual toll of railroad grade crossing accidents is recorded during these three months.

Adverse weather conditions that hinder visibility and make streets and crossings slippery probably contribute toward mishaps occurring during this season, reports the department, and motorists should take these factors into consideration when spotting the telltale railroad crossbuck or round railroad crossing warning sign. Warned by the signs that a railroad crossing is ahead, drivers should reduce speeds and take extra precautions to make certain there are no trains approaching.

Windshield wipers and defrosters must be kept in up-top working condition to allow the motorist a clear view of the traffic situation. It is important that side windows as well as the windshield and rear window are clear of frost, snow or ice.

The department also emphasizes the need for a "second look" to make certain that a passing train or parked boxcars are not hiding an approaching locomotive at crossings where there are two or more tracks. Any attempt for a "jackrabbit start" can be especially dangerous at grade crossings, it was pointed out, because they often will cause a motor vehicle to stall on the tracks, or send the vehicle into a side skid on slippery crossings.

Bemidji State to Start Course in TRF January 8th

Bemidji State College will offer extension courses for graduate and undergraduate college credit at eleven centers during winter quarter according to Dr. John Brady, director of extension. Elementary school Curriculum, Ed. 314 will be taught at Thief River Falls starting Jan. 8 by Dr. Leslie McClellan. The Bemidji State college extension program operates through the cooperation of the local schools where the course if offered. Prospective students should make inquiries of local school authorities or write to Dr. Brady at BSC

Prowler Wrestlers Take Mahnomen 37-10

Coach Al Shaff's Prowler wrestlers marked up their fifth win in six matches this season when, on Thursday afternoon, they defeated the Mahnomen Indians of District 30, 37 to 10, in a match held at Mahnomen. In a preliminary match, coach Dale Folger's Prowler 'B'squad scored a 29 to 16 win over the Waubun 'A' squad.

In leading the Prowlers to their decisive win over the Mahnomen club, co-captains Roger Wilson and Dwight Myhrer, in the 112-lb. and heavyweight classes, respectively, scored five-point wins by pinning their opponents. Gary Nereson, in the 127-lb. class and Joe Taylor in the 145-lb. class, also scored pin victories. Prowler decisions, worth three points each, were gained by Roy Delorme, Donovan Berggren, Steve Skadsen, Ray Ulrich, and Bob Benson. Tom Larson wrestled to a draw in the 138-lb. class.

The Prowler varsity squad will participate in the Grand Rapids Invitational meet at Grand Rapids on Saturday, Jan. 5. The first-round matches will begin at 12:30 P. M., with the finals being slated for 7:30 P. M. On Wednesday, Jan. 9, the Prowler A and B squad will travel to Ada for matches against the Vikings' A and B squads.

The summaries:

95-lb. Rick Elfering (M) decisioned Myles Olson (TRF), 2-0.

103-lb. Roy Delorme (TRF) decisioned Mike Luhmann (M), 6-0.

112-lb. Roger Wilson (TRF) pinned Steve Bellefeuille (M), 1:14

120-lb. Don Berggren (TRF) decisioned Dean Andring (M), 9-3.

the family car from the garage, rammed the police car which had just arrived on the scene, and proceeded north out of the city on highway 32 at a moderate rate of speed. The shooting occurred when Sgt. Myers and Patrolman Bennie Miramontes attempted to rush the youth after he had driven his car onto a snow-covered road approach. Wangberg himself was wounded twice.

Key Witness

Considered to be the key witness in the prosecution was Dr. Burton Grimes, psychiatrist and superintendent of the state mental hospital at St. Peter. As the first rebuttal witness for the prosecution, Dr. Grimes said it was his opinion, based on several months of observation, that Wangberg knew the nature of his act, understood what he was doing and that it was wrong. He added that he did not think the boy was mentally ill or that he was schizophrenic.

Dr. Henry W. Hogan, neuro-psychiatrist at the Northwestern Mental Health Center at Crookston, concurred with Dr. Grimes' diagnosis. Dr. Hogan said that Wangberg was the victim of what he termed an "immature adolescence adjustment" but that it was not of such severity to require hospitalization and treatment.

Opinions of Dr. Grimes and Dr. Hogan were directly opposed to those expressed by Dr. Howard C. Reid, psychiatrist from Bemidji, and Dr. Donald DeKrey, psychologist from Bemidji, in their testimony as witnesses for the defense. Both expressed the opinion that Wangberg suffered from extreme schizophrenia.

In his summation, prosecutor Satere pointed out that the law provides that a defense of insanity must prove the defendant did not know the nature of his act or that it was wrong. He cited Wangberg's clear and concise accounts of the shooting and added, "If he did not know the nature of his act and that it was wrong—if he was, in fact, insane—how do we account for his perfect recollection of his actions?"

H. O. Chommie, in his defense summation, described Wangberg as a "poor young man, his mind in a turmoil, who was deeply disturbed by what had happened in his home." He termed the police officers "brash and foolhardy" in rushing the youth. "All he wanted was to be left alone," Chommie said. "He had only half a mind that night, and when those police officers rushed in on top of him, the remaining half of his mind went like smoke."

Verdict of the jury was in agreement with the prosecution's charge that the murder was committed "with design, and without excuse or justification."

Minnesota on the Move.

It has become traditional to take stock of economic progress at the end of the year. Newspapers issue special editions, companies strike off balance sheets and profit and loss statements, communities review progress.

Minnesota can look upon 1962 as a good year and the future as offering encouragement. Early 1962 was very uneven as to crop conditions, particularly in flood areas, but overall crops came through in good shape. Farm income is up.

Industrial employment is a bright spot. Jobs passed the million mark this year for the first time, unemployment is far below the national average and per capita income is increasing more rapidly than the national average.

Researchers of the Upper Midwest Economic Study tell me that Minnesota is out-performing the region as well as the nation and the difference is showing up on charts and graphs.

Most serious economic problem is that of northeastern Minnesota. Without immediate inducements for substantial taconite expansion the near future is bleak. Tourism and forest product development make longer range estimates more favorable.

Most serious threat to agriculture are rising tariffs of the common market area. While we talk of all the benefits of the "trade expansion act" the fact is it could have a devastating effect on midwest agriculture. The common market is going both ways at once — encouraging lower tariffs for its industrial goods so they have ready access to our markets, yet putting prohibitive — not protective — prohibitive tariffs on our agricultural products. Our Congressmen and Senators simply must do something about this.

auditor-elect, has announced the

Significant Local Figures

As I have traveled from one end of the state to the other reviewing rural county trade and financial figures two facts are characteristic:

Bank deposits are up. There's a lot of money in Minnesota. Chances are, in your town, that bank deposits have risen faster than in the bigger cities.

Retail sales in our smaller towns are down. Although people are making more, saving more and spending more, they are doing more and more of their retail buying in bigger cities.

Here's How to Boost Your Town

There are many ways to boost a community, but from the facts I just mentioned, here are two: Trade in your home community. The dollars you spend with your local merchants are a bigger boost than you might imagine to employment and prosperity in your own town. Each additional job you generate pumps new energy into your local economic lifestream.

Second suggestion — instead of waiting for some new industry or plant to come to your town — start one yourself. If the leading merchants, farmers, and professional people of any Minnesota community would get together, assess their potential, go to work on manufacturing or distributing ideas, and organize an enterprise—they themselves could develop the payroll that would so much help balance agricultural activity.

Almost any Minnesota community has more resources in the way of educated, talented people, economic potential, and available money than places in other states we vaguely look to, hoping they'll come in with a nice payroll.

That's the big challenge of the future — to realize we have everything right here — in people, resources, money, opportunity — all we need is to add the factors of vision, determination and hard work. Waiting for something to happen — or "government to do something" — or someone else to come along with all you desire—is not the American way. The American way is to get on with the job yourself — wherever you are, with the tools at hand. This attitude built America. It can continue Minnesota moving ahead.

A Happy New Year to you.

Offer Tips on Caring for Christmas Plants

The blooms on your Christmas plants will last longer if you follow a few rules in caring for them.

Most flowering plants of the Christmas season are short lived when brought into the home because it's difficult to obtain the ideal conditions under which the plants have been growing in greenhouses. However, C. G. Hard, extension horticulturist at the University of Minnesota, says you can prolong the beauty of many of these plants by placing them in bright light, preferably sunlight, keeping them at cool night temperatures, and keeping the soil moist but not bog-like.

Of all the Christmas plants, the poinsettia is perhaps most sensitive to sudden drops in temperature and to drafts. A temperature

A Note from Bob Johnson

Bob Johnson, the hockey coach of the Minneapolis Roosevelt Teddies, who will bring the Teddies' A and B squads here for games against the Prowlers on Thursday, Dec. 27, sends an interesting letter on the progress of his team.

Says Bob: "Just a note to you telling about the present Roosevelt hockey squad. To date we have played the best teams in the state outside of Region Eight, and after the trip up there we will have played them all.

"Scores so far: Roosevelt, 4; Richfield, 3. Richfield has the best team in the hockey history of the school, and are presently undefeated in league competiton.

"International Falls, 3; Roosevelt 1. Falls are again a tough team, and receive excellent goaltending from Larry Roche.

"Roosevelt, 3; Eveleth, 2, in overtime. Eveleth has an excellent first line.

"South St. Paul, 3; Roosevelt, 2, in overtime. The Packers have great balance, and have worked out two hours daily on their new rink since Nov. 12. They will be tough.

"Rosevelt 5; Minneapolis West, 5. West has a boy from Finland, Jula Rantasila, an exchange student, who is great. He scored four goals against us.

"Roosevelt, 8; Minneapolis Edison, 0. We had a good night.

"We have good balance, led by Jon Hall (who was an All-State tournament selection in his sophomore year, two years ago) and Bob Lindberg, an excellent left wing.

"We still have problems with out defense, and also in putting the puck in the net. Hockey has really developed throughout the state, and there is great balance between the teams from the various sections of the state.

"We are looking forward to our trip to Thief River Falls and Roseau. We have had excellent games in the past, and I know that our game on the 27th will be a good one. We are also playing a 'B' game with the Prowler 'B's".

Wrestling Notes

The Park Rapids varsity wrestling squad suffered a serious loss this past week when it was learned that Roger Holmes, the Region Eight titleist in the 154-lb. class, will be out of competition for the rest of the season because of a dislocated shoulder. Holmes received the injury during a match with the Bemidji Lumberjacks.

Prowler coach Al Shaff is hopeful that Terry Nelson, one of the Region's best wrestlers in the 145-lb. class, will be back in action the latter part of January. Terry will undergo surgery for the removal of some cartilage fragments in his knee, and if complications do not develop, he will be able to begin training shortly. His presence will surely bolster the Prowler squad.

The Greenbush Tigers, the only team that has scored a win over the Prowlers this season, have a pair of Region Eight champions on their roster. LeRoy Sikorski won the regional 95-lb. class championship last season, and Vincent Ames was the 133-lb. class champion. The Tigers will meet the Prowlers in a return match here on Wednesday, Jan. 16.

Winnipeg Concerned About Hockey

That the Winnipeg hockey enthusiasts are concerned by the caliber of junior hockey that is being developed up there can be judged by these comments from the Winnipeg Tribune:

"The west still turns out some reasonable talent but we no longer have the facilities and the season to match the eastern brethern whose peewees have been on skates since September.

"Some Toronto minor teams will play 80 games or more this season. Our own little guys still are hopefully watching the weather man and trusting their open-air rinks will be playable all over town next week.

"Winnipeg, a city of a half-million, only has one artificial ice rink. Metro Toronto, admittedly twice the size, has at least 15 indoor artificial rinks plus a number of open-air artificial ice surfaces which have proven most satisfactory. Our facilities are so hopelessly inadequate for turning out the fellow who wants to make hockey a serious business, it is a wonder we make any showing at all."

It will be a long time before American hockey reaches the national-pride level that it has attained in Canada.

Property Tax Short Course at Crookston Is Set for Assessors

A series of nine property tax short courses for local assessors will be held around Minnesota in January and February. Each course will involve four day-long sessions, according to James Schwinden, University economist and course coordinator. Courses will be held at Rochester, Waseca, Lamberton, Morris, Little Falls, Detroit Lakes, Crookston, Grand Rapids and St. Paul.

More than 500 local assessors attended five similar courses last year. Response was so enthusiastic, according to Schwinden, that the series is being expanded this year and more topics will be included.

The University of Minnesota departments of economics and agricultural economics are sponsoring the courses, in cooperation with the branch stations and Ag. extension service of the University of Minnesota, Minnesota department of taxation, Minnesota County Assessing Officers association Minnesota Association of Local Assessing Officers, Minnesota County Commissioners association and the U. S. soil conservation service.

Objectives of the courses are to help local assessors understand the importance of their jobs, to demonstrate tools for assessing and how they can be used cooperatively with county assessing officers and to familiarize local assessors with helpful sources of information.

Township and village assessors ar invited to attend. A fee of $10 is charged for each complete course. County officials may attend a single day's session as observers for $3.

Instructors will include county assessing officers, University staff members, and representatives of cooperating groups. Topics will include fundamental taxation concepts, equalization, soils and land maps, valuation of farm and village property, special purpose property assessments, and related subjects.

Interested persons may contact the Department of Agricultural Short Courses, Institute of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1.

The complete schedule of courses is:

Rochester, Jan 21 and 28 and Feb. 4 and 11; Waseca, Jan. 22 and 29 and Feb. 5 and 12; Lambertson, Jan 23 and 30 and Feb. 6 and 13; Morris, Jan. 24 and 31 and Feb. 7 and 12; Little Falls, Jan. 25 and Feb. 1, 8 and 15.

Detroit Lakes, Jan. 28 and Feb. 4, 11, and 18; Crookston, Jan. 29 and Feb. 5, 12 and 19; Grand Rapids, Jan. 30 and Feb. 6, 13 and 20; St. Paul, Jan. 31 and Feb. 7, 14 and 21.

Bond Sales Slump Here in November

$9,012 Worth Purchased in County Last Month

Cash sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds in November in Minnesota totaled $4,707,371, bringing the month total to $56,261,378.

Rollin O. Bishop, Minnesota volunteer savings bonds chairman, today reminded state residents that "Savings Bonds are excellent gifts for Christmas. How else could you give a $25.00 gift for $18.75? Besides, they are an investment in the security of our country."

Purchases of E and H bonds in Pennington county during November amounted to $9,012, according to J. M. Roche, county Savings Bonds chirman. This brings sales for the first eleven months of the year to $100,268, the chairman said, which is only 37.8 per cent of the 1962 quota of $265,000.

Marshall county has attained 37.9 per cent of its quota; Red Lake 56 per cent; Polk, 49.8 per cent; and Roseau, 54.2 per cent.

'U' M. Specialist Gives Eating Tips for Youngsters

Parents Are Urged to Make Study of Dietary Habits of Little Folks

If you think your pre-schooler has eating problems, the trouble may be that you've forgotten how your child grows and develops.

Many parents use adult standards to measure their children's eating habits. Charles Martin, extension family life education specialist at the University of Minnesota, points out that after a child reaches two years he grows slowly until he is about nine. It's important to keep this fact in mind when serving food to this age group.

Martin and Grace Brill, extension nutritionist at the University of Minnesota, suggest that parents ask themselves these questions if they are concerned about a preschool child's eating habits:

Are his servings larger than he needs?

Do between-meal snacks take the edge off his appetite?

Are meals served at regular times?

Is the child overtired or overhungry?

Is the child excited and keyed-up at meals?

Are mealtimes pleasant times?

If you expect your child to eat more than he needs or wants, you're in for trouble. If your child snacks too close to mealtime or is scolded or punished just before or during a meal, he may find it difficult to eat.

Encourage the child to eat, but don't let the issue develop into begging or bribery, the specialists suggest. After a reasonable time, remove his plate.

Other suggestions to parents are given in a new University agricultural extension service publication, extension folder 220, "Food for Young Children." Copies are available from county extension offices.

Highway Patrol Gets No Holiday

To Work on Christmas, Also on New Years Day

All uniformed men in the Minnesota Highway Patrol, including safety officers and supervisors, will be on duty for the Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, New Year's Eve and New Year's Day periods which could be treacherous traffic hours, Highway Commissioner James C. Marshall said Wednesday.

The men will be available for saturations patrols, special vigilance in areas where accident records have been unfavorable.

Marshall said that so far in 1962 highway fatalities are under those of last year and this special holiday effort is being made to maintain and, if possible, improve that record.

State Cropland Expected To Gain 2% by 1975

Inventory Report Shows Marshall County Expects 2.8 Per Cent Increase

About a two per cent increase in the amount of cropland in the state by 1975 is foreseen in a newly issued Minnesota Soil and Water Conservation Needs Inventory Report just received by John Polley, Warren, chairman of the Marshall Conservation Needs Inventory Committee.

The inventory report, published by the Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service at St. Paul, is a compilation of conservation needs reports prepared during the past three years in every county in Minnesota. "Our county inventory was prepared", the chairman said, "by a group of local agricultural representatives who are well acquainted with Marshall county agricultural problems and trends." The reports were prepared by a similar group of people in each county.

In addition to chairman Polley, who is the work unit conservationist for the Marshall county Soil Conservation District, the following people also served on the needs committee: Francis Hoack, Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization service; Fred Heck and William Henderson, extension service; Conrad Larson, Division of Forestry; J. P. W. Friederich, Farmers Home Administration; and Richard Field, Marshall County Soil Conservation District supervisor.

Other Trends Indicated

The county inventory covered 1,061,952 acres. The report shows an increase in cropland of 2.8 per cent; increase in pasture of 5.5 per cent; a reduction in woodland by 6.15 per cent; a reduction in other land of 2.1 per cent; and land removed from agriculture due to new or improved roads, addition to towns and villages etc. of 2.1 per cent.

While several local agricultural offices have received study copies of the state report, additional distribution is not anticipated. "However", chairman Polley pointed out, "copies are available at 50 cents from the Extension Editor, Minnesota Agricultural Extension Service, St. Paul Campus, University of Minnesota, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

"Additional copies of the Soil and Water Conservation Needs for Marshall County are available at the Soil Conservation Service office in Warren," Polley said.

"Messiah" To Be Sung on Tuesday

Handel's "Messiah", sung by the Independence Messiah Choir of Independence, Mo., will be presented at 3 p. m. Tuesday over radio station KTRF under the sponsorship of the Northern State Bank in this city. More than 1,000 radio stations this year will carry the performance into the 50 states, Canada, Australia, the British West Indies and Virgin Islands. This will be the 46th annual performance by the 250-voice choir.

Railroad Crossings Call for Winter Heed

Minnesota motorists were urged today by the Minnesota highway department to be especially alert for the "thundering locomotive" during the winter season.

Recent studies have disclosed that traffic mishaps involving railroad trains occur more frequently during the months of December, January and February. About 40 per cent of the annual toll of railroad grade crossing accidents is recorded during these three months.

Adverse weather conditions that hinder visibility and make streets and crossings slippery probably contribute toward mishaps occurring during this season, reports the department, and motorists should take these factors into consideration when spotting the telltale railroad crossbuck or round railroad crossing warning sign. Warned by the signs that a railroad crossing is ahead, drivers should reduce speeds and take extra precautions to make certain there are no trains approaching.

Windshield wipers and defrosters must be kept in tip-top working condition to allow the motorist a clear view of the traffic situation. It is important that side windows as well as the windshield and rear window are clear of frost, snow or ice.

The department also emphasizes the need for a "second look" to make certain that a passing train or parked boxcars are not hiding an approaching locomotive at crossings where there are two or more tracks. Any attempt for a "jackrabbit start" can be especially dangerous at grade crossings, it was pointed out, because they often will cause a motor vehicle to stall on the tracks, or send the vehicle into a side skid on slippery crossings.

DAKOTA MAID

I've noticed that more than ever before, farmers in our area are going into the beef cattle business. There's good reason for this. Beef prices are strong and this area grows lots of good "beef feed" (pasture, hay and straw). Finally, beef cattle don't require a lot of labor and attention in the summer when the farmer is busy with the crops.

Another thing I've noticed is that the real successful beef cow operators always feed some (cake protein supplement) for about six weeks prior to calving. Beef cow men who are using Dakota Maid 32% Supplement B for this purpose are reporting excellent results. Available in either wafers or pea size pellets, 32% Supplement B contains 20,000 units of all-important Vitamin A in every pound, plus 2½% phosphorous! I recommend feeding 32% Supplement B at the rate of 1 pound per day for each cow for 40 to 60 days prior to calving, depending on roughage quality and weather conditions. You'll use less hay and get a stronger, healthier calf in the bargain.

Editorials . . .

"There is a life that is worth living now as it was worth living in the former days, and that is the honest life, the useful life, the unselfish life, cleansed by devotion to an ideal.

"There is a battle that is worth fighting now as it was worth fighting then, and that is the battle for justice and equality; to make our city and our State free in fact as well as in name; to break the rings that strangle real liberty and to keep them broken; to cleanse, so far as in our power lies, the fountains of our national life from political, commercial and social corruption; to teach our sons and daughters, by precept and example, the honor of serving such a country as America — that is work worthy of the finest manhood and womanhood.

—Henry Van Dyke

Communism in Europe

According to the Manchester, England, Guardian, the strength of the Communist party in Western Europe has declined a great deal since the end of World War II. The guardian estimated that approximately 1,750,000 paid-up members have left the various national parties and in addition more than a million ordinary voters have deserted them.

The party is still dangerously strong however and the Guardian cautions:

"Political memories are surprisingly short, however, and in a few countries, including Britain, the Communists have recovered some of their post-Hungary losses. The spectacular successes of the Soviet sputniks and spacemen have also undoubtedly helped, and now Mr. Khrushchev's apparent role of peace-maker over Cuba will probably give the European parties a further fillip.

"If conditions of serious economic crisis ever return to Europe the present foundations of the Western Communist parties are still sufficiently strong to form powerful springboards for renewed advance and recapture of lost positions.

"And if Mr. Khrushchev really succeeds in materially raising the living standards in Russia the Communists in the West will have something more valuable than sputniks and spacemen to use as propaganda weapons."

Friendly ben Bella

Harry B. Ellis, writing in the Christian Science Monitor, reports that our government has promised, in effect, to sustain the needy millions of Algeria throut the winter with emergency gifts of food. He states:

"This program, which brings about 40,000 tons of wheat, beans, vegetable oils, and milk into Algeria each month, provides an "austere" subsistence diet for at least 4,000,000 Algerians—nearly half the total population of the country.

"Premier Mohammed ben Bella, in accepting Monday the credentials of United States Ambassador William J. Porter, thanked the United States Government for making food available to his economically stricken nation.

"This was the first public expression of gratitude by Mr. ben Bella, or by any other top Algerian figure, for a food program which has been going on uninterruptedly since before Algeria gained its independence last July.

"Mr. ben Bella's statement, in which he also referred to President Kennedy as a "great human being," continued the recent trend of the Algerian Government to demonstrate greater friendliness toward both the United States and France.

"From June, 1962, through the end of this year about 260,000 tons of American foodstuffs will have arrived in Algerian ports, with the shipments scheduled to continue through March, 1963.

"Valued roughly at $3,500,000 monthly, the shipments are designed not only to feed destitute people, but also to give the Algerian government breathing space to grapple with its enormous economic and administrative problems.

"In this sense the United States food gifts have the same goal as the emergency financial advance which the French Government recently promised to Algeria in talks held in Paris with Algerian Foreign Minister Mohammed Khemisti."

This ben Bella is the visitor for whom Washington rolled out the red carpet and who, on his return to Algeria, paid Castro a visit and expressed his great admiration to him and Communists in general. The idea of making some of our surplus foods available for hungry Algerians still makes sense. It would make more sense if we were sure the hungry people were informed as to where the food came from. The Communists would be glad to get the credit.

More Funny Business

Three Minnesota food processors have agreed to contribute products worth $885,000 in a national drive to secure the freedom of the prisoners captured by Castro in the revolt that failed at the Bay of Pigs. The total ransom cost is estimated at about $60 million dollars worth of food, drugs, and medical supplies. The ransom effort has the support of the Kennedy brothers, according to reports.

Associated Press reporter Stanley Meisler, writing from Washington, states:

"President Kennedy has promised no more than sympathy to those bargaining for the release of 1,113 Bay of Pigs prisoners. But the evidence is clear that he has given more.

"Official statements in Washington maintain that the commitee negotiating with Fidel Caastro in Cuba for the release of the prisoners is a private one, supported by private funds.

"But the prisoners, if they are released, will owe their freedom in large measure to the United States government.

"It is doubtful that the private committee could complete a deal of such magnitude without the active support of the Kennedy administration.

"There have been some reports, denied by the administration, that the President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, has directed the government maneuvering in support of the negotiating committee and its attorney, James B. Donovan.

"Some business sources in New York, N. Y., said that Atty. Gen. Kennedy, emphasizing that he was acting as a private person, initiated some of the requests."

We don't like the idea of paying ransom to a blow-hard bully. And as far as we know it has not been established that the plight of the Cuban prisoners is our responsibility. Until our responsibility is established, why should we be more concerned about this particular lot of unfortunate prisoners than we would be about the many other revolutionary prisoners who are suffering thruout the world? If they are our responsibility, through the inept commitment of some American official, then let's consider the problem in that more sobering light.

Reporter Meisler states that the government's involvement in the ransom operation was exposed when administration sources revealed that the Internal Revenue Service may give contributors special tax consideration. If the gifts are written off as contributions to charity then the government will pay more than half of the ransom money through lost revenue.

We all sympathize with the prisoners in Cuba, and no doubt Americans would give generously to help them if the help were not demanded in the form of blackmail. If we do have a responsibility then let's face the situation realistically, and go in and release the unfortunate prisoners by force. Once we start paying ransom for revolutionary prisoners the demands will be enormous.

The Public Interest

(Sleepy Eye Herald Dispatch)

At last, there seems to be a glimmer of hope in the field of labor relations.

Kaiser Steel Co. and the Steelworkers union are said to be working on a plan for detering how profits in the industry should be shared.

Suggested is a system to determine savings made in production of a given product. When cost drops below a pre-determined figure, the savings would be divided three ways: labor getting one-third, management one-third AND COUSUMERS ONE-THIRD in the form of lower prices.

Present practice seems to be for management to look for profits and dividends, labor to look for higher wages, with no thought given the public.

Manager of a paper house in Minneapolis told this writer several years ago that when he sat down with labor leaders, opened up his books and showed them the money just wasn't there to increase salaries, he was told "That's your problem, we want an increase."

Employers with just as narrow views aren't uncommon.

With such views prevailing, the public is left out in the cold. Wages go up, profits increase and consumers pay and pay until they find another company which can serve them more economically.

Frequently those companies are found in Germany, Italy, Japan or other countries with lower production costs.

If management and labor have come to realize that consumers MUST be considered if anyone is to benefit, we are on the way to solving many problems, including unemployment.

If deficit spending will lead our country into prosperity, why hasn't it had this beneficial effect in the past. That's about all we have had since 1932. Two certain results of that past foolishness are our $300 billion debt and our 45 cent dollar.

Will you put away all the things of Christmas?

The tree ornaments, the candles, the wooden manger and cardboard shepherds . . . all these things will fit neatly into their paper boxes and be stored way back on closet shelves.

But the things of Christmas that make Christmas meaningful . . . love, generosity, understanding . . . will you put them away, too? After Christmas we seem to lock them up . . . in some strongbox within ourselves . . . and hoard them for 50 long weeks.

But these precious things that we tie specially to Christmas are for every season and they do not store well at all. Love, generosity, understanding . . . all these must be practiced . . . and they grow stronger and brighter the wider they are spread.

We cannot in wisdom put them away again, for it is in just these things where lie all our hopes . . . for happiness, for peace . . . and in this precarious age . . . even for life itself.

MERRY CHRISTMAS GREETINGS TO ALL

"There is something in the very season of the year that gives a charm to the festivity of Christmas. At other times we derive a great portion of our pleasures from the mere beauties of nature. — But in the depth of winter, when nature lies despoiled of every charm, and wrapped in her shroud of sheeted snow, turn for our gratifications to moral sources.

"Amidst the general call to happiness, the bustle of the spirits, and stir of the affections, which prevail at this period, what bosom can remain insensible? It is, indeed, the season of regenerated feeling — the season for kindling not merely the fire of hospitality in the hall, but the genial flame of charity in the heart.

"The scene of early love again rises green to memory beyond the sterile waste of years; and the idea of home, fraught with the fragrance of home-dwelling joys, reanimates the drooping spirit; as the Arabian breeze will sometimes waft the freshness of the distant fields to the weary pilgrim in the desert."

—Washington Irving

Sixty-Two in Review

Times Staff Selects Top Ten News Stories

In reviewing 1962 news stories published in the Times during the past year, the news staff has selected the Top Ten news stories for the Times area in 1962. Here are the Top Ten for Sixty-Two:

(1) Weather: Severely wet field conditions this spring and early summer followed on the heels of a drought the previous year to create poor economic conditions for the agricultural area. Cropland was flooded and rainfall was far above average. A tornado passed south of the city causing considerable damage to trees and farm buildings.

(2) Murder: Having perhaps the greatest impact of any story in the area this year was the fatal shooting of Thief River Falls Police Sgt. Donald Myers by 19-year-old Paul Wangberg following a 15-mile chase north of the city. The stories of the shooting and the trial at which Wangberg was convicted of second degree murder attracted wide-spread attention and interest.

(3) School Election: Voters of the Thief River Falls school district twice defeated a bond issue of $1,595,000 for the construction of a new junior high school and elementary school and elected two new members to the board of education.

(4) General Election: Area voters took part in the closest Gubernatorial election in the state's history with a re-count still to determine the winner in the race between Gov. Elmer L. Andersen and his opponent, Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag. Conservatives Harveydale Mariska of Angus and Andrew Skaar of Thief River Falls were elected to this district's Senate and House seats.

(5) Industry: Valley Feed & Supply company located a branch plant in Thief River Falls and contracted with farmers for millet and sunflower acreage. The purchase of the Farmers Co-Op Grain and Seed association feed plant permitted that firm to build a new, expanded plant at its north side location. Increased volume and expansion of plant took place at Dow Key company and production showed a large increase at Arctic Enterprises, Inc.

(6) Building: Valley Home Society received a government loan for construction of a new home for the aged and Northwestern Hospital received final approval of its plans for a convalescent and rehabilitation section which would add 36 beds and provide expanded rehabilitation and therapy departments for the people of the area.

(7) City Progress: Action of the city council resulted in the estab-

Installation Set for Masons Jan. 3

Ceremony to Be Held in Lodge Rooms Thursday

Northern Lodge of Masons in Thief River Falls will conduct its annual installation of officers in the lodge hall next Thursday evening, January 3, at 8 o'clock.

J. M. Roche will serve as installing officer, and will induct Charles R. Richards as master, succeeding A. J. Borry, and Harvey D. Anderson as secretary succeeding Charles E. Hellquist, who had served in that capacity for the past eleven years.

Also to be inducted, in addition to other elective offices previously announced, are the following appointive officers named by Richards:

Free Home Demonstration

Arctic Cat To Be Shown Here Sun.

Persons interested in viewing the attributes of the Arctic Cat, an all-season, rough terrain vehicle built by Arctic Enterprises, Inc., in Thief River Falls, are invited to witness the machine in action Sunday at 1 p. m. A special demonstration has been arranged and will take place on the river in the area between the Third and Eighth street bridges.

Following the demonstration, about 2 p. m., an Arctic caravan will leave the area and wind its way up river to an undisclosed destination. Participating in the caravan will be several models of the Arctic Cat and members of the board of directors of the local corporation as well as several other local persons interested in the machine and its abilities.

Arrangements for the demonstration and caravan are being made by William LaFave, member of the board of directors. He noted that there has been considerable talk about the virtues of the Arctic Cat but that there has been no previous public showing in this area. All curiosity seekers and interested persons are invited to come to the area between 1 and 2 p. m. to see the vehicles in action.

Seven models of the machine are currently being made at the plant which started production here just a little over a year ago. They have been given severe tests and are in great demand in areas where there are no roads and rough terrain or heavy snow makes travel with other vehicles impossible.

Basic design of the vehicles features runners and-or wheels at the front with a continuous track furnishing the driving action at the rear. Engines are mounted above the tracks and there is room for about two people on most of the machines. The Arctic Cat is basically designed to pull cargo rather than carry passengers but works well for both.

It was with machines similar to these that Edgar Hetteen, corporation president, made a cross-country Yukon expedition several years ago. The trip earned the vehicle the name "Iron Dog" because it could do everything a sled dog could do and do it better. Hetteen will head the up-river expedition Sunday afternoon following the demonstration.

Ervin Pearson Is Given Promotion by Highway Dept.

Ervin Pearson of this city, long-time employee with the Minnesota highway department, was recently promoted to the rank of resident engineer. Born in Thief Rvier Falls, he has been with the department 35 years, having started as a chainman. Until his recent promotion he served as a project engineer.

Roger W. Babson's Forecast for '63 in Times Dec. 31

Roger W. Babson's Business and Financial Forecast for 1963 will be published in the December 31 issue of the Thief River Falls Times. Prepared annually by the head of the Publishers Financial Bureau of Babson Park, Mass., the forecast in past years has proved to be remarkably accurate. For 1962 its predictions were 86 per cent accurate, and in 20 preceding years the percentage of correctness ranged from 80 to 91. Look for it in our next issue.

Roy Barzens Get News from 3 Field Service Students

Former Guests of Local Couple Write from Japan, Brazil and Indonesia

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barzen of this city received Christmas greetings from the three young men who were guests at their home while attending school here under the American Field Service plan. Kiyoshi Tanabe is now an aeronautical engineer in Japan, and told of the progress being made in his country. He was here during the school year of 1955-56.

Gilson Freitas de Souza of Brazil, has now received his doctor's degree in law and his letters indicate that he has an interest in politics. He was here during the school year of 1956-57.

John Sutiano in Indonesia reports that he is making progress in securing his higher education, but it evidently is quite a struggle. His letter was written from Bandung and he has been doing some work in the exchange student program. No more Indonesian students, he wrote, will be permitted to come to the United States. The government favors Russia instead. He was here during the school year of 1957-58.

Goodridge Lions Will Entertain Kids Saturday

Children of the Goodridge area will be entertained by the Goodridge Lions club on Saturday at 2 p. m. in the village hall, according to Ernest Swanson, club secretary. Free movies, treats and favors will be presented to all the children attending. All the children in the area are invited and the parents who bring the children are also welcome, Swanson said.

Elks Hold Free New Year Party

All paid-up members of the Thief River Falls Elks Lodge are invited to attend the New Year's Eve party to be held Monday evening at the club rooms. Previously announced reservations have been canceled and the evening party will carry no admission charge, members are advised.

North Central Hopes to Use New Aircraft

Asks CAB for Permit To Use Convairs On Minot to Mpls. Run

North Central Airlines has applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to use Convair aircraft on its route from Minot, N. D., to Minneapolis effective March 1, 1963, according to word received here recently by city officials.

Use of such planes by the airlines would mean that Thief River Falls would be one of three "fly-over" cities on the system since runways at the municipal airport are not of sufficient length to handle the larger planes. Runways at the local airport are 3,700 feet in length.

Other communities which could not be served by the Convairs, twin-engine craft with 44-passenger capacity, would be Devils Lake, N. D., with 4,300 feet of runway and Brainerd with 4,080 feet of runway.

According to word received by city officials, the Convairs would be used on the morning and evening flight with other flights utilizing the DC-3 planes now in use. This would mean only one flight daily from the Thief River Falls airport.

Extension of runways and land acquistion are included in the local master plan for the municipal airport but such work has been delayed pending further notification from North Central. No provision of funds for runway extension has been made in the 1963 budget since a bond issue would be necessary to make the improvement. In any event, nothing could be accomplished by the time the airline hopes to establish Convair service.

Oklee Creamery Reports Good Year

ADA Man and John Lager Address Annual Meeting

The Oklee Creamery Association reported another year of outstanding progress at its 51st annual meeting recently, says the Oklee Herald.

The association's annual statement reveals that 87,125.6 pounds of butterfat were sold in milk form; 139.0 pounds of butterfat were sold in the form of cream and over 200,000 pounds of butterfat were manufactured into butter.

Main speaker at the annual meeting was Tom Johnson from the American Dairy Association. John Lager, Land O'Lakes fieldman also addressed the group. Abel Anderson, Red Lake county agent, presented a report on the forage-testing program which was conducted this summer.

Re-elected to the board of directors were Osmund Hofstad and Gustav Gunstensen. Other members are Robert Bluemke, Merle L. Lundeen and Arnold Person. Otto Bakken is manager assisted by Francis Bakken and Delton Sebenaler.

SCENERY in Thief River Falls took on a chilly appearance during the past week when weather turned colder after more than five inches of snow had been received early Saturday morning. Flow of water in the Red Lake River, although covered by ice, seemed to be hampered little however, as it still flowed over the dam by the city power plant. Spray from the churning water created the unusual patterns shown and the river below the dam was open as far as the tourist park behind the armory.

City Council Holds Line on 1963 Taxes

Thief River Falls will operate for 1963 on the same mill rate for taxes as 1962 although the amount of money available for operation will be less than last year. City fathers approved budgets and established the amounts needed at a special meeting late last week when action was also taken on the city's workmen's compensation insurance.

As a result of the city holding the line on taxes, taxpayers in the city will have an increase in all taxes of about 8.97 per cent in 1963 over 1962. The mill rate on non-homestead property will be 299.20 mills in 1963 as compared with 274.55 mills in 1962 — an increase of 24.65 mills. The mill rate will be less on homestead property but the percentage of increase will be about the same.

Comparative mill rates for 1962 and 1963 for the various government bodies are as follows:

	1962 Mills	1963 Mills
State	15.51	16.85
County	84.64	91.65
School	133.10	149.40
City	41.30	41.30
Total	274.55	299.20

As a result of readjusted real estate assessment, the assessed valuation of property in Thief River Falls has decreased slightly for 1963. One mill taxation in the city for 1962 produced $2,723.75 while in 1963 one mill will produce $2,683.58. As a result, the city mill rate will produce less revenue than the same mill rate a year ago.

Major levies for the city in 1963 will be 30.50 mills for debt service and 8.20 mills for current expense. The current expense mill rate will produce $22,004 in revenue while the debt service levy will produce $81,850 for debt retirement. In addition to the levy for debt service, the city clerk must certify that he has $26,401 in cash on hand for bond retirement. In 1962 the payment on bonds totaled $133,050.

In the other action taken by the city council at its adjourned meeting, Les Ihle Insurance Agency was named to handle the city's workmen's compensation insurance.

Native of Grygla and Daughter, Age 9, Die in Blizzard Saturday

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. today at the Stenshoel Chapel in Crookston for Mrs. Clara Mae Hudson, 42, and her daughter, Diane, 9, of rural Crookston who froze to death Saturday when they got lost in a blizzard while trying to find their way home.

Rev. Norma Ruud will officiate and burial will be at Crookston.

Diane was a third grade pupil at Washington school in Crookston.

Mrs. Hudson, who was born at Grygla, was a former resident of Billings, Mont. The family moved to the Crookston community in 1960.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson and Diane had left their farm home six miles north of Crookston at about 9:30 a. m. to drive to Crookston. The car stalled on the road, apparently from wet snow driven under the hood.

Mrs. Hudson and Diane left the car and started back to their farm home less than a mile away and cut across a field instead of following the highway. The wind-driven snow cut visibility to near zero and the two became lost.

Hudson meanwhile got the car started and returned home to find that his wife and daughter had not reached home. Farmers and deputy sheriffs began a search and the bodies were found at about 9 p. m. approximately a mile and a half from their home.

Mrs. Hudson is survived by her husband, Harold; three other children, Eugene, 14, Carol, 12, and Dennis, 11, all at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Laughery of Crookston, and four brothers, Harold Schumacker of McIntosh, Leonard Schumacker of Crookston, Jesse Laughrey of Crookston and Wesley Laughery of Fargo.

License Penalty To Be Applied On January 11

Motor Vehicle Tabs To Be Attached by March 1, Highway Patrol Reports

License tabs for motor vehicles may be purchased through January 10 without penalty, according to Mrs. Marjorie Hanson, deputy registrar of motor vehicles in Thief River Falls. A penalty of $1 will be added to the license fee on January 11.

Penalty will increase to $2 on January 21 and to a maximum of $2.50 on February 1. As a special service, the office will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Saturday in addition to its regular week-day schedule. Tabs may be attached immediately upon receipt but must be attached by March 1. After March 1 law enforcement agencies will make arrests for failure to display the tabs.

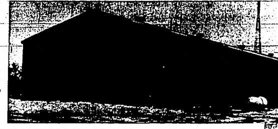
Truck owners, who for specific reasons require a change of class of registration, are reminded that they must present a weight ticket showing the unloaded weight of the vehicle plus the 1962 license plates that have been attached to the vehicle. Truck owners desiring to select a gross weight, different from the previous year will use about the same procedure as last year, but in some cases a weight ticket of the unloaded vehicle will not be necessary.

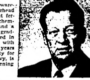
Mobile home owners are reminded that a penalty of eight per cent of the personal property tax on the trailer will also go into effect on January 11.

Guests at the R. J. Drydens from Monday until Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Nelson and sons Bill and Bob, of Mountain Iron, Minn.

Wangberg To Be Given Sentence At Warren Wed.

Sentencing of 19-year-old Paul Wangberg, Thief River Falls youth convicted of second degree murder in the fatal shooting of Police Sergeant Donald Myers, has been tentatively set for next Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the courtroom of the Marshall county courthouse in Warren. Wangberg will appear before Hon. Lyman A. Brink, district judge, for sentencing on the charge which carries a penalty of 15 to 40 years in prison.





NEW WAREHOUSE for Northland Chemical company has been completed at Thief River Falls and is being operated under the management of Earl Gjernes. The 40x200 foot building is of steel construction and located west of the city along highway 59. With a capacity of 2,000 tons of fertilizer, the warehouse will serve as a distribution center to about 40 dealers of Valley-Gro fertilizer in an area extending north to Baudette, east to Bemidji, south to Winger and west to Warren. The company has plants at East Grand Forks and Grafton and has built warehouses similar to this at Stephen and Moorhead and Minot, N.D. In addition to 80 different fertilizer analyses the warehouse will handle chemicals and sprays for weeds and insects and a complete line of paint. Gjernes is a 1935 graduate of Lincoln high school and has lived in Thief River Falls for 32 years. He worked with Northwest Co-op Mills in St. Paul for five years and Osborne-McMillan Elevator in this city for 10 years, served four years in the U.S. Navy, is married and has two children. A grand opening will be announced at a later date

"There is something in the very season of the year that gives a charm to the festivity of Christmas. At other times we derive a great portion of our pleasures from the mere beauties of nature. — But in the depth of winter, when nature lies despoiled of every charm, and wrapped in her shroud of sheeted snow, turn for our gratifications to moral sources.

"Amidst the general call to happiness, the bustle of the spirits, and stir of the affections, which prevail at this period, what bosom can remain insensible? It is, indeed, the season of regenerated feeling — the season for kindling not merely the fire of hospitality in the hall, but the genial flame of charity in the heart.

"The scene of early love again rises green to memory beyond the sterile waste of years; and the idea of home, fraught with the fragrance of home-dwelling joys, reanimates the drooping spirit; as the Arabian breeze will sometimes waft the freshness of the distant fields to the weary pilgrim in the desert."

—Washington Irving

(4) General Election: Area voters took part in the closest Gubernatorial election in the state's history with a re-count still to determine the winner in the race between Gov. Elmer L. Andersen and his opponent, Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag. Conservatives Harveydale Maruska of Angus and Andrew Skaar of Thief River Falls were elected to this district's Senate and House seats.

(5) Industry: Valley Feed & Supply company located a branch plant in Thief River Falls and contracted with farmers for millet and sunflower acreage. The purchase of the Farmers Co-Op Grain and Seed association feed plant permitted that firm to build a new, expanded plant at its north side location. Increased volume and expansion of plant took place at Dow Key company and production showed a large increase at Arctic Enterprises, Inc.

(6) Building: Valley Home Society received a government loan for construction of a new home for the aged and Northwestern Hospital received final approval of its plans for a convalescent and rehabilitation section which would add 36 beds and provide expanded rehabilitation and therapy departments for the people of the area.

(7) City Progress: Action of the city council resulted in the estab-

Free Home Demonstration

Arctic Cat To Be Shown Here Sun.

Persons interested in viewing the attributes of the Arctic Cat, an all-season, rough terrain vehicle built by Arctic Enterprises, Inc., in Thief River Falls, are invited to witness the machine in action Sunday at 1 p. m. A special demonstration has been arranged and will take place on the river in the area between the Third and Eighth street bridges.

Following the demonstration, about 2 p. m., an Arctic caravan will leave the area and wind its way up river to an undisclosed destination. Participating in the caravan will be several models of the Arctic Cat and members of the board of directors of the local corporation as well as several other local persons interested in the machine and its abilities.

Arrangements for the demonstration and caravan are being made by William LaFave, member of the board of directors. He noted that there has been considerable talk about the virtues of the Arctic Cat but that there has been no previous public showing in this area. All curiosity seekers and interested persons are invited to come to the area between 1 and 2 p. m. to see the vehicles in action.

Seven models of the machine are currently being made at the plant which started production here just a little over a year ago. They have been given severe tests and are in great demand in areas where there are no roads and rough terrain or heavy snow makes travel with other vehicles impossible.

Basic design of the vehicles features runners and-or wheels at the front with a continuous track furnishing the driving action at the rear. Engines are mounted above the tracks and there is room for about two people on most of the machines. The Arctic Cat is basically designed to pull cargo rather than carry passengers but works well for both.

It was with machines similar to these that Edgar Hetteen, corporation president, made a cross-country Yukon expedition several years ago. The trip earned the vehicle the name "Iron Dog" because it could do everything a sled dog could do and do it better. Hetteen will head the up-river expedition Sunday afternoon following the demonstration.

Installation Set for Masons Jan. 3

Ceremony to Be Held in Lodge Rooms Thursday

Northern Lodge of Masons in Thief River Falls will conduct its annual installation of officers in the lodge hall next Thursday evening, January 3, at 8 o'clock.

J. M. Roche will serve as installing officer, and will induct Charles R. Richards as master, succeeding A. J. Borry, and Harvey D. Anderson as secretary succeeding Charles E. Hellquist, who had served in that capacity for the past eleven years.

Also to be inducted, in addition to other elective offices previously announced, are the following appointive officers named by Richards:

Roger W. Babson's Forecast for '63 in Times Dec. 31

Roger W. Babson's Business and Financial Forecast for 1963 will be published in the December 31 issue of the Thief River Falls Times. Prepared annually by the head of the Publishers Financial Bureau of Babson Park, Mass., the forecast in past years has proved to be remarkably accurate. For 1962 its predictions were 86 per cent accurate, and in 20 preceding years the percentage of correctness ranged from 80 to 94. Look for it in our next issue.

Roy Barzens Get News from 3 Field Service Students

Former Guests of Local Couple Write from Japan, Brazil and Indonesia

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barzen of this city received Christmas greetings from the three young men who were guests at their home while attending school here under the American Field Service plan. Kiyoshi Tanabe is now an aeronautical engineer in Japan, and told of the progress being made in his country. He was here during the school year of 1955-56.

Gilson Freitas de Souza of Brazil, has now received his doctor's degree in law and his letters indicate that he has an interest in politics. He was here during the school year of 1956-57.

John Sutiano in Indonesia reports that he is making progress in securing his higher education, but it evidently is quite a struggle. His letter was written from Bandung and he has been doing some work in the exchange student program. No more Indonesian students, he wrote, will be permitted to come to the United States. The government favors Russia instead. He was here during the school year of 1957-58.

Goodridge Lions Will Entertain Kids Saturday

Children of the Goodridge area will be entertained by the Goodridge Lions club on Saturday at 2 p. m. in the village hall, according to Ernest Swanson, club secretary. Free movies, treats and favors will be presented to all the children attending. All the children in the area are invited and the parents who bring the children are also welcome, Swanson said.

Elks Hold Free New Year Party

All paid-up members of the Thief River Falls Elks Lodge are invited to attend the New Year's Eve party to be held Monday evening at the club rooms. Previously announced reservations have been canceled and the evening party will carry no admission charge, members are advised.

Ervin Pearson Is Given Promotion by Highway Dept.

Ervin Pearson of this city, longtime employee with the Minnesota highway department, was recently promoted to the rank of resident engineer. Born in Thief Rvier Falls, he has been with the department 35 years, having started as a chainman. Until his recent promotion he served as a project engineer.

North Central Hopes to Use New Aircraft

Asks CAB for Permit To Use Convairs On Minot to Mpls. Run

North Central Airlines has applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to use Convair aircraft on its route from Minot, N. D., to Minneapolis effective March 1, 1963, according to word received here recently by city officials.

Use of such planes by the airlines would mean that Thief River Falls would be one of three "fly-over" cities on the system since runways at the municipal airport are not of sufficient length to handle the larger planes. Runways at the local airport are 3,700 feet in length.

Other communities which could not be served by the Convairs, twin-engine craft with 44-passenger capacity, would be Devils Lake, N. D., with 4,300 feet of runway and Brainerd with 4,080 feet of runway.

According to word received by city officials, the Convairs would be used on the morning and evening flight with other flights utilizing the DC-3 planes now in use. This would mean only one flight daily from the Thief River Falls airport.

Extension of runways and land acquisition are included in the local master plan for the municipal airport but such work has been delayed pending further notification from North Central. No provision of funds for runway extension has been made in the 1963 budget since a bond issue would be necessary to make the improvement. In any event, nothing could be accomplished by the time the airline hopes to establish Convair service.

ADA Man and John Lager Address Annual Meeting

The Oklee Creamery Association reported another year of outstanding progress at its 51st annual meeting recently, says the Oklee Herald.

The association's annual statement reveals that 87,125.6 pounds of butterfat were sold in milk form; 139.0 pounds of butterfat were sold in the form of cream and over 200,000 pounds of butterfat were manufactured into butter.

Main speaker at the annual meeting was Tom Johnson from the American Dairy Association. John Lager, Land O'Lakes fieldman also addressed the group. Abel Anderson, Red Lake county agent, presented a report on the forage-testing program which was conducted this summer.

Re-elected to the board of directors were Osmund Hofstad and Gustav Gunstensen. Other members are Robert Bluemke, Merle L. Lundeen and Arnold Person. Otto Bakken is manager assisted by Francis Bakken and Delton Sebenaler.

SCENERY in Thief River Falls took on a chilly appearance during the past week when weather turned colder after more than five inches of snow had been received early Saturday morning. Flow of water in the Red Lake River, although covered by ice, seemed to be hampered little however, as it still flowed over the dam by the city power plant. Spray from the churning water created the unusual patterns shown and the river below the dam was open as far as the tourist park behind the armory.

City Council Holds Line on 1963 Taxes

Thief River Falls will operate for 1963 on the same mill rate for taxes as 1962 although the amount of money available for operation will be less than last year. City fathers approved budgets and established the amounts needed at a special meeting late last week when action was also taken on the city's workmen's compensation insurance.

As a result of the city holding the line on taxes, taxpayers in the city will have an increase in all taxes of about 8.97 per cent in 1963 over 1962. The mill rate on non-homestead property will be 299.20 mills in 1963 as compared with 274.55 mills in 1962 — an increase of 24.65 mills. The mill rate will be less on homestead property but the percentage of increase will be about the same.

Comparative mill rates for 1962 and 1963 for the various government bodies are as follows:

	1962 Mills	1963 Mills
State	15.51	16.85
County	84.64	91.65
School	133.10	149.40
City	41.30	41.30
Total	274.55	299.20

As a result of readjusted real estate assessment, the assessed valuation of property in Thief River Falls has decreased slightly for 1963. One mill taxation in the city for 1962 produced $2,723.75 while in 1963 one mill will produce $2,683.58. As a result, the city mill rate will produce less revenue than the same mill rate a year ago.

Major levies for the city in 1963 will be 30.50 mills for debt service and 8.20 mills for current expense. The current expense mill rate will produce $22,004 in revenue while the debt service levy will produce $81,850 for debt retirement. In addition to the levy for debt service, the city clerk must certify that he has $26,404 in cash on hand for bond retirement. In 1962 the payment on bonds totaled $133,050.

In the other action taken by the city council at its adjourned meeting, Les Ihle Insurance Agency was named to handle the city's workmen's compensation insurance.

Native of Grygla and Daughter, Age 9, Die in Blizzard Saturday

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. today at the Stenshoel Chapel in Crookston for Mrs. Clara Mae Hudson, 42, and her daughter, Diane, 9, of rural Crookston who froze to death Saturday when they got lost in a blizzard while trying to find their way home.

Rev. Norma Ruud will officiate and burial will be at Crookston.

Diane was a third grade pupil at Washington school in Crookston.

Mrs. Hudson, who was born at Grygla, was a former resident of Billings, Mont. The family moved to the Crookston community in 1960.

Mr. and Mrs. Hudson and Diane had left their farm home six miles north of Crookston at about 9:30 a. m. to drive to Crookston. The car stalled on the road, apparently from wet snow driven under the hood.

Mrs. Hudson and Diane left the car and started back to their farm home less than a mile away and cut across a field instead of following the highway. The wind-driven snow cut visibility to near zero and the two became lost.

Hudson meanwhile got the car started and returned home to find that his wife and daughter had not reached home. Farmers and deputy sheriffs began a search and the bodies were found at about 3 p. m. approximately a mile and a half from their home.

Mrs. Hudson is survived by her husband, Harold; three other children, Eugene, 14, Carol, 12, and Dennis, 11, all at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Laughery of Crookston, and four brothers, Harold Schumacker of McIntosh, Leonard Schumacker of Crookston, Jesse Laughrey of Crookston and Wesley Laughery of Fargo.

License Penalty To Be Applied On January 11

Motor Vehicle Tabs To Be Attached by March 1, Highway Patrol Reports

License tabs for motor vehicles may be purchased through January 10 without penalty, according to Mrs. Marjorie Hanson, deputy registrar of motor vehicles in Thief River Falls. A penalty of $1 will be added to the license fee on January 11.

Penalty will increase to $2 on January 21 and to a maximum of $2.50 on February 1. As a special service, the office will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Saturday in addition to its regular week-day schedule. Tabs may be attached immediately upon receipt but must be attached by March 1. After March 1 law enforcement agencies will make arrests for failure to display the tabs.

Truck owners, who for specific reasons require a change of class of registration, are reminded that they must present a weight ticket showing the unloaded weight of the vehicle plus the 1962 license plates that have been attached to the vehicle. Truck owners desiring to select a gross weight different from the previous year will use about the same procedure as last year, but in some cases a weight ticket of the unloaded vehicle will not be necessary.

Mobile Home owners are reminded that a penalty of eight per cent of the personal property tax on the trailer will also go into effect on January 11.

Guests at the R. J. Drydens from Monday until Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Nelson and sons Bill and Bob, of Mountain Iron, Minn.

Wangberg To Be Given Sentence At Warren Wed.

Sentencing of 19-year-old Paul Wangberg, Thief River Falls youth convicted of second degree murder in the fatal shooting of Police Sergeant Donald Myers, has been tentatively set for next Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the courtroom of the Marshall county courthouse in Warren. Wangberg will appear before Hon. Lyman A. Brink, district judge, for sentencing on the charge which carries a penalty of 15 to 40 years in prison.

NEW WAREHOUSE for Northland Chemical company has been completed at Thief River Falls and is being operated under the management of Earl Gjernes. The 40x200 foot building is of steel construction and located west of the city along highway 59. With a capacity of 2,000 tons of fertilizer, the warehouse will serve as a distribution center to about 40 dealers of Valley-Gro fertilizer in an area extending north to Baudette, east to Bemidji, south to Winger and west to Warren. The company has plants at East Grand Forks and Grafton and has built warehouses similar to this at Stephen and Moorhead and Minot, N.D. In addition to 80 different fertilizer analyses the warehouse will handle chemicals and sprays for weeds and insects and a complete line of paint. Gjernes is a 1935 graduate of Lincoln high school and has lived in Thief River Falls for 32 years. He worked with Northwest Co-op Mills in St. Paul for five years and Osborne-McMillan Elevator in this city for 10 years, served four years in the U.S. Navy, is married and has two children. A grand opening will be announced at a later date

Residents At Oakland Park Guests At Party

The approximately 35 residents of the Oakland Park nursing home who were able to participate were guests at a Yuletide party sponsored by the staff and management on Friday afternoon, December 21.

Mrs. Geraldine Karels was in charge of the program. Furnishing entertainment were other staff members, Mmes. Edna McNalley, Pearl Poppenhagen, Alyce Sevre, and Frances Stromberg. Ellen Mortensen, a resident of the home, gave a Scripture reading; and several violin solos, among them "Silent Night" were played by an 89-year-old resident, Carl Edseth. All joined in the singing of Christmas carols. James Roche, superintendent, took a number of pictures.

Coffee, Christmas cookies, and other holiday dainties were served in the dining room. Those unable to participate were presented with favors furnished through the generosity of the Pennington County Homemakers' council.

VFW Auxiliary To Have Party Tonight

The VFW Auxiliary meeting, previously postponed from December 24 because of the holiday, will be held tonight, Thursday, at the club rooms. There will be a 6:30 supper, to be followed by a brief business meeting, after which the group will have its annual Christmas party. Members are reminded to bring along 50 cents, to be used for gifts for the children in the Minnesota cottage on the occasion of their birthdays.

Little River FU Local Yule Party Dec. 28

Little River Local of the Farmers' Union will have their Christmas party on Friday, December 28 in the agriculture room at Goodridge school. A short business meeting will be conducted at 8 p. m. with a whist party and other games to be the entertainment. Prizes will be awarded the winners of the whist game.

Following the games, there will be a pot luck lunch of sandwiches and cookies, with each family furnishing either one of the food items. Coffee will be furnished, and there will be treats for the children. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Tunbergs Are Hosts at Party For Employees

The management of the Tunberg Motor Co. hosted a steak dinner Christmas party for their employees on Saturday evening, December 22 in the Terrace Room of the Rex Cafe. After dinner, the group enjoyed a social evening of cards and games in the basement party room. Gifts were exchanged also. There were 34 taking part in the evening's festivities.

What a TV set cost 25 years ago

"If someone complains that a television set costs more today than it did 25 years ago, you'd lift an eyebrow. A quarter-century back, there were no television sets to be had — at any price. The same logic applies to the statement that "prescriptions cost more today than they used to cost." The drugs you now get didn't even exist until recent years. So the benefits those drugs bring . . . the rapid cures, the lives saved . . . could not be bought at any price.. That's why we say . . .

WHITE NEW YEAR

Each new year is like a new-fallen snow — unmarked until errant footsteps destroy its gleaming splendor. But short-lived is that spell of peace and perfection. Soon the newness is trampled out, the same old trails show themselves again.

Tearing the last page off the calendar can change the year. But, it cannot change the MAN. We'll make of each new year just what we have made of the old ones — unless we direct our lives anew toward God and neighbor, unless we re-evaluate destiny and self.

In this New Year don't expect a blanket of perfection to hide the old failures. But seek the better Way. The Church helps men discover new trails . . . and follow them with new hope . . . to a new vision of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Stan Michalsky Rites Are Set for This Afternoon

Services for Stanley Michalsky, who died at his home on Saturday, Dec. 22, at the age of 68, will be held today (Thursday) at 2 p. m. in the Green Funeral Home. Rev. A. Dean Headley will officiate, and interment will be made in the Greenwood cemetery. The body may be viewed until the time of the services today.

Mr. Michalsky was born on October 22, 1894, at Grafton, N. D. The family moved to Oslo when he was four years of age. He received his education there, graduating from the Oslo high school, after which he went into the construction business.

He married Miss Tillie Harder in Thief River Falls on May 18, 1917, and they have since made their home here. He was employed by the Minneapolis Bridge Co. over a long period of time.

Surviving are his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Irving (Grace Ann) Root, San Bernardino, Calif.; two sons, Rboert, Hibbing; and Donald, Keewating; one sister, Lillian Barto, Albuquerque, N. M., and seven brothers, Theodore, Argyle; Tommie, Ed, and Walter, all of Oslo; Leo, Ardoch, N. D. and Joseph, Van Nuys, Calif. Four grandchildren also survive.

Preceding him in death were a son and two brothers.

Services Held December 24 For Christ Nissen

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon, December 24, at the Zion Lutheran church for Christ Nissen, a Thief River Falls resident for many years, who died on Friday, Dec. 21 at the age of 82. Rev. Leland Steen conducted the services, and interment was made in the Highlanding cemetery, with the Green Funeral home of this city in charge.

Mr. Nissen was born in Denmark on September 15, 1880. He attended school and grew to manhood there, coming to America at the age of 27, and living and working in the Chicago, Ill. area and at several other locations for several years before coming to the Thief River Falls community.

He married Miss Sarah Sigurdson here on August 9, 1911. For several years following their marriage, Mr. Nissen worked for the railroad, after which they moved to a farm near Highlanding. In 1947 they moved to Thief River Falls and have lived here since that time.

Mr. Nissen is survived by his wife; five daughters, Mrs. Obert (Anna) Homme of this city; Mrs. Milton (Agnes) Norberg of Anoka, Mrs. Lloyd (Seleen) Knutson of this city, Mrs. Ole (Lillian) Homme, Kennewick, Wash., Mrs. John (Alverda) Robarge of Tacoma, Wash., one son, Leo, Anoka; 30 grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

One daughter and two sons preceded him in death.

Harry Craft, 65, Plummer Pioneer, Dies Here Dec. 24

Harry J. Craft, 65, of Plummer, died on Monday afternoon, December 24, at Northwestern hospital in this city. He had been in ill health for several months, but was hospitalized for only a few days.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock p. m. on Friday, December 28, in the Immanuel Lutheran Church at Plummer, with Rev. Milton Grorud officiating. Interment will take place in the Emardville cemetery. Friends and relatives may call at the Petterson Funeral Home in Red Lake Falls on Thursday, and at the church for one hour prior to the time of service on Friday.

Born October 14, 1897, in Polk county, near Crookston, Mr. Craft moved at an early age with his parents to Gervais township, where the family homesteaded. As a young man, he married Miss Ruth Westerlund, and they have made their home near Plummer since that time.

Survivors are his wife, one daughter, Mrs. James (Betty) Engelstad of rural Thief River Falls; and a son, LeRoy, of Plummer. He is also survived by six grandchildren, by five brothers: Ernest Craft, Anchorage, Alaska; Arthur, Tucson, Ariz.; George and Oscar, Los Angeles, Calif., and Gust, San Diego, Calif. and five sisters, Mrs. Edward (Myrtle) Patnode and Mrs. Erwin (Nora) Seibel, both of Plummer; Mrs. Arthur (Lily) Christopherson and Mrs. Sievert (Clara) Mickelson, both of Red Lake Falls, and Mrs. Ralph (Mabel) Van Deusen, Tucson, Ariz.

He was preceded in death by his parents and one brother, Clarence.

Lewis Garden, 90, Gary Newspaper Publisher, Dies

Lewis Garden, 90, publisher of the Gary Graphic since 1909 and former postmaster of Gary, died Sunday at his home.

He is survived by his wife; a son, Ray E. of Gary; two daughters, Mrs. Bernice Berg of Minneapolis and Mrs. M. A. Brevik of Ada, Minn.; three brothers and a sister.

Mr. Garden, who was born in Nicollet County, Minn., came to Norman County with his parents when he was 9, making the 300-mile journey by oxcart. His first venture was in the store business, and he later served intermittently as postmaster for 23 years.

He purchased the Graphic in 1909 and continued to publish the newspaper until his death and was among the oldest of Minnesota newspaper publishers.

Rites at Halstad for 7th District GOP Chairwoman

Funeral services will be held today at Halstad for Mrs. Frances Erickson, 53, 7th District Republican chairwoman, who died at her home in Halstad Monday.

Mrs. Erickson was credited with organizing the 1958 campaign in which Rep. Odin Langen defeated the DFL's Coya Knutson, when the district was the 9th and had not been redistricted.

A native of Wisconsin, Mrs. Erickson was the widow of Dr. Eskil Erickson who died two years ago. Survivors include a daughter, Karen, Crookston.

Mrs. Julia Droppo Rites To Be Held at Fertile Friday

Mrs. Julia Droppo passed away at Thief River Falls Sunday evening, December 23, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Erling Olson.

Funeral services will be held at Fertile on Friday, December 28 at 2 p. m. at Concordia Lutheran Church with Rev. David S. Hafbakken officiating. Erickson-Vik Funeral Home of Fertile have charge of the arrangements. Burial will take place in the Concordia cemetery at Fertile in the spring.

Survivors include three sons, Ernest and Harvey Droppo of this city, and George, of Santa Susanna, Calif.; three daughters, Mrs. William Sylstad (Ione) of Fosston; Mrs. Erling (Ruby) Olson of this city, and Mrs. Elmer (Ethel) Ellegard, Fertile; a brother, Adolph Gullickson of Oregon; and one sister, Mrs. Clara Droppo of Fertile. Also surviving are 18 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

J. Calvin Jackson, Former Resident, Dies in N. Dakota

J. Calvin Jackson, 69, a former resident of this community, died on December 11 in Northwood, N. D. He had been confined in a Grafton, N. D. hospital after suffering a stroke on February 9. From there, he was transferred to the hospital in Northwood. Formerly a salesman in this city, he was later a teacher in the state school at Grafton.

Mrs. E. Fallman Rites To Be Held Here December 31

Funeral services for Mrs. E. Herman (Olga) Fallman, 76, of 204 S. Arnold Ave. who passed away at Northwestern hospital on Christmas Day, will be held Monday, December 31 at 2 p. m. at Trinity Lutheran church here. Rev. Harold Peterson will officiate, with burial in Greenwood cemetery.

Visitation hours have been set from Saturday evening until Monday noon, at Sinding's Funeral Chapel, and at the church for one hour prior to the time of the services.

Sunday afternoon visitors at the Harry Anderson home at St. Hilaire were Mrs. Sam Mosbeck and her son, Radarman Ronald Mosbeck, who is stationed at Boston, Mass., and is on leave for the holidays.

New Red River Bridge to Meet Silt Problem

The Red River of the North's challenge to bridge builders will be met again by the combined efforts of the Minnesota and North Dakota highway bridge engineers. The new bridge will cross the Red River between Grand Forks and East Grand Forks, downstream from the present bridge which carries TH 2 from Minnesota over Demers avenue into North Dakota, just north of the junction of the Red River with Red Lake river.

The new bridge will have an overall length of 1,201 feet, consisting of two 279 ft. through steel trusses over the river and five 64 ft. approach spans on the Dakota and six 64 ft. spans on the Minnesota side. The roadway will be composed of four traffic lanes, two in each direction, separated by a raised central island and bounded by 2½ ft. walkways on both sides.

One of the interesting features of this bridge is the fact that it may have only one stable pier — the centerline pier — which will be set in about the middle of the river beneath the two truss spans. The other piers will be designed so they can move laterally toward the river. In the case of the two piers at either end of the truss spans, provision has been made to allow them to move toward the river as much as 15 feet. Rockers have been planned for these two piers to permit adjustment if such movement occurs.

The same effect on a smaller scale has been achieved at either end of the bridge by providing hinged bents under the approach beam spans. Horizontal hinges at center line of highways have also been incorporated into the beams which will permit lateral movement of bends.

To meet the unusual conditions presented by the Red River of the North, due to the deep layers of silt that line the sides and bed of the river, the present Demers bridge was designed with roller skate type bearings under the trusses at the side piers in order to take care of possible horizontal movements. Every year, an inspection team composed of bridge engineers from both of the states' highway departments make a field inspection of all of the Red River bridges and a comprehensive report on the changes found is prepared recommending adjustments or repairs.

The Walter D. Giertsen company of Minneapolis was low bidder when the project was let November 27. Their bid of $1,527,674.30 will be shared equally between the Federal Government and the two states.

lishment of a city planning commission to make a study of the city and its resources; a power conversion was completed to provide increased line voltage and better electric service in the city; and a street improvement program costing $188,941 was undertaken.

(8) Attractions: Thief River Falls was host to Northwest Dairy Day at which Kathleen Hjelle of Argyle was named Northwest Dairy Princess and went on to become Princess Kay of the Milky Way. District conventions of the American Legion, VFW and IWVA were held here, the city was host to the state convention of BPO Does and large crowds attended the Jaycees Aquacade, Top of the Nation Dairy Sale, Purebred Ram Sale and county fair.

(9) Controversy over the transfer of 33,000 acres of land in eastern Marshall county from the Division of Lands and Minerals to the Division of Game and Fish continued and hearings on Department of Conservation plans were held in the area. Sportsmen sponsored a fly-in tour of the area for legislators in the state and other interested persons.

(10) Reorganization of the Pennington county fair was undertaken with the Pennington County Fair Assocation, Inc., formed to acquire the fair operation from the Pennington County Agricultural Society, Inc. Directors of the latter group desired to dissolve the association but ran into legal complications.

Also considered in the listing as top stories during the year were the installation of a 480-foot tower for cable television by Gene Sjoberg, coronation of Connie Ekeren at the Jaycees Aquacade Miss America preliminary pageant, strike of school bus drivers over a pay increase dispute with the board of education, Clifford Bjorkman's receipt of the Distinguished Service Award from the Minnesota Retail Federation, deaths of Jonell Mae Mosbeck of St. Hilaire in a farm mishap and Shirley Swenson in an auto crash.

Eleven Traffic Accidents Noted During Past Week

Damage Ranges from $5 to $350, Police Department Reports

Eleven traffic accidents which ranged from $5 to $350 in damage to vehicles involved were investigated by the Thief River Falls police department during the past several days as motorists had difficulty adjusting to icy winter driving conditions. No citations were issued in any of the mishaps.

Accidents in which total damage exceeded $50 are listed as follows:

At 3:20 p. m. on Sunday a car driven by Ole Ness, city, was leaving a service station driveway on 8th street when the front wheel of his car locked and the vehicle was struck by a car driven by Neil Lofberg, city, traveling west on 8th street. Damage totaled $20 to the Ness vehicle and $100 to the Lofberg car.

At 12:25 p. m. on Monday, a station wagon driven by Eugene Fisher, city, was traveling south on Atlantic avenue and approaching Third street and was unable to stop due to extreme icy conditions. The vehicle hit the rear of a car driven by William Hallameck, rt. 3, Red Lake Falls, which was stopped at the stop sign protecting Third street. About $60 damage was done to the Fisher car and $50 to the Hallameck vehicle.

At 3:30 p. m. the same day a car driven by Steven Skadsem, city, was leaving the southeast exit of the Hartz Supermarket parking lot when hit by a car driven by Marcus Olson, rt. 3, traveling south in the alley between Horace and Atlantic avenues. About $60 damage was done to the Skadsem car and $10 to the Olson car.

At 4:10 p. m. Wednesday a car driven by Oscar Knutson, city, was going south in the alley between Main and Knight avenues and entering Second street when hit by a City Cab driven by Eddie Pederson, rt. 4, Warren, going west on Second Street. About $135 damage was done to the Knutson car and $45 to the cab.

At 10:45 p. m. Wednesday, a car driven by David Belland, city, was crowded into a snow bank on East Third street and struck a small tree, coming to rest straddling the trunk of the tree. Estimated damage to the car was set at $350.

Two other minor accidents took place Monday afternoon and four small mishaps occurred at other times during the past several days. The police department urges drivers to use reduced speed and extreme caution when driving. Streets are treacherous and intersections are extremely slippery—open invitations to accidents unless safety precautions are observed.

Burglars Invade Court House at Bagley, Get Little

Weekend safecrackers did not get into the county auditor's vault in the court house at Bagley, and ballots awaiting recount were untouched, Clearwater County Auditor George Allen reported Wednesday.

"We got into the vault about 10:30 a. m. Wednesday and the first thing I looked for was the ballots. They were all there stacked in a certain way just as I left them," Allen said.

The burglars obtained a few dollars from vending machines and some loose change in one office, Allen said, but overlooked a drawer containing $235.

Christmas Mail Is Down Slightly

The volume of postage sales and mail cancellations during the Christmas holiday mailing season December 10 to 24 declined slightly more than ten per cent this year compared to 1961 at the Thief River Falls postoffice, Postmaster R. J. Dryden announced today.

Cancellations during the 1962 period totaled 212,746, a drop of 29,362 from the 1961 figure of 242,108, the peak day being Tuesday, December 18, when 27,590 cards and letters were canceled and 870 packages were mailed, both figures being below the peak totals for 1961. All together, 6,331 packages were mailed during the two-weeks period, compared to 6,570 a year ago.

Postage sales totaled $11,161.76 this year, down $1,416.40 from the $12,578.16 in 1961. The peak day was Monday, December 17, with sales of $1,735.52.

Kezar Infant Dies At Viking December 26

Baby Cynthia Louise Kezar, 3-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Relly Kezar of Roosevelt, passed away in the early morning hours of December 26 at the home of her paternal grandparents, the George Kezars of Viking.

The funeral will be held on Saturday, December 30 at the Church of God at Roosevelt, with the hour tentatively set at 2 p. m. Rev. Foster will conduct the rites, and burial will be in Silent City cemetery at Roosevelt.

Sinding's Funeral Chapel is handling the local arrangements.

Gust Gulseth, 90, Succumbs Dec. 26; Rites Saturday

Gust Gulseth, a long-time resident of Thief River Falls, and a resident of Oakland Park Nursing Home for some years, died there on December 26 at the age of 90.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Zion Lutheran Church on Saturday, December 29 at 2 p. m. Rev. Leland Steen will officiate, and burial will take place at Greenwood cemetery. The body may be viewed at Sinding's Funeral Chapel from Friday noon, and at the church for one hour prior to the services.

A complete obituary will appear in the next issue of the Times.

CLASSES WILL RESUME JANUARY 3 AT UND

Virginia Blue Devils Whip Prowlers 60-40

Coach Noel Olson's Virginia Blue Devils, utilizing their heighth advantage to good effect in clearing the offensive and defensive boards scored a convincing 60 to 40 win over the Prowlers in a basketball game played on the Virginia court on Saturday night.

The Prowler eagers will enjoy a two-week Christmas recess before returning to action on Saturday night, Jan. 5, when they meet coach Lowell Anderson's Park Rapids squad on the Lincoln high school court. As a preliminary game to the varsity game that night, the Lake Bronson 'B' squad will play the Prowler 'B' squad.

In Saturday night's game on the Iron Range, the Blue Devils, on a pair of field goals by their captain and guard, John Nelson, moved into a 4 to 0 lead in the opening minutes of play. Coach Olson's rangy squad, with Al Williams, a six-foot six-inch center doing sturdy work on the boards, held a 15 to 8 lead at the end of the first period. Three of Virginia's seven first-period field goals came as the result of effective rebounding off the offensive basket, with Jim Woveha, Larry Barrett, and Williams scoring on rebounds.

The Blue Devils continued their strong play, and accurate basket-shooting, in the second period, outpointing the Prowlers, 16 to 9 to gain a 49 to 31 lead at the intermission.

Only in the third period did the Prowlers show evidence of the basket-shooting ability that had given the locals three successive wins and three games with scoring totals beyond the 70's. In this third period, Paul Klungness with three field goals and Tom Lindberg with a pair of two-pointers, were the prime marksmen for coach Jack Junker's squad. Virginia, though, by reason of three rebound shots, outscored the Prowlers, 18 to 14, in the period.

In the final period, after Virginia had notched three field goals and a free throw to take a 56 to 31 lead, coach Olson gave the Blue Devil reserves an opportunity to see action. The game's final five points were tallied by the Prowlers, all on free throws, with Klungness, Lindberg, and Jerry Erickson scoring the points.

Virginia had three players scoring in double figures — John Nelson, Jim Woveha, and Al Williams; while the Prowlers had but one player, Paul Klungness, with 13 points, reaching the double digits. John Aune, the Prowlers' captain and high-scoring guard, saw considerable service, but he was "below par" on his outside shooting. Aune suffered a sprained left ankle in last week's Ada game, and he was sidelined during the practice sessions last week.

Goodridge Quint Edges RLF 49-47

Overtime Period Needed to Decide Game Friday

The Goodridge Huskies edged out the Red Lake Falls Eagles, 49 to 47, in a Polar Conference basketball game played at Red Lake Falls on Friday night, and which necessitated an overtime period before the Huskies marked up their win.

The Goodridge club, with guard Rick Saurdiff sparking the attack, held a 40 to 35 lead entering the fourth period. In the final period, the Eagles, outscoring the Huskies, 10 to 5, rallied to send the game into an overtime period.

In the three-minute overtime period, Saurdiff for the Huskies and Phillion for the Eagles tallied field goals, and game remained in a 47-all tie until the final seconds when Lillevold drove in to score on a lay-up shot, giving the Huskies a 49 to 47 triumph.

Asst. Chief Game Warden to Retire

Art Emme Formerly Served Ten Years in Warroad Area

Minnesota's assistant chief game warden, Art Emme, has announced that he will retire on Jan. 8.

Emme has been a game warden for 25 years. He was appointed assistant chief game warden in 1953. His first post was at Warroad on Lake of the Woods where he served for 10 years.

During the following six years he was stationed at Fairmont and Mankato before being assigned to headquarters in St. Paul.

Emme said the biggest case he worked on occurred while he was stationed at Warroad. Following a lengthy investigation, during which he secretly marked under-sized fish he discovered in the nets of commercial fishermen, he seized two boxcar loads of fish before they could be shipped by a company to Chicago.

At the subsequent trial he was able to supply evidence which proved that the company had offered to purchase fish of an illegal size from commercial fishermen and had even supplied the small mesh nets required to catch them.

Pays Big Fine for Having 126 Ducks

A Winona resident, Carl A. Fratzke, pleaded guilty before magistrate J. D. S. Bruski on Nov. 30 to six separate charges of possessing wild ducks over the legal limit. State game warden Francis R. Teske and federal wardens from the Winona area found 126 ducks in Fratzke's home freezer. He paid fines totaling $300 after being given the option of 15 days in jail or a fine of $50 on each of the six charges.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

No Setups

Coach Gene Sack and the hockey Prowlers surely can't be accused of arranging an early-season schedule consisting of hockey pushovers.

The Prowlers opened their 1962-63 schedule by meeting, and losing by a 10 to 1 score, the Grand Forks Central Redskins, perhaps the best high school team in North Dakota. And tonight, Thursday, on the Arena ice, the Prowlers will meet coach Bob Johnson's Minneapolis Roosevelt squad.

The Teddies are rated among the state's top ten according to Art Johlfs' ratings this past week. The Roosevelt attack will probably be featured by the center-ice play of Jon Hall. Hall, a senior this season, was an all-state tournament selection as a sophomore. He scored one of the Teddies' goals last year when coach Johnson's club defeated the Prowlers, 3 to 1.

And on Friday morning the Prowlers will pack their duffel bags and leave for the invitational tourney at International Falls. At 9:00 P. M. on Friday night the Prowlers will play the defending state champion Broncos in a first-round game. On Saturday night, at either 7:15 P. M. or 9:00 P. M., depending on a win or a loss in their opening-round game, the Prowlers will meet either Duluth Denfeld or Eveleth. And these three teams — International Falls, Eveleth, and Duluth Denfeld — are rated with the state's best. This couldn't be a tougher weekend.

Tom Morben Rejoins Squad

The Prowlers received some encouragement this week when, on Monday, co-captain and defenseman Tommy Morben reported for practice. Tom, after a bout with pneumonia, is somewhat below par physically, but the fact that he will be suited-up for the Prowler games this week, and will take a turn at the blue-line, should boost the morale of the locals.

And there is a possibility that coach Sack will give David (Nobby) Erickson the starting assignment as goalie against the Teddies. If Nobby is in the nets, John Hellquist, who started in goal against Grand Forks Central, will perhaps be moved up on a forward line, filling a wing position.

Don't forget that there is a preliminary game tonight, with coach George Schlieff's Prowler 'B' team playing the Minneapolis Roosevelt 'B' squad. This game will start at 6:30 P. M., and the varsity game will face-off at 8:00 P. M.

Trojan Sentiments

It seems that there is considerable sentiment in favor of Southern California over the Wisconsin Badgers in the New Year's Day Rose Bowl football game. And much of this sentiment is generated by the local "wise guys" who "aided" Murray Warmath in coaching the Gophers this season.

This predominantly Trojan feeling had its origin, no doubt, in the Minnesota vs. Wisconsin Big Ten championship game, which found the Badgers winning a "tainted" victory. It is the belief, based on that game, that a strong running game can beat the Badgers, and that is what the Southern California team has in abundance. The Trojans were impressive in beating an improving Notre Dame late in the season.

But Wisconsin will have a psychological factor in its favor in that season's club will be trying to erase the humiliation of the defeats that the Badgers absorbed in Rose Bowl competition in 1953 and 1960. In 1953, the Badgers lost to Southern Cal by a 7 to 0 score; and in 1960, the Badgers were trounced by Washington, 44 to 8. You can be sure that the Badgers of this season have been made aware of those defeats, and what are they going to do about it?

Fishing

A few of the city's more intrepid, and cold-blooded, fishermen have been venturing out the vast ice sheets of Lake of the Woods and Red Lake and making a try at getting a walleyed pike or two. But the luck, except for the report of Web Maves and his party at Burton Island last week, has only been fair. The V. F. W. boys, guided by Mouse Efteland, made a try at Washkish last week, but picked up only a couple of small pike. And the Springsteel Island area of Lake of the Woods hasn't been producing yet.

The finest fish brought into town to date was the 18-pound northern pike that Stan Cockrell speared at Gull lake, near Brainerd, last week. This gives Stan the "big fish" honors for the Elks Club for the 1962 season. Bud Schuster continues to hold the Club's sauger-fishing title. Bud has held this title for the past several years in spite of competition from such able anglers as Bob Craik and Lloyd Brunsberg.

Thieves Six Defeats Oldtimers Team 8-7

In spite of three-goal "hat trick" effort by veteran Paul Bedard, the Oldtimers dropped the decision to the senior hockey Thieves in an entertaining exhibition game played on the Arena ice on Sunday afternoon. The Thieves won the game, 8 to 7.

The Thieves will play a pair of Northwest Hockey league games this weekend, meeting the Grand Forks club at Grand Forks on Saturday night, and then engaging the Crookston Pirates in a game here on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 30.

In Sunday afternoon's well and cleanly played game, the scoring was concentrated in the second period when ten goals were tallied on goalies Jack Hoppe and Rod Collins. In this second period outburst, Joey and Larry Poole each scored a pair for the Thieves, and Gus Holmes added a goal. For the Oldtimers, Bedard and Swede Lund scored twice, and Marv Jorde marked up a goal.

TRAFFIC CONTINUES TO GAIN IN NOVEMBER

Minnesota traffic during November showed an average increase of 3.4 per cent as compared with the same month a year ago. This percentage was obtained through the operation by the state highway department of 30 automatic traffic recorder stations located on rural trunk highways.

Non-farm Jobs Mount in State Past Decade

Minnesota, excluding the Twin Cities, gained 56,325 non-agricultural jobs during the decade from 1950 to 1960.

Employment growth in out-state towns and cities was a substantial 13.3 per cent but 4.9 per cent less than the national average, according to the Upper Midwest Economic study report on "Employment and Earnings Growth" prepared by R. Stephen Rodd and Dr. James M. Henderson with the assistance of John S. Adams.

The Study is being jointly sponsored by the Upper Midwest Research and Development Council and the University of Minnesota. Results of the research are to be used in the Council's action program aimed at accelerating the economic growth of the region.

The report treats the Twin Cities metropolitan area and the remainder of the state as two separate economic areas, "with different structures and patterns of change."

Employment growth in Hennepin Ramsey, Anoka, Dakota and Washington counties, included in the Twin Cities metropolitan area, was 101,475 or 20.0 per cent, 1.8 per cent above the national average for the decade.

Non-metropolitan Minnesota is dominated by the farming economy but to a lesser degree than other states in the Upper Midwest, the report states. Manufacturing provides almost 17 per cent of all non-agricultural employment; iron mining accounts for 3.3 per cent. Railroads, retailing, and local government have comparatively high shares in the total employment.

Although employment rose less rapidly than nationally, manufacturing grew by 15.5 per cent, one-third faster than the U. S. average. Growth was especially strong in dairy products, paper, chemicals, fabricated metals, machinery and instruments. Most service activities showed less rapid gains than in the nation, the exception being federal government employment.

Almost all of the decade's growth took place in the first five years of the decade when an 11.9 per cent growth slightly exceeded the national rate. The latter five years were a period of decline in construction, retailing, and railroads, offset by expansions in manufacturing and local government.

For the region as a whole the gain in nonagricultural jobs during the decade was reported as 211,000. Job losses and gains were distributed among the areas as follows: Minnesota (as a whole) 157,800; Montana 20,700; North Dakota 20,174; South Dakota 23,698; northwestern Wisconsin —5,142 and Upper Michigan —6,809.

National average earnings per employee in 1960 were $4,764 and in Minnesota were only $106 less than this amount.

Manufacturing employment for the region grew by 8.3 per cent, contrasted with the national growth of 9.8 per cent. Percentages for each area: Twin Cities 13.8, other Minnesota 15.5, South Dakota 12.7, Montana 8.7, North Dakota 4.6, Northestern Wisconsin —3.2, Upper Michigan —32.1.

The report concluded, "Mining, trade, services, government and railroads are of greater than average relative importance in the Upper Midwest — manufacturing less important." The region's historical ties are becoming less apparent with passage of time. With the exception of northwestern Wisconsin, the employment distribution more closely resembled the national distribution in 1960 than in 1950.

Safety Units Give Yuletide Advice

Urge Caution in Handling of Guns and Power Tools

Now that the gifts are unwrapped, the excitement over for another year, care should be taken that the gift that brought so much pleasure when it was unwrapped does not cause an accident. The word of caution comes from the Minnesota department of health and the Minnesota Safety council.

The firearms that dad received for Christmas should be in locked storage when not in use. Ammunition is stored in a different locked place. Storing means keeping guns in a rack or other place where they cannot be knocked around or used as a toy by small children. Handling a gun properly is the real key to safety. Treat every gun as if it were loaded, always pointing the muzzle in a safe direction away from people.

Instructions accompanying power tools and appliances should be read thoroughly before attempting installations or demonstrations. Installations of a difficult nature should be done by a competent plumber or electrician, as in the case of a garbage disposal. All users of appliances should read the directions carefully to reduce the hazards involved.

Pull on the plug to remove it from the socket rather than yanking the cord. Pulling or twisting cords can cause protective insulation to wear out. Overloaded sockets may ruin the performance of an appliance, blow a fuse, or even start a fire. If long extension cords are necessary, tack them along the baseboard to eliminate a tripping hazard. All cords should be out of the reach of children since one pull could cause an accident.

Low Bids Total over $5 Million in State Letting

A total of $5,531,136 in apparent low bids was received at the December 14 letting held at the central offices of the Minnesota highway department in St. Paul. The letting, one of the largest this year, consisted of 11 projects in ten counties and involved 67.6 miles of trunk highway improvements plus six bridges. One of the jobs includes seven miles of gravel base, concrete paving and plant-mixed bituminous shoulders on TH's 90 and 63 in Olmsted county. When this is completed, motorists will have full freeway or expressway facilities from Rochester to Austin.

In St. Paul, there will be one-half mile of grading between Snelling and Hamline avenues and three bridges on TH 94, and grading between the tracks of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways on North Snelling avenue (TH 51).

There will also be the removal of 26 buildings within the corporate limits of Minneapolis to make way for future trunk highways 12 and 94.

Almost 100 Miles Interstate Road Work Nears Finish

Highway Dept. Reports 89 Miles Completed at Cost of $178 Million

How fast is Minnesota's work on interstate highways progressing? What was done on trunk highways last year and what is in prospect for 1963?

As the end of 1962 approaches, officials of the highway department have assembled a few figures to give a statistical picture of highways constantly being expanded and improved but which are not within view of every citizen — unless he does a lot of traveling and keeps an elaborate notebook on highway work.

On January 1, 1961, there were 25 miles of Interstate highways and 63 bridges completed at a total cost of $120,168,000.

On January 1, 1962, the mileage was 43 with 104 bridges and the cost had mounted to $148,810,000.

On January 1, 1963, there will be 89 miles of Interstate completed and open to traffic with 154 bridges, built at a cost of $178,808,000. (Some 14 additional miles, not entirely completed, have been opened to travel.)

Plans for continuing this Interstate highway growth called for 154 miles by January 1, 1964, with 211 bridges — at a cost of $253,822,000.

The Interstate Highways are built on the matching formula of 90 per cent federal and 10 per cent state funds.

For the regular Minnesota trunk highway system in 1961, the department reported construction work on 490 miles of highways and 44 new bridges at a total cost of $26,155,000. For 1962, the mileage of construction or reconstruction was 450 and 27 bridges at a cost of $29,413,000. For the coming year 1963, the department expects to build 445 miles of highway and 26 bridges at an estimated cost of $31,761,000. Cost figures include engineering and contingencies. The federal government participates with the state on a 50-50 matching basis on most trunk highway construction projects.

Motor Vehicles Make Impressive Total in State

Passenger Cars Would Cover 4,100 Miles If Set Bumper to Bumper

When you were looking for a parking place in Thief River Falls while doing your Christmas shopping last week, you probably thought that every car in the state was in the downtown area. Not quite so, reports Mrs. Marjorie Hanson, deputy registrar of motor vehicles in Thief River Falls.

As of October 31, 1962, a total of 1,353,462 passenger cars had been licensed in Minnesota. Calculations show that this number of cars placed bumper to bumper would cover about 4,100 miles of highway—equal to the distance to California and back again. These figures to not include the 278,463 trucks which would extend another 2,000 miles if parked bumper to bumper.

Not included in the staggering total are 233,840 other types of highway vehicles which include six various classes of trailers, mobile homes, buses, motorcycles, scooters, motor bikes, snowmobiles and tax-exempt vehicles.

For Pennington county alone, the 7,385 passenger cars registered would cover about 22 miles of highway and the approximately 3,000 trucks and other vehicles would span another 20 miles. No matter how you look at it, that's 42 miles of parking space for the vehicles licensed in Pennington county.

Total vehicle registrations in Minnesota for 1962 were 1,865,765, an increase from 1,680,740 in 1961. In 1963 the total vehicle registration is expected to top the two million figure. Receipts from licensing in 1962 totaled $43,631,592 with this amount re-distributed to the county in which the taxpayer resides for use in road construction. There are 100 deputy registrars in the state in addition to the capitol office to issue tabs and plates and collect license fees.

HOPE AND HOT CHOCOLATE are the ideal combination to symbolize the wishes of Minnesota's entire dairy industry for the 1963 New Year. Manager L. H. (Lew) Conlon of the Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee happily fills a holiday cup for his young friend, Tina LaBatte of St. Paul. A recently-arrived calf, dozing on the dairy spokesman's knee, appears to share the confidence which Conlon has often expressed in the future of Minnesota's agriculture and the state's total well-being.

Holiday Celebrants Warned on Drinking

For those who plan on celebrating Christmas and New Year's by "wining, dining and dancing", the Minnesota highway department released a few facts today that should serve as a warning to the wise.

1. A drinking driver was involved in at least 30 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents that occurred in Minnesota last year.

2. Drinking drivers were involved in at least 16 per cent of all injury accidents.

3. Alcohol is involved in a Minnesota traffic accident 3 times as often when men are driving as when women are at the steering wheel.

4. Although Minnesota law forbids anyone under 21 to purchase, possess or consume an intoxicating liquor, a recent study disclosed that 14 per cent of the drinking drivers involved in mishaps were under 21 years of age, and that 7 per cent were 18 years or under.

5. Where drinking or speeding are involved in fatal holiday crashes, half of the drivers have records of previous violations—mostly for speeding or drinking.

6. Social drinkers are a greater menace than commonly believed as their critical judgment is impaired with a fairly low alcohol concentration and they outnumber the obviously intoxicated drivers.

7. Alcohol is not a stimulant and is classified medically as a depressant.

8. It takes at least three hours to oxidize (eliminate one ounce of pure alcohol) the equivalent of about two cocktails.

9. Two cocktails may reduce visual acuity as much as wearing dark glasses at night.

10. Coffee or other stimulants will not offset the effects of alcohol. Only time can eliminate alcohol from the blood stream.

College Students Join in Methodist Services Sunday

College and university students will provide leadership in many Methodist worship services on Student Recognition Day, Sunday Dec. 30. The Community Methodist church will participate in this interpretation of the link between church and campus, using as a worship theme: "Youth, you can Bet Your Life".

Students sharing in the service are Jonette Hankerson, Gary Lehr, James Bennes, Peter Prichard, Stephen Embury, George Hankerson, and John Stromberg.

Methodist interest in college students is backed annually by an offering for loans and scholarships which reached a record $245,690 in 1961-62. Last year 475 National Methodist Student Scholarships were awarded, and 2937 students received $967,940 in loans.

1963 GAME LICENSES ARE DUE JANUARY 1ST

The conservation department reminded sportsmen today that 1963 hunting and fishing licenses will be required on Jan. 1st. A department official said, "Sometimes it is easy to forget to purchase that new license in the rush to get the fish shack ready for use, or when you decide on the spur of the moment to go rabbit hunting. So why not see a license agent and get the licenses while you're thinking about it?"

"U" of M. Presents Its '62 Financial Report

Operating costs of the University of Minnesota for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1962, totaled $93,984,838.27 for all campuses and stations, according to a summary of financial operations released today by L. R. Lunden, business vice president. Of this total, the state of Minnesota provided slightly more than one third.

In addition to its operating expenses, the University paid out $10,204,703.01 for the construction and remodeling of buildings and the purchase of land. In the 12-month period, to meet construction costs, the sum of $5,523,434.00 was withdrawn from funds appropriated by the state legislature for that purpose.

Largest operating outlay, Lunden reported, was the $24,581,532.78 spent for the instruction of students at collegiate level and departmental research on all campuses. An additional $12,926,930.70 was expended for organized activities relating to instructional departments such as University Hospitals and libraries. Budgeted and sponsored research expenditures amounted to $19,682,373.69. The cost of extension and public service activities such as the general extension division, agricultural extension and the Minnesota Museum of Natural History totaled $7,206,803.19.

Of the University's total overall operating costs of $93,984,838.27, Vice President Lunden pointed out, the state of Minnesota provided $32,858,962.02 or 35 per cent. State support funds consisted of the Legislative maintenance appropriation of $26,867,808.04, a special appropriation of $3,898,154.91 ($1,949,706.91 of which was charged to the counties) for the care of indigent patients at University Hospitals and a legislative allotment of $4,042,705.98 for special projects carried on by the University for the general benefit of Minnesota's citizens.

These "special projects" include agricultural extension work and research, business and economic research, medical research, operation of the Minnesota Rehabilitation Center, the Child Psychiatric Hospital, the Multiple Sclerosis Clinic, the Institute of Child Development and the schools of agriculture student aid fund.

Sources of the University's operating income other than the State, the report indicates, are: appropriations from the Federal government, $2,699,858.78; student tuition and fees, $8,728,554.63; self-supporting auxiliary enterprises, $15,065,926; trust funds, $23,140,602.50, of which $16,948,161.74 represents federal contracts and grants; and intercollegiate athletics, $1,687,180.03.

Income from intercollegiate athletics included $1,614,069.59 from the Minneapolis campus and $73,110.44 from the Duluth campus. Expenditures for the operation of intercollegiate athletics and that part of physical education expenses paid from athletic receipts totaled $1,661,865.04 for the fiscal year 1961-62. Involved was an outlay of 1,587,365.95 in Minneapolis and $74,499.09 in Duluth.

Other highlights of the report released by Vice President Lunden are as follows:

Overall total current receipts of the University for the fiscal year amounted to $97,799,438.73, while expenditures for all purposes, adjustments and transfers for the period totaled $97,800,406.54 leaving a free unencumbered balance of $2,058.90 as of June 30.

Expenditures for building and remodeling and land purchases, totaling $10,204,703.01, were distributed as follows: Minneapolis campus, $7,063,745.26; St. Paul campus, $2,016,650.40; Duluth campus, $903,390.93; Morris campus and station, $43,658.48; outlying schools and stations and off-campus plant, $177,257.94.

At the close of the fiscal year, the University total endowment fund, including endowments for general purposes amounting to $46,623,105.60, totaled $66,096,143.32.

University - owned land as of June 30, 1962, consisted of 16,552.32 acres valued at $10,783,589.68, while the University's 1,020 buildings had an estimated value of $122,459,665.62, representing original cost. University equipment was valued at $50,900,500.42 and included $341,585.24 in livestock and $12,180,368.01 in books and museum collections.

Ev. Free Church To Have Program in Scandinavian

"Debt, grinding debt, whose iron face the widow, the orphan, and the sons of genius fear and hate; debt, which consumes so much time, which so cripples and disheartens a great spirit with cares that seem so base, is a preceptor whose lessons cannot be foregone, and is needed most by those who suffer from it most."

Backward Us

Along with Canada, Australia and New Zealand, we are the only nations in the world that still use the Fahrenheit scale to measure temperature. Britain changed to centigrade in 1961.

According to the National Geographic Society almost 90 per cent of the world's population uses the metric system of weights and measures. The much simpler decimal system measures length by centimeters, area by square centimeters and volume by cubic centimeters.

We are making some progress, it is good to know. The metric system is used in scientific research and in the pharmaceutical industry. Camera films are measured in millimeters. By 1966 the army will have converted all of its weapons measurements to the metric system.

But it is high time that we go all the way and take our place in the ranks of the enlightened people who prefer simplicity and accuracy and are willing to break with the past when that past has become obsolete.

Dealing with Red China

From Otawa, Canada, last week, came the announcement of a new contract for the sale of wheat to Communist China. Under the terms of the contract 34,000,000 bushels will be shipped from west coast ports during 1963. The value was estimated at $65,000,000.

Our canadian neighbors have had a satisfactory experience in dealing with the Chinese Communists, and, on the basis of experience, the Chinese were now able to deal on more favorable credit terms. Agriculture Minister Hamilton stated that this was the seventh contract under the long term agreement signed last year for the purchase of 186,700,000 bushels.

Which raises the interesting question as to whether the Canadians are right in trading with the Chinese Communists; or are we right in refusing to trade with them? Our guess is that the Canadian approach is by far the more realistic.

The Chinese people, who now are governed by a Communist dictatorship, as people are good people. They have a cultural background that deserves respect, and, culturally, they are much more advanced than are most of the nations of Asia that we have recognized. And breaking the problem down into terms of political expediency, our relations with Russia, we are sure that Nikita Khrushchev hopes that we will never be on speaking terms with his Chinese neighbors.

There is no reason to believe that the Russians and the Chinese are just puting on an act, and are pretending to be hostile to each other. Such a sham would not serve the interests of either of them.

We now recognize Soviet Russia. If we now recognized the enemy of Soviet Russia in the Communist world, we might be in a better bargaining position to deal with each of them.

We will string along with the British and the Canadian approach to this problem. Of course we prefer the Chinese government that maintains its headquarters on the island of Formosa, but we all know that that is not the government that spekas for the millions of Chinese who live on the mainland.

Space Complications

In a recent talk before the Harvard Business School Club of New York, Ladd Plumley, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, pointed up some of the problems the world will face as our ventures into space expand. "Problems posed by the space age are with us today, he said. "More vexing ones await us around the corner." He points out that:

"There are legal questions—For instance, will the nation which first puts a man on the moon control the moon?

"At the United Nations recently our U. S. representative exhibited a 14-pound fragment of steel—a piece of a Russian Sputnik that fell—onto the streets of Manitowoc, Wisc. The American spokesman said quite rightly: "Here is tangible evidence of the need to work out rules to deal with damage and injury claims due to falling space objects."

"Apart from the international implications the question of compensation for damages suffered as a result of accidents in space efforts needs prompt attention by Congress. Suppose, for example, a contractor makes a rocket for the Government and something goes wrong after launching.

"The mechanism that is to destroy causes death the rocket—faill and the the rocket—falls and the falling missile causes death or property damage. Who is liable to compensation?—Is it the Government? The rocket maker? The subcontractor who supplied the mechanism that failed?

"Another pressing problem is the tight Government monopoly in research and development. Washington is spending, in this one fiscal year, $12.3 billion for "R and D." That is two times the "R & D" expenditures of all American industry, our universities, and private foundations combined."

"This is not only a question of dollars. Such expenditures mean tha manpower, brainpower—the very lifeblood of expanding industry, is being siphoned into Federal service.

"Priorities must be established. Out of our total resources we can have just so much space and so much of everything else."

As our international problems become increasingly complicated it becomes increasingly clear that an international code of law is a necessity. Commenting on this need, Raymond Moley, writing recently in Newsweek, had this to say:

> "It is well to bear in mind these days the fragile nature of what is called international law. Even the word "international" has been in use less than a century and a half. Moreover, the word "law" applied to the relations of nations is not analogous to its meaning within a nation. For there is no legislature to make such law; no executive to enforce it, and a judicial body with only limited power and jurisdiction. The "consent of the governed" is limited by nations' concepts of their own interests.
> "What more correctly should be called "the law of nations" originated in the writings of individuals who had no official status. Like the slowly evolving common law of England, the rules for the conduct of nations toward one another have evolved slowly and from a much later date of origin."

Canada Doing Well

After two years at the helm the Kennedy administration isn't pointnig with pride to the nation's economic recovery. President Kennedy has proposed a substantial tax cut as a practical way of reviving the sick economy. Everyone likes the idea of a tax cut. That would enable each of us to spend more of the dollars we earn rather than turning them over to the government to do the spending for us. A great idea.

But there is vigorous opposition to the idea of cutting taxes without also reducing spending, and this will be one of the big arguments in the coming session of Congress. There is a growing concern about the continuing deficits that have boosted our national debt to $300 billion. Kennedy has indicated that he favors spending increases rather than decreases, along with the tax cuts. A very bad idea.

Kennedy has been listening to a group of college economists who have convinced him that we can spend ourselves rich. Debt is not a thing to be worried about. The President is taking this kind of talk seriously.

This was the advice that was given to Germany at the end of the second World War. But the Germans remembered how they hadn't spent themselves rich after the first World War when they went broke with their printing-press marks. So Germany didn't take the advice that President Kennedy thinks we should take now. Instead, the Germans rolled up their sleeves and went to work, and they worked their way back to prosperity.

Other European countries have later followed the German example, and now most of Europe is prosperous. Within the last year the economy of Canada started falling apart. Confidence in the Canadian dollar was slipping. The Canadian government acted promptly and imposed upon the nation an austerity program; following the plan that had worked well in Europe. And that plan is already showing good results in Canada.

Reporting on Canada's recovery through the Southam News Service, Don McGillivary last week stated:

> "A recovering economy handed Canadians their best Christmas present today.
> "Booming along at a rate of $40 billion a year for the first time in Canadian history, the nations gross national product is showing a gain of 8.8 percent from last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported.
> "If these third quarter gains continue to the end of the year, the record of Canada's last big boom year in 1956 will be broken and the seven percent prediction made by former Finance Minister Donald Fleming in his April budget will prove conservative.
> "Despite the dollar crisis and the continued worry about Canada's long-run economic situation, 1962 has turned out to be the country's best year in the past six.
> "Part of the gain in the GNP is accounted for by rising prices. But the gain of the third quarter was two-thirds in actual production and only one-third in prices.
> "Business confidence was shown in growing inventories—increasing at the rate of $700 million a year in the latest quarter compared with only $600 million in the second quarter. Capital spending by business was up and so was residential construction."

The concluding sentence, and perhaps the most significant, stated that "Government spending was down."

In composition, coins issued 2,000 years ago by the Bactrian peoples of ancient Asia are not unlike the present United States five-cent piece. Both contain 75 per cent copper and 25 per cent nickel.

In addition to nickel, International Nickel's mines in the Sudbury District of Ontario yield copper, iron, cobalt, sulphur, platinum, palladium, iridium, rhodium, ruthenium, gold, silver, tellurium and selenium — 14 elements in all.

When sufficient amounts of nickel or nickel and chromium are added to iron it becomes nonmagnetic. This is the case with many high quality stainless steels which contain about 18 per cent chromium and eight per cent or more of nickel.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Sistad and Mark of Minot, N. D. motored to Fosston Sunday evening and were overnight guests of his parental home the Arvid Sistads.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lian visited with her sister, Mrs. Elmer Thompson at the N. D. hospital at TRF.

A very beautiful and inspiring program was presented by the Sunday School pupils at the United Lutheran church Sunday evening. The children gave a devotion instead of exchanging gifts this year and they were all given treats of apples, candy, peanuts, etc.

Bernard Engevik motored to Fargo, N. D. on Saturday to get his daughter Sherryl and a girl friend Belenda who arrived there from Canada by car with some other students where they are attending Bible school. Due to the severe weather on Saturday he was forced to stay overnight at Crookston continuing on to Fargo Sunday. Sherryl and Belenda will spend their Christmas vacation at the Engevik home.

QUESTIONS Answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans' benefits may be obtained by visiting or writing the VA Contact Office at the Fargo VA Center.

Q—Can I borrow money under a GI loan to build a fallout shelter on my property?

A—The Veterans Administration cannot under law loan money for such a purpose, however, if a house you wished to buy with a GI loan had a fallout shelter that would be taken into consideration in the appraisal of the property.

Q—How long does it take to obtain a loan on my GI insurance?

A—On the average, if the policy is "clear" the loan is processed in three days. In one instance, however, in a dire emergency a Texas veteran borrowed $4,600 to buy cattle feed and it took less than two hours. Be on the safe side and allow three days for processing.

Q—I am a single, 60 per cent disabled veteran and my October compensation check was $152. I know this contained a retroactive special bonus payment. Now what will my regular monthly payment amount to?

A—Starting this month the payment will be $128 a month. The old payment before the new law was passed was $120.

Q—Is there a new law changing the disability rating for peacetime veterans to qualify for vocational rehabilitation?

A—One difference between the original vocational rehabilitation law and the new law is that a peacetime veteran with a disability rated less than 30 per cent must have "a pronounced employment handicap" in order to qualify for vocational rehabilitation.

Q—When can I expect the regular and special divident on my GI Insurance?

A—The regular and special divident checks will be mailed in January. VA officials expect that 75 per cent of all dividend checks will be in the mail by mid-January.

Q—Understand income questionnaire forms will be mailed out earlier this year to veterans and dependents of deceased veterans receiving pensions. Does this mean they have to be returned earlier?

A—The forms should be returned to the address in the upper right hand corner as soon as possible. However, the deadline remains January 31.

"You can't grow alfalfa here," folks told Joe Boser, soil conservation co-operator, who farms 280 acres northeast of Pierz. And it was true that it was difficult to get alfalfa started. He applied heavy potash fertilizer according to recommendations. Now he has an excellent stand of alfalfa and knows how to get more new stands started. "It's sure handy to know that I can grow good hay," he said.

"Terracing and a soil management increase both quantity and quality of my nursery stock," says Vincent Bailey of Washington County. With advice of SCS technicians he has laid out terraces and is using green and barnyard manure with commercial fertilizers on his nursery stock.

He has produced one-third again as many first grade plants and is getting the same growth in two years that he formerly got in three years.

How do you cultivate corn planted on sloping ground without getting soil erosion? Cy Crawford, a SCD cooperator on the Watkins Experimental Farm southeast of Winona, has found an answer. He says, "Don't cultivate. Instead, spray with atrazine." He spread the chemical broadcast using an old brome seeder which made possible close calibration. He applied two and one-half actual pounds of granular form atrazine to the acre. He had good weed control with no cultivation and had good corn yields. His erosion problems were greatly reduced because the soil was not kept loose by cultivation.

Amer Froysland, cooperator with the Becker SWCD, also is an avid sportsman. But his interest is not confined to hunting and trapping. It includes development of wildlife areas, too. With design and survey assistance from the Soil Conservation Service and cost-sharing from the Agricultural Conservation Program, Froysland has constructed two dams to impound livestock water. He is considering another. "I like to watch the birds and other wildlife that also use the areas," says Froysland. "They add beauty to the countryside and I am trying to do my part to keep it that way."

The world's deepest oil well, in Pecos County, Texas, reaches 25,240 feet below the earth's surface. Nickel alloy steel drill pipe was used to reach that depth.

Churches & Clubs to Welcome 1963

The eventful year of 1962 will come to an end at midnight Monday, and many local residents will gather prayerfully in churches to usher in the new year 1963. Others will attend dancing parties in Thief River Falls clubs.

Tinity Lutheran church will hold communion services Monday at 8 p. m., and St. John Lutheran church will hold services at the same hour, followed by New Years Day rites Tuesday morning at 10:30. The First Baptist church has arranged watch night services for Monday evening at 9 o'clock with special music and the showing of a film.

The First Lutheran church will conduct communion services New Years Eve at 7:30. The Assemblies of God chuch will hold watch night rites Monday at 9 p. m. and at the same hour the Faith Lutheran Brethren church will hold a New Years wake.

The Mission Covenant church with Evangelical Free church members as guests will observe the New Year with a watch night service beginning at 9:30 p. m. and continuing through the midnight hour. A time of informal fellowship will be held with refreshments beginning at 9:30, after which there will be a program with a Singspiration. Rev. and Mrs. Floyd Dalzell and Rev. and Mrs. Edsel Lindquist will bring several numbers in music and in song. Other special numbers in music will be presented by the Young People from both the Covenant and Free Church. Rev. Floyd Dalzell will bring a meditation.

A Scandinavian Christmas festival will be held at the Evangelical Free church on New Year's Day at 2:30 p. m., with Rev. Leonard Lindholm of Roseau as the guest speaker, and with special music by the Musical Dalzells and the Lindquist family. Rev. Ole Sande will be in charge of the service. Refreshments will be served, and a time of fellowship enjoyed following the service.

The local Elks lodge will be host to members at a dancing party New Yars Eve, with a smorgasbord supper at midnight.

The Eagles aerie, the American Legion and the VFW have also arranged dancing parties for that night.

"Human Echo" At C of C Banquet

Annual Meeting To Be Held Saturday, Jan. 19

Rollie Ferrell of St. Paul, who features a performance as "The Human Echo", will be guest speaker and entertainer for the annual meeting of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce to be held Saturday, January 19, at 6:30 p. m. Place of the meeting will be the American Legion club rooms with the meal to be served by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Ferrell is proclaimed to be a master of dialect, humorist and lecturer and promises to be a special attraction for the annual meeting, according to Randall Noper, chairman of the annual meeting committee. Reports of 1962 operations of the organization and introduction of directors for 1963 will also be included on the program and honorary life memberships will be presented.

Main feature of Ferrell's appearance will be his "human echo" performance in which he will repeat almost simultaneously with a speaker the words which the speaker uses. He can do this in any language and in carrying on a conversation with several people. Further details of the banquet program and more information on the speaker will be published in later editions of the Times.

SP-3 and Mrs. Greg Reopelle and Dawn arrived on the Friday before Christmas to spend the holiday at the home of Greg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reopelle.

SLATED for appointment as chairman of the powerful Appropriations Committee of the Minnesota House of Representatives is Richard W. Fitzsimons, Argyle farmer, who has served in the state legislature since 1953. During the last legislative session, Fitzsimons, a conservative, served on the appropriations, banking, cooperative and marketing, and veterans' and military affairs committees.

Oliver Haugen At Minnesota 4-H Agronomy Event

Olliver Haugen of St. Hilaire is among 17 adult 4-H club leaders attending the state 4-H agronomy conference being held January 3 and 4 at the University of Minnesota St. Paul Campus. Alfred Jensen of Stephen represents Marshall county at the event.

Twenty-one Minnesota 4-H members are observing firsthand crop marketing, processing and research and are participating in career exploration at the conference, conducted by the agricultural extension service and F. H. Peavey and company.

Selection of the conference delegates was based on individual 4-H records in such activities as soil testing, profitable use of fertilizers, selecting and seeding superior market quality grains, general crop management and grain sanitation.

During the three-day conference, 4-H'ers are touring the Minneapolis Grain Exchange, Peavey quality control laboratory, Federal reserve bank, Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport, Russell Miller-King Midas flour mill and the St. Paul campus of the University of Minnesota.

At the University they are learning how a new crop variety is developed, how foundation seed is produced and distributed and how seed is kept pure. They will also participate in a panel discussion of career opportunities in agriculture.

Bungling Burglars Hit Courthouses

Two bungling burglars caused considerable damage at Bagley and Bemidji over the weekend but had little to show for their efforts according to information received from Mel Brustad, Clearwater county sheriff. The pair apparently entered the Park Rapids post office Saturday night, ransacked the Beltrami county courthouse at Bemidji on Sunday night and later repeated their efforts at the Clearwater county courthouse at Bagley.

Almost every office in the Bagley building was entered, attempts were made to gain entry into several safes and papers were strewn about the floors as the pair searched drawers for money. They entered the vault in the Judge of Probate office but overlooked $235 there. A tear gas mechanism in the vault of the treasurer's office was triggered in the attempt and apparently frightened the men into leaving the building.

Entry to the Beltrami courthouse was made through the superintendent of schools' office by breaking a window in the door and reaching through to turn the knob. A number of attempts to open safes in various offices were unsuccessful. Blood spots were found on the floor, indicating that the thieves evidently cut themselves in the foray, officials stated. Damage to equipment at the three buildings will run into hundreds of dollars.

Judge of Probate Court Reports on 1962 Activities

Fewer Cases Were Dealt with Than in Preceding Year, Judge Kjos States

Through the doors of the judge of probate office in the courthouse here have passed a large number of people with many problems during the past year.

The court has jurisdiction over estates of deceased persons, and persons and estates under guardianship, including mentally ill, mentally deficient, epileptic, inebriate, and senile persons, psychopathic personalities, and dependent, neglected and delinquent children, and on January 1, 1960 was given jurisdiction over criminal and civil matters like that of municipal courts.

Herman A. Kjos, probate judge, also serves as judge of juvenile court as well as of the probate court-municipal court division. A total of 67 petitions and notices to appear were filed and appeared before Judge Kjos, for a variety of offenses. This is approximately 20 less than in 1961.

Of these, 38 were traffic offenses with 38 driver licenses suspended for from 15 days to a year. Six cases were transferred for processing in the municipal court division. Most of the remaining were petty matters leaving only about five or six of a delinquent nature during the year. This is the smallest number of serious cases brought before this court for many years.

Probate court section comprised 61 entries, 44 of which were new cases, ten new guardianships were opened, two special administrations, and seven mental hearings, including seniles, mental illness and inebriety cases. This is the smallest number of mental cases entered for more than twenty years.

In the municipal court division 51 cases were disposed of. This was a larger number than in 1961. Four marriages were performed during the year.

Judge Kjos has served as probate judge for 22 years. On January 1, he will enter upon a new six year term.

Larson To Head MCCE Session

Roland Larson, executive secretary of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce and member of the board of directors of the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce Executives is in charge of the opening sessions of the annual MCCE convention to be held January 31 through February 2 at the St. Paul hotel.

SMALL WORLD isn't it when people in Greenland know what's happening to the folks back home? Clair Jones, formerly of Goodridge, had this picture taken when he was working for the Radio Corporation of America on a missile warning system in Greenland this summer. He reported that mail came by air to the Thule Air Force Base and his home-town newspaper was received with a great deal of anticipation. It usually arrived about 10 days after publication but was still "news" in the Far North.

Lions Sponsoring Ticket Sale for Cage Game Jan. 5

Members of the local Lions club are conducting an advance sale of tickets for the basketball game to be played in the Lincoln gymnasium Saturday, January 5, at 8 p. m. between the Prowlers and the Park Rapids high school quint. The evening has been designated as Parents' Night, with parents of members of the local squad sitting in a special section of the stands, and they will be introduced between halves. Merle Lindberg is serving as chairman of the ticket sale.

BELTRAMI HOLSTEIN COW HAS HIGH PRODUCTION

Warstel Heidi Abby Star, a four-year-old Holstein cow owned by Warren E. Gast, Beltrami, produced 16,130 lbs. milk and 617 lbs. butterfat in 305 days. The University of Minnesota supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of the offical breed improvement programs of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

TR Foundation Reelects Its Official Staff

24 Student Loans Totaling $13,773 Are Now in Effect

All officers and directors of the Thief River Falls Foundation were present at the annual meeting of the organization held in the office of Robert J. Lund Thursday evening. Routine matters were disposed of and all of the officers were reelected. They are L. B. Hartz, president; W. E. Dahlquist, vice president; Robert J. Lund, secretary, and E. O. Peterson, treasurer.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer revealed that the business of the organization has been limited largely to student loans. As of November 30 there were 24 such loans outstanding in the total amount of $13,773. During the past year eight loans had been paid in full; six had been reduced by $1,050; and one loan in the amount of $400 had been renewed.

Total assets of the Foundation as of November 30 totalled $20,385.71. This included some funds that were held in trust for special purposes. A total of $1,805 have been committed for loans to be made as the need arises.

Favorable action was taken on a recommendation that another grant of $1,000 from the Frank A. Rinkel fund be made to Northwestern Hospital to continue the course of instruction in physical therapy that has been conducted during the past year by Dr. Miland E. Knapp, providing this sum be matched by the hospital.

Doctor Knapp is the head of the department of physical medicine at the University of Minnesota and is director of physical medicine and rehabilitation at the Kenny Rehabilitation Institute in Minneapolis. He has met regularly with the medical staff of Northwestern and other hospitals in the area, instructing them in diagnosis and prescription in this field of therapy. There is no extra charge to the patients for Dr. Knapp's services.

At a board meeting following the annual meeting, the loan committee consisting of the members of the executive committee and Frank E. Tunberg, was renewed for the coming year.

Other members of the board are Waldie Christenson, James Winjum, Sr., William LaFave, A. B. Stenberg and Ole Ekeren. A financial report of the Foundation is published elsewhere in this issue.

Farming Importance Revealed by Research

by Marvin Lundin
City Editor

With the new year now upon us and businessmen frantically taking inventory in their stores, perhaps no better time could be selected to take inventory of the area agricultural situation and project some future thinking. While it is generally admitted that this is an agricultural community, there will be many surprised to discover just how big a role farming plays in the total social and economic picture of our area.

In cooperation with the adult agriculture department of the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school, information has been compiled to show how we stand agriculturally and what prospects the future holds in store. Some figures mentioned are estimates — but these have been made with a factual basis and purposely held conservative.

Providing the basics for the study are bits of information from the Pennington County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and the vocational school's farm management program. The ASC lists 1,100 farmers in Pennington county and this figure has been pared to 1,000 for the purpose of easier and more conservative estimating. An average of income and expense among participants in the farm management program for 1961 (the last year for which complete figures are available) has also been computed and reduced by one-fourth.

In 1961 Pennington county farm income totaled nearly $11 million — and that year was far from what would be considered a normal crop year in the county. It would require a tremendously large industry to replace this total in our economy when consideration is given to the number of families involved and the percentage of that total amount spent locally.

Attracting industry which supplements the economy is not a waste of time by any means, but too much emphasis is placed too often on the needs for and advantages of urban industry in our local rural society. Present and future success of this community is and will be dependent upon farming and farm-related business.

This could be a wonderful future and indeed it should be. There are, however, several alarming aspects which could tend to cast dark shadows over the future of our area unless they are brought to light and answers are found.

Importance of Agriculture

Let's first look at the importance of farming in Pennington county and the vital role an individual farmer and farmers as a group play in our economy. Using the figures mentioned earlier as a basis, Pennington county farmers have a total investment in farming of $26,531,400 or an average of $26,531.40 per farm. Their total annual gross income is $10,806,000, or $10,806 per farm.

The total of farm purchases by county farmers annually is $8,188,000 plus $2,478,000 for family living expense. This means that each farm business, on the average, would be capable of spending at least $10,667 in area communities each year. How many common labor employees would an industry have to provide in this city to provide the same amount of spendable income?

Several things are quite notable in the figure comparison. Most significant are the amount of investment in farming and the narrow margin between income and farm and family expense. Only an expert businessman could operate on such a narrow margin, gamble with the weather, weeds, insects and markets, and still make a profitable showing.

It should be assumed that each new farmer - businessman that can begin operation in our area will provide a $10,000 transfusion into the economic veins of the community. Expansion and Im-

Babson Forecasts

'63 Business Outlook Hinges on Leadership

1963 prospects for the business and financial world are explored today by Roger W. Babson of Babson Park, Mass., nationally known economist, in his annual forecast prepared for the Times and other newspapers. A graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Mr. Babson has founded several successful educational institutions. His forecasts over the past 20 years have ranged from 80 to 95 per cent accurate.

Babson's Business and Financial Forecast for 1963

Business and Employment

The business situation will vary with different industries, and hence with different cities. Some defense centers will boom; steel cities will still find the going tough —but better than a year ago. Considering the high level of the past ten years it will not be surprising for 1963 to show a moderate decline in business. If so it should come in the second or third quarter, with recovery in the fourth quarter, followed by a good 1964.

Disposable personal income will remain high. With increased savings deposits and little change in the cost-of-living, the public should continue to spend freely, especially if merchants maintain their advertising outlays.

Inventories will remain about the same during 1963. But government spending will increase over $3 billion — largely on defense — and $2 billion on new roads. Whether manufacturers will hike their expenditures for new machinery in 1963 in view of the depreciation tax credit, I would not now forecast.

All this means that business and employment for your city in 1963 will depend largely upon the attitude of its leading businessmen. If they will be optimistic and spend more on new plants, advertising, and salesmanship, we should have nothing to fear.

Stocks and Bonds

My father used to tell me, "It is okay, Roger, for you to make forecasts — but never put dates on them!" I forecast that the Dow-Jones Industrial Average will register lower sometime during 1963 and stocks will show an average yield of about 4 per cent. Either dividends must be increased or prices of stocks must go lower. Both cannot continue forever so poorly adjusted.

The above comment refers primarily to industrial stocks. I forecast that both the gross and net earnings of utility stocks will advance during 1963 and for some years thereafter. The utility cumulative preferreds have reached a point whereby they will closely follow interest rates as determined by the Federal Reserve Banks. The utility common stocks should slowly rise in price provided they are not unjustly limited by legislation or by state and federal regulatory commissions.

As for the railroad stocks, I generally feel bearish. A war with Cuba or a world nuclear war breaking out anywhere could cause the stocks of all our transcontinental railroads to go up sharply in price; but down they would come again. We are today in an electronic age and no longer in a railroad age. Those who desire to invest in common stocks should stick to the oils, chemicals, and electronics. Even then keep in mind Newton's Law of Action and Reaction which will always determine the time to buy and sell common stocks.

Regarding bonds I am not pessimistic for 1963. Certainly, the

Wichterman Due to Get ASC Office

Ben Wichterman of Plummer, who is retiring as representative in the state legislature from the old 65th district, is scheduled shortly to receive political appointment as a member of the Minnesota Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee (ASC), according to the Washington bureau of the Minneapolis Tribune.

Wichterman will replace Robert Bergland of Roseau, who was promoted to the position of area director with headquarters in Washington D. C., after having been named to the state post early in 1962.

Wichterman's appointment has been cleared by Sens. Eugene McCarthy and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, and Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman is expected to announce it within a week or so.

Postage Increase To Go Into Effect Jan. 7, Postmaster States

Postal rate increases will go into effect Monday, January 7, R. J. Dryden, Thief River Falls postmaster stated today. Effective on that date first class postage will be five cents per ounce or fraction thereof, postal cards will be four cents and domestic airmail will be eight cents per ounce or fraction thereof.

At present the local post office has not received its full supply of stamps cards, and stamped envelopes but sufficient quantity to meet the immediate needs of the community are expected by the increase date, Dryden said.

Presently on hand are five-cent stamps in sheets of 100, books of 20 and rolls of 100, 500 and 3,000; four-cent postal cards and eight-cent postal reply cards. Not yet received are stamped envelopes and the eight-cent domestic air mail stamps.

Stamps purchased before the increased rates go into effect may, of course, still be used provided the additional postage required after the increase is affixed.

Second class mail in the county, which had previously been free on the reading portion, will become one cent per pound. In 1965 this rate will also increase by one-fourth cent. Second class mail in zones also will be subject to periodic increases. This rate increase basically affects newspapers and other periodicals.

Single-piece third class mail rates increase from three to four cents and third class bulk rates for circulars increase from 16 cents to 18 cents per pound. Other increases in this class are also scheduled for coming years. Air mail postal cards will increase from five cents to six cents.

Hospital Auxiliary To Sponsor Party

Patients and Employees To Be Special Guests

Employees and patients at Northwestern hospital will be entertained by the hospital auxiliary at a New Year party to be held Friday, January 4, from 2 to 4 p. m. Mrs. Everett Amundgaard is serving as chairman of the event for the auxiliary.

Refreshments will be served to employees and ambulatory patients during the afternoon at the hospital cafeteria with Mrs. L. B. Hartz, Mrs. J. J. Womack and Mrs. Ray Jude pouring. All are past presidents or have been especially active in activities of the auxiliary.

Patients unable to leave their rooms will be served refreshments from a food cart which will be operated by Mrs. J. W. Mullen, Mrs. Roy Rude, Mrs. Rudolph Sagmoen, Mrs. George Baken, Mrs. Robert Erickson and Mrs. Kendall Gustafson.

Salvation Army Urges Reports On Collections

Envoy Carl Paulson of the Thief River Falls Salvation Army unit requested all service organizations, clubs and individuals to turn in Christmas donation money collected for the unit by January 2. Records must be completed and submitted to the headquarters office early in the month, making the deadline date necessary, Envoy Paulson said. A summary of Salvation Army Christmas activities will be published in a later edition of the Times.

North Central Flight Service Here Explained

One Round-trip To Be Offered If Airline Is Awarded Convair Permit

Clarification of the news story regarding the use of Convair aircraft by North Central Airlines in the Thursday edition of the Times was made by North Central Airlines personnel at the Thief River Falls municipal airport.

The story stated that the switch to Convair service by the airlines, if approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board, would result in only one flight daily from Thief River Falls. This should have stated one round-trip daily rather than one flight.

North Central personnel noted that flight 791 from Minneapolis to Minot and flight 792 from Minot to Minneapolis would both stop at Thief River Falls. This would mean that two flights but only one round trip would be available each day rather than the two round trips currently offered from the local airport.

Use of the larger planes by the airline serving this community would not be possible here because the runways are too short. North Central has requested permission from the CAB to put the newly acquired planes into use on March 1.

Sons of Norway To Install Officers

Joint installation of officers of Snorre Lodge No. 70 and Vaarblomsten Lodges, Sons of Norway, will be conducted at the Eagles' hall on Wednesday, January 2, at 8 p. m. Coffee will be served during the social hour which will follow the installation.

Many Ballots Are Disputed in State Governor Recount

A mounain of disputed ballots piled up this week in the Minnesota governor recount.

Both party headquarters reported challenged votes at more than 52,000 with about two-thirds of the state's precincts tallied.

Both parties also agreed that Democratic Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag was leading. The DFL's latest report gave him a margin over Gov. Elmer Andersen by 56.

The Republican count showed Rolvaag ahead by 21. Its report was based on 2,491 precincts with 52,231 disputed ballots.

The DFL report counted 52,640 challenged ballots in 2,434 precincts.

While inspectors continued their precinct - by - precinct recheck of votes, ten two-member teams began screening disputed ballots which had been sent to St. Paul in an effort to reduce the number the three-judge court will have to pass upon.

Colin Levorson Wed to Sylvia Hanson of Drayton

Miss Sylvia Yvonne Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hanson of Drayton, N. D., and Colin Leland Levorson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldemar Levorson of Grygla, were married November 24 at the Skjeberg Lutheran church near Drayton by Rev. Orlin Ness in a double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Merle Nelson of Drayton, a cousin of the bride, played the traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor-length gown with a molded Chantilly lace bodice dipping to a V at the front and back, with a scalloped Sabrina neckline enriched with miniature seed pearls and sequins. The ruffled skirt was of nylon net and Chantilly lace. She wore a sterling silver necklace and earring set, a gift of the groom. Her fingertip veil was of pure silk illusion imported from France, attached to a crown of miniature seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bridal bouquet of red roses.

Her sister, Mrs. Willard Johnson of Drayton, was matron of honor; another sister, Mrs. Keith Young of St. Thomas, N. D. was a bridesmaid, as was a niece, Miss Sharon Johnson of Drayton. Two nieces, Kathy Young and Janice Johnson, both of Drayton, were junior bridesmaids, while Debra Young, also a niece, was flower girl.

The matron of honor and the bridesmaids had identical street-length dresses of turquoise satin with a net overskirt trimmed with sequins. Their blush veils were of matching turquoise net, attached to a matching crown. They carried rose colored carnation bouquets. The flower girl wore a rose color satin dress and carried a basket of mums to drop in the aisle.

The groom was attended by his brother Jerome Levorson of Minneapolis as best man, with Keith Young and Willard Johnson as groomsmen. All the men in the wedding party wore white dinner jackets. Larry Jensen and Lee Hanson served as ushers. White carnation boutonnieres were worn by all the men in the bridal party.

The bride's mother wore a turquoise satin brocade dress with white accessories, while the groom's mother chose a royal blue wool dress with a matching hat. They wore white carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors with the ladies' aid as hostesses.

Lynnette Anderson, Sharon Anderson, and Myrna Engelbretson were waitresses. Mrs. Chris Hanson and Mrs. Emmett Abney, aunts of the bride, cut and served the four-tier wedding cake. Mrs. Harry Jenson, Drayton, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Amond Aase of Thief River Falls, aunt of the groom, poured. Mrs. Harold Myrhe of Warren served punch. Miss Norma Rasmussen of Hutchinson was at the guest book. Mrs. Erma Hedman, Miss Carolyn Hedman, and Mrs. Fred Glidden of Hallock, arranged the gifts.

The newlyweds, following a brief honeymoon, are spending the winter months in Minneapolis.

KITCHEN KARNIVAL

Features from the kitchen of
MRS. VERNON SORENSON

Still time for New Year's baking, and this date bread, though easily and quickly prepared, is festive enough to be used for your holiday buffet. Mrs. Vernon Sorenson, farm housewife living a little over four miles east of the city, is reported to be a really good cook, and she agreed to supply us with a recipe, as she enjoys sharing new and interesting food ideas, and in trying anything different that she learns about in the food line.

DATE BREAD

Part One	Part Two
1 cup raisins, whole	1 cup sugar
1 cup dates, cut, (but not too fine)	1 egg, beaten
1 cup boiling water	1 tablespoon melted butter
one-third cup fruit cake mix	1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon soda	2 cups flour
	1 cup nuts, chopped

Chopped Maraschino cherries make a nice addition, as well as chopped red and green gum drops.

Mix the ingredients in part one and set aside to cool. Meanwhile, in a large mixing bowl, combine the ingredients listed in part two. When the first mixture has cooled, add it to the second mixture. Blend well. Bake at 300 degrees for 45 minutes or longer, if need be. Remove from pan as soon as it is done. Cool. If you desire to keep this bread for several days, wrap in wax paper and store. It may be eaten as soon as it is cool, however.

Mrs. Sorenson says that they are busiest in summer since her husband is a bee-keeper. However, they do find time for gardening, as they love their vegetables freshly gathered. Since fresh blueberry pie is a family favorite, they usually manage to pick a supply of berries. Lovers of the outdoors, they have a jeep equipped for camping. Mr. Sorenson, his wife says, follows the hunting seasons, and in summer fishes in the conventional way, while winter finds him in the fishhouse a good deal. They have a boat, and the girls, Sherry, 8, and Marie, 7, enjoy boating no end. The girls attend Knox School, and their mother manifests much interest in their intellectual progress. They attend Sunday school at Trinity Lutheran Church, which church their parents also attend.

As for Mrs. Sorenson, cooking and sharing recipes, she confesses, are her main interests in addition to her family. She reads for recreation, whenever there is time for that. They live on the "home place" where she has spent most of her life. Her mother, 79, and the mother's sister, 86, make their home with the young folks. Mrs. Sorenson's mother apparently shares her daughter's love of cooking: we are told that she can help whip up some mighty tasty fare. It seems to run in the family, this talent.

Governor Sees Need for No Tax Increase

Present taxes will provide ample revenue to meet an anticipated $110 million increase in the state's operating expenses for the two years starting next July 1.

Gov. Elmer L. Andersen said so Wednesday, repeating a statement he had made during his campaign for re-election.

Although departmental and other requests for increases probably will exceed the $110 million, Andersen said he thought they could be pared to stay within that limitation.

The governor said he is holding daily conferences with William Stevenson, administration commissioner, to have the budget ready for start of the legislature.

On taxes, he said the present structure he believed would be ample to provide for increases needed for school aids, welfare and the university budget.

He estimated an additional $60 million will be needed to pay state aids for elementary and secondary schools. About $18 to $30 million is needed for welfare and $22 million additional is asked for the University of Minnesota.

Andersen said he anticipates a favorable effect on Minnesota's income tax revenue because the federal administration has committed itself to a cut in federal taxes.

"A 10 per cent income tax cut across the board by Congress would increase Minnesota's income tax revenue by $20 million," Andersen said.

Farming Future Could Be Bright in Times Area

provement of agricultural opportunity thus looms with increasing importance in our picture of the future.

Vital Statistics

In 1959 Pennington county had 19 farmers (2 per cent) under the age of 25 and 98 farmers (11 per cent) age 65 or older. A total of only 16 per cent were under age 35. In a recent survey conducted by a locally-organized young farmer promotion group, 22 per cent of the returns from Pennington county farmers indicated that they planned to retire within five years.

So what? Aren't farms getting larger? Isn't large acreage necessary for an efficient farming operation? Can't we expect that this will be the situation when agricultural experts tell us this is the trend and the inevitable?

Assuming a productive life of 40 years for an average individual farmer, Pennington county should have 25 new farmers starting each year. Local vocational agriculture instructors estimate that the current number of new farmers in this county annually is about seven. Allowing for expansion of farm acreage and reduction in farm numbers, this is still less than half of what is needed for a healthy farm community.

Why aren't more young farmer-businessmen interested in farming? Many of them are but are unable to secure financing to make the necessary investment. Some lack the courage because they fear the narrow margin between a profitable enterprise and economic disaster. Others are interested but don't know how to go about getting a start and making a farm operation pay.

Through the vocational agriculture departments in our area schools, young men with an interest in agriculture as a vocation are being given training to help them succeed in the farming enterprise. There is ample opportunity for qualified and enthusiastic young men in our area and it is the responsibility of the community to utilize its most important natural resource—the youth of today who will be the citizens of tomorrow.

We Must Be Alert

It is about time for farmers and non-farmers alike to be alert to what could happen to our agricultural structure — both good and bad. We need to elevate the image of the farmer to its proper place — that of a farm businessman using all the knowledge available to battle the odds and show a profit on his enterprise. Gone forever are the days when a person who was unsuccessful at everything else could turn to farming and expect to make a living.

We must also recognize that a healthy farm economy in this area is essential to city and community progress and that any farm business started is in itself an important industry for the community. For the sake of our future, let us hope that 1962 will mark the beginning of a change in perspective and a right turn on the path to progress.

Greetings
We wish you the best during the coming New Year.

of Rhyme & Reason

BY GARY [illegible]

LAST WEEK I SAW A PICTURE in a Yuletide greeting book printed by a national firm which periodically advertises in the Times. The picture was a reprint from a poster 113 years old and showed a negro man with a pack sack tied to a stick over his shoulder. He was obviously in full flight from something since the picture was one used on early handbills offering rewards for runaway slaves.

The article had a very catchy title: "This 113-Year-Old Picture Shows a Man Running Away from Security". The article was reprinted from Sunshine magazine — the origin of which is unknown to this writer. But the message was quite clear.

"He received all his meals for himself and his family for nothing. He received free medical attention for himself and family. He paid no rent. He and his family received free clothing. His house was furnished for him. He got his working tools free. If anything happened to him, his family received the same benefits that they received when he was alive. If it was necessary for him or his family to travel, transportation was furnished. He didn't have to pay any taxes. In fact, he didn't have to pay for anything. He didn't even need to have any money."

Why would a man run away from all the blessings mentioned? The simple answer is that he preferred freedom and insecurity to slavery and security. The lesson is equally as simple. As we seek ever-increasing security and lean upon our "masters" for the basic fundamentals of life, we are in return sacrificing bits of our freedom.

We frequently comment upon the enterprise of our pioneer forefathers who established this great nation with little more than their calloused hands. They were free men, what they earned was their own and they supported themselves. A slave has to support both himself and his master.

What's in a pound loaf of bread? For the farmers who supply the ingredients, about 2.9 cents; for the company that does the baking, about 2 per cent of the sale price. The USDA says that hte average price paid by consumers for a pound of bread is 20.9 cents and that the farmers received three cents in 1950 and the baker made four per cent profit. Believe it or not, the USDA report reveals the "widening of the price spread between farm prices and prices paid by consumers was due primarily to higher costs for baking and distributing bread." For this amazing research and conclusions we spend the money we should use for buying the bread!

And speaking of the USDA, I understand that Orville Freeman wants to change the title of his versatile department of agriculture (USDA) to the Department of Foods, Agriculture and Rural Affairs (DFARA) since it handles so many services. Might I suggest that the change be made to the Department of Gratis Services. DOGS sounds like a fitting alphabetical title to indicate where his department has gone.

A PRAYER FOR THE NEW YEAR

by Marie Gustafson

We thank and praise Thee, gracious Lord,
For giving Thy dear Son,
Who through his resurrection
Eternal life has won.

Forgive us, Lord, for all the sins
That we do every day.
Be with us, Lord, to guide us
And lead us in Thy way.

Bless all the people on the earth,
And may they all know Thee,
And that Thy blood was shed for them
That they might ransomed be.

May strife and enmity both cease
To dwell in hearts of men,
And Thy peace take their place, Oh Lord,
To stay 'til worlds end.
Amen

Gust Gulseth, 90, Is Interred Here Saturday, Dec. 29

Gust E. Gulseth, 90, who died at Oakland Park nursing home on December 26, was buried from Zion Lutheran church Saturday, with rites conducted by Rev. Leland Steen. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery. In charge of arrangements was the Sinding Funeral Chapel.

Mr. Gulseth was born June 18, 1872, in Delavan, Minn. At the age of five, he came with his parents to Reynolds, N. D., and there he was educated in the rural schools. In 1903 he married Miss Hannah Hanson. She died in 1907. Several years later, he was united in marriage to Miss Hilda Feragen in Thief River Falls. They made their home on a farm near Grygla until 1921, since which time they have resided in this city. Mr. Gulseth worked over a period of many years as a carpenter in the Thief River Falls area.

Survivors include his wife, one daughter, Mrs. Harold (Hazel) Nelson of this city; five sons, Howard, San Jose, Calif.; Clifford, Coos Bay, Ore.; Lawrence, North Bend, Ore.; Herbert, West Palm Beach, Fla.; and Herman, Grand Forks, N. D.; one sister, Mrs. Emma Leo, Thief River Falls; 11 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his first wife, one brother, and two daughters.

Funeral Services Held Monday For Mrs. E. Fallman

Final rites are being held Monday at 2 p. m. for Mrs. E. Herman Fallman, age 76, at Trinity Lutheran Church, with Rev. Harold Peterson officiating. Burial will be made in Greenwood cemetery, with Sinding's Funeral Chapel handling the arrangements.

Mrs. Fallman, who was a longtime resident of this city, died at Northwestern Hospital here Christmas Day.

She was born January 1, 1886, at St. Hilaire and attended school in that city. Her parents had both died before she was five years of age, and she was brought up by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swenson.

Following employment in Duluth and St. Hilaire, she was united in marriage to E. Herman Fallman on March 27, 1921, at Detroit Lakes. They lived on a farm in St. Hilaire until 1928, since which time they have made their home in Thief River Falls.

Mrs. Fallman is survived by her husband.

Two sisters and two brothers preceded her in death.

American Legion Tops Quota for 1963 Membership

With membership of 602 registered as of December 28, Ecklund-Holmstrom Post No. 117 of the American Legion in Thief River Falls has gone over its quota for 1963. Through the efforts of LeRoy Nabben, membership chairman, the quota of 600 was attained December 20, the earliest quota attainment in a number of years, and qualifies the post for an "Honor Ribbon" for display with the post colors.

Commander John Elsbrener pointed out that the number of Legionnaires belonging to Post No. 117 for 1963 represented an increase of 152 over its advance enrollment for 1962. "This expansion of our membership ranks here in Thief River Falls is further assurance that we will have both the manpower and the financial resources necessary to continue and enlarge our service programs and activities within this community," Elsbrener said.

Some of the major projects which Post 117 sponsors throughout the year are school patrols at three elementary schools with equipment furnished by the American Legion; Legionville School Patrol camp for participants in the school patrol program; Junior Legion baseball; Boys State; and other projects of Americanism, rehabilitation and child welfare.

He issued an invitation to any eligible veteran who might not have been contacted by membership workers to join Post No. 117 and participate in its programs.

Two Parked Cars Hit in Crashes

Icy Conditions Cause Accidents in City Friday

Two traffic mishaps, both involving moving autos skidding into parked cars, were investigated by the Thief River Falls police department on Friday. Icy conditions were present in both crashes and no tags were issued.

At about 12:12 p. m. a car driven by Floyd Holzknecht, city, was traveling south in the 700 block on Main av. N. when another vehicle skidded into the intersection ahead of his car. In swerving to abold hitting the car, Holzknecht struck a parked car owned by Orville Jensen, Mankato. No damage estimes were given.

At 9:30 p. m. a car owned by Spencer Marquette, city, was parked between Sixth and Seventh streets on Dewey av. N. when it was struck by another car driven by Henry Lappegard, city, and traveling north on Dewey avenue. Damage estimates were listed as $35 to the Marquette car and $30 to the Lappegard vehicle.

A clarification has been requested in the listing of accidents carried in the Thursday edition of the Times. An accident involving a car driven by Ole Ness, city, involved Ole J. Ness of 803 Horace av. N. and not Ole Ness of 419 Duluth av. N. The Times regrets any inconvenience caused by the lack of clarity in identification.

Marshall-Beltrami SCD Farmers Have Busy 1962 Season

Summer of 1962 was a busy season in the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District, according to Robert Kloubec, work unit conservationist for the district. Farmers in the district set a record of total trees planted in one year by planting a total of 33 acres to trees in 1962.

Within the district a total of 135 farmers completed 91 miles of drainage ditches to improve wet cropland and 11 farmers constructed stock water pits to assist in supplementing their pasture management programs, Kloubec added.

PENNINGTON COUNTY HOME AGENT

"TLC" IS IMPORTANT IN FURNITURE CARE

TLC (tender, loving care) goes a long way with furniture as well as your personal beauty care. Here are some tips to make your fine furnishings last longer, look better and give improved service.

Wood: Store extension leaves for the table in a cool, dry place to avoid warping. Never place fine woods where they'll be subjected to excessive heat, direct sunlight or open windows.

Scratches: Touch-up sticks and putty sticks are available in a variety of colors to blend with finishes. Occasional thorough cleaning and waxing works wonders toward restoring original good looks. Scratches and mars may be touched up or covered with matching colored varnish applied with a fine water color brush.

White or foggy spots: Use any liquid oil such as salada oil to remove white spots on furniture. Rub into the spot with your finger. Your warm finger and the resulting friction drives the oil into the damaged area. Continue until the spot is no longer noticeable.

Upholstered fabrics: Remove as much dirt and dust as possible by vacuuming before cleaning upholstered pieces. Remove grease stains such as those caused by hair oil with a grease solvent such as a dry cleaning fluid, using necessary precautions. Try any cleaning solution in an inconspicuous place first if you are uncertain of color fastness.

To remove spots, never pour cleaning solvent directly on the fabric; pour it on a clean cloth. Blot up excess cleaner with tissues or a soft cloth and sponge lightly with alcohol. Avoid bleaching agents.

Leather and plastic upholstery: Use a mild soap and a damp cloth to clean leather or plastic upholstery. Rinse with a second damp cloth and rub with a dry clean cloth. Don't use furniture polish.

Do read the manufacturer's tags. They often provide excellent instructions for the best care of their products.

I wish to be among the many well-wishers to wish you a very successful and Happy New Year!

GATZKE . . .

How the Chinese do it

Legend has it that Chinese doctors used to be paid only while their patients were healthy, got no fee during illness. It almost sounds reasonable. In fact, there are physicians today who specialize in keeping their patients healthy. Preventive medicine, it's called. All doctors practice it as much as they can. If you get regular checkups, your doctor has a chance to keep you from getting sick. Modern drugs play a large part in this practice, and that's where we pharmacists come in. But only you can make preventive medicine work—by getting into the habit of regular checkups. It's a very good idea.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

We Have Survived Another Year—
And We Hope To Survive the Next One.

We have been living in an age of crises, and there is little reason to believe that we are nearing the end of this dangerous age. Up to now the forces of freedom have survived because they have had the courage to resist the forces of oppression.

With the New Year will come new problems. But with that New Year will also come new hopes. For courageous people the prospect is not hopeless. We know that the masses of the people of all nations are hoping for the same thing — security and an enduring peace.

May the New Year bring us closer to a new era of international understanding in which international differences will be settled peacefully; and justice will prevail rather than force.

IN THE SPIRIT OF THE SEASON, FROM ALL OF US TO ALL OF YOU, WE EXTEND OUR BEST WISHES FOR A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

A Morning Wish

By W. R. Hunt

"The sun is just rising on the morning of another day, the first day of the new year. What can I wish that this day, this year, may bring to me? Nothing that shall make the world of others poorer, nothing at the expense of other men; but just those few things which in their coming: do not stop with me, but touch me rather, as they pass and gather strength:

"A few friends who understand me, and yet remain my friends.

"A work to do which has real value, without which the world would feel the poorer. A return for such work small enough not to tax unduly any one who pays.

"A mind unafraid to travel, even though the trail be not blazed. An understanding heart.

"A sight of the eternal hills and unresting sea, and of something beautiful the hand of man has made. A sense of humor and the power to laugh.

"A little leisure with nothing to do. A few moments of quiet, silent meditation. The sense of the presence of God.

"And the patience to wait for the coming of these things, with the wisdom to know them when they come."

Progress In 1963

The coming year will bring to our community some things that will make us happy and some things that will make us unhappy. We are confident, however, that developments that will be good for our community will outnumber, and outweigh in importance, those that could be looked upon as reverses.

To a large extent 1963 will be what we make it. There are things that we cannot control. Science has not yet discovered a way to control weather, and weather plays a very important part in our agricultural economy. But there is a law of averages that works out fairly well and two bad crop years in a row has been unusual.

We may expect that the general trends of recent years will continue and that here, as elsewhere, the future will bring us fewer but larger farms. Some of the results of this will be good and some will not be good.

Thief River Falls, as a city serving a large area, is holding its own and making progress. The large territory it serves has given it stability. Losses have been more than offset by gains and with informed and courageous leadership it should continue to make progress.

We look forward to progress in 1963.

Off to War Again

Our govenment has plenty of problems here at home to keep it busy around the clock, but it seems that we are never too busy to pass up an opportunity to get messed up in the difficulties of other nations. We always try to be helpful.

Our present neighborly interest is in Katanga, one of the provinces that was a part of the Belgian Congo. This province has nothing in common with the other provinces, but Katanaga is mineral-rich, and the other provinces want it to be included in the new independent country. It would not be a natural union and could not be made to succeed by force.

But our meddlers think there must be a way and so now a mission has been sent to Congo to check on what military steps would have to be taken to force Katanga to submit to control by distant neighbors and their share-the-wealth plan. Come to think of it, we haven't sent an army to central Africa yet and that would be something new for the new frontier. But as we see it, the internal affairs of what was the Belgian Congo is not a matter of world concern, and certainly not of sufficient importance to involve us in another war. We'll string along with the Wall Street Journal in the following conclusions:

> "Why the U. S. should go along with this sordid business is incomprehensible, but it does. It apparently approves the Thant plan to impose economic sanctions on Katanga and, presumably, military force if that doesn't work. Meantime the U.S. Government is seeking to deport Katanga's Belgian spokesman in this country simply because it does not like anyone or anything favorable to Katanga.
> "We do not suggest that the Katangese leaders are more angelic than politicians elsewhere. But we fail to see how it can be considered sinful for an area to want to remain independent until it can arrive at acceptable terms for unification. And we thing the U. S. ought to cease abetting the UN's reckless schemes of economic and military aggression."

This thinking also has the support of the Winnipeg Tribune which agrees:

> "Events in the Congo are demonstrating anew that nothing but trouble looms for the United Nations if it once allows itself to become embroiled in the internal politics of member states. Under the urging of the Afro-Asian bloc—cheered on by the Soviet Union and its satellites ever mindful of opportunities to stir up disorder—the United Nations embarked on a plan to compel the political unification of the former Belgian Congo.
> "The United States, allowing its emotional responses to the epithet of "colonialism" to becloud calm judgment, backed the ill-advised coercive efforts of the UN command on the spot. All it has reaped for its indulgence in an emotional splurge is the quite fantastic charge by extreme African nationalists and peddlers of the official Communist line that the U. S. is backing "imperialist exploiters."
> "It would now be the path of wisdom for the UN to cut its losses in political prestige and cease to function as the military arm of the Leopoldville administration. UN forces in the area should be used for nothing more belligerent than efforts to prevent, if it is possible, the various African tribes from embarking on a campaign of wholesale murder."

The Government Giveth—and Taketh Away

With the coming of the New Year will also come a one per cent increase in the tax on payrolls to strengthen the insolvent Social Security fund. The fund is insolvent because the government has been too generous in its handouts. For the young people just starting to pay these large payroll taxes, the program, because of bad government management, has become a fraud.

On January 7 there will be a substantial increase in postal rates. This postal rate increase was proposed as a means of meeting a post office department deficit. But, as expected, the increased revenue will be used to increase wages for federal employees and the department will continue operating in the red.

In order to give more to some of the people, the government must take more away from others. For most of us the new year will bring a pay decrease.

Price Supports

Orville Freeman has not yet come up with any solutions for our farm surplus problems that have met with generally favorable support, but that is not necessarily to his discredit. He is discovering by experience what his predecessor learned by experience, that the farmers themselves are not in agreement as to what would be best for them.

On several occasions the Secretary has indicated that he is losing patience with the people whose interests he is supposed to serve, and he does have a temper. But maybe some of his difficulties can be attributed at least in part to his own shortcomings. It is quite obvious at times that his main concern is not agriculture but politics, and that of course is not helpful to harmony.

The fact that he himself is not an agriculture economist doesn't have to be a handicap. He can surround himself by specialists whose activities he could direct as an umpire. But he doesn't strengthen himself when he surrounds himself by politicians and is motivated largely by political considerations.

It has been suggested as one solution for the government's problem that price supports be gradually reduced over a period of years, thus forcing the various segments of agriculture to organize in self defense. Only a few of the various segments are problems. Most farm products are marketed without government subsidies.

The gradual withdrawal of the government from production and marketing controls probably should be given serious consideration in some segments. The failure to organize in some instances is not due to producer opposition as much as it is to the opposition of the many little kingdoms that have become established at various levels in the marketing operations. The leaders of these little kingdoms, in too many instances, are very well satisfied with the present arrangement and do not want their easy way of life disturbed.

Certainly the ultimate objective should be a farm program that would encourage each segment of the agricultural industry to manage its own affairs. Several patterns for that kind of control have been established and are functioning quite well. They are functioning much better than are those operations that are directed by political controls and taxpayer dollars.

We like the following conclusion by Barron's Financial Weekly following a discussion of the overall problem of American agriculture:

> "So many and so far-reaching have been the errors in U.S. farm policy in recent years that the most ardent champions of the free market dare not now urge a sudden end to controls. No drug addict, after all, can quit overnight. The basic issue, however, remains. "Who will run the farms of America? Will it be farmers or bureaucrats?" The wheat referendum will provide a showdown between the man with the hoe and Big Brother. If he grasps this opportunity, the farmer can strike a powerful blow against regimentation. In so doing, he will further, for rural and city folk alike, the cause of freedom."

Babson Forecasts

non-taxable bonds will sell higher during 1963. Also, good short-term corporation and government bonds will be safest to hold. Long-term corporation and government bonds may sell for less sometime during 1963. Long-term bond prices vary with interest rates and the probability of inflation.

Building and Real Estate

There may be some decline in residential building in 1963; and shopping centers in many suburban developments may remain at a standstill for a while. However, so much money is piling up in savings banks which must be invested, it seems that by 1964 many more new homes will be built. In this connection, when purchasing a house or business property, be sure to study the land, which usually improves in price while the value of the building declines.

When constructing new frame houses, build either single homes or houses with only two apartments on the ground floor. There will be considerable new building of brick apartment houses, which should keep filled so long as they are well maintained. Old apartments and old houses will decline in price during 1963.

The less attractive outlook for home building generally does not apply to government or public buildings, or to all commercial buildings. The real estate developers, however, must spend more on advertising in 1963 to meet the growing competition.

Retail Trade

Naturally, there will be a seasonal letdown in retail trade after Christmas and the markdowns which follow January 1. That will be the time to look for bargains. Scan the advertisements well. This especially applies to merchandise that depends more or less on style, such as dresses, coats, hats, and shoes. Buy good-quality items that can be passed down to the younger children. Over all, I expect 1963 to see a somewhat higher level of retail trade than has prevailed in 1962.

Purchases made at real markdowns could be good cause for opening a new charge account. But be very careful to build up a name for good credit. You can arrange to pay some in 30 days, some in 60 days, and some at 90 days; but be sure to pay a little before your account is due. Good credit at a good retail store will help you and your husband (or wife) when you may need this credit later to buy real estate or start a business of your own.

Cuban Outlook

I forecast that the Cuban problem will not be settled in 1963. It may extend until after the 1964 presidential elections. The Russians have removed their missile installations and bombers from Cuba, in accordance with President Kennedy's demands. In return, Mr. Khrushchev will undoubtedly want some concession in Berlin, or in Turkey — which now bottles up Russia in the winter due to Turkey's control of the Dardanelles.

Khrushchev must placate his people at home by improving rather than reducing their standard of living. I saw this very clearly when I was in Moscow. He helped Castro only so that he would have something to trade with the United States, either in connection with Berlin or with our bases which we now have in Europe. Khrushchev expected to later withdraw from Cuba when he first decided to help Castro. He knew Russia could continue to use Cuba as a base for Russian submarines. Now both Khrushchev and Castro are looking to save face at home.

Some think the Cuban fracas will make President Kennedy much tougher with labor here in the United States, but I disagree. Labor leaders may be more reasonable in their demands, but they will continue to have friends at the White House.

Labor and the Profit Margin

Readers should realize that the steel workers can reopen their wage contract after May 1, 1963. The settlement of this contract will be very likely to influence other labor disputes, depending largely on international conditions.

I feel that our country is becoming "immune" to crises, believing that the cold war will continue for years to come. There, however, will be no nuclear war within our generation; and no international war of any kind in 1963.

Labor should begin to realize in 1963 that wages finally depend upon the employer's margin of profit. The year 1962 has seen many employers close down because of their slight margin. Small businessmen — both manufacturers and retailers — must have a larger margin of profit in order to exist. There are too many mergers into bigger units and too many failures of worthy employers. Labor leaders are largely responsible for this unfortunate development and are slowly pricing themselves out of business. Sooner or later this can result in much unemployment. A tax cut will not solve this difficulty.

Commodity Prices

Nineteen-sixty-three will see many basic commodities sell for lower prices. Despite domestic production cutbacks for many raw materials, world supplies will continue their uptrend. These surpluses in world markets will place additional downward pressure on commodity prices in the U. S. There will be exceptions in hybrid corn, Idaho seed potatoes, and other selected crops. Much depends upon the weather and the ability to hold over surpluses.

Prices of peaches, apples, citrus and other fruits depend principally upon the weather. Improvements in canning, freezing, and storage have been greatly advanced, while the big supermarkets have been beneficial in stabilizing prices. The hope of the fruit growers rests in co-operative advertisements in newspapers and other media.

Certain basic chemicals will surely decline in price due to over-production and competition from imports. The U. S. Justice Department claims to be working for consumers in its fights with many companies such as the dairy concerns, but in the end supply and demand will determine the result and not legislation or court decisions.

Taxes and Inflation

Before the Kennedy Administration retires, I forecast that we will have either more taxes or more inflation. Neither, however, need come in 1963. The stock market may discount the expected inflation by temporarily continuing above 600 on the Dow-Jones Industrial Average. The November elections indicate that the voters want a "welfare state" and I believe this means more inflation rather than more taxes.

The old saying, "We cannot have our cake and eat it too," is certainly true today. The elections referred to above indicate that the majority of voters really believe they can have all these temporal benefits such as medical care for the aged, medical and hospital payments, more social security, etc., without having to pay the bill either through increased taxes or through inflation.

With all that is promised to young people in the form of free education, college scholarships, etc., in addition to the above-mentioned help, this means that the employed people, from ages 25 to 65, must carry the entire burden. Sometime they will rebel, but it will not be in 1963 although it might come at the next presidential election. Certainly the enactment of a "real" all-inclusive tax cut is no sure thing. It may look good to the "working man" but not to investors or employers.

The U. S. Dollar and Gold

The purchasing power of our dollar will gradually be less, but this statement applies also to the currency of all countries. If our dollar declines in value it will be the same for every nation. If we devalue the dollar or temporarily look prosperous by phony bookkeeping, the other nations will gradually follow suit and we will all wind up where we started.

The dollar will not be devalued in 1963, although the Wall Street and Lombard Street brokers will put out propaganda to the contrary.

Now, a final word with regard to gold. The United States will continue to lose gold on balance during 1963. The only way to prevent it in 1963 is for us to export more goods and import less. This would require certain sacrifice on the part of our people.

Since my trip to Africa, I have concluded that the answer is in producing more gold rather than leaving it underground. If gold had a free market, its production would increase naturally and it would then represent one of the safest and most profitable investments available today. Another one may be uranium oxide.

Of course, large quantities of gold may be found on the surface of the moon — which brings me to my final subject, which I hope readers will take seriously.

Going to the Moon

Nobody will reach the moon in 1963 or in 1964, but you will see more and more about it in the newspapers during 1964 — or 1965. Do not think that the United States will be the only country preparing for this trip. Russia, England, France, Germany, and possibly China are preparing today to go to the moon. With labor getting 15 cents for a twelve-hour day in China and with booster engines purchasable abroad, China may be the first to get to the moon. China does not need to be a member of the United Nations in order to send a rocket and three men to the moon and return. China's trip to the moon may be financed by foreign capital. China will win the territory it wants in India and ultimately get Burma.

Buying of "going to the moon" stocks may become a very active speculation. The original boosters will be paid for by some government, but their operation will be left for profit. The situation may compare with our great "gold rush" in 1849. However, it will not be limited to gold, but will also include diamonds, platinum, and perhaps other elements which are not yet in our chemistry books. My great-grandparents were all seafaring men taking people from New England down the East Coast of South America around the Horn and up the Pacific Coast — a trip of two months. The astronauts say that they can make the trip to the moon easily in less than four days. One final thought: If the Kennedy Administration gets into too much of a jam between taxes and inflation, the promotion of trips to the moon may pull them out of their troubles. By enticing private capital which is now in need of some attractive speculative investments, this might even bring about another big stock market boom in the late Sixties.

THE ANDERSEN LETTER

Preparing the Budget

Have you ever prepared a budget? Almost everyone has had something to do with a budget — whether it's planning family finances, or serving as a church trustee, co-op board member, school board member or other public official. The problem is always the same — stretching available funds to cover needs — and the growth of needs seems always to outstrip the increase in income.

So it is in state government. Budget making begins in the Fall when every department of state government prepares a "budget request" for the Department of Administration. This includes what the department feels it needs in new personnel, additional equipment and supplies and operating funds to do a good job in the two years ahead. Requests for increases are put in order of priority as the Department knows that not everything can be done.

During the late Fall the Department of Administration has a hearing for each department. Here the department people review their needs, plans and special problems and seek to justify the request they have made. I have attended the hearings of the larger departments to get first hand information . This takes a great deal of time. The University presentation alone, for example was 2½ hours, and even this is a short time to review the operations and needs of this large and important institution.

Meanwhile from many sources the Governor and Department of Administration gather estimates of income from present taxes to have an idea of how much money will be available in the next two years from the present tax structure, and any new taxes under consideration.

Then comes the time of tough hard decisions. Each request is reviewed and pared down to bring it within reach of moneys available. This is an enormous task — but even when it is done the budget job is far from complete.

Then the Department of Administration must prepare the Budget book for the printers showing amounts spent in the previous two years for each item, the Governor's recommendation, and space to fill in legislative action.

The legislature receives the budget message and budget book within the first three weeks of the session. Because of the uncertainty of when therecount would be finished, it seemed essential that the budget be prepared and made ready for the legislature so it can carry on its work. This I have done.

It will be different in two ways from previous budgets. Appropriations and recommendations for state aids to local government will be separate from cost of operating state aids to local government will state government. Heretofore they have been combined and this tends to hide the fact that what has increased so much in recent years is not the cost of operating state government, but the levels of state aid to local government. The biggest increase in state aid is to local school districts, and another is in payments to county welfare boards.

Another new feature will be explanation of increases. Heretofore the budget just contained the figures — and justification for new personnel or greater expenditures had to be found from departmental requests or other information. In the new budget any legislator or other interested person will find more information about state expenditures right in the budget than ever before.

This I hope will make it easier for the legislature to do its job of reviewing state operations and deciding upon the appropriations that will set the standard of operations for the next two years.

Mpls. Roosevelt Tips Prowler Sextet 5 to 2

A better-conditioned and more-experienced Minneapolis Roosevelt hockey squad scored a 5 to 2 win over the Prowlers on the Arena rink here Thursday night. Coach Bob Johnson's Minneapolis club, in playing the locals, was engaging in its eighth game of the season, while for coach Gene Sack's Prowlers it was only the second game of the season.

The Prowlers will move into Region Eight conference competition this week, with four games on the slate. On Wednesday night, Jan. 2, Dave Hendrickson will bring his Crookston Central Pirates here for a game on the Arena ice sheet; on Friday, Jan. 4, the Prowlers will travel to Hallock for a game against coach Ken Wellen's Hallock Bears; and on Saturday, Jan. 5, the Prowlers will engage in a two-game trip in meeting Indus at 2:30 p. m. and the Williams Wolves at 8:00 p. m.

After a scoreless first period here Thursday night, during which goalie David (Nobby) Erickson turned aside several shots from point-blank range the Teddies erupted for four goals in the second period. In the opening minutes of the period Tommy Morben and Dick Johnson were whistled to the sidelines with penalities and coach Johnson's experienced line of Jon Hall, Dave Lindberg, and Dick Cooney took advantage of the manpower advantage to rap in a pair of goals. Cooney from close in, shoved the first goal into the north net, and seconds later, Hall, on a slap shot from the blue-line, whipped the puck into the net.

The Prowlers picked up a goal at the 5:44 mark when Tony Poole, on an assist from Dennis Sullivan, came in close to beat goalie John Bjeldanes, paring the Teddies' lead to 2 to 1. Lindberg, on a rebound shot off Cooney's ongoal try, scored at 7:42; and at the 10:55 mark, with Dick Johnson in the penalty box, Dan Reiter, from a sharp angle to the right of the Prowlers' net, found an opening on the short side to score, giving Roosevelt a 4 to 1 lead.

In the final stanza, each team scored a goal, with the Teddies scoring early in the period on Lindberg's shot; and the Prowlers on Sullivan's shot from ten-feet out, scoring at the 4:17 mark.

In a preliminary game the Minneapolis Roosevelt 'B' squad defeated coach George Schlieff's Prowlers 'B' squad, 2 to 1. Paul Peterson accounted for the lone Prowler 'B' squad tally.

115 Walnut Trees Fetch Big Price in Sale at Winona

An auction sale of state-owned black walnut timber on the Whitewater wildlife management area in southeastern Minnesota has brought prices ranging from 110 per cent to 250 per cent over the appraised value.

An official of the conservation department's forestry division, which supervised the sale, said that there were 115 selected mature black walnut trees on the four tracts offered for bids.

The sale was held at the Winona county court house in Winona on Friday, Dec. 14. Buyers were present from Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The great interest in the sale and the unusual prices resulted from the high grade of the trees offered. Black walnut is much desired for quality furniture, paneling, gun stocks and other specialized uses.

Highest price received was on one tract for which a bid of $1,225 per thousand board feet was offered. Altogether, the four tracts in the sale carried an appraised value of $3,467 but were actually sold for $9,560.

C of C Aircade To Visit Fargo On February 4th

Delegation from TRF To Attend Legislative Interest Stimulator

To arouse American businessmen, inform and persuade them to take an active vocal interest in the major legislative issues before the 88th Congress begins in February, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an "aircade for Citizenship Action". First stop on the aircade, which will reach 15 states, will be February 4 at Fargo, N. D.

Other stops for the aircade will be at Des Moines, Ia.; Battle Creek, Mich.; Baltimore, Md.; Pittsburgh, Penn.; Springfield, Mass.; Louisville, Ky.; Winter Park-Orlando, Fla.; Jackson, Miss.; San Antonio, Tex.; Bakersfield, Cal.; Seattle, Wash.; Boise, Idaho; Albuquerque, N. M.; and Oklahoma City, Okla.

Purpose of the aircade is to furnish business and community leaders with a greater understanding of the vital role the individual citizen can play in resolving these issues and problems in the public interest.

Appearing at each meeting will be a team of business leaders and staff professionals from the Chamber of Commerce, each an authority in specific legislative fields—taxes, federal spending, education, labor and other fields.

A delegation from Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce will be in attandance at the Fargo aircade meeting.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

Year-end Recollections

Perhaps the most newsworthy event in local athletics this past year, from a team's viewpoint, was the performance of the senior baseball Thieves in winning the Region 2B title. And manager Joey Poole's club won this title (and it was the first time since 1951 that a local club had won the Region 2B title) by turning in a remarkable three weeks of baseball during August.

Beginning on August 5, when the Thieves dropped a 5 to 4 decision to the league-champion Crookston Pirates, and continuing through August 28, when they bested the Twin Valley Twins in a doubleheader, the locals engaged in ten games and won eight of these pressure-packed contests.

Here's a roll-call of those games: Aug. 5, Crookston, 5; Thief River Falls, 4; Aug. 8, Thieves, 3; Fosston, 0, with Fred Jensen hurling a two-hitter; Aug. 10, Thieves, 6; Crookston, 5, Jensen the winner in eliminating the Pirates; Aug. 12, Thieves, 11; Twin Valley, 8, with Dennis Bakke going the route; Aug. 13, Thieves, 7; Fertile, 4, another win for Jensen; Aug. 18, Thieves, 24; Stephen, 1, with Rod Olson pitching in the Region 2B tournament for the locals; Aug. 23, Twin Valley, 6, Thieves, 5, with Bob Hallameck gaining the decision over the locals; Aug. 25, Thieves, 9; Kennedy, 3, on Jensen's steady pitching; Aug. 26, Thieves, 5; Twin Valley, 1, with Jensen besting Al Santwire; and Aug. 26, Thieves, 18, Twin Valley, 9, with Dick Palmer and Rod Olson sharing the pitching duties as the Thieves won the Regional title. The fact that the Thieves dropped a 12 to 0 decision to Gaylord and lefty Gary Underhill in the state tournament was an anti-climax.

Ada Won Region 8 Title

Another noteworthy team performance in this area the past year was the winning of the Region Eight basketball title by the Ada Vikings. In the Region Eight tourney played at Grand Forks, in first-round games, Bemidji defeated Kennedy, 62 to 48; and Ada defeated Warren, 57 to 41.

Coach Bun Fortier's Bemidji club was favored to win the regional title, but in the finals game coach Bill Brady's Vikings, showing tremendous drive and speed, took control of the game to run up a 17 to 7 first period lead and a 29 to 18 advantage at the intermission. In the hectic second half, Ada was under pressure throughout as the Jacks began their rally to overcome that 11-point deficit. And the Jacks nearly did, losing the game by only one point, 52 to 51. The second half developed into a duel between the Jacks' Bill Hanson, who scored two field goals in the third period and six field goals in the fourth period, and Ada's fine guard, Dean Bowyer, who scored two field goals and four free throws in four ties in the third period, and added a field goal and five free throws in six tries in the fourth period.

And on a team-performance level, I must mention the recent three-game scoring outburst of coach Jack Junker's basketball Prowlers. The Prowlers earlier defeated the Warren Ponies, 77 to 60; the Crookston Pirates, 75 to 47; and the Ada Vikings, 83 to 52. The Ponies are the defending champions of District 31, and the Vikings are the defending Region Eight champions, so these 70-points plus efforts by the locals were against well-rated opponents.

Paul Klungness Starred

In the individual performance category it was Paul Klungness who produced the headlines. Paul, as a junior on coach Rod Max's Prowler track team, set four Northwest conference records. Paul ran the 100-yard dash in 10.2; the 220-yard dash in 22.2; the 180-yard low hurdles in 20.8; and broad-jumped a distance of 21 feet 1½ inches as the locals rolled up 64 and five-sixth points to win the conference title for a second year in succession.

Paul put "topper" to his Northwest conference performance by winning these four events in the Region Eight tournament, and then going on to the state tournament where he scored eleven points, and won the state high school broad event with a leap of 22 feet ½ inch. It marked the first time that a Prowler athlete had won a state track meet title.

And this fall, Paul added a bit of "dressing" to his athletic endeavors by being placed on Ted Peterson's All-State football squad.

Fertile's sturdy righthander, Rod Olson, gained a measure of fame by pitching a no-hit and no-run game against coach Ralph Skay's Prowlers, winning a 7 to 0 decision. Rod whiffed fourteen Prowler batsmen as set down the locals in a high school baseball game played on the Fair grounds diamond.

The Prowlers avenged that no-hit and no-run game by defeating the Falcons and Rod Olson, 3 to 1, in a Region Eight first-round game played at Cass Lake. After that win it was heartbreaking to have the Prowlers lose, by a 2 to 1 score, to Bemidji in the Region Eight finals.

And while I hope that 1963 will be a happy year, I doubt if it will produce such athletic feats as these that were accomplished in 1962.

Fishing Derby On River Slated for January 27

Sixth annual fishing derby sponsored by the St. Bernard's men's club for the benefit of Boy Scout Troop 57 in Thief River Falls will be held Sunday, January 27, from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. at Tindolph Point.

Int. Falls Tops Prowler Hockey Team in Tourney

Eveleth and International Falls will face-off tonight at 9 p. m. for the championship of the holiday invitational hockey tournament being played in the Ft. Francis Memorial arena. Thief River Falls and Duluth Denfield will cross sticks at 7:15 p. m. for consolation honors.

In opening round games played last night, Eveleth's Golden Bears edged Duluth Denfield 4 to 3 while International Falls whipped the Prowlers 10-3. Coach Larry Ross used three lines against the Prowlers as the defending state champion Broncos held period leads of 2-1 and 5-2 before a five-goal effort in the final period.

Feeling Chilly Latey?
So Is Your Car!

We've had a pretty good sample of winter's icy blasts this week. And, if it's been cold for you, it's been even colder for your car — especially if it is outside most of the winter.

Be wise — Protect your investment. It's not too late for an all-around, bumper to bumper winterizing job. Oil and grease need changing, radiator and heater hose should be checked. Chances are you will need to add anti-freeze, too. Best time to take care of thes things is right now.

Aliens Required to File Addresses During January

A. G. Vaughan, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, St. Paul, stated today that all aliens are required to report their addresses in January under the federal alien address report program.

All non-citizens, except those in diplomatic status, foreign representatives of certain international organizations and those admitted temporarily as agricultural laborers, are required to file the address report.

Vaughan said that address report cards are available at local postoffices beginning January 1, 1963. Willful failure to report so may lead to serious consequences.

Death Takes Mrs. Harwood Olsen on Tuesday Evening

Mrs. Harwood (Margaret(Olsen, 48, died Tuesday night, January 1, at Northwestern hospital following a heart attack the previous day.

Funeral services are scheduled for Saturday afternoon, January 5 at 2 o'clock at Trinity Lutheran Church, with Rev. Reuben Wangberg officiating. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Visitation will begin this (Thursday) evening at Sinding's Funeral Chapel and continue until Saturday noon. The body may also be viewed at the church for one hour prior to the services on Saturday.

A complete obituary will appear in Monday's Times.

Power Output in TRF up Slightly for 1962, Less Water Was Used

A total of 22,374,092 kilowatts of electricity was handled through the Thief River Falls municipal power plant in 1962, a gain of 1.7 per cent over the 21,998,572 kilowatts in 1962, it was announced today by Morris Owen, superintendent of utilities.

The gain, Owen stated, is considerably below the average of seven to eight per cent over a long period of years, and is attributed in part to the poor crops harvested in the area last year, which served to curb many local processing plants and commercial activities.

Nearly 90 per cent of the power handled in 1962, or 19,762,092 kilowatts, was purchased from the bureau of reclamation, with only 39,800 kilowatts generated by the Diesel engines here, and a total of 2,572,200 kilowatts produced by the water turbines, the largest figure in recent years.

Owen and Harold H. Anderson, chief operator of the water treatment plant, reported a substantial drop in the amount of water processed last year, the total being 209,421,100 gallons, compared to 253,780,900 gallons in 1961.

The decline is charged largely to the heavy continued rainfall in the area all during the spring and summer months, greatly curtailing the use of water for lawn sprinkling. The daily output ranged from a low of 384,300 gallons to a peak of 1,051,600 gallons.

$40,000 Home of Dr. Dale at RLF Is Destroyed Sunday

Family Narrowly Escapes from Blaze that Broke out Sunday at 4:30 a.m.

The $40,000 home of Dr. Les N. Dale, owner of the Red Lake Falls Clinic and legislative spokesman for the Minnesota State Medical Association, was destroyed by fire early Sunday.

Dr. Dale and eight other members of the family escaped minutes before the flames cut off all exits at about 4:30 a. m. Dale's mother, Mrs. Louise Dale, 70, 2252 Knapp Av., St. Paul, who was visiting her son, was helped out through a first-floor bedroom window.

Nothing was salvaged from the fire. The fire started in a basement family room from undetermined causes, Dr. Dale said.

Also routed from the home, built less than two years ago, were Mrs. Dale and the couple's four children, Marsha, 18; Terry, 16; Randy, 12; and Robert, 9, and a niece Susan Miller, 11, on a Christmas visit from British Columbia. The family was taken to a neighbor's home.

Two Area Men Killed in Car Mishaps Wed.

Lehart Stock, 48, Lawrence Pederson, 63, Die in Crashes

Two traffic accidents at approximately the same time Wednesday afternoon claimed the lives of two area residents. Dead are Lehart Stock, 48, Goodridge, who was killed in a two-car crash about four miles northeast of Thief River Falls, and Lawrence Pederson, 63, Plummer, who died in a unique one-car mishap just west of the intersection of highways 59 and 92 at Brooks. Time of both accidents was placed at 4:45 p. m.

Stock was driving a pickup truck west on county road 63 about three miles east and one mile north of Thief River Falls when the truck collided with a car driven by Paul Klungness of rural Thief River Falls and traveling north on SAR 20. The intersection crash threw both cars into the ditch at the northwest corner of the intersection.

Klungness received only minor injuries in the mishap. Stock was apparently thrown through the windshield of his truck, authorities report, and was taken to Northwestern hospital by ambulance. After responding well to treatment, he died unexpectedly at 3:35 a. m. today. Hospital authorities report that the accident victim had scalp lacerations, extensive head injury and apparent brain damage.

Pennington county sheriff's department investigated the mishap and listed damage estimates at $450 to the Stock pickup and $700 to the Klungness car. The intersection is unobstructed.

Stock was born Jan. 5, 1915, and farmed near Goodridge. He was not married and is a cousin of Mrs. Kermit Maidment of Goodridge. Several brothers and sisters live outside the area and funeral arrangements are pending at the Sinding Funeral Home.

Lawrence Pederson was killed in a unique mishap at 4:45 p. m. Wednesday when he was pinned under his car in the south ditch of highway 92 near the intersection with highway 59 at Brooks. Highway patrol officers who investigated the mishap are at a loss to explain how the accident occurred.

Dr. L. N. Dale, Red Lake county coroner, listed death as due to a combination of injuries sustained, and exposure. The mishap was not reported until nearly 6 p. m. Only one foot was protruding from under the car, Dr. Dale told the Times this morning, and melted snow under the victim's face indicated he had been alive for some time after the accident.

Highway patrol reports show that the car was traveling west on highway 92 and had left the road on the left side of the highway. The car remained upright and had not overturned and mystery surrounds the manner in which Pederson was pinned beneath the vehicle.

Wangberg Term Delayed To Friday

Sentencing of Paul Wangberg, Thief River Falls youth convicted of second degree murder in district court at Warren two weeks ago, has been deferred to Friday by Judge Lyman Brink. Sentencing had been tentatively set for Wednesday of this week but was deferred since the court reporter was out of town. The charge carries a prison term of 15 to 40 years.

Tris Coffin

Speaker Secured for Lions Event

Tris Coffin, Montreal, To Speak February 16

Tris Coffin, director of Lions International, will be guest speaker at the District 5M-3 mid-winter conference to be held February 16 and 17 in Thief River Falls, according to James Parkins, International counselor. Coffin is a native of Montreal, Quebec, Canada, where he has an optician practice.

Elected a director of Lions International at the annual convention held in Atlantic City in June of 1961, Coffin had previously served his club as president and had been zone chairman, deputy district governor and governor. He was chairman of the board of governors of District "A" and also a member of the executive council of the Board of Governors of Lions International.

A Master Key member with 15 years perfect attendance, Coffin was awarded the International President's award and extension award. He was also the director of membership development and retention for District A-8. He will speak at the conference banquet Saturday evening, February 16.

Large Section of Williams Razed by Fire Early Monday

Water Lacking to Fight Blaze That Burned Pool Hall, Garage and Cafe

A frozen town pump at Williams, Minn., forced firemen to stand by almost helpless early Monday as flames destroyed one side of the one-block business district in the village.

Burned were a pool hall, cafe and garage. Water tankers from the Baudette and Warroad fire departments were rushed to the scene. They prevented the fire from spreading to fuel tanks at the garage.

Carl Johnson, operator of the Johnson pool hall, escaped without injury after the fire broke out around 6 a. m. in the pool hall where he was sleeping. Cause of the fire has not yet been determined.

Winds whipped the flames to the Evenson Cafe and Bard Garage, destroying them. Heat broke windows in a food store and a produce store across the street.

Dean Bard, garage owner, his wife and two children, Stewart, 3, and Connie, 3 months, lived in the garage building. The Bards were warned in time to avoid injury and to salvage some clothing and household supplies.

Postal Receipts Decline in 1962

Postmaster R. J. Dryden announced today that postal receipts in Thief River Falls in 1962 aggregated $104,960.25, a drop of $3,530.86 from the 1961 total of $108,491.11. This is the first time in recent years that receipts have failed to register an increase.

Airline Service Plan Draws Council Protest

First Fire of '63 Hits Local Home

The first fire alarm of the new year was turned in Tuesday, January 1, at 2:22 p. m., when the fire department was summoned to the home of Norman Strand at 420 Kinney av. N. The family was away from home at the time, and the alarm was turned in by neighbors, who noticed a blaze at the rear entry. Firemen confined the fire to the rear hallway, in addition to which the interior of the house suffered smoke damage, the total loss being estimated at several hundred dollars.

Players' Parents To Be Honored At Cage Game Jan. 5

Members of the Lions club today reminded local citizens of the advance ticket sale veing conducted by the Lions for the Prowler-Park Rapids basketball game to be played Saturday evening, January 5, at 8 o'clock in the Lincoln high school gymnasium. Parents of members of the Prowler team will be seated together in the stands, and will be introduced between the halves. Merle Lindberg is serving as ticket sale chairman for the Lions.

Polio Clinics Set for Jan. 13th in Marshall County

Sabin oral polio vaccine will be administered to Marshall county residents beginning Sunday, January 13, under the direction of Carlyne M. Raymond, Marshall county public health nurse, in cooperation with area doctors, American Legion auxiliary units and the Grygla Farmers Union local. Nine communities are included in the schedule of clinics.

Charge for the oral vaccine will be 25 cents per dose but no one will be turned away, the health nurse said. Registrations forms should be filled out in advance and brought to the clinics. These forms are being sent home with school children and are available at stores in the communities where clinics will be held.

Type I of the vaccine will be given at the January 13 clinics with Type II clinics scheduled for February 27. No date had been set for administering the Type III vaccine. Schedule for the January 13 clinics, all of which will be held at schools with the exception of the Stephen Legion hall, will be as follows:

Alvarado, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Argyle, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.; Grygla, 10:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.; Middle River, 10:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.; Newfolden, noon to 5 p. m.; Oslo, noon to 5 p. m.; Stephen, 11 a. m. to 5 p. m.; Strandquist, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.; and Warren, 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

"There are three different known types of polio virus which cause poliomyelitis," Carlyne Raymond said. "In order to be fully protected against polio, an individual must be protected against all three types; this means a person must take all three types of polio vaccine.

"Because the oral vaccine usually produces an intestinal barrier against infection, it is expected that the vaccine will be more effective than any presently available by breaking the chain of transmission, or eliminating the vaccinated person as carrier, which the Salk vaccine does not do. Persons who have had shots of Salk vaccine are encouraged to take the oral type since it will increase personal protection and help protect other persons in the community."

Trinity To Host ALC Conference Church Meeting

Expect 160 Delegates Sunday Afternoon for Annual Business Session

Trinity Lutheran church in Thief River Falls will be host to the Thief River Falls Conference convention of the American Lutheran Church on Sunday, January 6. The convention will convene at 3:30 p. m. and continue throughout the evening.

About 160 delegates are expected to attend from Alvarado, Oslo, Middle River, Goodridge, Holt, Ross, Stephen, Baudette, Karlstad, Viking, Grygla, Warren, Drayton (N. D.), Argyle, Badger, and St. Hilaire in addition to Thief River Falls.

Addressing the afternoon session on "The Church and the Second Coming of Christ" will be Dr. Olaf K. Stornasli, professor of the New Testament at Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul. Dr. A. E. Hanson, Moorhead, Northern Minnesota District president, will bring greetings and Rev. Luthard O. Gjerde, executive director of the Lutheran Social Service in Minnesota, will discuss the LSS operation.

Following dismissal for supper at 5:30, the convention will reconvene at 7 p. m. with a business meeting including reports, election of conference officers and eight committees and transaction of business.

Voting delegates are pastors and all elected officers of the congregation such as president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, trustees, deacons, board of education and church council.

Memorandum Filed With CAB Against North Central

Protest against the reduced service to Thief River Falls on North Central Airlines if a pending application is approved by the Civil Aeronautics board was expressed by the Thief River Falls city council in special session Saturday afternoon. North Central has asked the CAB for permission to operate Convair aircraft on its Minot to Minneapolis run on March 1 and runways at the local airport are too short to handle the larger planes.

A resolution adopted by the council directed Robert Wurst, city attorney, to file a memorandum of opposition with the CAB. Extension of runways at the airport is included in the master plan for the facility but need in the immediate future was not expected. No applications had been made for state or federal assistance in airport improvement.

Use of Convairs by North Central would mean there would be only one round-trip to and from Thief River Falls following the proposed change-over. The flight to Minneapolis in the mrning and return in the evening would be made with Convairs which could not use the local airport. This morning and evening flight schedule is a main attraction for airline travel at the present time.

Accelerate Program

In additional action by the council toward retaining full airline service for the city, D. H. Stewart, city engineer, was directed to prepare technical data for filing with state and federal authorities in the hope that airport improvements could be made in 1963.

Application had been made previously for assistance for resurfacing of existing runways, construction of additional apron and surfacing of the access road and parking area. This application was made with the intent of letting a contract after July 1, 1964. The new application would contain all the aspects of the initial request, plus extension of the main runway to 5,200 feet, and would request assistance to permit letting of bids after July 1, 1963.

Directors of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, meeting in special session with Attorney Wurst Wednesday, endorsed the council action in regard to filing a protest against restricted service and hastening runway extension.

Memorandum Statements

In the memorandum filed with the CAB, the city council notes

TRF Fire Losses Decline to $3,700 During Past Year

Fire Chief Langevin Reports Only 48 Calls Received During 1962

Fire losses in Thief River Falls in 1962 aggregated only $3,700, it was announced by Fire Chief Roy Langevin, this figure comparing with $26,565 in 1961, $12,350 in 1960 and $8,500 in 1959. The fire department responded to 48 calls last year, while in 1961 the total was 87.

Largest loss of $1,400 sustained in 1962 was from a fire that damaged the Mrs. Sophie Taylor residence at 1007 Duluth av. N. Minor losses were the result of 11 overheated furnaces, water heaters, stovepipes and fire places.

Firemen also responded to alarms turned in for blazes in cars and trucks, rubbish, appliances and chimneys. Four false alarms were sounded. The department engaged in a dragging operation at St. Hilaire last July when Raymond Nordbo of Portland, N. D., was drowned while working on the new bridge across Red Lake river.

In addition to the fires in Thief River Falls, the fire department also was called August 14 to the Fred Koop farm in Rocksbury township, where a blaze resulting from lightning destroyed a barn and its contents, with a loss estimated at $5,000.

INTEREST in the abilities of the Arctic Cat produced by Arctic Enterprises, Inc., in Thief River Falls was shown Sunday afternoon when approximately 200 people watched the vehicles in operation on the Red Lake river near the Third Street bridge. While adults paid particular attention to engineering and design of the vehicles, youngsters were more concerned with having rides on the snow-covered river. Whther usd for riding, pulling sleds or skiers, the vehicles made many trips up and down the river with a number of interested persons taking a turn at the controls.

Carol Mickelson Weds Arve Moser December 15

Miss Carol Jean Mickelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mickelson of Middle River, became the bride of Arve Ernest Moser of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Moser of Jamestown, N. D. on December 15 at a double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. James Hanson. The service took place at First Lutheran Church at Middle River.

Christmas trees and wrought iron candelabra flanked the altar, providing the setting for the exchange of vows in the presence of 190 relatives and friends. The wedding march was played by Mrs. James Hanson at the organ. Arlene Prosser was soloist, offering, "Together," "The Wedding Prayer," and "Crown With Thy Benediction." Pews were marked with candelabra with white pine tips and red carnations.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of lace and nylon tulle detailed with a scalloped neckline. Her veil of Chantilly lace was highlighted with Aurora Borealis crystals. Her flowers were a cascade arrangement featuring a large white mum with cascades of red garnet roses and silver balls. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom.

Maid of honor was Janice Prosser of Middle River, and the bridesmaid was Marilyn Pederson of this city. They wore green sheath dresses of brocaded satin, with three-quarter-length sleeves and net overskirts. Their matching headbands were of net, and their jewelry was pearl necklace and earring sets, gifts from the bride. Their bouquets were white mums with red carnations and holly leaves in cascade arrangement.

Bestman was Ronald Moser of Jamestown, the groom's brother, and the groomsman was Ronald Anderson of Middle River. Ushering duties were shared by Dale Moser, Jamestown, N. D., the groom's brother, and Roger Davis, Halma, cousin of the bride. Men in the wedding party wore tuxedos; the ushers were in black business suits. All wore white mum boutonnieres.

Mrs. Mickelson wore a two-piece dress of beige brocade, and the groom's mother wore a brown lace dress. Both wore black accessories, and their corsages were white mums with red carnations and holly leaves.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Given by the bride's mother, it was attended by approximately 160 guests. Hostess was Dorothy Prosser of Thief River Falls.

The bridal cake was four-tiered, decorated in pink and silver, and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Each tray of cookies was decorated with white lace ribbons.

All the assistants at the reception wore corsages of red and white carnations and holly. At the guest book were Shirleen Moser, Jamestown, N. D., the groom's sister. Opening and displaying gifts were Mrs. Wayne Wegge, Carol Biskup, and Elona Anderson, all of Middle River. Mrs. Richard Luoto and Mrs. Gust Qualley, both of Middle River, poured. Punch was served by Karen Meyers of Thief River Falls. Cutting the cake were Mrs. Harry Young and Mrs. John Luoto, both of Middle River. Waitresses were Connie Hallquist, Marsha Ross and Judy Ranum of this city. Assisting in the kitchen were Mmes. Archie Prosser, Albert Hanson, Andy Anderson, Ruth Gressly, and Mrs. Joe Biskup. Stephen Larson and Dick Stardig carried the gifts.

Guests attended from Jamestown Medina, and Grand Forks, all in N. D., Chicago, Ill., and Stephen, Halma, Thief River Falls, Plummer, and Hallock.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Middle River high school and is a saleswoman at Purdy's Shoe Store in this city, while the groom, also a 1961 graduate, was from Jamestown high school. He is a salesman in the employ of the S & L Store in this city. —Photo by Neal Fox Studio.

Family of Mrs. Parnow Holds Reunion Dec. 30

A reunion of the family of Mrs. Mary Parnow and the birthday celebration of Mrs. Raymond Parnow occasioned a family gathering at the Robert Parnow farm, on Sunday, December 30. With Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Parnow and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parnow as hosts, over 20 family members were served dinner, after which the group enjoyed a social afternoon and took pictures. The scene of the reunion was the original family homestead. Christmas decorations trimmed the house for the festivities.

Present in addition to the honored guests and hosts were: Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Parnow and four children of Decatur, Ga.; Mrs. S. A. Christianson and Sharon, of El-Monte, Calif.; Miss Meri Christianson of Valparaiso, Ind.; and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Patten and Mary.

Diane Reed To Wed Michael Poole

Mr. and Mrs. John Reed announce the engagement of their daughter, Diane, to Michael Poole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Poole of this city.

The bride-elect is a recent graduate of the cosmetology department of the local area vocational school and the prospective groom is employed in Minneapolis.

The couple have not as yet decided on a date for their wedding.

Women of Zion To Install Officers

In their first meeting of 1963, the Women of Zion will install a new slate of officers for the coming year. The meeting, to be held on Tuesday, January 8 at 8 p. m. in the church parlors, will present a program on Evangelism. Lydia Circle, with Mrs. Clifford Larson as chairman, is in charge of the program. Hostess circle is Elizabeth circle, under the leadership of Mrs. G. M. Stromsmoe, and hospitality will be handled by Martha circle, with Mrs. Clarence Dicken as chairman.

Everyone is urged to attend.

Squares To Host "Outer Space" Dance

"Outer Space" square dance caller, Ken Meyer of Grand Forks Air Base will be a guest of the Falls Squares in the Thief River Falls City Auditorium Saturday, January 5th from 8 to 11:30 p. m. Meyer calls for the Hi-Flyers square dance club there, and has called for groups all over the world.

Dancers from "Way Out" are invited to head their space ships toward the city for an evening of "down-to-earth" square dancing fun.

Astronauts Irene and Chris Saustad will salute dancers as they arrive, and spectators are invited to view the spectacle from the balcony.

Yuletide Party Held By Campanula Club

Campanula Garden club, meeting at the Irving Swanson home on Friday, December 28 for its Christmas party, opened with roll call which was answered by giving a seasonable quotation from the Bible. The group sang Christmas carols, and Susan Anderson and Larry Swanson each played a Christmas selection on the piano, while Mrs. Anna Magnuson played a harmonica solo and Mrs. L. A. Meyer read the Christmas gospel from Matthew.

The evening closed with gift exchange and a delightful pot luck lunch in the holiday tradition.

The next meeting of the club will be at the H. O. Berve home on the afternoon of Friday, January 11.

Leah Ray Anton Baptized By Rev. Seltz Sunday

Leah Rae Anton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Anton, was baptized in St. John Lutheran Church Sunday, Dec. 30, by the Rev. A. C. Seltz. Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Hans Anton.

Eagles' Auxiliary To Meet Monday Evening

Eagles' Auxiliary will hold its regular meeting on Monday night, January 7, at 8 p. m. Everyone is urged to be present.

Miss Harriet Marcott of East Grand Forks returned to her home on New Year's Day after spending a week at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Pederson.

Darryl Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, who is with the Peace Corps in South America, called his parents from the Panama Canal on Christmas Eve. He was on his way to Mexico City, Mexico, on a holiday trip.

Harriet Jorgenson Is Richard Johnson's Bride

Miss Harriet Gail Jorgenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jorgenson of Goodridge, exchanged vows on December 15 with Richard Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Johnson of Aurora. The ceremony took place at the Assembly of God Tabernacle here, with Rev. Ray Collver prompting the vows in the double-ring evening service. He was assisted by Rev. D. H. Mapson, Minneapolis. Decorating the altar were baskets of red and white carnations, and spiral candelabra.

Before 300 guests, the bride given in marriage by her father, entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played on the piano by the groom's sister, Mrs. Glen Poppenhagen of Babbitt. Ruth Brodin of this city played "O Perfect Love," on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. Poppenhagen. The latter opened the ceremony singing "The Lord's Prayer," while the couple were kneeling, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerroll Jorgenson, Minneapolis, sang, "The Wedding Prayer," and after the recital of the vows they sang, "Together With Jesus." Mrs. Poppenhagen also played several numbers preceding the ceremony.

The bridal gown was of tulle lace, with organza inserts and lace overlays studded with crystal sequins. The back was detailed with scalloped layers of lace. The gown featured long, fitted sleeves and a square neckline. The bridal veil fell from a crown of crystals. White roses and feathered carnations in a cascade arrangement formed the bridal bouquet.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Joyce Johnson Minneapolis, a sister of the groom. Two other sisters of the groom attended as bridesmaid and junior bridesmaid, respectively. They were Miss Sharon Johnson and Miss Audrey Johnson of Aurora.

Their attire was dresses of red velveteen with three-quarter length fitted sleeves, gathered skirts, and necklines scooped in front, criss-crossing to form a V at the back. They wore white wrist-length gloves and red satin shoes. Headpieces were feathered headbands, and their jewelry was drop pearl necklaces. They carried arm bouquets of white carnations featuring sprigs of holly and pine cones, and tied with huge bows of white satin.

Flower girl Lynnea Poppenhagen of Babbit, the groom's niece, was dressed in a floor-length gown of white slipper satin trimmed with white velvet bows. It was fashioned by the bride. To complete the costume, Lynnea wore white gloves, a white hat, and a drop pearl necklace which she had received from the bride. She carried a basket of rose petals which she dropped in the aisle on the advent of the wedding party.

Carrying the rings was Paul Poppenhagen of Beaver Bay.

Serving as best man was the groom's brother, A-1c Loren Johnson, stationed at Kelly AFB in San Antonio, Tex. Two brothers of the bride, Wendell Jorgenson and Royal Jorgenson, Goodridge, attended as groomsmen and ushers were Gerald Elder, Duluth, and Russell Johnson, Minneapolis.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue suit with black accessories, while the mother of the groom wore a moss green wool sheath with brown accessories. Both wore corsages of white and red carnations accented with holly sprigs and Christmas balls.

250 guests attended the reception held in the parlors of the church which were decorated with snow-sprinkled pine boughs, holly sprigs, and Christmas balls. Mrs. Jack Ulrich, St. Hilaire, served as hostess.

The wedding cake was baked and served by Mrs. Martin Mosbeck, St. Hilaire, the groom's aunt. Topping it were a miniture bridal pair which served as a centerpiece for the bridal table.

Displaying the gifts were Mrs. Dayle Kainz, Mrs. Earl Peterson, Mrs. Stanley Panek Jr. and Miss Irene Peterson.

Ice cream was served by Mrs. Bruce Blazer, city, aunt of the bride. Pouring was Mrs. Julia McCoy, city, the groom's aunt. Punch was served by Mrs. Larry Forsberg. Kitchen assistants were Mrs. Melvin Johnson, city; Mrs. Edwin Elder, Duluth, and Misses Ardith Hagenbeck, Moorhead. Serving the bride's table were Misses Sharon Sanders, Darlene Peterson and Lila Johnson, all of this city, and Karen Myhrer, St. Hilaire. Other waitresses were Misses Marilyn Johnson, Brenda Olson, and Miss JoAnn Johnson, Goodridge all cousins of the bride.

While the bridal table was being served, a short program was presented. Emceed by Jerroll Jorgenson, Minneapolis, the bride's brother, it featured vocal solos by another brother, Wendell Jorgenson of Goodridge, and by Miss Lois Collver of this city. Wilbert Johnson, Fertile, read a poem.

Attending from out of town were guests from Babbitt, Aurora, Duluth, Northome, Grand Forks, N. D., and Florida and Texas.

Mrs. Johnson is a 1962 graduate of Goodridge high school, and the groom, an airman second class stationed at Elgin AFB, Fla. He is a graduate of Aurora high school.

The couple chose the Ozark Mountains of Arkansas for their honeymoon, the bride's travel outfit of beige wool sheath dress with moss green accessories. Upon their return from the Ozarks, they are at 1463 Nordberg St. Valparaiso, Fla.

Safety Pledge Makes for Brighter Future

"Start the New Year with a pledge to drive safely and you will have more enjoyable motoring and a better chance to Live To See 1964," said Garnet E. Hall, state highway safety director, today in a message to motorists.

"Driver error is the cause of more than 90 per cent of our traffic accidents, and the traffic picture will not improve until all drivers sincerely resolve to be at their best when sitting behind a steering wheel", Hall said. "And good intentions alone are not enough. Motorists must acquire the necessary skills and knowledge if they expect to be competent operators of motor vehicles.

"The first lesson to be learned is to keep your mind on safety and have safety on your mind whenever you are in traffic. The complexity of today's traffic demands full attention with sober minds and sober thoughts in the driver's seat. That is one reason why the drinking driver is such a menace on the road," he said.

"During the winter season there are skills to be learned and practiced. We must avoid the common tendency to overpower, oversteer, and overbrake. When we apply power too rapidly, wheels spin and vehicles go into sideskids or are stalled. On slippery surfaces, we must have steady and restrained steering. Jerky manuevers also send vehicles into skids. Brakes should be applied sooner and more gradually to avoid skids and to allow safe and smooth stops.

"I cannot emphasize too greatly the necessity for slower speeds and the use of snow tires or chains for better traction on ice and snow. It takes from three to twelve times as far to stop on ice as it does on dry pavement, and we must have a good grip on the road if we are to maneuver safely. We also must have that extra distance separating us from others, and that extra time slower speeds allow us for safe stops.

"At this time of the year, we also cannot expect to get as clear a picture of the road ahead as we would desire. Car windows covered with snow, ice and frost allow only limited vision, and longer hours of darkness coupled with wintry gray skies restricts considerably the degree of visibility. Such poor visibility should be cause for both motorist and pedestrian to use extra caution," Hall said.

"Pay special attention to traffic warning signs that can alert you to danger ahead, and make a special effort to obey traffic signals and pavement markings. They can give you the needed time to survey the scene before you make your next move," he explained.

15 Cases Tried During Past Week in Municipal Court

All Law Enforcement Agencies Have Cases for Trial During the Week

Fifteen cases were tried in Thief River Falls municipal court late last week and early this week with the local police department, county sheriff's office, state highway patrol and state game warden all bringing cases to trial.

In highway patrol cases, Orrin Aune, Grygla, forfeited $17.50 bond on a speeding charge and Harold Green, Toronto, Ont., forfeited bonds of $15 for speeding and $25 for having an open bottle of liquor in a motor vehicle.

Sheriff's department cases included Norman G. Hanson, Grygla, disorderly conduct, fined $25 with $10 suspended; Kenneth M. Hanson, Grygla, disorderly conduct, fined $50 with $15 suspended; Virgil Loken, Pencer, disorderly conduct, fined $25, and assault on a different date, 15-day suspended jail sentence.

In the case brought by game warden Don Fearn, David Lease, rt. 3, Goodridge, forfeited $15 bond for trapping mink without a license.

Remaining cases were brought by the city police department and include the following: Mrs. Marie Larson, city, failure to yield right-of-way, accident involved, fined $25 with $10 suspended; Gary Battleson, city, possession of liquor by a minor, $15 forfeited; Daniel Metheny, rt. 1, Newfolden, petty larceny, 20-day suspended jail sentence; Oscar C. Peterson, rt. 3, TRF, drive through a school patrol stop flag, found guilty after trial, fined $15 with $7.50 suspended;

Also Frank Donarski, rt. 1, TRF, fighting, 10-day suspended jail sentence; Robert Olson, city, overtime parking, fined $10 with $5 suspended; and John W. Knutson, city, driving after suspension of his driver's license, fined $50 and license plates and title card ordered impounded.

New Booklet Explains Taxpayers' Numbers

"Questions and Answers Regarding Taxpayer 'Identifying Numbers'", a new 20-page booklet issued by the Internal Revenue Service, was announced today by George O. Lethert, district director of Internal revenue in St. Paul. The new booklet provides guidance for individual taxpayers as well as trustees, executors, administrators banks, financial institutions and businesses generally, Mr. Lethert stated.

Public Law 87-397 requires that taxpayers use their identifying tax account number on federal tax returns and related documents, beginning in 1963. For the individual taxpayer, his account number is his Social Security number, or a similar number issued for tax reporting purposes. The business taxpayer reports under his employer identification number.

In introducing the new pamphlet, Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin said:

"I have been gratified by the cooperation and help of corporations, banks and other savings institutions in implementing the new requirements so important to improved tax administration. Many of these organizations are already asking their shareholders for identifying tax account numbers. Others will be doing this soon. I am sure that dividend and interest recipients will show the same spirit of cooperation in supplying the requested information readily and promptly. In the coming filing period, we anticipate that virtually every return will show the proper tax account number."

Lethert stated that copies of the questions and answers booklet, Publication Number 459, may be obtained from the district director of internal revenue, St. Paul 1, Minnesota.

Council Protests North Central Airline Plans

that if the application of North Central is granted ". . .the city and surrounding area will be substantially deprived of airline service until such time as our runway can be extended." It also adds that, "The most useful flights would be Convair flights. . .and the remaining schedule offers utterly no incentive for airline travel in the matters of convenience or saving time."

Two alternatives would be considered by the council, the memorandum states, those being: (A) Utilize the Convairs on this segment but leave existing DC-3 service as well or (B) defer use of Convairs until such time as Thief River Falls, Brainerd and Devils Lake can make the necessary improvements at their respective airports.

"We have been satisfied with North Central's service from an operational standpoint and we must now solicit the assistance of the board in requiring the carrier to continue not less than its present service to our community until the necessary runway extension can be effected," the memorandum concludes.

DEVASTATED in an early-morning fire on New Year's Eve was one block of the Williams business district containing a pool hall, cafe and garage. Windows in buildings across the street were shattered by the heat of the blaze. A south-east wind fanned the fire which was believed to have started in the pool hall and sent it racing the length of the block. Fire departments from Baudette, Warroad and Roosevelt aided Williams firemen in battling the blaze but were hampered by the lack of city water supply. The Williams fire truck and a school bus were moved from the garage and most of the personal belongings were rescued from the recently remodeled living quarters of the garage owners. A store formerly located in the block had burned in 1950 and had not been replaced.—Photo Courtesy Roseau Times-Region

Head of Steer, Inc. Moving to Seattle

Principal Office of Agency to Be in TRF

Rev. E. V. Folden, pastor at the Interdenominational Christian Fellowship Center in Park River, N. D., for the past six years, will leave early in January to accept a similar post at Seattle.

In addition to his new duties in Seattle, Rev. Folden will continue as field director of Steer, Inc., a missionary farm organization he founded after coming to Walsh County. The organization now has more than 800 units in 25 states.

STEER, Inc., will move its principal office to Thief River Falls, and will be under the direction of Rev. Arnold Folden, a brother of the Park River pastor.

Booklets to Be Distributed by Tabernacle Youth

"Operation Saturation" is the title of a crash literature campaign to be staged by the young people of the Assemblies of God Tabernacle in Thief River Falls January 6-13 in participation with Assemblies of God youth throughout the world, according to Rev. H. Ray Collver, pastor.

Distribution of a tiny booklet entitled, "Chicken," will be the major emphasis of the group known as Christ's Ambassadors. Locally the campaign will be launched with a house-to-house visitation program Sunday afternoon. "Chicken" was written by Rev. David Wilkerson, director of teenage evangelism for the Assemblies of God.

"Operation Saturation" coincides with the universal week of prayer which is receiving special emphasis in Assemblies of God churches across the nation. Thief River Falls tabernacle will begin a series of special meetings at 7:45 p. m. Sunday with Rev. Eugene Johnson of British Columbia as guest speaker.

Sheriff's Office Checks Break-in

Pennington county sheriff's department is investigating an attempted break-in and a break-in at which about $5 was taken in Thief River Falls late Monday night or early Tuesday mornin.

The Osborne-McMillan Elevator was entered through a basement window and the cash taken from the office. Attemped break-in took place at the Johnson Plate Glass company the same evening.

Last Rites for Gotfred Anderson Held Saturday

Rites for Gotfred Erick Anderson, who died at Oakland Park Nursing Home Thursday, Dec. 27, at the age of 83, were held December 29 at First Lutheran church at Middle River. Rev. James Hanson officiated, and interment was in the Spruce Valley cemetery. Collins Funeral Home of Middle River was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Anderson, a native of Sweden, was born in Vastmanland on June 6, 1879. He came to America with his family at the age of 9, and they settled in Spruce Valley township, Marshall county. He attended school and reached maturity there. In 1905 he was united in marriage to Miss Helen Marie Bloomquist at Middle River. They farmed in Spruce Valley township until moving into the village of Middle River in 1917.

Mrs. Anderson died in 1943, her husband continuing to make his home in Middle River until 1959. For the past three years he has been a resident at the nursing home here.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Lloyd (Beatrice) Newland of this city and Mrs. Sig (Myrtle) Wasley of Auburn, Washington. Five sons also survive: Clifford, of Thief River Falls, and Frank, Carl M., Hilmer, and Lloyd, all of Middle River, as do 23 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Anderson was preceded in death by his wife, one brother, and two sisters.

Cora Swanson, City, To Be Interred Monday

Mrs. Cora Swanson, East Greenwood Blvd., longtime resident of Sanders township, died January 2 at Northwestern Hospital at the age of 67.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. at First Lutheran Church in this city. Rev. Marvin Carlson will conduct the rites, and interment will take place in Greenwood cemetery.

The body will lie in state from Saturday evening until Monday noon at Sinding's Funeral Chapel, and at the church for one hour prior to the time of the services.

For a complete obituary, refer to the Monday edition of the Times

Trora Anderson of Grygla to Be Interred Friday

Mrs. Thora Anderson, a resident of the Grygla community for many years, died on Sunday evening, December 30, at Northwestern Hospital at the age of 90.

Funeral services will be held on Friday, January 4 at 2 p. m. in Our Saviour's Lutheran Church east of Grygla. Rev. Julian Erickson will officiate, and burial will be made in the church cemetery. The body is reposing at the Green Funeral Home until 10 a. m. on Friday, and at the church for one hour prior to the services.

A complete obituary will be found in Monday's Times.

Oscar Bottem Succumbs Friday; Services Jan. 1

Oscar Bottem, a resident of this city since 1945, died at Northwestern hospital on Friday evening, December 28. He was 82 years of age.

Funeral services were conducted on New Year's Day at Zion Lutheran church of Thief River Falls, with Rev. Leland Steen officiating, and interment was made in the Holt cemetery. Green Funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Bottem was born December 7, 1880 in Delafield, Jackson county, near Windom. He attended school and grew to manhood there, coming to the Holt community in 1906 and settling on a farm. On May 19, 1910, he married Olga Halvorson. They made the farm their home until moving to this city in 1945.

Surviving Mr. Bottem are his wife, Olga; four daughters, Mrs. George (Gladys) Offerdahl, Mrs. Roy (Ruth) Sorum, and Mrs. Florence Homme, of this city, and Mrs. Francis (Alice) Schieb, Pontiac, Mich.; six sons, Clarence and Lawrence of Thief River Falls; Melvin, Superior, Wisc.; Morris and Leonard, St. Paul; Reuben, Winnette, Mont.; one brother John, of this city, and one sister, Mrs. Annie Nelson of Windom. There are, in addition, 22 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by two sons and one sister.

C. A. Hennessey Interred In N. D. December 24

Funeral services were held at St. Mark's Catholic Church in Conway, N. D. on Monday morning, December 24, for Charles A. Hennessey. Father J. J. O'Meara officiated at the services and at the rosary service held at the Casement Funeral Home at Fordville, N. D. on December 21.

Mr. Hennessey died December 19 at the Northwestern hospital in this city, having only recently moved here from Conway, where he was born April 30, 1898.

He married Miss Mary Barbara Foerster there on October 28, 1922. She died in January of last year. Mr. Hennessey spent almost all of his life in Conway, moving here on December 1.

Survivors include one son, Pat; three daughters, Mrs. Stanley (Dorothy) Malafa, Mrs. Irwin (Jean) Brenna and Sister Mary Charles; and six grandchildren.

Sverre Loveid, Former Creamery Operator, Dies

Final rites are being held today (Thursday) at Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Newfolden, for Sverre Loveid, 77, former resident of this area. Rev. Elder Oscarson will officiate, and burial will be made in Westaker cemetery near Newfolden. Arrangements are being handled by Collins Funeral Home of Middle River.

Mr. Loveid died December 29 at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Haugen at Hillsboro, N. D.

A former creamery operator in Strandquist, Middle River, Argyle and Alvarado, Mr. Loveid was born in Gjervik, Norway, in 1885, coming to the United States with his family at the age of six. They first lived at Watson, but the following year moved to New Maine township, Marshall county, where he attended school and grew to manhood.

In 1916 he married Miss Clara Backe in this city. They moved first to Strandquist, and then to other communities in the area where Mr. Loveid's business interests took him.

Mrs. Loveid died in 1933. Her husband has recently been making his home at Hillsboro, N. D.

Survivors are a son, Norman Loveid, of Cromwell; a daughter, Mrs. Emil (Ruth Elda) Haugen, Hillsboro; a brother Ludvig, Warroad; two sisters, Mrs. Olaf Norby and Mrs. Claring Lund, both of Newfolden, and five grandchildren.

Preceding him in death were his wife and one son.

Farming and Our Community

A town will die...
if this farm doesn't prosper

The lifeblood of a town can be drained by lack of vigorous, healthy farm expansion and improvement. When the income from one or several farms in our community goes down . . . it starts a chain reaction. The new farm truck or tractor that's not purchased, the new machine shed or milking parlor that's not built, the farm home improvements that are not made have both an immediate and a long range effect on the prosperity of our town. First to feel these effects are those who supply farm needs directly. But ultimately, every business in our town suffers.

Through low-cost farmer-planned loans and sound financial counseling, your local farmer-owned Production Credit Association works to insure farming prosperity. Each season, it makes millions of dollars available for farm needs in this area. Through your farm neighbors, these dollars also work for you . . . to help our community grow and prosper.

Anti-TB Drugs Prove to Be Effective Cure

Medical history has seen a quiet revolution in the last 10 years, a radical change in treatment for one of the world's most dreaded killers: tuberculosis.

Reason for this medical near-miracle is the discovery of three life-saving anti-tuberculosis drugs called isoniazid, streptomycin and PAS. Given singly or more often in combination, these drugs have cut the tuberculosis death rate in the United States. Also, if used widely and correctly, they offer a hitherto almost undreamed-of promise: eventual eradication of a disease that has devastated mankind for centuries.

As a result of these drugs the average length of hospitalization has been shortened patients can get out of bed and move around a great deal more than formerly, and post-hospital care and rehabilitation have taken on a new and different importance.

Despite this modern turn for the better, the victory over tuberculosis remains a long way off. Because the disease is infectious and the symptoms are sometimes not apparent, unknown and untreated cases present the greatest threat.

Today, most patients if — and it's a big IF — they follow their prescribed treatment after returning home from the hospital can live with their families, go back to their jobs, and lead full and happy lives, all without endangering their own health or the health of others.

With the advent of the drugs, victory against tuberculosis becomes possible if —and again it's a big IF — all tuberculosis patients can be discovered and treated early. Only in this way can the disease be contained, and kept from spreading throughout a family, a school, a business office, or a community.

Toward this end your Christmas Seal organization urges periodic physical checkups, including a tuberculin test or chest X-ray, for everyone.

4-H Leaders Will Attend Institute

To Study Recreation and Music at N.W.S. Jan. 9

More than 4,000 4-H Club adult and junior leaders in Minnesota will learn about the importance of music and recreation in the 4-H program as a result of 4-H Leaders' Institutes to be held throughout Minnesota during January.

The over-all objective for the 10 area institutes is to increase the effectiveness of the local 4-H meetings and county 4-H programs in meeting some of the needs of youth through recreation and music.

The institute schedule for the state includes Jan. 9, Northwest School and Station library, Crookston.

How recreation and music meet some of the needs of youth and what resources are available are topics which club recreation leaders will discuss. They will also receive actual training in directing group games. County extension agents will learn how trainers of recreation and music leaders might conduct leader training sessions in the county and will attempt to define the scope of recreation and music, including camping.

Four adult leaders and the county agent from seven to 11 counties will attend each of the area institutes. They in turn will train two leaders from each club in the county in directing singing and group games.

Local National Guardsmen Take Special Training

Sgt. David Bachand, Sgt. Hutchenson Will Attend Alaska Course

Two members of the Thief River Falls National Guard unit will be among 30 guardsmen selected from 23 guard units in the state to attend a six-week winter operations and ski instructor course conducted by the U. S. Army Cold Weather and Mountain School at Fort Greely, near Fairbanks, Alaska.

They are Sgt. David P. Bachand, 24, Brooks, a guardsman for three years, and Sgt. Marvin J. Hutchenson, 23, Goodridge, a guardsman for one year. Both are members of Company D, Second Battle Group, 136th Infantry, Thief River Falls.

Guardsmen selected will depart from the Minneapolis-St. Paul International airport air guard ramp at 1 p.m. today on a National Guard C-97 aircraft and be flown to McChord Air Force Base in Washington where they will board a military air transport plane for a flight to Eielson Air Force Base in Alaska. The men will return on February 16.

Guardsmen attending the course are all volunteers and are selected according to their physical condition and instructional potential. Purpose of the school is to prepare officers and key enlisted men to perform duties as commanders, staff officers and instructors of winter operations in northern and mountainous regions.

They will study geographic characteristics, climatic conditions and the military significance of these regions. Functional courses will include those dealing with special tactical and logistical techniques, use of special equipment, special techniques in using standard equipment, living and operating in the field, snowshoe familiarization and military skiing and instruction techniques.

78 Boy Scouts At Winter Camp Late Last Week

Seventy-eight Boy Scouts from Thief River Falls, Holt and Badger attended the annual winter camp held Thursday through Saturday of last week at Norris Camp. Thief River Falls troops had 54 scouts in attendance at the three-day camping session.

Scouts ranging in age from 11 to 16 took part in hiking, cooking, compass reading and pioneering activities with their work counting toward advancement in the Boy Scout program. Quentin Jones of Thief River Falls served as camp director for the Pen-Ro-Shall district.

Other adults working with scouts at the camp were Roger Miller, Morris Owen, Al Christopherson, Lee Bakke and Ted Kusmak of Thief River Falls, "Bud" Brown of Badger and Donovan Peterson of Holt.

Could you guess
what's good about a headache?

If you happen to have one right now, probably all you need is an aspirin. But the fact is, a headache sometimes is a signal. It may be telling you something is wrong . . . perhaps something quite remote from the pain. In this event it's a symptom—valuable information for your physician. So if you have a persistent or recurring headache and don't know why, see your doctor. Don't take a chance. Your physician can probably clear up your problem in short order. Of course, he may say all you need is aspirin—but even that's worth knowing.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor The Times:

I should like to have the opporunity to thank the scout leaders and scoutmasters, including Holt and Badger troops, who were at Norris Camp the past week for a grand time.

The trip was outstanding because of so many boys and fine leaders. Some of the things we enjoyed were hikes, studying nature, reading the compass, stalking our patrol leaders and stargazing. We enjoyed movies on conservation from their local forest ranger. I also saw some of my first spruce grouse and was one of the lucky ones to see three deer while on hike. The ranger showed us some hides of deer, otter, timber wolf and fox and also a rack of large moose horns which were very large and heavy.

We had the chance of climbing a forest rangers's lookout tower to look over the country. We ate one meal cooked out-of-doors by other scouts. I am looking forward to a return trip again some time. One experience I will never forget is the pillow fight we had in our barracks and we were caught by Mr. Jones, and sent on a stargazing hike in the dark at below zero temperature. That ended the pillow fight.

I would like to thank especially Mr. Jones for nature study and hikes, Mr. Jorgenson for compass work, Mr. Al Christofferson as cook and K. P. -pusher and Mr. Owen who is our scoutmaster. Also thanks to the bus drivers who put up with a lot of noise while going to and from camp.

Thanks everyone for 3 nice days.

Statements for '63 C of C Dues Sent This Week

Statements for 1963 dues for the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce were mailed out this week by the C of C office with a cover letter listing the reasons why support for the organization is desirable, according to Roland K. Larson, executive secretary.

The letter notes that C of C affiliation is "an investment in Thief River Falls" and that the organization is "a public relations agency, secretary, business stimulator, advertising department, information bureau, community development office, promotion and coordination organization, salesroom, spokesman and watchdog for your best interests."

"Most of all," the secretary stated, "the Chamber of Commerce tries to be the epitome of the free enterprise system and is the only voluntary organization in the world promoting Thief River Falls full-time."

Two Car Mishaps Sunday Create $240 in Damage

Two traffic accidents occurred in Thief River Falls on Sunday within 10 minutes of each other and damage estimated at $240 was sustained by the four vehicles involved. One citation was issued by the Thief River Falls police department which investigated both crashes.

At about 1 p. m. a car driven by John Weigelt, city, was traveling west on Taft street and collided with a car driven north on Merriam avenue by Walter Leach, city, who was attempting to make a right turn on Taft. About $45 damage was done to the Weigelt car and $75 to the Leach vehicle.

At 1:10 p. m. a car driven west on First street by Neary Louze, city, was struck on the left side by a car driven by Theodore Mills, city, entering First street from the Robertson Lumber company driveway. Damage was estimated at $85 to the Louze car and $35 to the Mills vehicle with Mills charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

708 New Scouts Recruited During Roundup Drive

Lake Agassiz Council of the Boy Scouts of America recruited 708 new Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers during the A-OK Round-up concluded on December 15. Pen-Ro-Shall district increased its Scout membership by 14.8 per cent in the membership campaign. The Peace Garden district led the council's seven districts with 27 per cent increase.

Robert Pile, organization and extension chairman, urged units to recruit and register new boys throughout the year so that a maximum number of boys will be exposed to the character building and citizenship training which the Boy Scouts provide.

Over 100 Attend CFC Reunion in City Saturday

Alumni from 5 States Attend Event; Lindquist Is Featured Speaker

More than 100 members and alumni of the Lincoln high school Christian Fellowship club attended a reunion banquet held Saturday evening in the basement of the Mission Covenant church in Thief River Falls. Edsel Lindquist was guest speaker at the program with Morgan Ellingson as master of ceremonies.

Alumni were in attendance from Maryland, Iowa, Illinois and North Dakota as well as Kennedy, Newfolden, St. Louis Park, St. Hilaire, Moorhead, Detroit Lakes, St. Paul Park, Minneapolis and Thief River Falls. More than half of the group attending was alumni of the club.

Greetings were given by past presidents Mrs. Robert Myhrer, James Erickson, Miss Evonne Drotts, Gary Anderson, Mrs. Wallace Releerson and Roger Ose and current president Clark Dyrud. Written greetings from other presidents during the 14-year history of the organization were read. Rev. Eldor Langager pronounced the invocation and benediction.

A plaque award to Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Ivadelle Taggart) Myhrer was presented for having come the greatest distance to attend. They reside in College Park, Md. Presentation of a corsage to Mrs. P. Alfred Peterson, in whose home the club met during its early years, was announced at the banquet. Musical numbers were furnished by members of the alumni.

Guests at the banquet were seated in groups of four at decorated tables illuminated by candlelight. Mrs. Allan Torkelson and Miss Marlene Torkelson poured, LuAnn Johnson was at the punch bowl and Lois Drotts, secretary of the club, presided at the guest book.

Mrs. Rasmusson Discovers 1915 Edition of Times

While rummaging through papers and magazines in the attic of a house recently purchased at 516 Horace av. N., Mrs. Delmar Rasmusson found an "Industrial Edition" of the Times printed on March 25, 1915.

A story in the paper commenting on the 36-page edition noted that 3,500 copies had been printed and that they contained 2,275 column inches of advertising and 100 columns of reading and pictures. Showing that times haven't really changed too much was this statement gleaned from the story:

"We have endeavored to produce a paper that would be a credit to Thief River Falls and Pennington county and as far as possible, show the outside world the wonderful opportunities here that await the farmer, businessman and manufacturer. We want the people to know that northwestern Minnesota is the best agricultural section in the state and that Thief River Falls is the metropolis of northwestern Minnesota."

Weed Inspectors Meet in St. Paul January 7 to 10

More than 100 county weed and seed inspectors will meet Jan. 7-10 for their 22nd annual short course on the St. Paul campus of the University of Minnesota. Included will be Ed Moren, Pennington county inspector.

The four-day program will provide instruction in weed and seed identification, crop production, insect control, weed control, seed certification, seed laws, plant disease control and related subjects, according to arrangements cochairman, Richard Behrens, University of Minnesota agronomist.

Thursday's sessions will be open to the public. They will include a report on Minnesota weed control research and recommendations by Behrens and the 1963 insect survey and forecast by R. G. Flaskerd, entomologist with the State Department of Agriculture.

Goodridge Lions Hold Party for Youngsters

Thieves Win Two Week-end Games

The senior hockey Thieves, winning a pair of games during the weekend, gained a firm hold on first place in the Northwest hockey league standings, having a mark of three wins and no losses. On Saturday night, in a game that was forced into overtime, the Thieves edged out the Grand Forks Warriors, 5 to 4, at Grand Forks; and on Sunday afternoon, in a game played on the Arena rink here, coach Duane Glass' Locals defeated Bud Salem's Crookston Pirates, 6 to 3.

On Friday night, Jan. 4, with the face-off scheduled for 7:30 p. the Thieves will meet the St. Boniface College Canadiens of St. Boniface, Manitoba. A preliminary game will be played at 4:30 p. m. between the St. Boniface juveniles and the V. F. W. Midgets.

In Saturday night's tilt at Grand Forks, the Thieves held a 4 to 3 lead entering the final period, but with less than six minutes of the period remaining, the Warrior's Tom Bossoletti scored to knot the game at 4-all.

And with 27 seconds of the ten-minute overtime period remaining, center Dale Wennberg, on a solo rush, beat goalie Ken Bachellor to give the Thieves the "sudden death" victory.

On Sunday afternoon, playing here, the Thieves trailed coach Salem's hustling Crookston club, 3 to 1, entering the third period of play. In the third period the Thieves erupted for five goals and gain a 6 to 3 win.

The Thieves gained a 1 to 0 lead at the 10:47 mark of the first period when Mike McMahon, with Wennberg assisting, flipped the puck past goalie Dennis Brekken. The Pirates, on Tony Schmitz rush after recovering the disc in center ice, evened the game at the 13:25 mark, with Schmitz coming in for a point-blank shot at goalie Jack Hoppe.

Swift-skating Ed Derosier, tallying a pair of goals in the second period, gave the Pirates a 3 to 1 lead. A lead which coach Salem's club deserved.

In the third period, Joey Poole blasted a shot past Brekken at the 2:10 mark, and when Chip Strand hit for a goal at the 3:35 mark, the game was 3-all. Eddie Holmes fed Strand a pass at the 8:45 mark, and the Chipper beat Brekken to score the go-ahead goal. McMahon's angle shot was deflected into the net off a Pirate defender at the 16:37 mark; and Larry Poole, with Joey Poole and Del Offerdahl assisting, notched the game's final goal at the 17:26 mark.

Crookston Six Loses to Prowlers Here 3-1

The hockey Prowlers opened their Region Eight conference play on Wednesday night by scoring a 3 to 1 win over coach Bob Strand's Crookston Central Pirates in a game played on the Arena rink.

The locals will play at Hallock on Friday night, and at Indus and Williams on Saturday. The three games are Region Eight conference tilts.

The Prowlers played Wednesday night's game without the services of wing John Weigelt, who has, from all reports, been lost for the season. Weigelt, in an informal scrimmage at the outdoor rink by the power house, suffered a serious eye injury. A high stick shattered the glasses he was wearing and it was necessary to rush Weigelt to Grand Forks where he underwent surgery for the removal of glass particles in the eye. He is expected to be in the hospital for a couple of weeks.

Don Mathieu opened the scoring in Wednesday night's game when, at the 9:34 mark of the first period, he rammed in his own rebound shot after goalie Tom Vind had stopped Don's first attempt.

The Prowlers moved into a 2 to 0 lead at the 6:25 mark of the second period when Elroy Frolland while sprawled out on the ice, nudged the puck into the south goal on a sweeping shot, with Dick Johnson setting up the play.

It was 3 to 0 for the Prowlers in the opening minutes of the third period when Frolland, with Paul Peterson and Ron Kvikstad assisting, banged a goal into the north net.

In a preliminary game, coach George Schlieff's Prowler 'B' squad, with Monte LeMoine scoring three goals, Roddy Carlson tallying twice, and Bobby Stordahl adding a single, defeated coach Dave Hendrickson's Crookston 'B' squad, 6 to 1.

The summary:

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

They Would be Welcome

That the Bemidji Lumberjacks may become a competitor in Region Eight high school hockey was indicated by a report out of Bemidji that stated that "The school board voted the other night to ask J. W. Smith, school superintendent, to investigate the costs of hockey and to make plans to correlate the sport into the school's athletic program."

M. J. (Buck) Haack, president of the board, asked that the sport be considered by the schools because many youngsters are graduating from the "pee wee" hockey program and have no place to compete. He added that about 50 boys are in this program each year and he intimated that the schools are obligated to continue the teaching of this sport for the good of the youngsters.

Superintendent Smith informed the board that he would have the investigation and plans ready shortly after the holidays. The board voted to call a special meeting to discuss placing hockey on the program in January. Smith warned the board of the cost of the sport, and that Bemidji high school couldn't be expected to compete with the state's top teams for several years.

Discussion was held on whether or not a new sports program would jeopardize the existing programs, but the conclusion was that "there are still a lot of boys who are not now engaged in interscholastic athletics."

It's a certainty that the schools of Region Eight would welcome Bemidji's entry into hockey. And it's a certainty, too, that in a few years the Jacks would become a factor in Region Eight play. Bemidji, you know, has a winning complex.

And the fact that Bemidji State college intends to build a winters sports arena, with provisions for a hockey rink and perhaps artificial ice, will be to the benefit of the Jacks.

And speaking of "peewee" hockey programs. The grade school hockey program at Roseau, under the direction of Art Salpacka, will have 12 teams participating in league play, with the schedule beginning on Jan. 5. More than 100 boys, starting with six teams in the 3rd and 4th grades, and six teams in the 5th and 6th grades, will be competing in the hockey program. The teams are sponsored by Roseau business organizations, who also provide the coaches for the teams.

A Fishing Derby

The Northern Beltrami county sportsman's club will sponsor a fishing derby on upper Red Lake Sunday, Jan. 6. The hours for the derby will be between 2:00 and 4:00 p. m., and will take place off the Hudeco Resort along the northeast shore of upper Red Lake

Curling Club Invitation

The ice-makers at the Fair Grounds curling arena had their troubles this year, but they have finally completed the four sheets of ice and the curlers are in business.

The members and officers of the local club have extended an invitation to all sports fans to visit the arena this weekend. The club will have an "open house", and curling will be free to all guests. This is an opportunity to those sports fans who wish to learn the fundamentals of the game.

It's open curling on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Worth the Trip

It was worth the trip to Grand Forks on Saturday night to witness the performance of Rugby's Paul Presthus, North Dakota's "athlete of the year for 1962" in action against the Grand Forks Central Redskins in the finals of the invitational basketball tournament played on the UND fieldhouse court. Rugby, the defending North Dakota Class A champions, defeated a well-rated Grand Forks club, 48 to 42. Presthus, a six-foot five-inch center, scored 27 points against coach Marv Skaar's club.

Incidentally, this Grand Forks Central squad, with ten seniors and two juniors on the twelve-man squad, will meet the Prowlers here on Saturday, Feb. 16.

But to return to the play of Presthus. This youth, rated with the best high school basketball players in the nation, is a smooth performer. He controlled both boards, was a good feeder, and a scoring threat from the corners as well as on pivot shots, right and left handed, in the lane. And above all, he appeared to carry his greatness with proper modesty and humility. Presthus, by his play in the two-game series on Friday and Saturday, made believers of a number of skeptics.

Red Lake County FU Meets Friday

The Red Lake County Farmers Union will hold a joint meeting of locals at the Plummer Hall Friday, Jan. 4 at 8 p. m. Awards will be given to the juniors, and there will be a speaker, lunch and games.

Fish Rescue Work Pays Off in State

1961 Record Is Already Exceeded, Says Chief

The conservation department fisheries section has set new records for fish rescuing operations during 1962, according to a report made public this week.

Hjalmar Swenson, fisheries supervisor, said that figures through Nov. 30 show that 447,360 pounds of northern pike or 634,848 fish had been rescued since Jan. 1, 1962.

"There is more fish than we rescued during all of last year and we still have the month of December to go," Swenson said.

He explained that weather and water conditions last spring during the spawning and hatching seasons were responsible for the great number of fish present in shallow lakes where they could be taken by fish rescue crews.

"When the figures for December are in I am sure that we will show over one half million pounds of northerns or three-quarters of a million fish rescued during the year," he said.

As high as these figures are, Swenson said they could be even better if more money were available to provide manpower, equipment and access to more areas where fish rescue operations would be productive.

The production of fish from controlled spawning and rearing areas last spring and summer was also very satisfactory, according to Swenson.

He said that 5,333,695 northerns were produced in the 38 state-owned spawning and rearing areas and in 70 other areas operated in cooperation with the private landowner or local sportsmen groups.

He said the Department is continuing its program of acquiring and developing good spawning sites. Work was done on nine of these locations during the past year to make them more attractive to spawning fish.

Latest spawning sites to be developed for maximum production are located at Green Lake in Kandiyohi county and at Orchard Lake in Dakota county.

SLOW DOWN AND LIVE'

League Curling to Open Here Monday

Ice Sheets Completed at Fair Grounds Arena

With the completion of the four sheets of ice in the Fair Grounds curling arena, the adherents of the "roaring game", curling, are busily engaged in polishing their techniques for the opening of league curling on Monday, Jan. 7.

The Thief River Curling club has issued an invitation to all prospective curlers, or sports fans interested in learning the rudiments of the game, to participate in open curling this weekend. The facilities of the club will be available to all curling enthusiasts, and competent instructors will be in attendance to explain the fundamentals of the game.

It's "open" curling on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday at the Fair Grounds curling arena.

Prowler Six Tips Duluth Denfeld

Scoring a pair of goals in the final minutes of the third period, breaking a 2-all tie, coach Gene Sack's Prowlers defeated the Duluth Denfeld squad, 4 to 2, to win third place in the invitational hockey tournament played on the Memorial Arena ice in Fort Frances, Ont. on Saturday night. Coach Larry Ross's host team, the International Falls Broncos, won the championship by edging out coach Johnny Matchefts' Eveleth Golden Bears, 5 to 4, in a game that was forced into three overtime periods.

In besting the Denfeld Hunters, the Prowlers marked up their first win of the season, and have a mark of one win and three losses as they move into a busy weekend. On Friday night, Jan. 4, the Prowlers play Hallock at Hallock; and on Saturday, in a 2:30 p. m. game, they meet Indus at Indus, and at 8:00 p. m. they play the Williams Wolves at Williams.

In Saturday night's game, which was played as a preliminary to the championship finals between the Broncos and the Golden Bears, the Prowlers, on Tony Poole's tally at the 8:10 mark, gained an early lead in the first period. With thirty seconds of the period to play, Denfeld's Jim Frederickson evened the score by beating goalie Dave Erickson.

The Hunters took the lead at the 1:50 mark of the second period when Gene Schweiger tallied, and coach Dick Northey's Duluth club held that margin until the 10:00 mark when Don Mathieu, with Elroy Frolland assisting, hit the net.

In the third period, the game continued at a 2-all deadlock until the 10:42 mark when Tony Poole, getting his second goal of the game. The Prowlers added an "insurance" goal at the 11:46 mark when Frolland hit the empty Duluth net after coach Northey had removed his goalie in a desperate attempt to tie the game, sending an extra forward on the ice.

The summary:

Food Stocks to Be in Good Supply in 1963

Plenty of food for the family market basket at about the same prices you paid this year — that's the forecast for 1963.

Food will continue to take only about 19 cents out of each dollar of your take-home pay. That's the smallest share on record — about 7 cents less than the proportion Americans spent for food a dozen years ago.

As incomes rise in 1963, your total expenditure for food will also increase, though the proportion you spend for food will remain the same, according to Mrs. Edna Jordahl, extension home management specialist at the University of Minnesota. You'll be buying better quality food and higher cost items, including more meat and better cuts of meat, and you'll probably demand more marketing services in the form of convenience foods.

This is the outlook for supply and price levels of various foods in the coming year, as predicted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service:

Meat. Larger beef and pork supplies and smaller supplies of veal and lamb are in prospect. Meat prices will average about the same as this year. Lower retail prices for pork will be offset by higher prices for lamb and possibly slightly higher beef prices.

Poultry. Broilers are expected to offer red meat more price competition, especially in the first half of the year, because of larger supplies. Another large turkey crop is in the offing for 1963 — possibly second in size to the 1961 record. Price of turkeys should average about the same as this year.

Eggs. Egg supplies will be somewhat lower than a year ago during the first part of 1963. As a result, retail egg prices may average higher during the first quarter. As egg production increases, the second half of 1963 will see lower prices.

Dairy products. Milk supplies are down seasonally but are running above a year ago. Prices will average, about the same as last year's.

Edible fats and oils. Supplies are at record levels, leaving large amounts available for export. Retail prices are expected to average near current levels during most of 1963.

Fruit. Supplies of fresh and processed fruit may be a little larger in the first half of 1963 than in the same period a year ago. Retail prices for apples and lemons and for dried fruits will be slightly higher than a year ago. Fresh winter pears and canned and frozen red tart cherries will be in especially plentiful supply in January.

Vegetables. With total fall production of fresh vegetables below a year ago, declining supplies into winter will bring considerably higher consumer prices than in early fall. An abundant supply of potatoes and cabbage, however, puts these two fresh vegetables on the best buys list for January.

Most major canned begetables are expected to be in larger supply than a year ago and hence lower priced. Most frozen vegetables will be in ample to heavy supply.

Educators "Sound Off" On Reading Program

Reading consists of more than mouthing words like a parrot. Reading also must include understanding if it is to be useful, reports the Minnesota Education association. Despite what critics say, American students today read better than did their forefathers.

"A Briefing for Parents: Your Child and Reading" a new pamphlet is being distributed in the January "NEA Journal", monthly publication of the 814,000-member National Education Association. Written by six reading experts, the pamplet consists of a half-dozen brief articles.

In one of the six, Arthur I. Gates of the Columbia University Teachers College's Institute of Language Arts, describes studies in 1957 that show the marked reading superiority of modernday pupils over their forefathers.

One study, for instance, shows the youngster of a few years ago about a half-year farther along than the same age youngster of only a quarter century ago (1937). Another study shows that fifth grade pupils in Lincoln, Neb., got an average reading test score of 93.1 points in 1947, compared with the comparable average in 1921 of 78.9.

Gates also makes these points: While the vocabularies might be limited in the fundamental reading books, these are not the only books used to teach reading. These basic primers are used only to teach basic skills, and are used with other books as soon as possible.

In a recent test, the old, formal phonic system or teaching reading, he says, "failed to produce the extravagant results claimed for it." Phonics has a major place in reading instruction, but not to the exclusion of everything else.

No Simple Task

Reading is no simple task. According to David H. Russell, education professor at the University of California, Berkeley, it's a complicated act that involves much more than simply recognizing a word.

Not only must the student comprehend what words mean, Russell points out, but "he must also learn to interpret what he reads. Sometimes he must see through the phony argument, the flashy appeal. Sometimes he must read between the lines and find hidden meanings. Sometimes he must react to the beauty or humor of a selection. Sometimes he needs to be able to skip some words and phrases as he hunts rapidly for important ideas, and sometimes he must take the time to consider the meaning of every word."

Because of this complexity, Russell adds, "it is impossible to have one simple plan of instruction or one solution to reading difficulties."

Three Kinds of Reading

Albert J. Harris, director of the educational clinic of Queens college, New York City, says there really are three different kinds of reading.

1. Developmental reading is reading practice to improve the mechanical skills of reading.
2. Functional reading is aimed at acquiring information, and can be either a swift skimming to locate material or a slow and purposeful study of the material.
3. Recreational reading is done mainly for enjoyment, with probably more thought to how the author uses words than to acquiring information.

Reading skills are so important that for the last 30 years even colleges have offered instructions in advanced reading. George D. Spache, head of the reading laboratory and clinics at the University of Florida, Gainesville, says these are designed not only to increase reading speed but comprehension and a critical eye for the author's viewpoint, prejudices, propaganda appeals, inconsistencies, and missing facts.

What can parents do to help prepare the pre-scholler for reading?

Two of the six authors — Althea Beery of the Cincinnati public schools and Helen M. Robinson of the University of Chicago — give these answers:

Encourage the pre-schooler in self-reliance and in solving his problems.

Teach him to listen and to follow simple instructions.

Read aloud to him; get him interested in words on signs and labels.

Anser his questions, or show him how to answer them for himself.

Don't talk babytalk to him; do use English words and phrases that are accurate and specific.

Provide books that will interest him.

Research Answers Queries on Rural Vehicle Road Use

Highway Department Reports on Results of State Traffic Survey

What kind of vehicles provide the traffic for rural travel?

That is one of the questions asked in preparation and answered in the research summarized in a booklet entitled "Minnesota Rural Trunk Highway and Local Rural Road Travel," compiled by the Minnesota highway department in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

A cross section of types operated on such roads during 1961 was obtained by counting each type of vehicle passing 52 points on rural trunk highways and 26 points of local roads. The 161,293, vehicles counted on rural trunk highways and the 9,950 vehicles counted on local rural roads showed these significant figures:

Passenger cars on rural trunk highways, 83.8 per cent, with tractor semitrailers at 5.6 per cent and single unit trucks at 9.9 per cent. The remainder were miscellaneous. On the local rural roads the passenger car traffic remained at a relatively stable 82.2 per cent but the tractor semitrailers dropped to 0.3 per cent.

It can readily be seen why the highway department must plan a highway able to support heavier commercial vehicles than local rural roads planned for rural use where the traffic shifts to lighter type vehicles.

The study revealed that in recent years the shift in commercial vehicle type is toward heavier equipment. The percentage for 5-axle tractor semitrailers with two sets of tandem axles, each limited to 32,000 pounds, and one single axle limited to 18,000 pounds has been increasing at a significant rate since 1950.

Greater percentage of passenger cars and tractor semitrailers were found on high volume roads and low volume routes tend to have the greater percentage of single unit trucks.

Langens Return To Washington

Congressman Readies To Begin 88th Congress

Congressman and Mrs. Odin Langen are leaving for Washington, D. C., this week and the start of the 88th Congress. The Langens spent the holidays at their farm home near Kennedy with sons Wayne and Lynden, daughter Lois, daughter-in-law Gerry and grandsons Barry and David.

The Langens traveled over 2,000 miles since the election in an effort to visit as many constituents as possible in the sprawling 7th District before returning to Washington. Many others visited the Congressional office in Crookston, which was in operation again this year as a service to the district.

Congressman Langen expressed thanks to the people of the 7th District for the many messages and greetings extended him during the past year. Langen said he is returning to Washington with renewed vigor and added that his office, as always, stands ready to serve the best interests of all of the people in the District.

Zorin Is Out

The replacement of Valerian A. Zorin as the Russian ambassador to the United Nations by Nikolai Federenko has aroused speculation as to the significance of such a change. Zorin has been the hard-line debater and leader of the attack on the western powers. He has represented the old Stalin, police-state type of Communism. Federenko, who is ten years younger than Zorin, is considered more moderate.

This change seems to strengthen the belief that the new Russia is going to be more conciliatory, at least on the surface. The conduct of the new ambassador will be watched with a great deal of interest.

Necessity Will Govern

In its Monthly Economic Letter for November, the First National City Bank of New York tells us:

"The way to cut taxes is to cut taxes and make spending fall in line."

In other words, let's cut out the foolish talk about cutting taxes but spending more. We are afraid however, that at the national level the foolish will prevail.

And there isn't much hope for tax relief at the state or local levels that would come as a result of good management. We are sure that, with good management, the state of Minnesota could get along very nicely during the next biennium without increasing a single appropriation.

If we do not voluntarily exercise reasonable restraints in our public spending, as we are forced to do in our personal spending, then the restraints will be imposed upon us eventually by necessity.

Harmony Needed

There is a sharp difference of opinion among the experts as to whether the controversial Skybolt should be written off as a failure. We will let the experts do the arguing on this point. But the question as to whether or not we strengthened our relations with Britain by the manner in which our government withdrew from its agreement in this instance, is being discussed by the press of both nations and properly so.

Britain and the United States had entered into an agreement to develop the Skybolt. We were to work together in this defense program. For the British, the Skybolt was to become their main retaliatory weapon, and the British system of defense was reorganized on that premise. In exchange for our contribution to that program we were given missile bases in England and Scotland, among other things. It was a two-way bargain.

By the manner in which we served notice on the British that we were not going to continue that program, we embarrassed the British government and lost the confidence and respect of many of our friends who resented our high and mighty approach in dealing with a friend and ally.

The Washington Post expressed well what we believe would be the American point of view on this matter. Said the Post:

"Weaknesses of Skybolt as a weapon are less alarming and less disappointing than the weaknesses in the conduct of American foreign policy that have been disclosed by the Anglo-American debate over Skybolt.

"That Great Britain is this country's closest and most valuable ally and associate is a proposition to which no one could offer a logical or convincing dissent. Notwithstanding this, the Government of the United States has handled its relations with Great Britain with little consideration for British feelings, and not much evidence of real concern about the British position.

"What is involved here is not a gun or a missile or a missile complex but an alliance, the oldest and most effective in modern history. If the Skybolt doesn't work, we can be annoyed, but if this alliance does not work something a lot more serious than annoyance will ensue. Secretary McNamara, beyond doubt, is one of the ablest, if not the ablest civilian chief of the military establishment that this country has had. No one could handle a weapons problem better. But this is not solely a weapons problem and it is alarming to see that this Administration is handling it as though it were . . .

"Skyboldt was an experiment and some experiments can be expected to fail. The State Department is not an experiment and it cannot be allowed to fail. Most especially, it cannot and must not fail in sensing the things that are of capital importance and putting aside everything else for them. Foreign officials who do not instinctively perceive the signs of decay in this country's relations with its closest and best ally must be operating a foreign office that is in alarming disarray.

"The British are feeling ill-used . . . They have ventured at our urging into a politically dangerous but eminently right economic policy. They have subscribed at our solicitation to a politically right but militarily risky defense policy. In view of the way we have dealt with them in the past few weeks they feel wronged and outraged. If we don't respond as a friend ought to respond to that feeling, their emotions will be justified and fears about the adequacy of the State Department confirmed."

This is a matter that Congress should interest itself in. We do not strengthen ourselves in the international tug-of-war by offending our friends. And the Atlantic Alliance, as Dean Acheson has pointed out, can succeed only as a partnership. The weaker countries respect our strength; but they will not tolerate dictatorship—and they shouldn't.

Thank You France

France is helping us stabilize the dollar. With a payment of more than $100 million this month on reconstruction loans that are not due for several years, this year's total of such payments in advance of the regular schedule will be nearly half a billion dollars.

These prepayments will help us reduce our international balance-of-payments deficit. France is obtaining the funds from her own balance-of-payments surplus. It is kind of our prosperous friends to come to our assistance in a time of need.

Incidentally, France gained prosperity by the unpopular but effective austerity method. Some of our leaders think we can spend ourselves rich.

Our own experience should serve as convincing proof that it can't be done that way. Our $300 billion debt and our 45 cent dollar should indicate to the dumbest of us that huge deficits move us farther down the road to ultimate disaster.

Is There A Second?

In Chattanooga, Tennessee, the trash containers, conveniently placed along the streets of the business section, Say "Thank you," when the good citizens use them to keep the streets neat and tidy. The staff of a radio station had electrified the containers for sound and the idea proved to be quite effective in making the city litter-conscious.

In some cities of the world, dropping litter on the streets is an offense that may result in arrest and a fine. But in those cities trash receptacles are plentiful and easy to use.

We have called attention several times to the fact that here in Thief River Falls we do not maintain a high standard of cleanliness in this respect, and we are hopeful that in 1963 the city will do something about it. The things that need to be done would not be costly, and with convenient receptacles made available, and a little enforcement of reasonable regulations, we could improve the general appearance of the streets in the business section a great deal.

Is there a second?

If They Wanted To

To whatever extent President Kennedy's position on the Skybolt was motivated by a sincere desire to eliminate wasteful spending, he should be applauded. The nation's defense budget is now more than $50 billion, which is more than half of the total budget, and if there is to be a serious effort to cut government spending then the Pentagon is the proper place to start.

The government's general accounting office has already revealed unbelievable waste and extravagance in military expenditures. A United Press report from Washington states that the GAO has charged that, among other things:

"The army bought enough fire trucks to burn, about 185 of which it didn't want and then couldn't give away. Even though the trucks cost $70,000 each, their brakes didn't work right so they couldn't be driven more than 10 miles an hour.

"The military clothing supply agency at Philadelphia enthusiastically ordered 492,000 air force overcoats for 9.6 million dollars to take advantage of low prices. The trouble was, only 10,427 coats were needed.

"The Pentagon spent 7 million sending people overseas by commercial airliners at the same time the military air transport service (MATS) was making flights abroad with plenty of empty seats.

"The air force, meanwhile, bought enough wrenches to last 14 years. Appropriately, they were listed as "open end" wrenches."

We are sure that spending by the federal government could be reduced by many billions of dollars without crippling any necessary service, and we are sure the Kennedy brothers could accomplish this if that is really what they wanted to do. Quite obviously brother Eddy isn't going to be helpful.

MOVING OUT in true Arctic expedition style, seven Arctic Cats began a six-mile trip up the frozen Red Lake river Sunday afternoon. Piloting the lead vehicle was Edgar Hetteen, president of Arctic Enterprises, Inc., Thief River Falls, manufacturer of the unique snow machines. Several models of the machines were used in the seven-vehicle procession which churned through drifts and bounced over rough ice on the trip which ended at a small cabin owned by William LaFave. The six-mile jaunt took about 25 minutes.

REFUELING his snow vehicle after a lively afternoon is Kenneth Wendel, one of about 15 persons who made an expeditionary trip up the Red Lake River Sunday afternoon. This vehicle is equipped with both wheels and skis, making it possible to use on land as well as snow. This Times photo was taken at the William LaFave cabin, turn-around point on the trip, while other members of the expedition took advantage of coffee and doughnuts inside the cabin or tested other vehicles.

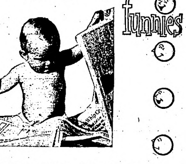
what happened to the funnies



Now there's a little man who knows what he wants! He wants the pretty funny papers. You might say, "He has a mind of his own . . ." That's correct, of course. Every child is endowed by his creator with a will and a mind; not developed, but it's there. Yet, how that child is trained from his earliest years, will mold his character, develop his mind and strengthen his will.

Children should have good example, then. And the best example that parents can give is to go to church. The Church is for you and your family. It is the hope of your children. It is the means of bringing God's bountiful blessings to all.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
